A few days ago a small boy of a neighbor exercised his embryonic artistry by drawing the picture of a mule. He placed his picture sheet in his mother's hands for inspection and her criticism, providing it should be favorable. She examined it and said: "Well, Johnnie, that is a pretty good mule, but it has no tail." The little fellow scratched the drawing, which he held at arm's length for critical examination. The boy's mind worked rapidly, for the answer was: "Mother, there are no flies on that mule. He doesn't need a tail!"

Hon. H. V. Gates met Hon. D. N. Dunbar in joint debate on Monday last at Dilley. Mr. Gates stated that he stood on the St. Louis republican platform, while Mr. Dunbar as positively announced the Chicago republican platform. Mr. Gates opened in a 45-minute speech, Mr. Dunbar replied, using 45 minutes. When Mr. Dunbar closed his side in another 15 minutes, leaving five minutes for Mr. Gates to close the debate. Mr. Gates debated along the line of these six topics: Platform inconsistencies. He called attention to what a republican had to endorse who adopted the Chicago platform—four years ago, or at any previous time in his political life. In truth, there are no republicans supporting the Chicago nominee. They are all Bryan democrats. The second topic was an extract—the two had no parallel decline. The production of silver in the United States with the other products. Fourth. He told who the silver mine owner was. He is not a poor man, but a wealthy and powerful corporation. Here the speaker called attention to the fact that the London Rothschilds are fast getting a controlling interest in the Anaconda mine of Montana, the most gigantic mine of ore in the world. The fifth topic was an explanation of the $1.20 per ounce proposition, and lastly the question, Can we afford to experiment with independent free coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1. Mr. Dunbar didn't reply to any of these propositions nor make denial of any of the propositions taken by the republican.

As this is the season when typhoid fever is most prevalent, special care should be taken to secure pure milk and drinking water, because their impurity is one of the chief causes of this dread disease. In all cases of doubt it is safest to boil the water. Active disease does not always follow from drinking impure liquids, but the vitality of the system is invariably lowered thereby, making it more susceptible to zymotic infection. We can't with certainty say that the cow that drinks from the polluted cess-pool in the city, but it is quickly absorbed any zymotic germs that may be present in the air. Hence milk, too, should be boiled and sealed while hot, and kept so till needed for use.

There will be somewhat of a departure from the usual way in the nature of the topics discussed at the Congregational church next Sunday. In the morning the pastor will take for his subject, "The Influence of Human Life"—Psalm 90:12. Natural history will be drawn upon for illustrations to emphasize the lessons deduced from the text. The evening service will witness the opening address on "The Origin of Man," a world-wide-illustrated epic, that of next Sabbath night being "The Destruction of the French Bastille. Some Truths that Great Events Taught the World." A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend any or all of these services.

Died, Agnes Emel, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Emel, Thursday, Oct. 8th, of consumption, aged 32 years, 5 months, and 24 days. She had been a victim of that malady for a number of months. Medical aid was obtained, but the physicians could give the anxious parents no encouragement. She gradually weakened during the latter part of the summer, and died on Friday, the 28th. Her funeral was held at 10 o'clock on Saturday, and was attended by a large number of friends.

A Good Wind Mill—Make it Yourself. I made one of the People's Wind Mills which I saw recommended in your paper recently. It only cost me $9.40 and is a splendid mill; my well is deep, but it pumps it all right with very little wind; the neighbors all like it, and as I am a kind of a carpenter, the work is easy. The mill runs nicely, and on which I can make a nice profit, and there are many others for whom I can put up mills this fall. I don't see why every farmer should not have a wind mill, when they can make it themselves for less than $10. Any one can get diagrams and complete directions for making the wind mill by sending in two-cent stamps to pay postage, etc., to E. D. Wilson & Co., Allegheny, Pa., and there can be bought by any one that has the energy to do it.

Electric Bitters. Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative cathartic is imperative. This medicine has often averted, long and protracted bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters, one or two pills per bottle at the Hillsboro Pharmacy.

I have used many preparations for restoring hair to natural color, but never had a satisfactory result, until I used Zulu Valter. It will restore any color of hair to its natural color in three weeks. If it does not they return your money, so you take no risks. People who have never tried it can get a simple package, which contains enough to restore any one's hair to natural color, by sending 21 two-cent stamps, to pay postage, etc., to Wilson & Co., New Concord, Ohio.

The regular price is $2.50 per package. If it does not restore your hair to natural color, or make any color of hair darker in three weeks, they will return your stamps. This proposition is so fair that thousands are using it. It is harmless, but never fails. Why can't big money be made by selling Zulu Valter from house to house?

The Ideal Hairdresser, Jas. L. Francis, of Chicago, says, "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as one of the great discoveries of our age. It has cured my own hair, and I have never had anything so beneficial or so speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this wonderful remedy now. Trial bottles free at Hillsboro Pharmacy.

A Chance to Make Money.

I read how one of your subscribers made money selling dishwashers. I ordered one, and my lady friends were charmed, as they hate dish washing. My brother and I commenced selling them, and have made $1,000 in the last three months. We don't canvass any. Our socks are all made at home. People come or send for them. The Mount City Dish Washer is the best dish washer on the market. Our business is increasing, and we are going to keep right on until we make ten thousand dollars. We sell from five to fifteen machines every day, and some days more. The dish washer is lovely; every housekeeper wants one. There is no excuse to be poor when so much money can be made selling dish washers. For particulars, address The Mount City Dish Washer Co., St. Louis, Mo. They will start you on the road to success.—A READER.

A Wife Equal to a Gold Mine.

Will some of your readers give me a good recipe for making cold starch? I am selling self-heating flat irons and iron a little at every house, and have to use some starch every place, and want to know how to make good cold starch. My husband was in debt, and I being anxious to get out, but thought I would sell self-heating flat irons, and I am doing splendidly. A cent's worth of fuel will heat the iron for three hours, so you have it perfectly even heat. You can iron half the time, and no danger of scorching the clothes, as with the old iron, and you can get the most beautiful gloss. I sell at nearly every house, as the iron saves so much fuel everybody wants one. I make $1.50 on each iron, and have not had less than ten dollars a day I worked. My brother is doing well, and I think any one can make lots of money any where selling irons. J. F. Casey & Co., St. Louis, Mo., will start any one in the business, as they did me, if you will address them.

The New Hook Spoon Free to All.

I read in the Christian Standard that Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A., St. Louis, Mo., would give an elegant plated hook spoon to anyone who would sell the iron and send for one. I did so, and found it so useful that I showed it to my friends, and made $15 in two hours, taking orders for the spoon. It cannot slip into the dish or cooking vessel, being held in the place by a hook on the end.
