SOME FIGURES.

Senator Voorhees, chairman of the senate finance committee has submitted some estimates of revenue to be derived from the proposed tariff legislation, that is interesting to the voters of this county.

Another item. The same estimates state that the revenue from sugar, under the senate bill, will be $43,478,917, under the Wilson bill, $16,822,281, and under the McKinley bill, $193,281, wherefore it will be seen that if the senate bill is passed the American people will pay $43,000,000 more for their sugar than they have been doing.

Republicans believe that the elections will be in their favor. They believe that the American people are not satisfied with the present industrial condition, and that the country wants the policy of '91 and '92, that the electors vote for the change through misrepresentation.

Gov. Penneyer was at Forest Grove last Thursday evening, and so was T. H. Tongue on Saturday. Mr. Tongue has, of all the good speeches he has made, none done better than last Saturday when he answered the governor.

In 1884 the democratic platform was a protection paper. Two years later in 1886 Oregon democracy endorsed the national platform and Penneyer ran on it for governor.

How they will answer him. Mr. Torr, who spoke here on Monday, will be answered by opponents goes without saying.

Suppose the government owned the railroads, and suppose the Coxeyites should elect to go on an excursion to Washington or to any other place, and suppose the populists, their sympathizers, were in power, then what?

HE DIGS A PIT.

Governor Penneyer has savagely attacked the republican party and the democratic, too, for that matter, on the subject of legislative extravagance.

He also made an attack upon the schools and soundly berated the republicans for making appropriations.

Populists never throw mud says Torr. But how is this from their platform: Incompetency, dishonesty, corruption and cowardice applied to their neighbors.

It is a wrong policy to mix politics or religion with business.—Forest Grove Times. Moses, the greatest law-maker of his or any other time, didn't think so, and it is the teaching of just such false precepts as the above quoted, that causes the times to be so out of joint.

Mr. Penneyer is boorish. Last Friday he visited the public school where the children recognizing his official character desired to testify of the respect which they had for the chief executive.

SIXTY MILLIONS.

The populists are still harping on that sixty million of demand notes, and while they are not deceiving any one, yet our own people like to know what can truthfully be said on that topic, and to that end the following letter is published which is most excellent reading:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, U. S. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 5, 1890.

DEAR MR. DENBAR:—

In looking over a few letters which I laid aside for some examination, I find your favor which I now take pleasure in answering.

1st. The demand notes are payable in coin, or as the law says, "exchange for coin." They were paid in coin and in gold, because at that time silver went abroad, being 3 per cent of higher value than gold.

2d. When were they refunded? I answer almost simultaneously with their issue, being redeemed in gold and secured for government use.

3d. They were a legal tender the same as greenbacks by act of March 17, 1862, but as you see there were many redeemed before in exchange for coin on the $250,000,000 loan, or second, for salaries; third, "other dues from the U. S. treasury."

4th. They were a legal tender the same as greenbacks by act of March 17, 1862, but as you see there were many redeemed before in exchange for coin on the $250,000,000 loan, or second, for salaries; third, "other dues from the U. S. treasury."

5th. Specie payment was resumed January 1, 1879, the act authorizing it being July 14, 1875.

6th. Greenbacks came to par on that day, or strictly a few days before as treasury reports show.

As to the demand notes of $60,000,000, as I have shown, they were authorized by acts of July 17th and August 5, 1861, $50,000,000, and act of February 12, 1862, $10,000,000, and by July 1, 1863, (less than 24 months) they were nearly all retired.

RECORDER OF CONVEYANCES.

The contest this year for the place of recorder of conveyances has narrowed down to two candidates, and will be sharp though not acrimonious.

The republicans have named for their favorite E. L. McCormick, one of the first young men of the county, and while he is well and favorably known in Tualatin precinct, and no biography can be of advantage to him there, yet the voters of other parts of the county are interested in his personal surroundings and properly enquire of his antecedents.

Mr. McCormick was born in Polk county, this state, in 1865, hence he is now 25 years of age. His father, born in Indiana, is of Scotch-Irish parentage and his mother, a native of Iowa, is of English and German descent.

In 1867 his parents moved to Salem where they remained 3 years, when they again moved, this time to Unadilla county. A lack of schools and a growing family induced Mr. McCormick to seek in 1870, the older settlements of the Willamette valley. It was on this trip that the accident happened which has saddened E. L.'s life.

When 10 years of age young McCormick's father bought a piece of land on Chehalis mountain which he still owns and where the boys and girls have grown up to take their station in society. E. L. in the common school of his neighborhood industriously worked, and by the time he was 20 years old had fitted himself for teaching. After that the way has been easier. He taught a term and then went to school himself. Thus working he took a course at Pacific college, Newberg, coming from that institution a strong man thoroughly drilled in books and firmly grounded in character.

Mr. Editor: Are the voters of Washington county ready to endorse the action of the lawless hordes turned loose at the present time under the name of Covvites or Commonwealers? If not it might be well for the candidates on the demopop fusion ticket, especially for the legislature to define their position.
