OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY, 9, 1900.

The banks of Portland have taken up the matter of the establishment of a government assay office in Portland. Their action on this matter will greatly assist Congressman Tongue to get favorable action in his bill which before was jeopardized by the utterances of some of Portland's public organs.

Even the Spanish fight better under American influence. A few days ago a Philippino guard ill treated 300 Spanish soldier prisoners. They turned on their tormentors with no better arms than sticks and stones, but they routed them, took a few guns and actually defended themselves pending the arrival of American troops.

The newspaper combine has created a formidable newspaper combine, the probable result being that members of congress will consider their political welfare and place not only wood pulp but print paper upon the free list. The people do not desire to pay exhorbitant subscription prices, and publishers want to live.—Woodburn Independent. Seeing that American paper mills export paper and take trade from foreign mills, it is not just plain how removing the tariff is to help us. If American mills export paper and meet the competition of the world, how is the world to meet the competition of our mills in the home market?

The Oregon Republican Editorial Association held its third biennial meeting on Monday last in the Chamber of Commerce Portland. The attendance was large and the enthusiasm manifested was of a marked character. Only general politics was discussed, local matters being left for special treatment by the home papers. On the policy of the party the Association is a unit. There are now 39 papers belonging to the Association. The officers were re-elected except in the matter of one executive committee man. These are: President, D. M. C. Gault, INDEPENDENT, Hillsboro; secretary, Wm. J. Clarke, Star, Gervaise; treasurer, S. S. Train, Herald, Albany; executive committee, J. B. Eddy, Times, Forest Grove; Jos. J. Whitney, Herald, Albany and C. L. Ireland, Observer, Moro.

Goble, the counted-ingovernor of Kentuckey died of the wound fired by his ambushed assassin. It is now known that the shooting was done by a friend of the man whom Goble shot and killed a few years ago, and that the republicans are in no wise responsible for the assassination. Goble was a cool self possess man, Goble was a moral man, Goble was a tetotaler and waged a relentles war against rum, Goble did not gamble but devoted time and influence to closing the gambling houses. Goble exercised these virtues, but there is no evidence that they were ground into the fiber of his life as living principles but rather that he used them to minister to his personal and sordid ambition. Taylor was elected governor of Kentucky by more than 2000 plurality. A democratic canvasing board so certified. A Kentuckey court confirmed this finding, but a legislature, the creature of Gobel, without assigning reasons but observing the form of law as Gobel the year before had written, declares Gobel to be governor, and these forms of law in the compromise that is made between the two parties will remove Taylor, republican, from the office to which he had been chosen by the people.

The Oregonian, imitating the democratic and populist papers which it copies, intimates by innuendo that Gault and the INDEPENDENT at sometime espoused the cause of free coinage of silver. The INDEPENDENT defies the Oregonian as it has already defied the demo-pop papers to find a word, sentence, paragraph or article in its colums where it favored the free coinage of silver—the 16 to 1 monstrocity. The Oregonian would have public believe that the cause of sound money—gold standard—has been won, and that the "victory" is due entirely to it. Progress has been made, a few victories have been won but we have got to struggle again. Vanity and egotism will not control votes in the future more than in the past. Oregon was kept in the republican colums in 1896 by the country press, one being the INDEPENDENT when Washington under the guidance of the Oregonian went several thousand strong for Bryan. The republican party was then as it is now the only organization that stood for sound money. The INDEPENDENT has always loyaly supported the republican party and the candidates of its nominating conventions and Gault as an elector has always voted for these candidates thus in the most effectual way possible supporting the cause of sound money. Can the Oregonian say as much?

CONDENSED MILK FACTORY.

Upon receipt of the letter published in a late issue of the INDEPENDENT written by the gentleman who is conducting the correspondence of the promoters of the enterprise, the INDEPENDENT caused a reply to be returned in which it was stated that the business men of Hillsboro could and would take care of procuring a site and erecting buildings. However when the farmers were approached and asked to pledge milk, the price to be paid for it at once became an element. Therefore the company was asked to state what it could pay for milk at the factory. The reply to this letter is in these words:

PORTLAND, OR. Feb. 2, 1900.
HILLSBORO INDEPENDENT:

Your esteemed favor of 25th at hand and first of all thank you for the interest you have take in the condensed milk factory. We will establish in Oregon somewhere, but to my regret I must tell you that the parties that command the capital do not wish to locate in your town, probably because they know the narrowness of the farmers in the neighborhood too well.

You remember some years ago they left John Meyenberg in the hole, with the same project. After the necessary capital had been signed, the backed out. They are moss-backs and it seems they cannot be reformed.

I think the upper valley will take the prize.

Now is this charge of lack of enterprise on the part of our farmers true? If it is then they must reform. It makes no difference how actively our town men promote manufacturing enterprise where raw material comes from the field, our farmers must do their part. Would our farmers grow beets if a sugar factory was built, would they grow flax if a scutching mill were set up, would they grow potatoes if a starch factory were sturted? In none of these things would success follow if the farmers hold back.

Several farmers have seen the above quoted letter and read its criticism. They declare that it is not true that they as a class are wanting in enterprise. One man said: "I will put 100 cows on my farm if I can be assured of a market for milk at a small profit." He is able to do it. Another said "I am delivering milk to a creamery and the new concern must pay as much as I realize already." There is more of the Meyenburg story than is told above, but it is not worth while to reherse it now. It is not to the manufacturers interest to get milk for less than it costs since it will be disasterous to the factory. If farmers furnish milk at a loss they will fail, then the factory will fail. It is impossible to turn out a manufactured product without first having raw material. The INDEPENDENT is satisfied if a company will pay a fair price for milk, it can get all it can handle.

But if the impression is at all general that our people in this county are lacking in push, that must be removed before we can invite manufacturing enterprises to locate in our County.

STATE PRESS.

We can count them no longer. Every hamlet in the district has a candidate for Hon. Thomas H. Tongue's seat in congress, and the Oregonian is reaping a harvest second only to that of publishing the delinquent tax list of Multnomah county, by publishing half-tone cuts and biographies of the aspiring egotists. There isn't one in the whole bunch that has any hope of success, but they are "politishuns" seeking notoriety, thinking it will give them prominence at home and "a pull" for some minor office.—Tillamook Herald.

Pro-Boer sympathizers in this country are generally found on the anti-expansion side. They are the same identical crowd that pushed congress on to a declaration of war against Spain, and then were afraid of the consequences of their own act, leaving the burden upon the shoulders of President McKinley and the Republican party. England was friendly to America during that war, quietly lending a helping hand on several occasions, and now some ungrateful and unprogressive Americans are unfriendly to England. It is the way of the world, and England should take a philosophical view of the situation. We are on the eve of a Presidential campaign.—Woodburn Independent.

Another innovation in the exports to the Orient has just been made in the shipment of a cargo of wheat from the Pacific coast to Japan. Thirty years ago the first cargo of wheat was shipped from the north Pacific coast to Europe, and fifteen years ago the first shipment of flour was made to the Orient. Since that time flour has become an important part of the cargo of nearly every steamer leaving Tacoma for China and Japan, and some small shipments of wheat have been made to the Orient. It is stated that flour mills have been built in Japan, and it is probable that exports of wheat will increase, though it is likely that shipments of flour will increase in greater ratio. It is a safe prediction that within a few years the Orient, Hawaii and Manila will offer a market for all the wheat exported from the Pacific coast, either in the grain or manufactured into flour.—Eugene Register.

The important feature of Henry Watterson's denunciation of the Taylor governeot in Kentucky is his omission to express any opinion as to who was elected governor at the last election. That is the point upon which the country is most interested, and not in the "purity" of Goebel's life, except his act in procuring the adoption of (sic) his election law. It will strike most people that the time when Mr. Watterson's voice should have been heard against the anarchy or state of revolution with which his state is threatened was when Goebel was preparing to put the machinery of his infamous election law (the creation of which Mr. Watterson admits to have been a stain upon his character) into operation to steal the state administration from the men who had been legally designated by a large majority of the voters of Kentucky to take charge of it in opposition to Mr. Goebel. This is when anarchy began in Kentucky, and it will be the responsible cause of the revolution, if the situation in Kentucky should unhappily go tc that extreme.—Astorian.

The fool killer has been neglecting Kentuckey sadly of late and is very likely to be over worked when once he begins operations in the blue grass state. Persons who resort to firearms in political arguments should be placed on a reservation and guarded by a strong force of United States soldiers. In every other manner, too, they should be treated as untutored savages.—Milton Eagle.

No man in this country is so vitally interested in having the currency kept at its full value as is the man who at the end of the week or month is paid histearnings by another man for whom he works.—Eugene Register.

The entire tax for the year to the residents within the incorporated limits of Heppener is thirty-nine mills, state, county and school. This is one mill more than last year. Owning to the close manner which delinquent taxes have been collected during the past three years, the residents of Morrow county had reason to believe that there would be a reduction in their taxes this year. County Judge Bartholomew informs us that the one mill excess over last year is due to the low valuation of property in Multonomah county. It may be that a state equalization board is not such a bad thing after all.—Heppner Gazette.

Multnomah county refuses to levy the tax for scalp bounties provided by law. Multnomah is getting out of a good many taxes this year.—Oregon City Enterprise.

The Portland politicians who are raising a loud wail because it is believed the river and harbor committee will not present a river and harbor bill at this session of congress, declare that this will be a hard blow upon Oregon. But this is not true. Oregon, thanks to its capable representatives, at the national capital, who are mindful of the state's interests, is already very comfortably provided for. The dispatches from Washington say that because of the available funds now on hand, many of the Oregon projects will not suffer on account of the failure to pass the bill. There is now on hand over $200,000 for work on the boat railway and other projects at The Dalles, as soon as the secretary of war will authorize the expenditure; $140,000 for the Lower Willamette and Columbia below Portland; $111,000 for the Columbia below Tongue Point; $72,000 for a canal at the Cascades, and other proportionate amounts for other projects, sufficient to carry them through until the next bill is passed. Those Oregon projects that are under the continuing contract system will not be affected, as provision is made for them in the sundry civil bill every year. There is available $25,000 for the work at Yaquina. With nearly half a million dollars available for improving the Columbia river, the complaint from Portland seems ill-advised.—Albany Herald.

RECEIPTS AND DISBURSMENTS.

The comparative statements of the government's receipts and expenditures show that for the month of January, 1900, the receipts from all sources amounted to $48,021,164, against $41,774,930 for January, 1899. The expenditures during the last month aggregated $39,189,096, against $51,122,770 for January, 1899, leaving a surplus last month of $8,823,068. The monthly circulation statement issued by the controller of the currency shows that at the close of business January 31, 1900, the total circulation of national bank notes was $246,987,193, an increase for the year of $3,745,692, and an increase for the month of $791,670. The circulation based on United States bonds was $21,166,789, a decrease for the year of $874,510 an increase for the month of $406,804. The circulation secured by lawful money aggregated $30,820,463, an increase for the year of $4,629,202, an increase for the month of $384,866. The amount of United States bonds on deposit to secure circulating notes was $235,830,170, and and to secure public deposits $88,299,480.

CLUB RESOLUTIONS.

The League of Republican clubs which met in Portland last Tuesday adopted the following resolutions which were reported by the committee:

So long as either of the great political parties advocates the free coinage of silver, the financial question is the paramount question before the American people. The republican clubs of the state of Oregon, in convention assembled, reaffirm their loyalty to the gold standard and their opposition to the free coinage of silver. We believe the best and most stable dollar in the world should be issued by legislation to the laborer as the fruit of his toil, and to the farmer as the price of his crop. We are in sympathy with the efforts of the republican senators and representatives in congress to enact legislation for this purpose.

We heartily indorse the Philippine policy of the present administration. These islands have been won by American blood and purchased by American treasure; they should remain a permanent part of our national domain. We cannot neglect our duty to give them a stable government nor can we afford to throw away the great opportunity they give us for the development of our Oriental trade.

The republican party was formed for the purpose of fighting the battles of free labor. Throughout its whole history, it has been the champion of the people, and of the American laborer in particular. We are opposed to the monopolization of commerce and industry by trusts, and are in favor of all judicious legislation looking to the curtailment of their power.

It is the sense of this convention of republican clubs of Oregon that the constitution of the United States should be amended in relation to the manner of choosing members of the United States senate, and that they should be elected by direct vote of the people. Further resolved, that our senators and representatives in congress be requested to work and vote for any measure that will bring about this proposed reform.

We extend our sympathy to the families of the Oregon volunteers who lost their lives in the Philipines, and we request the Secretary of war to make provision for the removal of the remains of these dead heroes to the end that they may repose in Oregon soil.

Whereas the war department has failed to comply with the request of our governor for the return to the state of Oregon for burial, our soldier boys who gave their lives for their country.

Therefore, be it resolved that we commend the course taken by our governor, and demand that our dead heroes be returned to their families and friends in our state, and that the governor be requested to convey this resolution to President McKinley, with the request that he comply with the same.

The English took a hill north of the Tugela river known as Spionl Kop last week and greatly rejoiced. They said they had a position that commanded the whole country there about. The Britons seem to have forgotten that while they were commanding the country, the country was commanding them. They had but few guns on the hill, little water, and small room so that the men were crowded together. The Boers laughed and shot killing and wounding the poor fellows by hundreds. The English lost 1500 men there in a few hours while their opponents lost less than a hundred in killed and wounded. The British had to get off the hill. Thus has Buller been checked and defeated a second time, and this second defeat is more humiliating than the first.

The British under Buller on Monday started on the third advance to the relief of Ladysmith. Some success was made and a few positions taken, but the advance had been checked at last accounts. The loss in the British army, was great for the relief of the Beleaguered town while the Boers lost but four men. It is believed though that subtantial progress has been made.

Taylors' supporters in Kentuckey demand that he refuse to compromise with his opponents unless they agree to repeal the Gobel election laws an enact others in their stead that shall insure a free vote and a fair count. It therefore appears that those rugged mountains are standing for principles rather than being influenced by the passion of fends.

Spinal Disease Cured in Four Months

Richard D. Creech, of 1062 Second Street, Appleton, Wisconsin, says:

"Our son Willard was absolutely helpless. His lower limbs were paralyzed, and when we used electricity he could not feel it below his hips. Finally my mother, who lives in Canada, wrote advising the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I bought some. This was when our boy had been on the stretcher for an entire year and helpless for nine months. In six weeks after taking the pills we noted signs of vitality in his legs, and in four months he was able to go to school. It was nothing else in the world that saved the boy than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."—From the Crescent, Appleton, Wis.

The State of Oregon, Plaintiff,

And that the said August Gentz was then and there also the owner of certain personal property; that on the 1st day of December, 1897, the said August Gentz died at his residence upon said lands in said Washington county, leavin a last will and testiment, which said will was afterward, on the 31 day of December, 1897, duly admitted to probate in the county court of the state of Oregon for Washington county, and S. A. Durham was appointed and qualified as executor of said estat , and on Janua y 5, 1898 filed his inventory and appraisement in said estate in said county court; t at afterward the said S. A. Durham fully administered said estate, and on the 22nd day of September, 1898, died whereupon E. A. Knotts was duly appointed by the said county court in Washington county as the administrator de-bonis-non with the will-annexed of the said August Gentz, deceased and duly qualified as such administrator and ever since has been and now is such administrator, and as such he received and took over on May 12, 1899, from Ella C. Durham, the duly qualified administratrix of the estate of S. A. Durham, deceased, the sum of $923.91, being the unexpended moneys belonging to said Gentz estate in the hands of said S. A. Durham, executor, at the time of his d ath, together with the said real estate belonging to the estate of said August Gentz, deceased; that the said E. A. Knotts, administrator as aforesaid, is now in possession of and holding the said real estate and the said sum of $923.91, being all the personal property of the estate of August Gentz, deceased, and that the defendant William Gourley, is tenant at will of said lands under said Knotts; that said August Gentz, deceased, left no heirs, legatees or devisees, and said information charges and shows that there are no heirs, legatees or devisees of the said August Gentz, deceased, and that by reason thereof the state of Oregon has right by law to such state to-wit the said personal and real property hereinbefore mentioned, and that the same has escheated to the state of Oregon.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the premises, it is ordered, adjudged and decreed that all persons interested in the said estate of August Gentz, deceased, are hereby required to appear and show cause, if any they have, on or before the 19 day of March, 1900, why the title to said above described real estate and to said personal property, to-wit, the moneys belonging to said estate of August Gentz, deceased, should not vest in the state of Oregon.
