OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

FRIDAY, JUNE 8.

Republicans generally have confidence in the people.

If a political canvass can be carried on long enough the people can be implicitly trusted.

Penoyer will not call the legislature together in extra session to provide for a constitutional convention.

Republican ratification at Hillsboro on Saturday night. Torch-light procession and speaking. Come and "holler!"

Buxton and East Butte precincts each need a new broom, not that they have any spots that need sweeping, but as an emblem of victory, testifying to what they have done.

The bill pending in the house at Washington to repeal the 10 per cent state bank tax was defeated on Wednesday—yes, 102; nays, 172.

The ayes were all democrats. The nays were republicans 88, democrats 76 and populists 9.

That was a poor stick the populists had to debate with Hon. T. H. Tongue last Saturday.

The whole Multnomah county and legislative ticket is elected except the candidate for sheriff and for district attorney.

Minto, however, received more votes than did some of the successful candidates, but the opposition was centered on fewer opponents.

No printing house in Oregon could get out anything good enough for the graduating class at the state university, hence they sent east for an eight page "souvenir."

There were at the late election 3,713 votes cast. But for no one office was there that many polled by nearly two hundred, and in some instances many more.

The high water in the Columbia is unprecedented, and is doing thousands of dollars damage to the metropolis.

The republican party of Washington county owes a vote of thanks to its central committee for the faithful and efficient work it has done in the campaign just closed.

Chairman Patterson is a good manager, and he had the assistance of devoted associates.

Looking back over the struggle few places are seen where more votes could have been made.

Those parties who go up Salt creek after June 4th, may derive some satisfaction from the information that fishing is good in the headwaters of that celebrated stream.

The vote of the county has not yet been canvassed, but the republican majority is from 250 to 600.

The democrats, that is the genuine ones, are bracing up for the fight in 1896.

Our school is still prospering nicely with an enrollment of 37.

When Governor Altgeld was petitioned to order out the Illinois nation guard to protect lives and property from destruction by the striking coal miners, he refused and in his denial of the petition took occasion to say "It is not the business of soldiers to act as custodians or guards of private property."

Jeff Brooks has cleared a nice piece of land and has it about ready for a crop.

Fishing seems to be the general talk since the water in the Willamette began to rise.

The fruit crops have good prospects in this vicinity this season.

A photographic entertainment was given by Professor Fitzgerald last Thursday evening, which was well enjoyed by all.

AFTER THE BATTLE

The people of Oregon have been wanting to vote for more than a year. Their opportunity came last Monday. They voted, and the story is soon told.

The majority which the republicans have gained must not be allowed to elate them so that they will do some silly thing and lose what has been won.

One of the pleasing and peculiar features of the recent campaign in view of religio-political happenings the past few months, was that the man who made it a specialty by tongue and pen to save from slaughter the republican candidate for state school superintendent, a Methodist minister, was an Irish-American Roman Catholic, Frank Davey, and there is no part of the ticket whose success gives him more pleasure than that of Mr. Irwin.

Several of the papers of the state have mentioned a teacher's ring and that an attempt was made by the organization to defeat the republican candidate, Mr. Irwin.

Republicans Win in Yamhill

THE FEELING AMONG DEMOCRATS IS BETTER TOWARD THE POPULISTS.

Ballot in Defeat.

McMINSVILLE, Or., June 6.—The county has gone strongly republican, not a democrat or populist having been elected, with the exception of two democratic justices of the peace.

The populist vote was drawn largely from the democratic party.

The republican populists deserted the party on election day and left the former democrats to hold the sack.

Judge Galloway is at work on probate and county matters today, just as if there had not been an election.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

The Oregonian compiles the following estimates of the next legislature and its political complexion:

SENATE. [The summary leaves as yet unascertained the result in Clatsop county, where Fox, rep., is likely defeated by Smith, dem., with populist endorsement, and in Grant, Harney and Morrow, where A. W. Gowan, rep., is likely elected.]

Member county committee, Buxton, Oregon, June 5, 1894.

Penoyer has not been successful these latter days.

He has been able to fool all the people some of the time, and some of the people all the time, but he cannot fool all the people all the time.

The populists must have a poor estimate of the honesty of the voters of their party when they charge that they have been bought by republicans. It would be better for the pops to refrain from accounting for their defeat on that hypothesis.
