OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

FRIDAY, JANUARY, 12, 1900.

NOT ENTIRELY UNSELFISH.

It is a little surprising that the nations cannot understand the United States of America, but continually judge us by their own intriguing standards. In the open door negotiations that Sec. Hay has just concluded, England made two replys. The first was couched in general terms but committeed that country to the open door policy.

But a little later a second answer was received from Great Britain. It went far beyond the first, and offered to concede not only the same commercial and trading privileges which Englishmen enjoyed, but to place Americans on the same terms with its own citizens in the matter of mining and of concessions of all kinds. Great Britain even proposed to throw open the port of Wei-Hai-Wei.

But attached to these exceedingly liberal propositions was the condition that they should only hold good if all other nations adopted the same policy. This was the first suggestion of the provision that one nation's offer would not hold unless other nations took the same position. At once it was seen that England desired to play us against Russia her old antagonist. Mr. Hay declined to be drawn into the scheme. We still maintain our policy of direct open dealing, and continue to shun entangling alliances. It was for our interest to be permitted to trade in China. We so represented the facts to the nations. They acknowledge our position as one proper to be claimed and there the matter rests. With dignity we are able to conduct our diplomacy and modestly we put from us the crafty politician who tempts us with glittering propositions.

The significance of the approaching meeting of the state republican league of clubs is not in any platform of principles that is to be adopted, but in showing where the index to political enthusiasm points. Former meetings have declared that the policy of the league shall be to leave platform making, to the nominating conventions. Indeed there is a resolution already formulated defining the idea of the republican party on every point save one. Protection of home industries is covered. Sound money is pledged, and it only remains for expansion to be formerly endorsed. The league is free therefore to devise ways for getting voters to the polls and to enduce them to vote the republican ticket.

Sec. Gage says the reason why he deposits public moneys in National banks is that the money shall not be hoarded in a "stocking" but may remain in the channels of trade. The reason it is deposited in a single bank instead of in several, is because it is more convenient, and the reason why The National city bank was chosen was because at the time the order was made to deposit in banks it was one of but two institutions that had given bonds for the safe keeping of the money. Gage seems to be taking care of the public money. No losses have been sustained.

What places the American army ahead of all other armies of the world is the military education of a picked corps of boys at West Point who are assigned to the command of the troops in field and garrison. It is not claimed that a man taken from civil life may not make a good commander, but the likelihood of getting a successful leader is by all odds with him who has been trained to the calling of arms from his boyhood. Therefore all vacancies in regulars or volunteers should be filled by West Point men. If vacancies still remain, then civilians may be taken.

A democrat said on the street this week that "You follows want to still hunt and register all your voters and hope that we will not hear of it, but we will show you. We will scour the woods and bring every democrat and populist to the registry." The gentleman mistakes republicans and their principles. Republicans want a free and full vote and a fair count. They ask that every elector shall have the right to vote as he pleases and have his vote counted as it's cost. The registry law is a means to that end.

Multnomah county is not doing right or it is rapidly declining in wealth. In 1893 the net valuation of taxable property was $60,579,540. The very next year the decrease was about $11,000,000. The equalization board raised the assessment somewhat but by 1898 values had shrunk to $42,870,464, and this year there is a further decline of $11,210,693 leaving the taxable property valued at $31,659,771. Thus in six years Multnomah county has officially lost in round numbers $30,000,000.

Over 100 men are engaged in the hunt for August Fiscler, the "lost man" of Lane county.

STATE PRESS.

Our populist friends a year or so ago could discover the loving relationship between wheat and silver, and now they may be able to see a little touch of consanguinity between wheat and mutton. Farmers near Corvallis last week sold 300 mutton sheep at 4 cents a pound on foot, and the animals averaged 100 pounds each. Verily, this condition beats the calamity described by those who declare that the oppressed farmer has no recourse, and no way of escape from impending ruin except he vote for free coinage of silver.—McMinnville Reporter.

The smaller the president the bigger the message. From Washington's 1,500 words to the major's 26,000 is a long jump.—Johnston Democrat. Washington was talking to a 1,500 word country. We have grown some since then.—Union Gazette.

On the very day that the gold standard financial bill passed the lower house of congress money on call in New York rose as high as 186 per cent interest, and several firms in that city and Boston closed their doors to business.—East Oregonian. And the day following the passage of the bill money on call fell to 6 per cent and the threatened panic was averted.—Plaindealer.

American imperialism is a myth—the ghostly creation of excitables. It takes rank with the sea serpent and "the crime of '73."—Astorian.

Dallas' manufacturing institutions are all in operation. Her big sawmill is running on full time, and the machinery at the woolen mill is kept going night and day, with orders on hand for its output for a year.—Dallas Observer.

In the natural order of things the time for breaking up of the fallow ground in the distant Orient seems to have come. The advance guard of new and brighter things has planted its beacon lights on the benighted shores that send out their beckoning rays to the great nations of earth to come, for "now all things are ready." The open door in the Orient will quicken the world's pulse and start the blood of progress flowing thru the channels of the stagnant east.—Eugene Register.

Those who feared that America would be compelled to abandon the Monroe doctrine when she stepped into world politics and acquired a hold in the eastern hemisphere, were evidently borrowing trouble. The United States is upholding the Monroe doctrine today as strongly as ever. It has taken no backward step. Germany is the latest power to get accurate information on this subject. That nation would like very much to own the Danish West Indies, a small group of islands of which St. Thomas is the most important. Their value lies in their strategic position, and desirability as coaling stations. The German government has been taking steps to acquire these possessions, when a hint from this government that objection would be made, caused a prompt halt. The islands will remain dependencies of Denmark, and the Monroe doctrine will continue to be respected by all nations.—Port Oregon Tribune.

The political aspirant is abroad in the land. He bobbeth up serenely from the surface of tranquility and straightway the waters are troubled. From now on, henceforth and until after June, when the new crop of county officers is properly plucked as brands from the burning, we may expect considerable turmoil in the realm of politics.—Eugene Register.

The anti's who howled because the United States interfered in behalf of the Philippines and Cuba are now howling again because we do not interfere in behalf of the Boers in South Africa. They are always "agin" the government.—Oregon City Enterprise.

Pendleton's two progressive, well managed banks have more than one million of dollars on deposit. Each of the two banks have upwards of $500,000. This is an excellent showing for Pendleton and Umatilla county when the fact is that most of the 1899 wheat crop is still in the possession of the growers.—East Oregonian.

Hon. T. H. Tongue is making an effort to have a life saving station established at the entrance to Tillamook bay, and will probably be successful as he usually is. The people of the coast counties are under a heavy load of obligations to Mr. Tongue, who has probably done more for them that any man they have ever had in the lower house of congress.—Tillamook Herald.

Gold is going from New York to Europe, not to pay debts, but as loans. Europe owes us a large balance on commercial transactions, and what gold is taken from this side is for interest till it is returned.

The anti-expansionists have been so loud all along, while the supporters of the administration party have been modest and quiet so that some thought there was nothing to say in support of our intention to keep the Philippines, but the spell was broken last Tuesday by a speech made in the senate by Beveridge of Indiana. It electrified the galleries and carried confusion to the antis'.

England has released the American flour cargoes seized in Delago Bay a forenight ago and agreed to acknowledge that food cargoes are not contrabands of war where they are not going directly to the enemy.

A Philippine transport started from Manila Dec. 26, for Portland for a cargo of cavalry horses. It is expected that the boat will be in the Willamette about Jan. 26.

Mrs. Bradish, of Detroit, Wrote Mrs. Pinkham and Tells the Result.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 8,316]

"About two years ago I began to run down and soon became almost a wreck. I lost my appetite and began to lose flesh; my blood was impoverished and I had to leave our store.

"The doctors gave me a little tonic, but I steadily grew worse and consulted another doctor. He helped me in some ways, but my headaches continued, and I began to have night sweats and my rest was so disturbed that I would have hysteria and would cry and worry over business matters and my poor health.

"Finally, husband took me South, but with no benefit. This was a year ago; no one can ever know what a winter of misery I spent. Would bloat after eating and was troubled with palpitation of heart and whites. Having read by happy chance of your medicine, I bought it and wrote for your advice, and before having finished the first bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the hysterics nearly stopped and I slept soundly.

"I used seven or eight bottles with such benefit that I am as healthy as I can ever remember of being. I shall never cease to sound your praises."—MRS. E. M. BRADISH, 179 DIX AVE., DETROIT, MICH.

Mrs. Pinkham's advice is at the free disposal of every ailing woman who wishes help. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Every case is sacredly confidential.
