CALL FOR COUNTY CONVENTION.

A regular county convention for the county of Washington and state of Oregon, is called to meet at the court house in Hillsboro, Oregon, on Thursday, the 23rd day of April, 1900, at 2 o'clock a. m. for the purpose of nominating a legislative and county ticket, and to elect 12 delegates to the first district congressional and state convention, and to carry forward nominations, and for the transaction of such other and further business as may come before the convention.

Table listing delegates for various precincts: Beaverton, 1; Clatskanie, 1; Dayton, 1; Hillsboro, 1; etc.

The primaries will be held in the several precincts on Friday, March 24th 1900, at 2 o'clock p. m.

JAMES WILLY-OMBE, Chairman.

B. P. CORRIE, Secretary.

On the first page today is given a review of the work congressmen Tongue has done during the past three days in congress. It is an honorable record and one that should commend the support of every one who has the welfare of the state in view.

A democrat state convention has been held in Lincoln, Nebraska. It was presided over by the genius of W. J. Bryan. The platform is the Chicago document of 1896 with an expansion plank added.

A. J. Johnson, of Seio, Linn Co., has received the appointment of Bank Examiner for Oregon and Washington. Some hilarity has been indulged because a man from the Forks of the Santiam had been appointed to a station claimed to be the perquisite of a metropolitan.

Organized labor is preparing in the east for a strike of mammoth proportions. It is stated that 185,000 machine operatives will be affected and 30,000 of these will be in New England. To support this great army the International Association has in its treasury $15,000 together with a reserve fund of $100,000 in local treasuries.

In 1894 Mr. Tongue thought the coinage laws were defective and publicly gave a tongue to his views. For this some have counted him an sound on the money question. Now after six years his views have been endorsed by congress in the enactment of the gold standard bill.

W. J. Bryan a candidate for president of the United States is the first man who has used his candidacy for the purpose of making money.

GOOD FAITH AND HONOR.

President Schurman has written a letter to a friend touching the proposed Porto Rican tax legislation in which he says:

"As the president said, with equal truth and felicity, it is our plain duty. We are bound to this course by solemn promises. The supreme and irresistible reason for removing all customs barriers between the United States and Porto Rico is the promise made by General Miles, when the first landing was made by American forces on the island, that the Porto Ricans should enjoy the same rights, provisions and immunities as the people of the United States."

"It is said a tariff is needed between Porto Rico and the United States to provide a case for the courts to determine the extent of our jurisdiction over the dependencies, especially the Philippines. I answer that no conventions, no expediency, no other obligation, ever justified a breach of the national good faith."

"Let me add, too, that this Porto Rican legislation is testing us before the eyes of the Filipinos, who keep well informed on all our doings. They will judge by this legislation the value of American promises. When the ablest and most statesmanlike of Aguinaldo's emissaries to the Philippine Commission once expressed the fear that the American Government might not keep the promise it was making for Spain, said he made promises and broke them, I silenced him with the reply, 'Signor, the United States is not Spain.'"

It is now to learn, are all the Filipinos now to learn, that in the first legislation for our dependencies we prove faithless to our pledges and recant to our obligations? Such an exhibition of ourselves will strengthen the hands of Aguinaldo and the insurgents, because unhappily, it can be used to support their persistent statement that the Americans are no more trustworthy than the Spaniards.

We will maintain our faith with those people. We can extend our tax laws to them. We can let the Philippines send their products to our continental ports as free as California sends her oranges to Oregon. We will send our flour and our manufactured goods to Manila and Porto Rico without tax or tariff. We can extend our internal revenue laws to our insular possessions as they are extended to Oregon. We will take the revenue and put it in the general treasury along with that of Oregon and New York. If earthquake or hurricane impoverishes the people we can let them appeal to the unorganized charity of individuals. If the insular people raise in insurrection, we will send the military to quell it. We can do it. But it may destroy some of the natives, which is a matter of small moment when we have free trade in raw material to the material profit of the sugar and tobacco barons.

After all when this matter is fully studied it will be found that the hearts of congressmen is in the right place, and that selfish interest is with those who so loudly prate about moral obligations.

TONGUE AND PORTO RICO.

The following statement of Congressman Tongue's views on recent Porto Rican legislation is understood to be authorized by himself and may be taken as his views. The paragraph reflects the sentiments of a patriotic home and just man and ought to satisfy his most captious critic.

"The Washington dispatch published in The Oregonian on the 15th does not properly represent my attitude on the Porto Rican bill. I voted in the caucus and in the house to reduce the tariff from 25 to 15 per cent, and to limit the operation of the bill to two years. I was one of the most strenuous advocates of the latter amendment. But it is asserted by the opponents of the bill that this small tariff upon the necessary food products in Porto Rico will be oppressive to the poor people of that island. I have said that if this is true, it might be well for the senate to consider a proposition to admit such articles duty free, and increase the tariff to 25 per cent on sugar and tobacco as the entire crop of these articles it is said, has been bought by the trusts and speculators. This provision would relieve the people and place the tariff upon those most able to bear it, the trusts and speculators."

"The only reason that justifies the house bill or that secured the votes necessary to pass it, including my own, is the necessity of raising revenue to maintain government in Porto Rico, temporarily, until the people can recover from their present distressed condition. With normal conditions restored and other revenue measures enacted, commercial intercourse between Porto Rico and the United States should and will be as free as between Oregon and California."

W. J. Bryan a candidate for president of the United States is the first man who has used his candidacy for the purpose of making money. He agreed to come to Oregon this spring if a stipulated sum of money is guaranteed.

STATE PRESS.

The creamery movement on the part of the business men of Roseburg is one of the most commendable enterprises they have ever started. It will help the farmer by giving him an industry that will not impoverish his land while it makes a cash market for his dairy product. It will enable him to continue his farming operations as usual and will help to make him prosperous. The business men of the town and the farm have all their interests in common, the prosperity of one depending upon the financial condition of the other, and a movement like this creamery enterprise in which the business men invest their money in a business designed to especially benefit the farmer will tend to establish a common bond between them. It will prove, also, we believe, the beginning of a new industry in Douglas county that will speedily assume large proportions. Let us all, therefore, put our shoulders to the wheel and push the good work together.—Roseburg Review.

The following is a list of eight classes of people who do a town no good. First, those who go out of town to do trading. Second, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and energy. Third, those who imagine they own the town. Fourth, those who think business can be done solely without advertising. Fifth, those who deride public spirited men. Sixth, those who oppose every movement not originated by themselves. Seventh, those who oppose every public enterprise that does not appear to benefit them. Eighth, those who seek to injure the credit of an individual.—Brain Watchman.

There is no denying the fact that Mr. Tongue has made a good congressman in ever sense of the word. It is not against Mr. Tongue personally, or his political career, that this opposition emanates, it is an honest desire of worthy men for honor, one of the highest and grandest ambitions in humankind, restricted to no party, creed or race.—Star.

Give the Porto Ricans markets and they won't have to ask for soup, exclaims a big daily. But of what use is a market when there is nothing to sell. Sixty per cent of the Porto Rican industries is coffee. The hurricane of last year blew the berries that were just ready for picking, on the ground and destroyed the coffee. Of what account is spilled coffee? More was done. The coffee plantations were broken down by the wind, limbs off, branches withered. It will take the season of 1900 to grow new berry bearing limbs. The house of representatives thought it would be well to ask the sugar and tobacco planters to help their unfortunate neighbors, and especially the wealthy capitalists who have bought at a low price and now hold the sugar and tobacco for a high price, by taxing them lightly for two years. Those people are not very sympathetic when their own money is to be used for charity, and they have a lot of like ilk in the states. Here we call them trusts. Sugar and tobacco cheap raw material is much more dear to them than storm stricken, war-blighted Porto Ricans.

Free trade with Porto Rico does not mean free trade with England, or Germany or France. A tariff collected in Porto Rico on goods from continental ports or at continental ports on merchandise from insular territory does not mean the filing of the national treasury. The money raised by this house act is to be spent in Porto Rico. If the house has blundered in this Porto Rican legislation it is because, in a general anxiety to do something for that poor people, it has come dangerously near adopting the paternalism of the populists.

If the United States built, operated and patrolled the Nicaragua canal, and commanded its telegraph lines, it would be a queer place for hostile ships to venture in time of war, even though they could claim safe conduct. Naval commanders do not care to have themselves definitely located under the enemy's observation.—Globe Democrat.

The Bryan democrats oppose government by injunction except in Kentucky. All right there. We have saved many doctor bills since we began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in our home. We keep a bottle open all the time and whenever any of my family or myself begin to catch cold, we begin to use the Cough Remedy, and as a result we never have to send away for a doctor and incur a large doctor bill for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy never fails to cure. It is certainly a medicine of great merit and worth.—D. S. Meakle, general merchant and farmer, Mattie, Bedford county, Pa. For sale at the Delta Drug Store.

A. R. De Fluert, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany, N. Y., dairyma called at a drug store, there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. Life and Strength Restored to Palsied Limbs. Mrs. H. T. Salisbury, of 11 Follett Street, Pawtucket, R. I., says: "About eight years ago, I was taken with nervous prostration which was followed by a partial paralysis of the lower limbs. The doctor called it locomotor ataxia. I could not direct my steps, and I would often fall down. I tried many remedies but was not benefited until I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Several doctors had told me that there was no cure for my trouble, but my improvement continued and I took the pills steadily for two years. At the end of that time I had regained full control of my limbs. The pain left me and has never returned."
