Property owners on Third street have opened a ditch from Baseline to Lincoln street, that drains several ponds. The work was not difficult till Main street was reached, where a large section of diagonal planking had to be torn up. The criticism made last summer, when the plank was being laid, was realized to be true. A few days work done in other parts of the city would let off much water and improve the streets.

Hagay was before Esquire Knight last Saturday, charged with the larceny of a ten-dollar piece, which an inmate of the poor farm said the defendant picked up in the path leading from the poor house to the jail. He was discharged.

The electric light company has been using its lights about four years, during which time they have not been adjusted. Notwithstanding this long run the light furnished has been up to the standard, but it was noticed that it took more power at the station to produce the desired result. He found some slight defects, which he remedied, and now the lamps are ready for another long run.
