Fred Harper, an enterprising youth of 19, worked himself up to the proper frenzy and stole a halter from Mr. John Grable, this week. He sold it to a second-hand store for 20 cents. The young man was taken before Justice of the Peace Smith, where guilt was established and a fine of $40 imposed. In default of money the defendant is in jail for 20 days. On taking his place in jail he stolidly remarked that he "guessed he could sleep out his sentence."

Several of the young men of the town have organized a literary society under the name Young Men's Literary Society of Hillsboro. The meeting place is in the old Christian church. The officers for the present term are John Archbold, president; T. E. Cornelius, vice-president, and Clarence Hoyt, secretary and treasurer. The meetings for the present are private, though later on a public meeting may be arranged.

The English and German Specialists are to be here next Tuesday, the 24 of February. In the letter of advice there were two sets of figures written and the "27" was inserted when Feb. 24 was intended.

HILLSBORO PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The course of study in the Hillsboro public school is now adjusted so as to accomplish good results.

The school consists of eight grades, each grade is divided into two classes.

The work of each class is finished in four and one-half months; the classes being only four and one-half months apart. Any pupil doing extra work can study ahead of his class and be promoted during a term to one higher, while a slow pupil who are unable to make the work of his class in one term loses only half a grades' work.

As we have eight teachers and eight grades, this gives each teacher two divisions or classes, so instructions can be given alternately to the divisions, thus the recitation of one division is being heard the other can be preparing for recitation.

The work from the primary to the limit of the grammar school is proportionately divided between the grades, so that one-eighth is included in each grade.

It is well for pupils to begin at the beginning of the term, and is necessary that they attend regularly to do effective work. The second term opens next Monday.

M. C. CASE, Principal.

In another column are quoted in full some of the changes now pending that will effect the road law. There are two more bills introduced to effect road building. One provides that road taxes shall be paid in coin, and the other regulates the width of tires. The bill provides that a rebate of one dollar per wheels that are bound with a tire four or more inches wide shall be allowed from the road taxes of the owner of such freight or farm wagon. An additional rebate of two dollars will be allowed on each freight wagon whose wheels have a four inch tire or more whose axles have a difference of eight inches in length. A special tax of one dollar per wheel is levid on all vehicles using tires less than three inches in width in use on the year 1900, and every year thereafter. The three bills make a complete road law and puts our roads more directly under the custody of the court. They are however so drawn that either may be defeated without prejudice to the others that may be adopted.

Last Sunday evening Chas. Stewart was in C. Blaser's saloon shaking dice for money. That is gambling, is it not? They quarreled. Then they went on the streets and walked along together till Blaser's residence was reached. There Stewart hit Blaser and went his way, suddenly perhaps. Monday morning Stewart swore out a warrant charging Blaser with robbing him of a twenty dollar gold piece. The defendant was arrested and released under bail to appear tomorrow morning for examination. When this case is disposed of there will probably be more. There most always are.

There was no girl concerned in this fight or if there is she is so far in the back ground that her countenance is not recognizable. It is jealousy of mental superiority that sent two of our youths with their friends outside the city limits last Monday evening to settle a little matter of "honor." They fought with bare knuckles till weariness sat them down on a log. After a time more punches were dealt and some blood came, and bye and bye the end. We do not know whom is the better trained in mind or muscle, or whom has the preferable social position for the fight was a draw.

Mr. Wes Garrison is tying a fisherman's sein, which, when completed will be 150 fathoms long, 900 feet. Seins are usually tied by the sounding sea, yet Wes finds that he can produce fully as good a net here as he could at Astoria. Hand made nets are found to be longer lived than those made with a machine, hence the hand made article is preferred.

A. P. Venen, piano and organ tuner, is now stopping in Hillsboro and will tune and repair instruments at reasonable prices. Having had 25 years' experience in working for and having recommends from the largest music houses, he is confident of giving satisfaction. Actions always adjusted and tone softened, if desired, free of charge when tuning.

An agent of a money institution was in Hillsboro a few days ago looking for opportunities to loan money on farm securities. His company has $60,000 or more that it would like to put out at 6 per cent on long time—five to ten years, in sums of $500 to $3,000. Money has never been more plentiful or cheaper than now. The need for free silver coinage, if it ever existed, has passed.

Mr. C. T. Belcher has bought an interest in the St. Charles hotel, Portland, and the proprietors are now Davies & Belcher, both well known in Washington county. Any of our citizens who has to stay in Portland over night will receive courteous treatment at the St. Charles, corner Front and Morrison.

"A quarrel between two women of the church" will be the theme of the morning's discourse at the Congregational church next Sunday morning. As the pastor was unable to preach last Sunday night, he will deliver, by special request, his address on "Tom Brown at Rugby," at 7:30 next Sunday evening. Music by the junior orchestra.

The revival meetings are still in progress at the Evangelical church. The meeting will continue all of next week. Services every evening at 7:30 and every afternoon at 2 p. m. Rev. H. A. Deck is expected to conduct the services next week. All are invited.

Hon. S. B. Huston was in Salem this week before the supreme court, and while it is not the first time he has been at the capitol, it is the first time since he went out of office four years ago that he has been there when the legislature has been in session.

There will be services in the Evangelical church next Sunday as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m., preaching service at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., C. E. society meets at 6:30 p. m. All are cordially invited to these services.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church will give an entertainment in the opera house on Friday evening, Feb. 17th.

Mayor Barrett went up to Salem on Tuesday last, not to look after political fences, but to argue a case before the supreme court.

A CHARTER DISCUSSION.

There will be a special meeting of the Hillsboro city council, held on Friday evening, January 27th, 1899, at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of considering the amendments to the charter of said city as introduced by Senator G. W. Patterson on January 16, 1899. If there are any citizens of the city who are not informed in regard to the proposed amendments, or any who are not satisfied with the same, they are especially invited to be present; for at that time the proposed change will be read and discussed. All citizens of the city who are interested should be present.

Dated January 26, 1899.

W. N. BARRETT, Mayor.

The city council has prepared amendments to the charter that are necessary if a policy desired by many citizens is to be adopted. If that line of action is not taken, then the present charter is good enough. We are in debt and that debt is drawing 8 per cent interest. The council wants authority for shifting the old old debt to a new one that shall draw but 6 per cent. It is not plain why any one should object to this. If we are to buy the light and water plant the council wants the money to do it with. If the city is not to buy it, then the council does not want any money. There is no active opposition to the amendments developing, whereupon the council has called a special meeting for this evening and invites all interested in the matter to be present. The light and water plant will be purchassable in two years and the $10,000 bonds drawing 8 per cent interest will be due then. Will the citizens tie up their own hands now and at that time complain because the cords cut into the flesh?
