

News Snapshots
Of the Week

Answering the pope, President Wilson firmly rejected any suggestion to treat with the present masters of the German people. With the Austrians forced out of mountain strongholds by the victorious Italians, who have the port of Trieste as their objective, the civilian population of that city were forced to leave for the interior. The Russian conference at Moscow was asked by General Korniloff to give him supreme control of the army to save it. The trial of General Soukhomlinoff for high treason brought out testimony that he had left Russia's army helpless purposely to aid Germany. As purchasing war agent for the allies Barney Baruch will have control of more money than any man ever had before. The fixing of the price of coal at the mines by the president was followed by the appointment of Harry A. Garfield as coal dictator as well as wheat dictator. In the biggest military display since Dewey's parade 30,000 national guardsmen marched in New York city while 2,000,000 spectators lined the streets.

NOTES AND PERSONALS

Ed Sayres has moved inside the city limits.
 Found—Package of dress goods. Inquire at this office.
 George Madsen of the Hillside district is at the local hospital with pleurisy.
 Albert Alexander has traded for a home in Portland and is preparing to move to that city.
 Otto Pritzlaff suffered a dislocated shoulder while getting out piling in Cedar Canyon yesterday.
 Tony Sohler, the Chevrolet man, has moved his family from Banks to the Daniels house, in this city.
 Mrs. Minnie Nelson left Tuesday for her home in South Dakota, after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Ed Sayres.
 Vic Fuqua suffered a loss of $150 worth of china and glassware Tuesday when a tier of shelving collapsed and allowed $800 worth of dishes to crash to the floor.

Mrs. J. F. McGill visited relatives in Vancouver Saturday.
 A little daughter of Lloyd McNutt cut a painful gash in her forehead Tuesday, when she tripped and fell.
 While Walter Kuhni was tearing down an old barn at the Via home Tuesday, the building fell suddenly, striking the young man on the leg and fracturing the right ankle.
 Hugh Smith has been mighty sick with sciatic rheumatism for the past week and Mrs. Smith, who has been visiting at Cascade Locks, was called home Sunday. Mr. Smith is somewhat improved, but still bedfast.
 Frank Sutford of Dille and Mrs. Clyde Sutford and daughter, Mildred, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Fletcher and on Monday Mrs. Sutford and daughter departed for their home at Spokane, after a two months' visit with relatives in this section.

Versie Bellinger, who has been working with a surveying gang on the Nehalem river, arrived home Sunday.
 J. S. Loynes, who was injured last week in an auto accident near Vancouver, is much improved in health.
 Mrs. Merle Reder returned home Monday from a trip through Washington and Idaho in the interest of a Chautanqua.
 Jim Ritchey returned Monday from his trip to Eastern Oregon, where he went to attend the wedding of his daughter, Eva.
 A. W. Norblad and wife of Astoria passed through the city in an auto Friday and stopped for a short visit with Miss Langley.
 Charley Miller of the internal revenue department is being sent east on government work and his family is moving back to this city.
 Mrs. A. J. Langley and Mrs. Albert Alexander Tuesday gave a Silver Tea at the Langley home for the benefit of the Congregational Working society.