More Boys Sent to Camp Lewis

The Washington County exemption board late Friday night completed the list of Class 1 men who will be called to fill the quota of 28 men which moves to Camp Lewis April 26. Delay was caused by the fact that former quotas and voluntary enlistments have practically cleared the towns of men of draft age and registrants are mainly from the country districts.

Many hastened to file affidavits that they came under the ruling of being indispensable farm laborers, and investigation of these was necessary.

War Gardens Saved Germany

War gardens in Germany have pulled her through two summers that she could not have weathered otherwise, says the Federal Food Administration. In the larger cities as much as 30 percent of the food consumed was fresh vegetables, releasing cereals for the fighting front. War gardens in this country will save food and relieve the labor shortage and the transportation burden. Food, labor and transportation are the three big war factors, and the gardens help relieve all three. Send for the O. A. C. garden bulletins, and make your garden count for the most.

J. W. Goodin of North Plains, candidate for the republican nomination for county judge, and John Cornelius, living south of the town bearing his name, candidate for county commissioner, were doing the glad-hand act about town Saturday. Both found many friends glad to shake with them.

NOTES AND PERSONALS

Judge R. O. Stevenson had business in the city Saturday.

Mrs. Glenn Potwin of Portland is visiting relatives in the city.

Found — Dealer's auto license plate No. 313B. Inquire at this office.

Clarice Cady, a soldier at Vancouver, visited his parents in this city over Sunday.

Clarence Kelley has gone to Portland to work in a shipyard, having been offered war wages.

Mrs. Rilda Stegleider returned Thursday from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Guy Morley, at Crisp, Polk county. They have a new daughter at the Morley home.

Edgar Swanson, a Forest Grove boy, now stationed with a hospital corps in Vancouver, visited friends in this city Sunday, and attended the funeral of Frank Smith.

Dr. Sturdevant of Portland will be at Dr. Pollock's dental parlors Friday afternoon, April 19th. Dr. Sturdevant makes a specialty of the care of children's teeth and if enough encouragement is given him, he will visit Forest Grove frequently on this mission.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Potwin Monday received word from their son, Glenn, in training at Goat Island, that he was leaving next day for the east coast. On the same day they received a letter from another son, Gilbert, with the American hospital corps, in France, that he was well and happy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Burlingham the first of the week received the first message from their son, Vernon, since his sailing from an Atlantic port for Europe. He states that he arrived at a beautiful French city on a recent pleasant Sunday morning and will tell them more about the port of landing when he comes home. Vernon is with the 30th Engineers, "gas and flame" division.

Timber Workers Are Loyal

L. M. Graham of this city, Chas. Powne of Banks and Mr. Crawford of Buxton held a Liberty Loan meeting at West Timber last Friday night and on Saturday Mr. Graham went to the logging camp of the Eagle Lumber company, where he met with remarkable success in selling bonds. The meeting and Mr. Graham's work in the camp brought orders for $10,350.00 worth of bonds, all from the employes of the company. The officers had previously made their purchases in Portland.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Last Friday morning the weekly assembly was held. Ellen Anderson and Eleanor Haskell played a duet and Alma VanKoughnet sang. The University of Oregon sent out some slides of campus views, and Mr. Fleischman explained the slides as they were flashed on the screen. Mr. Fleischman is a graduate of the University, and so was able to give the students a very clear idea of the activities of the school.

On Monday morning of this week Miss Woodbury addressed the Student Body. Miss Woodbury is interested in the immigration question, and has spent much of her time at Ellis Island in helping the great army of immigrants who come into this country. The war has necessarily put a stop to immigration, and so Miss Woodbury is traveling over the country and lecturing, in order to arouse interest after the war is over. Grace and Gertrude Parker sang a duet, and Russell Beals played a piano solo.

To Take Up Chautauqua Work

Miss Manche Langley leaves a week from next Sunday for Sacramento, Calif., to attend a Chautauqua convention of the Ellison-White concern, with which concern she has accepted employment for the summer as a chautauqua superintendent. The convention is a sort of training school for superintendents and managers and on May 5th Miss Langley will superintend her first chautauqua, at Susanville, Calif. She will accompany her company of entertainers through California and the southwest and will bring them to this city about July 12th. After a week here the company will go to Washington, Idaho and Montana. Miss Mary Olmsted will keep Miss Langley's law office open during the latter's absence from the city.

Louis J. Simpson, Coos county's candidate for the republican nomination for governor, was calling on friends in this city Tuesday. Mr. Simpson is a man of pleasing personality, has a knack of making friends in a few minutes and makes a good impression wherever he goes.
