Agree on Drafting

Washington, May 15.—Conferees agreed Monday on the measures drafting those who have become 21 since June 5 last. The dispute was over exemption of medical and divinity students.

Under the compromise, students already in the schools will be exempt from registration, but students who enroll from this time will not be.

Saturday a number of P. U. students made the Columbia highway trip, as guests of Mr. Arima of Portland.

People of Dilley

Unfurl Honor Flag

Hundreds of people from various points in Western Washington county assembled at Dilley last Sunday afternoon to witness the program incident to the unfurling of the flag awarded that town for oversubscription of the Liberty Loan. The meeting was held in the open air, on the lawn of the Judge Stevens home, with Judge W. H. Hollis of this city presiding.

The program was opened with the singing of "America" by the audience, after which Rev. Comstock invoked the divine blessing.

Ten school girls sang a song, after which Chairman Hollis gave the flag to the Boy Scouts, who raised it on the tall flag pole. Then came a patriotic song by the audience, after which Mayor Wall of Hillsboro delivered a red-hot anti-Hun address. Sixteen first grade school children gave a very pretty flag drill, after which ten school girls rendered another song and Rev. Comstock pronounced the benediction.

The people of Dilley have cause to be proud of their patriotic work since America entered the war and the big crowd present attested that the people, generally, appreciate the efforts of the Dilleyites.
