FREE SILVER IN MEXICO.

Mexico is a free silver country. When travelers from the United States arrive at Laredo, or at Eagle Pass, or at El Paso, they, of course, exchange their American coin for the receive the rather gaudy scrip of Mexico. For the silver of the American eagle they receive dollars which bear imprints of the eagle, serpent and cactus of this brown republic of United States. If one goes to an the South. It makes them feel very wealthy. The rate of exchange is always about two for one. For fifty American dollars they receive 100 of the dollars of Mexico. It is a great thing to double money in this way. The American touri-t is likely to keep his hand in his pocket and jingle his horde. However, when he boards the Pullman to ride to the City of Mexico he finds that the fare has become $9 in Mexican money, instead of the normal and expected $4.50. The yet gained anything. Still greater is his disappointment when he learns straw hat. For his wages he works that the usual tip to the porter is 50c like a horse.—Stephen Crane, in St. instead of the almost universal 25c. Louis Globe-Democrat. He exclaims that he can as yet see no benefit in this money exchange.

The Americans who earn salaries in the City of Mexico are continually crying that if they could only get their pay in American money and spen I it in Mexican money they would be happy. A Mexican dollar is a good dollar with which to buy things, unless those things be imported. Then there is trouble. Pull-
