PONIES FOR CHILDREN

Business of Raising Shetlands Has Grown Important.

More Patient Than Horse and Is Better Tempered—Essential That Little Fellows Be Docile and Easily Handled.

The Shetland pony is always an object of interest, whether seen drawing a shining cart in the city park or bending beneath the cruel weight of his heavy burden on the mountain-trails of his native country. If he were less hardy he could not endure the severe labor he is made to perform in his native land, for there he is purely and simply a burden bearer. Grain, iron, furniture, coal, ore and merchandise of all kinds are transported to all parts of the islands on the backs of the tough little animals. Three hundred pounds is the usual load for each pony, and long lines of these laden little beasts wind in and out among the hills of their native land.

The genuine Shetland pony, produced from the pure breeds of the Shetland and Orkney Islands, has become so popular and useful that the business of raising ponies has grown important. The business is not so simple as it might appear at first glance. In the first place, the progenitors—stags and dams—are usually selected in the Shetland islands. Occasionally desirable breeds may be found in the interior of some of the other northern islands bordering Scotland, but the majority are found in the Shetland Islands.

The Shetland pony is unlike the horse in many respects other than that of size. He is more patient, and as a class is better tempered. Mute under punishment, patient during severe labor, constant as a dog in friendship, combining marvelous intelligence with a tractable spirit, the Shetland pony is of all animals the best servant, companion and friend for children. There are grown persons who so admire the sturdy little ponies that they prefer a cart and pair to the best trotting horse. They make up in strength and endurance what they lack in size.

On farms where these ponies are raised for the market, kindness is practiced under all circumstances in their training. This is very important, because most of these animals in this country at least, are sold for the pleasure of young boys and girls and it is essential that they be trained to be docile and gentle. When the little pony colt, which a man can take up in his arms and carry about, is strong enough to run and play with its mother, a little halter is put on it, and it is taught to lead and start and stop at the word. When it grows stronger, but is not yet nearly full grown, a set of harness is fitted upon it, a smooth, easy bit is slipped into its mouth, and it is driven about with the lines. A very gentle pressure of the bit on the tender mouth is sufficient to guide it. Later on it is hitched to a little cart, and trotted about until it becomes thoroughly bridle wise—that is, until it becomes trained to turn about instantly without hesitation in response to the bit. It is taken close to puffing locomotives and alongside queer-looking vehicles; into the neighborhood of

GOOD FENCE OF MUCH VALUE

Nothing in Farm Work That Requires More Attention of Farmer—Make it Permanent.

To the farmer engaged in mixed farming there is nothing in his farm work that requires more attention than the keeping up of his fences. This should mean good fencing that has a permanency to it and at the same time serves the purpose of turning all kinds of stock that are turned into the fields.

INFERTILE EGGS KEEP BEST

Bad Practice to Permit Broody Hens Spoil Fertile Product—Germs Die Quickly.

If fertile eggs are incubated for 24 hours, then kept cool for three days, the germs will die, and these dead germs are the points where decomposition begins. Infertile eggs do not have these, and therefore keep better than fertile eggs. Don't permit broody hens to spoil fertile eggs.

shops where there is the sound of clanging iron and pounding hammers and ringing bells. Its actions under all these conditions are carefully noted and recorded, and its special qualifications for particular purposes fully ascertained.

The trainer knows the natural propensities and acquired qualifications of every pony about the farm fully as well as the teacher knows those traits in a pupil, and all those things go to make up a pony's record.

EXTEND THE TOMATO SEASON

Gather All Large Specimens Before Vines Are Killed by Frost and Put on Bed of Straw.

The tomato season may be extended several weeks by gathering all the large tomatoes before the vines are killed by frost and putting them on a bed of dry straw. Put about ten bushels in each heap, cover with straw at night and when weather is cold and wet. The tomatoes will ripen gradually and will be nearly as good as those ripened on the vines. If frost threatens, pull up the vines with the tomatoes on the vines and pile in the field. This is the method followed by our truckers and market gardeners. Where only a few bushels are wanted, pick the largest and finest tomatoes and place them on a bed of straw in the cold frame, cover with a six-inch layer of straw. If rain threatens slide on the sash, as they should not get wet or they will rot.

Gather the ripe fruit for canning or preserving and make catsup while fruit is abundant. The small green tomatoes may be sold for pickling.

WIRE STRETCHER IS USEFUL

Implement Consists of Two Semicylindrical Sections Held Together by Bolts.

This device consists of two semi-cylindrical sections held together by bolts, and in proper position to each other by plates on the ends of each section, writes C. J. Lynde in Farmers' Mail and Breeze. In operation a half cylinder is placed on each side of several wires and the bolts screwed up. A handle at right angles to the cylinder is inserted in one of the two holes in the middle, and the cylinder is turned. Another handle is inserted in the other hole and allowed to hold against an adjacent post. In case of one wire being slacker than the others, an extra curved plate (1) is placed on the cylinder to take up more wire in rotating. The edges of the two half cylinders are rounded to prevent cutting the wire.

DRAINAGE IS OF IMPORTANCE

Fruit Trees, Plants, Shrubs and Vines Will Not Thrive in Wet Soil—Keep Outlets Open.

Fruit farm drainage is even more important than draining for farm crops, as fruit plants, shrubs, vines and trees will not thrive in wet soil. The outlets of the drains need looking after several times each year to see that they do not get clogged. Sometimes the outlet tile, being exposed to winter frosts, crumbles causing a stoppage of the outlet.

CLIPPING PASTURES IS BEST

Results in More and Better Grasses and Ripening of Weed Seeds Is Also Prevented.

Clipping pastures after harvest results in more and better grasses. The ripening of weed seeds is prevented and briars are removed, so that clover and blue grass may occupy the ground. Where a mowing machine cannot be used the scythe is brought into play.

Sow Cover Crop.

Sow crimson clover or some other cover crop at the last cultivation of corn, melons and tomatoes. Winter vetch and rye make a fine combination for this purpose.

Breed Heifer at Two Years.

The heifer should be bred to freshen when about two years old. Handling before freshening prevents shyness.

Discard the animals which have failed at the end of the year to pay for their keep.

Don't Merely Say Oatmeal—Say

"FORCE"

If you simply order "oatmeal" or "rolled oats," you may be given the ordinary kinds in which the original flavor of the oats has been lost in the excessive cooking necessary to make the food digestible. Insist then, upon "H. O."—the only steam cooked oatmeal—a process which retains all the natural delicious flavor of the oats, and makes it ready for the table with only 20 minutes cooking. At all grocers.

Alert for the Future.

"You've got a lot of weeds in your garden."
"Pretty fine weeds, too, don't you think?" rejoined Mr. Crosslots.
"Surely you are not nursing them along!"
"Yes sir. I've been finding out that so many new things are edible that I'm holding out to see whether science don't discover some way of frying the jimson or stewing the burdock."—Washington Star.

SUFFERING CATS! GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man. Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callous. Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callous. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callous will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers. This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or callouses but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin. Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. If your druggist don't have freezone have him order it for you.

FOUR WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

No Relief—Mrs. Brown Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains. A friend who is a nurse asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was my advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before you go home."—Mrs. W. C. Brown, 2844 W. 12th St., Cleveland, Ohio.
