HILLSBORO PUBLISHING CO., PROPRIETORS

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1897

The coal miners of Pennsylvania are hiding behind petticoats. The strikes are being "managed" by the capitalists.

The importers extra supplies, rushed in under the lower rates of the Wilson bill, will have been exhausted by next year, and the true capacities of the new tariff law fairly tested.

To be compelled to make excuses (for Dingley bill) every three months during the next three years would be a very humiliating after a while.

E. M. C., of Eight Mile, asks a question in this week's correspondence to this effect: What caused the rise in wheat values, foreign demand or republicanism?

You remember what Debs of the social democracy said in his St. Louis resolutions touching "the right of the people to keep and bear arms" which "may not be infringed," and how much is sought to be made of it.

The hanging of those seven men in Indiana this week by a masked vigilance committee is a worse thing than has happened in the wild and woolly west in years.

The appointment of Mr. Geer to the Oregon City land office is quite satisfactory to those who understand the situation. This is the first time that Mr. Geer has been recognized at the hands of any delegation in congress and is a graceful appreciation of his services.

The importations of wool in June 1897 amounted to over $5,000,000 in value against less than $5,000,000 in June 1896. This was one of the many incidents in the importers' struggle in the closing month of the Wilson tariff to get even with the farmers for voting to take that measure off the statute books.

The unfortunate shooting of 60 miners near Hazleton, Pa., on the 10th has called more men from the mines than all the marching columns had been able to influence.

The news reports that have been sent over the country during the past week leave little doubt but that English capitalists are trying with the original intention to excavate a level canal from ocean to ocean has been abandoned and plans for a series of locks have been substituted.

KLONDYKE AND HUNGER.

There is as much Klondyke literature written as ever, and the facts are as difficult to find as the gold itself. Much depends on the color of the writers' vision.

Another alarming fact is reported. An epidemic of typhoid fever has broken out in a new place remote from civilization. In a new place remote from civilization.

Without doubt the government will have to organize a relief expedition before spring and it will be expensive. The camps on the coast will not be so unfortunately situated since they can be reached easily by sea.

Eugene Debs is brave at conventions and is so much employed at those assemblies that he cannot find time to be with the men at such places as Hazelton. This is the way in which his associates talk and write resolutions.

The blood of the idle and useless aristocracy is the most convenient medicine for nourishing the tree of liberty. "An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth."

Strong condemnatory resolutions were also passed by branch No. 1, and some fiery speeches were made. Quinn said: "I will not carry a musket; I will carry a torch and knife, and I will carry both as far as I can."

The Chicago Record has had a postal savings bank bill drawn which will be presented at the next session of congress. The bill seems to be meritorious. Two objections may be urged, which if answered favorably for the bill ought to remove all opposition.

MADRID, Sept. 14.—Senator Sagasta, liberal leader, in an interview on the subject of the Cuban insurrection, says the uprising instead of dying out is spreading considerably.

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Illinois, Indiana and Iowa, are parched. Until last evening Kansas was in the same condition, but rain came. Weather men say that fall showers are due in other states in a few days.

Corn is being destroyed in all the Egyptian country and much recent has been made in best and draught since September, 1879. The Saguana, Mackinaw and Vermilion rivers are nearly dry, and the cattle on a thousand hills are dying for want of water.

SPAIN LOSES HER GRIP

The Insurgents Improving Their Condition

YELLOW FEVER IN NEW ORLEANS

Indians Raising a Disturbance in Central Asia.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—General Lee has returned home from Havana but he makes no mention of publication till he writes his written and verbal reports to the President. General Lee reports that he will present to the President that the insurgents are now on top and will certainly achieve their own salvation without assistance.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Sept. 13.—Minister Taylor took his leave of the Spanish Court. The queen was most gracious. General Woodford, the new minister received and some formal discourse with the members of the court.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—The yellow fever, in spite of precautions, is spreading, and an epidemic feared.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The disturbances on the Indian frontier in Central Asia are still alarming. The recent success of the British arms has not awed the native tribes, and the fighting in that quarter promises to be stubborn.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Seth Low has been endorsed by the King's county republicans for mayor. The republican city convention is to be held this week.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 14.—Dr. Andrews, the silver president has withdrawn his resignation of the presidency of Brown university.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—A special to the Journal and Advertiser from Washington says: It is now evident that the government is getting ready to deal with Spain vigorously.

Florence Sturdivant, of Grandstone Island, Saved from an Untimely Death—Her Dangerous Predicament.

Among the Thousand Islands is one called Grandstone. It is seven miles long and three wide. The inhabitants of this island are a well-informed class of people who devote their energies to farming and quarrying for a livelihood.

FLORENCE J. STURDIVANT.

In an interview with a reporter Mr. Sturdivant said: "Florence was taken sick in February, 1896, with scarlet fever and was immediately called a physician. After two weeks she was still ill but Florence was left with a very weak back. Severe pains were constantly in the back and stomach. The difficulty seemed to be the effect of the disease."

TAKING CHANCES

Josh Billings once said: "If I were called upon to wrap up the body of a dead man, I would shut out over his head." Josh didn't take any chances, even though every appearance indicated that he was dead.
