(excepting the tonic from which they contain) safe and sure as a monthly regulator. The most eminent physicians of this age do not hesitate to recommend these pills when they are advised of the formula. Many things might be said of their many virtues, many voluntary testimonials might be published, but this liberty will not be taken. Many grateful ladies have written us letters without even marking them "confidential." We do not solicit testimonials, nor do we care to them, as we cannot use them.

A Sure Cure for Piles.

The way to get rid of tramps, which has long been known and has many times been proved, is to make their food and shelter depend absolutely upon work. Last winter, the city of Baltimore rid itself of all these pests by refusing to give them a place to sleep except on condition of their earning it. The result was that when other cities were overrun with tramps, Baltimore was free of them, and thus relieved, the city turned its attention to finding work for the deserving unemployed. This work came so near to paying for itself that only an insignificant sum of money was required to prevent actual suffering. This interesting sociological result has, therefore, again demonstrated, that it is the tramp—the idler who does not want work—that causes the demoralization in a time of distress, and prevent the involuntary idleness from finding proper aid.

Populists have been "depreciated" in Oregon, not to say "demonetized," and their number have been sufficiently "contracted" to insure no further "inflation." The call has "busted."—St. Helens Mist.

HARNEY, OREGON, April 29, '93. O. W. R. Mfg. Co., Portland, Ore.

Dear Sir: About a year ago I was laid up with rheumatism. I was in a terrible state. I could not turn over in bed without assistance. As there was no physician in Harney I tried various liniments, but they all failed. When my condition was very serious, and the pain seemed to be striking near the heart, your agent came along and had a bottle of Congo Oil. Hearing I was ill with rheumatism, he called upon me, and brought a bottle of Congo Oil. He commenced rubbing me with it, and in less than five minutes I was relieved; in half an hour I was able to swing my feet out of bed, and one hour I was down stairs. He left the bottle with me and I applied it several times. From that day to this I have not been troubled with rheumatism. I feel that I owe my life to the wonderful oil. All this can be verified by Fred Haines, of Harney, also the landlord of the hotel and several others. I always carry a bottle of Congo Oil in my grip now.

Yours very truly,
C. H. NORTON.

JERUSALEM.

The British consul at Jerusalem, in his latest report, gives some interesting details respecting the state of the Holy City. It appears that buildings of various kinds continue to be erected in the vicinity, and that the city is far outgrowing its former limits.

On the western side houses have increased so rapidly within the last few years that quite a large suburb has arisen where formerly there were fields and vineyards. Every available piece of piece of land is now being bought up by private persons or by benevolent societies and missions, and already the name of "Modern Jerusalem" has been given to this new quarter.

Last year the first public garden was completed outside the Jaffa Gate, and the trade is generally increasing, especially that in Jaffa oranges, olive wood work (now an important local industry), and olive oil. The export of coccyth declined in consequence of a title levied on it by the authorities. It is gathered by Arabs in the neighborhood of Gaza, where it grows wild.

An interesting enterprise which has recently been commenced is the collection of the bitumen which rises to the surface and floats about on the Dead Sea. Two sailing boats were taken by train from Jaffa to Jerusalem, and then conveyed on camels to the Jordan, where they were floated down the river to the Dead Sea, and they are now engaged in picking up the bitumen, which is in much request in Europe. The consul thinks it would be advantageous to trade with the inland districts if a steam launch and several lighters were placed on the Dead Sea to ferry across the produce of Moab, which is a country rich in cereals, fruit and cattle. At present it is conveyed by caravans round the north or south end of the Dead Sea, entailing a journey of from four to five days. Kerk, the chief town of Moab, is now garrisoned with Ottoman troops, and authority is established there, so that if rapid communication were established, the whole produce of Moab would find its way to Jerusalem and the coast.

The way to get rid of tramps, which has long been known and has many times been proved, is to make their food and shelter depend absolutely upon work. Last winter, the city of Baltimore rid itself of all these pests by refusing to give them a place to sleep except on condition of their earning it. IN HILLSBORO CAYE.

The Examiner cave party has been heard from through an illustrated letter in that journal. The explorers had penetrated in the great Josephine county cave to a depth of three and half miles with the aid of lanterns and picks, the latter being used to knock the limestone projections out of the way to admit of access to new apartments. The caverns are dripping with the steepage from melting snows at this time of the year. Flash-light pictures reveal weird and ghostly chambers, statuary almost human in its carving and contour. It will take money to render those great caverns accessible to the average tourist, who prefers walking erect in search of the curious and rare in nature. More letters are yet to be published in the paper regarding these caves.

The Inconceivable Velocity of Arcturus.

Mr. Serviss, writing in the New York "Sun" says: Arcturus, which exceeds our sun several thousand times, perhaps, in light-giving power, is apparently a runaway in the universe. As far as is known at present, Arcturus is both the largest and the most swiftly moving body in the stellar heavens. Its calculated velocity is no less than 375 miles in a second, or 32,400,000 miles in a day! The direction of its motion is such that it approaches the earth at the rate of 3,450,000 miles a day. But even if it were rushing at us in a straight line, 85,000 years would elapse before the encounter could take place. Nobody has been able to guess how Arcturus got started at its present rate of traveling, or where its journey will end. If it is only a gigantic visitor to our system of suns, then it will pass through the visible universe, and in the course of millions of years disappear from it. And if any member of our system should, through too close approach, become a satellite of Arcturus, it would inevitably be borne away a prisoner into the unfathomable, by human eyes, unseen depths of illimitable space.

The New York "Evening Post" tries as hard as any paper in the country to believe in the democratic party, but it finds the job an exceedingly difficult one. For instance, it denounces the sugar schedule of the tariff bill as an abomination, and declares that the measure had better be defeated than to be passed with such a thing in it. "If this outrage is consummated," it exclaims, "and passes into law, the democratic party will be substantially annihilated in the coming elections," whereas, "on the other hand, the house may save it from the gathering wrath by expurgating the sugar schedule, and then putting on the senate the responsibility of killing the whole bill or not."

Posthumous charities are very essence of selfishness, when bequeathed by those who, when alive, would part with nothing.—Colton.

When once a man is determined to believe, the very absurdity of the doctrine does but confirm him in his faith.—Junius.
