John Carstens is making a bedstead at his sash and door factory that is a model of strength, beauty and cheapness. Fir lumber is used, from which the pitch has been extracted. The article of furniture is varnished and sold at $1.75, a price unheard of before. A woven wire mattress is added for another $1.75. Bedsteads not as good or as stylish ten years ago cost from $10 to $12 dollars each.

Mr. Jos. Atkinson, living near Newberg, lost a valuable horse by drowning on Wednesday last. He was driving across Jackson bottom and came to a place where the water was over the road, when the animal got off in to the deep water and tangled in the harness. Thus hampered the horse soon drowned. Mr. Atkinson swam the ditch and found a perch on a fence until help came from the shore. He feels the loss of the animal, for besides being valuable it was a great favorite.

About 8 o'clock Tuesday evening Hon. J. W. Sappington, county treasurer, who had been working quite hard in his office during the day started home from his usual evening visit to the postoffice. He complained of headache, but the symptoms were not alarming. He reached home safely and sat by the furnace to get warm before going to his bed room. His headache became more intense and he was understood to say he believed he was going to die. When he had thus sat for half an hour he pitched forward on the floor in an appolectic fit. Help was was at once summoned, but do what they could, his medical attendants, Drs. Linklater and Bailey, failed to get relief for their patient. He lingered in an unconscious state till 4 o'clock Wednesday morning when died. Sappington was born in Kentucky in 1837 and came to Oregon a young man in the early 50's, settling on a fine piece of land on the east side of Wapato lake, near what is now the town of Gaston. In 1857 he wedded Miss Lucinda Laughlin, who died a few years ago. A large family of children was born to this pioneer couple, most of whom are yet living prosperous and respected citizens. John Sap, as his intimate friends named him, was a leader in his neighborhood and a safe advisor in the public affairs of the county. He was a pronounced republican in politics and so representative that his party, in 1882, made him a standard bearer and sent him to the state legislature. His duties as a law maker were conscientiously and faithfully discharged. He never accepted office again till 1894, when he was elected county treasurer. The work here was onerous and the close confinement to office is thought to have precipitated the tendency to apoplexy, which an active outdoor life had warded off. About two years ago, after deliberate consideration, the deceased espoused Christianity, uniting with the Christian church here in Hillsboro. Funeral services were held over his remains at the church at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, and on Thursday morning the casket was taken to Gaston, where the remains were buried in the family lot.

An estate in Europe footing up to about $42,000,000 is awaiting division among the Cronkite heirs. One hundred years ago a will was deposited in Amsterdam, Holland, to be opened when a full century had passed. Well, the time has just expired, and the numerous descendants of the testator are now forwarding proofs of identification. Our H. M. Cronkite is one of these, and his evidence is clear and convincing. While there are quite a large number of heirs, there is also a large number of dollars to be divided, and the Oregon branch of the family are considering the many deeds of charity which they have heretofore desired to accomplish but could not because of a lack of funds which will now be possible. The history of this windfall is thus told in an exchange.

In 1750 a Hollander named Jaspar Cronkite, with his two brothers, Jacob and James, left their native land and came to Amsterdam, N. Y. James and Jacob liked their new home, but Jaspar returned to Amsterdam, Holland. He started a gin manufactory and made $12,000,000. Jaspar was unmarried, and longed for the society of his brothers. He wrote, asking them to return and share his wealth. They declined, and Jaspar was so incensed by their refusal that he resolved that they should not derive any benefit from his wealth. On April 6, 1796, he made a will leaving his immense fortune to be divided among the heirs of the fourth and fifth generations, and providing that the will be read on April 6, 1896. When Jasper died, his money was left with the government in trust for the heirs. The government deposited the money in the Bank of Holland, where it has been since. The $12,000,000 has, by the addition of interest, been increased to $42,000,000.

Dr. A. B. Bailey, having opened dental parlors in the Morgan block, corner of Main and Second streets, invites his friends as well as patients to call. The dental school of Chicago, of which Dr. B. is a graduate, is now the most eminent institutions of the kind in the world, and our Oregon boy has enjoyed rare opportunities, which he has employed to the utmost. Beyond this preparation, is the assembling of tools and instruments and the fitting up of a well appointed laboratory, which has not been neglected in the least particular. The first thing of importance is the operating chair, a product of the best factory in the United States and hence the best chair in Oregon unless there shall be another just like it. Then his drills and chisels and burnishers are all of the latest design. His rolls for making plates are perfectly adjusted. His engines are of the latest design and one who goes abroad for work will do so because he prefers to pay the extravagant city price for an ordinary job. The INDEPENDENT has always maintained that the corps of physicians and lawyers of Hillsboro are the peers of any in the state, and now the chair of dentristy is added to the list.

The republican county central committee meets tomorrow. One item of business to receive attention is the naming of a candidate for treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the sudden death of Hon. J. W. Sappington. Several names are mentioned. G. N. Hale, Cornelius precinct, Ex-Treasurer Pointer, of Hillsboro, E. B. Sappington, Forest Grove, J. Q. A. Young of Beaverdam, and perhaps others. There is much work and responsibility in the office now, and those best qualified for the place are not tumbling over one another to get it. Indeed it is not known whether either of the gentlemen named could be induced to take the station.

The onion beds of Beaverton have been under water for most of the time the past week, and in places the young plants are destroyed. The season is so far advanced that there is little encouragement to attempt to repair the damages by replanting. The same is true of the crops on the low Tualatin bottom. Even for oats the season will be short.

It will soon be emphasized more strongly than ever before that the Tualatin river must be cleared of drifts. The water is now over the low bottom lands and is held there by the drift dams that have been for years accumalating across the stream. True the water goes through it, but it is slow—so slow.

An invitation to be present gives the information that Mrs. Clara M. Whitlow formerly of Hillsboro, was married to J. T. Meadows at Marshfield May 7th 1896, at 7 o'clock a. m.

H. Bigham living on J. J. Hare's place by the Minto bridge, lost a very valuable young mare last week. Without any visible reason the animal laid down and died.

The INDEPENDENT is under obligations to the Argus for the official report of the democratic convention, held last Friday. The party is going to maintain its organization this year, and be in fighting trim when the populists disband.

C. W. Clow, whom we know very well here, is to commence the publication of a paper at McMinnville this week to be called the "McMinnville Bee." It is to be the organ of the new populo-silver party in that county. If the silversides are stung by election time it will be what is expected.

There was a good deal of unnecessary noise made by people not interested because Mr. Traver secretary of the republican convention did not stay here Thursday night to sign the acceptances of the candidates. Last year the populists got into a similar or worse fix, yet they got their names on the official ballot.

Sheriff Ford was called to the telephone to recive the very good news that the jury in Multnomah county had returned a verdict in his favor in the case of Ford v Ray. This will probably end this vexatious series of actions. Mr. Ford has won all of them which ought to convince the Rays that he faithfully performed his official duty in the matter.

The Veteran Association of Washington county will hold its reunion at Forest Grove this year which decision was reached yesterday at the semi-annual meeting. This action will doubtless insure an elaborate celebration of Independance day at the college town, and will correspondingly detract from the ceremonies here, however it is hoped our neighbors will have better weather than we did last year.

Hon. T. J. Cleeton, the republican candidate for district attorney for this district, will be in the county on the 18th inst. and will spend several days here forming the acquaintance of our people. While here he will make several political addresses, though the places and exact times have not yet been fixed. Mr. Cleeton is an interesting talker and always delights his audiences. Several of the candidates on the county ticket will accompany Mr. Cleeton on this canvass in the county.

Next Tuesday is the time for the regular meeting of Hillsboro Republican Club. The occasion will be an important one, as at that time the material work of the campaign will be commenced. Heretofore the club has been meeting but twice a month, but from now on till June, weekly meetings are to be held. Hon. H. V. Gates is to be the principle speaker next Tuesday. He has not stated his particular subject, but he has several topics that are interesting. He generally pays his compliments to his populist neighbors, and he will, no doubt, have a new story for their benefit. The meeting will be in Grange hall.

Cure for Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of headache Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle; and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Fifty cents and $1 at the Hillsboro Pharmacy.

CAMPAIGN SONG.

(Air, "Marching through Georgia".)

Come all ye Sons of Veterans,
And G. A. R. men, too,
We have a work before us now
That all must help to do.
You need not bring your winchesters,
We elect our men by the ballot.

Chorus:
Hurrah, hurrah, Oh, let this song be sung,
Hurrah, hurrah, we're bound to vote for Tongue.
We need not fear to trust him,
In far-off Washington,
He will do the right thing in Congress.

Our taxes and our salaries
Are very much too high,
And officers to cut them down
To get, we mean to try.
The workingman is now where he must
Root hog or die.
We'll elect our men by the ballot.

But Tongue is not the only man,
For whom we have to work,
We must elect a sheriff,
And a trusted county clerk,
And also a recorder
Who will not his duty shirk.
We'll elect our men by the ballot.

And there's the representatives
And superintendent too.
We must have good, honest men
Who will their duty do,
A senator who sanctions gold,
To push our bills right through.
We'll elect our men by the ballot.

We've had enough of J. N. Dolph
To last us several years,
We want to keep our Mitchell in,
And banish all our fear,
For he will work for Oregon,
The state that has no peers.
We'll elect our men by the ballot.

And lastly, but not leastly,
The nation's chief we,ll hail,
Next fall when Bill McKinley wins
The ship of state to sail,
And that will end the campaign cry
Of "empty dinner pails,"
We'll elect our men by the ballot.

Money cannot make business. It is idle to suppose it can, and populists with the money brokers and bankers, are indulging in that idleness. When men want flour and beef and the products of our factories and mines, and find that the domestic product is as cheap or cheaper than the foreign supply, there will be business and our money will be used as handy instrument for making the exchanges.

It is rmored ehat the conmty court will not appoint a successor to Hon. J. W. Sappington to fill out the unexpired term of two months, untill the central committee has named a man to fill the vacancy on the republican ticket.

Mr. Tanner, who has been nominated by the republicans of Illinois for governor, has made a good start by contributing a peculiarly apt and striking phrase to current political speechifying. "Every mechanic," he says, "who thrusts his hands into his empty pockets will know how to vote." That states the case in a practical way and without any loss of words.

HAVE YOU USED
BUTTER PARCHMENT?

All gilt-edged butter put on the market by creameries is wrapped in paper.
The product of the private dairy would reach its market in much better condition if wrapped in Butter Parchment than it does when wrapped in cloth.
Parchment is not only better than cloth, but cheaper.
Cloth sells at 6 cents per yard, from which 27 sheets can be cut—27 Parchment wrappers cost 3¼ cents.

500 Sheets, 8x11, - 55 cts
500 Sheets, 8x13, - - 60 cts

The standard size for 2-pound rolls is 8x11 inches; 2-pound blocks are wrapped in the 8x13 size.
One reason why paper has not been generally used heretofore, farmers could not get it at the general store.
It is now kept at the Independent office cut to any size wanted.

CITATION.

IN THE COUNTY COURT OF THE State of Oregon, for Washington County.

In the matter of the estate of William R. Carpenter, deceased.

To Mrs. Eunice Walker, Mrs. S. S. Henderson, T. W. Sain, Henry Carpenter, Elizabeth Fenk, Allen B. Carpenter, Cornelius C. Carpenter, Mary J. Beliard, Ida Dawes, Luella Hoover, Maria Carpenter, Helen Smith, Mrs. Slaughter, Mrs. Charity Davis, and to the unknown heirs of said deceased, and to all persons interested in said estate:

In the name of the State of Oregon, you and each of you are hereby required to appear in the above named Court, at the Court House in Hillsboro, County and State aforesaid, on Monday, the 11th day of May, 1896, at 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, and show cause, if any exist, why an order of sale should not be made as prayed for in the petition of the administrator of said estate, which said petition is herein filed, and praying that the administrator of said deceased, William R. Carpenter, be directed to sell all the lands belonging to the said William R. Carpenter, deceased, to pay the claims against said estate, and for the costs and expenses of administration. Said lands are situate in Washington County, Oregon, and are described as follows, to-wit:

DEATH TO FRUIT PESTS.

To make the Orchard pay you must spray, winter and summer, with Prof. Brown's Insect Exterminator. The only Insecticide known that will kill all Insect life without injury to Tree, Fruit or Foliage.

Endorsed by the individual members of the State Board of Horticulture of California, Oregon and Washington. Used by many Nurserymen and Orchardists. My winter wash is the only solution that will kill the woolly Aphis, (use only while the foliage is off.) My summer wash is a sure destroyer of the codling Moth Eggs, and all insects except Woolly Aphis, (use just after the blossoms fall off.) My Hop Louse wash kills all insects that infest vines, vegetables or plants.

The ingredients used in my formulas can be found in any drug store, costs much less than other washes. (Full and explicit directions for mixing and using.)

Knowing I have a sure remedy, some unprincipled parties are now selling imitations. Therefore, to discourage all such parties I have concluded (for a short time only,) to reduce the price of the three formulas to $2.50 by mail to any address. Formulas Copyrighted, January 14, 1890. P. O. Box 2237. By W. H. BROWN, Entomologist. San Francisco, California. Mention this paper. 37-
