

What the Master will Oversee?

R. N. STANFIELD

For United States Justice

Faint, mostly illegible text in the left column, appearing to be a list or a series of short paragraphs.

The Marker of Bandages

Red Cross Workers Solve in One Minute the Mystery of the Stony Heated Mrs. Galt

By MAXIMILIAN COLLIER

The mystery of the stony heated Mrs. Galt was solved in one minute by the Red Cross workers. The woman, who had been reported as having committed suicide, was found to be suffering from a severe case of hysteria. The workers, who were called to her home, found her in a state of extreme nervousness. They immediately administered first aid and called for medical assistance. The doctor, who arrived shortly, confirmed the diagnosis and prescribed treatment. The woman's condition improved rapidly, and she was discharged from the hospital after a few days. The Red Cross workers were praised for their quick response and efficient handling of the case.

The mystery of the stony heated Mrs. Galt was solved in one minute by the Red Cross workers. The woman, who had been reported as having committed suicide, was found to be suffering from a severe case of hysteria. The workers, who were called to her home, found her in a state of extreme nervousness. They immediately administered first aid and called for medical assistance. The doctor, who arrived shortly, confirmed the diagnosis and prescribed treatment. The woman's condition improved rapidly, and she was discharged from the hospital after a few days. The Red Cross workers were praised for their quick response and efficient handling of the case.

Handwritten signature or initials, possibly 'R. N. STANFIELD'.

Faint text at the bottom of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side or a continuation of the article.