Watts Fair Is Success

The District Fair held at Watts Tuesday was a decided success, although the exhibits were not so extensive as last year. At one o'clock a fine dinner was served to all present. Patriotic addresses were given by Rev. Shaw and Mrs. Hyde of Hillsboro and School Superintendent Frost. Ten youngsters were examined by Dr. Hyde of Hillsboro and they all received high markings.

In the afternoon athletic contests were held. Blue ribbons and money awards were given to the exhibitors. Watts has the distinction of holding the only District Fair in Washington county this year.

Chief of Police P. W. Watkins left for Pendleton Tuesday, where he will attend the Roundup. Later he will take in the State Fair at Salem. This is the Chief's first lay-off in seven years.

The City Election

At the special city election held Tuesday for the purpose of amending the charter, changing the term of office of the Mayor, Recorder and Treasurer from one to two years, and to change the time of the general election to the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November and biennially thereafter, so as to conform with the state law, only 52 votes were cast. Most of the residents of the town seemed in ignorance of the fact that a special election was being held and some of those who know it appeared reluctant to vote for some reason.

As was to be expected, there were some who were bound to take the contrary view, and four voted against the proposition. It was a long day for the judges and clerks. The ladies busied themselves with their knitting and fancy work, while the men swatted flies, chewed the rag and complained of the heat.
