THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Gov. Lord has issued his proclamation for Thanksgiving in these words:

"For the manifold blessings vouchsafed to us during the past year, it is fitting that we, as a grateful people, should make due acknowledgments to Almighty God. In recognition of this duty, and in conformity with a time-honored custom, and in accordance with the proclamation of the president of the United States, I, William P. Lord, governor of the state of Oregon, do designate and set apart Thursday, the 20th day of November, 1896, as Thanksgiving Day.

"On that day I recommend that the people abstain, as far as practicable, from the occupations of their daily life, and that they assemble in their usual places of worship and offer praise and thanksgiving to God for the peace and prosperity bestowed upon us, for the health and happiness with which he has blessed us, and for our freedom from pestilence and calamities. Let us also devote the day to the enjoyment of hospitality and the strengthening of family ties; to relieving the wants of the needy and distressed, and the doing of charitable deeds; to inspiring sentiments of loyalty to our country, and respect for its laws and the maintenance of public order; to cultivating a just regard for the rights and opinions of others, and inculcating a sense of duty that will lead us to fulfill, as far as lies in our power, our obligations as citizens and individuals."

Speaker Reed would make a good secretary of state, but he probably prefers to remain in the House, where he has more fun with a certain class of his fellow-countrymen than he could possibly have with foreigners.

King Oscar II., of Norway and Sweden, chairman of the Venezuelan arbitration board, is a man 65 years of age, 6 feet 3 inches high, very popular with his subjects. It is said that a judicial turn of mind.

It looks as if the price of wheat had been kept down by the free silver agitation. Grain dealers in Europe allowed their stock to run low, expecting to pay for fresh supplies in depreciated silver. The plan is spoiled, and now there is a rush to buy at advanced figures, with payment in gold.

One of our townsmen had a snider. He heard Hans call "Snider! Snider! Ver ish Veely?" Snider did not answer, but Mary appeared crying, and brushing what seemed to be scalding tears from her swollen eyes. She hysterically sobbed out: "We—Wool—Woolie is d—d—down at Watson's—h—h—house."

While republicans are rejoicing and bestowing praise for good management that has brought so great a victory, the services of Chairman Hirsch must not be forgotten. The INDEPENDENT, some months since, paid tribute to his faithfulness and great organizing ability. This has been emphasized by the result of the election. Mr. Hirsch has been as true to party as steel and unselfish as few men in politics are. Other men in the state might have done the work as well, but they are yet to be found by trial.

In 1892 the democrats promised us a dollar for wheat. They have left it for republicans to keep the promise in 1896. About 37 cents have been added to the September price and it seems now that the other 18 cents ought to be added. But seriously the absurdity of the claim put forward four years since and again now by the Bryan-Union campaign committee is seen. Where the market is in a foreign country the law of supply and demand is bound to prevail. No party can create value, and all the republican party ever proposed to do is to retain control of our home market and secure foreign markets by means of reciprocity. This is seen in the history of the iron and steel trade, in tin-plate factories, in salt and, in fact, almost all the enterprises. Protection could not control prices, for values fell, fell, fell, but the market was kept. Domestic producers were able to sell at some price.

The republican senators in the fifty-fifth congress, which takes office March 4, 1897, are California 1, Colorado 1, Connecticut 2, Delaware 1, Illinois 2, Indiana 1, Iowa 2, Kansas 1, Kentucky 1, Maine 2, Maryland 1, Massachusetts 2, Michigan 2, Minnesota 2, Nebraska 1, New Hampshire 2, New Jersey 1, New York 1, North Carolina 1, North Dakota 1, Ohio 2, Oregon 2, Pennsylvania 2, Rhode Island 2, South Dakota 1, West Virginia 1, Wisconsin 1, Wyoming 2, total 44. The democrats have Alabama 2, Arkansas 2, California 1, Delaware 1, Florida 2, Georgia 2, Indiana 1, Kentucky 1, Louisiana 2, Maryland 1, Mississippi 2, Missouri 1, New Jersey 1, New York 1, North Carolina 1, South Carolina 2, Tennessee 2, Texas 2, Virginia 2, West Virginia 1, Wisconsin 1, total 32. Populist and independents, Kansas 1, Nebraska 1, Nevada 2, North Carolina 1, Utah 2, Washington 2, total 8. Silver republicans, Colorado 1, Idaho 2, Montana 2, South Dakota 1, total 6.

WHAT TO EXPECT.

The campaign just closed bids fair to bring negative results only. Free coinage of silver will not be undertaken. The supreme court will not be disturbed, and mobs will be suppressed by federal authority when the state neglects or refuses to do so. But it now looks as if any revision of the tariff laws will be impossible. What ought to be done? It is of first importance to have revenue sufficient for the needs of the government. The present tariff law badly needs amendment to eliminate the perjury and dishonesty which President Cleveland himself said belonged to it. Some of the particulars: The system should be changed from ad valorem duties to specific. A heavy tax should be laid on shoddy, so that our citizens of small means would not be compelled to wear the rags of Europe. A heavier tax ought to be imposed on the finer grades of woolen fabrics so that the wealthy, who are best able to bear the burden. The tax on sugar should be shifted from a revenue to a protective basis. Live stock introduced across our boundary lines should pay a license. In short, the revenue policy of the government should be fashioned on republican lines.

Is there a well for such a desirable thing? Well, the prospect is discouraging. We have but 44 senators now in sight, where we shall need 46. Some of the positive supporters of McKinley among the big daily papers, bubbling over with gratitude, hint at rewarding the present administration by retaining members of the present cabinet in office. No names have been mentioned, but only one can be meant—Mr. Carlisle. The secretary is a strong man, and if the opposition to free silver coinage was the only issue it would be proper to keep him, but his views on bank circulation, as unfolded in several of his reports, are open to the gravest criticism. He is not a republican, and hence cannot be depended upon in tariff legislation. The sugar schedule is in his hands-writing. Olney might do. He seems to be an American, and is somewhat removed from the treasury department. But if republicans are to be held responsible for the government, republicans must administer it.

The St. Louis (Mo.) "Globe Democrat" discussing the subject, points out the fact that there are 44 republican senators, and 4 strong, positive sound money democrats who can be depended upon to join the republicans, making 48 that will stand against free silver. That journal makes a mistake, though, when it classes the 6 silver republicans with the 44 republican republicans on all measures not pertaining to the coinage laws. Those 6 will join the majority only when a rider is attached to a tariff bill, or any other measure that seems to be necessary for the welfare of the government. We have seen them tried. In 1890, Teller says the tariff bill was held up till the Sherman purchase act was given. And the hold-up of the Dingley tariff bill last winter is fresh in mind. Those 6 would wreck the government credit before they would vote with the 44 on any measure except free silver coinage. The tariff plank in the Palmer and Buckner platform is notice served that sound money democrats will not unite with the 44 on republican tariff legislation. They did not last winter.

The landslide of a million popular majority has not been sweeping enough to take the nation out of the woods. The condition confronts us, and we must begin a new fight to get at least two more senators.

UNITED STATES AND ENGLAND AT A STATE DINNER.

The inauguration of the Lord Mayor of London is an occasion of more than ordinary importance politically. At the banquet which follows it is customary for the prime minister of England to deliver a speech which is understood to outline the policy of government for the ensuing year. It is akin to our president's inaugural address. At the banquet the dignitaries of the nations are assembled. This year our Minister Bayard was appointed to respond to the toast "The Ambassadors." He said:

"I am honored in being chosen to speak for the corps of which I am a humble member. I confess that until 5:30 o'clock this evening I did not expect to be asked to respond to a toast. However, I have obtained an idea from a distinguished diplomat, Lord Dufferin, who recently said that a mass of governments of the world were a mass of politicking, nervous sensations. The result, he said, of bringing together these sensations was to destroy isolation, splendid or otherwise, and to induce nations to feel and act as ladies and gentlemen, with consideration for each other's feelings and interests. The people I represent have made a declaration in no narrow sense, and in no local or merely national sense, which stands as a verdict and declaration for national honor, speaking to the human heart and mind in favor of that honesty which is essential for the civilization of the world. You cannot today shock civilization, even on its exterior boundaries, without affecting its heart. This is enabled me to speak, not for myself or country, but for the whole diplomatic corps. The world is one. Who does not perceive it, and who does not realize the truth and force of the day in which we live?"

Lord Salisbury responded to the Lord Mayor's toast, "The Ministry." The premier said as introductory: "I thank Mr. Bayard for his presence here to-night, and participating in this meeting. In the words he has uttered he has raised the plane of observation so high above the mere level of party that, though contrary to our practice to make observation on the internal politics of other states, I may be permitted, without impertinence, to congratulate him upon this splendid pronouncement which the great people he represents has made in behalf of the principles which lie at the basis of all human society."

His lordship then reverted to the Venezuela boundary dispute, and stated that it was at an end, and had been put in process of arbitration. This statement was a piece of diplomatic news very gratifying to Ambassador Bayard as well as to his government at home. It was a short hour before the dignitaries had assembled at the banquet board had Salisbury been notified from Washington that a treaty for arbitration had been agreed upon by Mr. Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote. This treaty provides for a board of five arbitrators, two to be appointed by the chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, two to be appointed by the lord chief justice of Great Britain and Ireland, and the fifth is King Oscar II. of Norway and Sweden, agreed to in the treaty itself.

A MILLION PLURALITY.

A million plurality! When all the returns for last Tuesday's election are in and the official count in each of the States is completed, McKinley's popular plurality will be shown to be in the neighborhood of 1,000,000. As the count now stands, his plurality is over a million, and complete returns are more likely to increase than to decrease the present figure. If this is not a landslide which has never been a political landslide in the history of this country. No candidate since the beginning of this government has ever received a popular plurality approaching Maj. McKinley's. The nearest to it was Grant's plurality of 762,000 in 1872. No other candidate reached the half-million mark, as will be seen by the following table of popular majorities beginning with 1836:

1836—Martin Van Buren 24,803
1840—W. H. Harrison 146,315
1844—James K. Polk 139,377
1848—Zachary Taylor 139,377
1852—Franklin Pierce 220,894
1856—James Buchanan 146,949
1860—Abraham Lincoln 491,139
1864—Abraham Lincoln 497,342
1868—U. S. Grant 355,456
1872—U. S. Grant 762,000
1876—Samuel J. Tilden 259,953
1880—James G. Blaine 242,961
1884—Grover Cleveland 22,985
1888—Grover Cleveland 98,017
1892—Grover Cleveland 280,840

"Cleveland received a plurality of the popular vote, but Benj. Harrison received a majority of the electoral votes and was chosen president."

In the following table of pluralities by States the figures are based upon the latest reports received and will come very close to official returns. Pennsylvania, of course, leads the list of McKinley States, with New York a close second, and Massachusetts, Illinois and Wisconsin following in the order named. Colorado leads the Bryan States, with Texas second and Mississippi and Missouri running a close race for the third place.

Total 278,109 1,563,447 507,459
Plurality for McKinley 1,055,988.

OREGON BY COUNTIES.

The Secretary of State has not yet compiled an abstract of the vote by counties but the table below gives the reported majorities and is approximately correct. The latest statement from the Secretary's office, Salem, places McKinley's plurality at 2,335.

Gen. Weyler, of Cuba, has taken the field against the insurgents. A dispatch to the "Globe Democrat" states that he was attacked by the enemy and forced to retreat for a distance of eight miles. Weyler's forces claim other advantages, however, in that they have seized all mountain passes, and will compel Maceo to fight in the open. London advises state that England favors an agreed hold future supervision over Cuba. English newspapers that neither America nor Europe will allow the British government to exercise suzerainty herself. It is said that the European governments have already been approached by Olney, and that they make no objection. All advice point to the fact that a change of some kind must speedily be made.

JOHN SHERMAN'S HOPE.

Senator Sherman, of Ohio, when the result of the election was known, signed this paragraph: "I sincerely hope that the election will settle forever a question that, in my opinion, threatens the honor and good faith of the United States more than any other since the closing of the civil war, confidently assuming as I do the election of McKinley. I hope that the present gold standard will be maintained, with the largest use of parity with gold. This settled, we ought promptly to make such changes in our tariff and revenue laws as will yield a sufficient supply of money to meet current expenses of the government and create a sufficient surplus to pay outstanding bonds within a few years and to sufficiently and impartially protect American industries. JOHN SHERMAN."

What the election emphasizes. Burke Cochrane, the eloquent New York congressman, the next day after the election gave utterance to these patriotic words: "This was not a political contest in the ordinary meaning of the term. It was an insurrection against the underlying principles of the parallel in the history of the world. 'I have no opinion to express as to the future of the democratic party. It has no future which it can determine for itself. This election, in my opinion, was not an expression of the people as to what should be done during the next four years, but as to what shall not be done. I do not regard it as a verdict in favor of any specific policy. It was a verdict against a debasement of the currency, against the destruction of the supreme court as an independent tribunal and against the nullification or abridgment of the president's power to enforce the law. In fine, it was a verdict that the fundamental conditions of civilized society should not be disturbed in this country. 'The final outcome of yesterday's election no man can now predict further than to say that the political issues of the future depend entirely upon the character of Mr. McKinley's administration.'"

Mr. Bland, of Missouri, succeeded this year by the fusion, in having himself returned to Congress. He will now have a chance to prove that he has as many as two ideas. That old drone about the crime of '73 will be unendurable after the vindication of '96.

The U. S. battleship Texas, built on plans bought from English designers, sank at her dock at the Brooklyn navy yard last Sunday. The water was not deep, however, and the vessel was raised within a few hours. The cause of the sinking was the staying in of a valve by force of water. Luckily it was not on the high sea. American designed ships have up to this time been more fortunate.

A registry law is needed in Oregon especially in the larger towns. It is not always that public opinion can be so thoroughly aroused as at the late election, hence we cannot always be assured of perfect quiet and order about the polling places. In face of the late decision of the supreme court, the best lawyers state that a registry law can be written that will be constitutional. The next legislature ought to take up the problem and frame a law that will give every right to legal voters, but prevent fraud.

By a strong and positive pressure the United States government has won the matter at issue in the Venezuelan boundary dispute. The board of arbitration seems to be untrammelled by conditions except the doctrine of a statute of limitations of fifty years is recognized. This is a new thing in international jurisprudence though in personal disputes it has been recognized both in England and America for many years. The limitation seems to have been formulated by Olney, and at once accepted by Pauncefote. By its provision territory settled by British subjects for a term of fifty years shall be deemed British soil without further question. Also colonies planted and maintained by Venezuela fifty or more years ago remains Venezuelan territory.

THE SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE LOOKS AHEAD.

The San Francisco Chronicle looks ahead and sees that the platform upon which McKinley and Hobart and a republican congress have been elected pledges the executive and legislative branches of the national government after March 4, 1897, to the following programme of states:

"I don't believe there ever was so good a pill as Ayer's Cathartic Pills. They will do all you recommend them for and even more. When I have a cold and ache from head to heels, a dose or two of these pills is all the medicine I need to get me right again. For headache."

The good pill has a good coat. The pill coat serves two purposes; it protects the pills, and disguises it to the sensitive palate. Some coats are too heavy; they won't dissolve, and the pills they cover pass through the system, harmless as a bread pellet. Other coats are too light, and permit the speedy deterioration of the pill. After 30 years exposure, Ayer's Sugar Coat Pills have been found as effective as if just fresh from the laboratory. It's a good pill, with a good coat. Ask your druggist for Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

"This testimonial will be found in full in Ayer's 'Cathartic' with a hundred others. Free Address: J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass."

THE NEW HOOK SPOON FREE TO ALL. I read in the Christian Standard that Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A, St. Louis, Mo., would give an elegant planted hook spoon to anyone sending her ten 2-cent stamps. I sent for one and found it so useful that I showed it to my friends, and made $13 in two hours, taking orders for the spoon. It cannot slip into the dish or cooking vessel, being held in the place by a hook on the back. The spoon is something that housekeepers have needed ever since spoons were first invented. Anyone who is a spend a simple spoon by sending ten 2-cent stamps to Miss Fritz, Station A, in Newport, Ore., will be very happy around home. Very truly, JENNETTE S.

I have berries, grapes and peaches, a year old, fresh as when picked. I use the California Cool process. I do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put a bushel in ten minutes. Last week I sold directions to over 120 families; anyone will pay a dollar for directions, when they see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to you, and feel confident any one can make one or two hundred dollars round home in a few days. I will mail samples of fruit and complete directions to any of your readers, for eighteen two-cent stamps, which is the only actual cost of the samples, postage, etc., to me.
