PROHI. CONVENTION

Met Wednesday last and Named a full County Ticket

ANTI-LIQUOR PLATFORM

Only Eight Precincts Represented—Did all Business in One Day.

The delegates to the prohibition county convention met in the city hall last Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m.

S. W. Potter was chosen chairman and George Doughty secretary.

Eight precincts were represented, viz:

Cornelius by	4
S Forest Grove	5
N Hillsboro	2
S Hillsboro	4
Dilley	1
Beaverton	1
Gaston	3
W Cedar Creek	1
Total	19

The committee on platform was: J M Hunter, Wm Baxter and H J Ballantyne.

A committee on nominations was appoined, viz: E Wells, E B Lockhart, C A Jones, J C Smack, John Baxter, C S Smith and J S Thompson.

At 12 o'clock, noon, the convention took a recess till 1 o'clock p. m.

At the re-assembling of the convention the committee on platform reported in these words:

"We the representatives of the prohibition party of Washington county in convention assembled reaffirm our alligiance to the state and national prohibition party. We declare the suppresion of the manufacture of and traffic in intoxicating liquors for beverage purpose to be the most important issue before the American people. We believe the removal of this the mightiest evil known to the world, cannot be brought about except thru a political party created for and pledged to this end.

Thus declaring and believing we invite to party fellowship all those who in this with us agree."

On motion the platform was adopted.

The ticket reported by the nominating committee and ratified by the convention is:

Senator—J M Grecar, Hillsboro.

Representatives—Julian Hatch, Dilley; S W Potter, Beaverton; J S Thompson, Forest Grove.

Miss Pauline Brown is completing herself as a dressmaker at the Madam Kellogg taylor school of Portland.

Geo. E. Martin, of McMinnville, visited friends in Hillsboro Saturday and Sunday returning Monday morning.

The next teachers' examination will be held at the academy building Forest Forest Grove, on April 11, 12 and 13 next.

When in Forest Grove remember you can get your shoes polished in fine style at E. Dewey's next door to Wirtz barber shop.

The young people of Reedville and Beaverton will debate the Boer-English question at Reedville school house next Saturday evening. All invited.

W. J. Bryan is to speak in the Portland Exposition building on Wednesday next, April 4th. Preperations are making to seat 20,000 people.

Miss Alma Bowman came down from Monmouth on Wednesday's train and will commence teaching at the Meacham crossing school next Monday.

Wm. Bender is pruning and spraying his orchard this week. He reports that his family has wearied of their Salem residence and will occupy their Hillsboro home within a few weeks.

Elmer Scott, son of A. W. Scott of Reedville is not the Elmer Scott of Beaverton who is serving time in the county jail. There are two Scotts in the county of the same name, but they are not related in any way.

Geo. W. Stitt spent Saturday last in Hillsboro. His health has not been good for several months though under Dr. Bailey's treatment he is improving. Mr. Stitt says he will not be a candidate for representative this year.

The ladies of the Congregational church expect in the near future to give an entertainment one feature of which will be children dressed in the Persian costumes designed from garments brought from Turkey by Rev. D. Staver, returned missionary.

Jas. Cooper of Independence and Hon. N. L. Butler of Dallas, Polk county spent Tuesday in Hillsboro. Mr. Butler is one of the attorneys in the suit of Brown v Land Improvement Company which is now before the circuit court for adjudication.

"The Contest between two Wills" will be the theme of the discourse at the Congregational church next Sunday morning, the pastor, Rev. E. P. Hughes occupying the pulpit. In the evening, at 7:30 the Y. P. S. C. E. will unite in the Quarterly Union Endeavor Rally at the Christian church. Time of beginning will be 7:30 p m, sharp.

Prof. A. T. Palm, a resident of Hillsboro from 1890 to 1895, and well known here, died recently at Englewood, Illinois. Prof. Palm was a native of Pennsylvania. At the time of his death he was at or near the three score mark of life. His life work was teaching and his favorite branch was mathematics in which he was proficient. He had been twice married, but left no children.

A. S. Shannon of Montana, our Mrs. R. Crandall's brother, surprised her Wednesday morning. Mr. Shannon is on his way home from the Klondyke country and on this trip walked over frozen snow up the Yukon a distance of 400 miles. He expects to return to Alaska later and work ground that he owns below Dawson on the American side of the line. Capt. Crandall's family was further gladdened Friday by the arrival of Mrs. Rob Crandall and three children who will remain till fall.

The INDEPENDENT is in communication with a reliable party who will install a creamery plant at Hillsboro, Newton, Reedville or northeast of Hillsboro conditioned only that the farmers will pledge the milk of 200 cows. The creamery proprietor will deliver the butter to the commission house in Portland and the cheese f. o. b. at the nearest railroad station to the creamery. The proposition is on the co-operate plan. The industry can be made to go if the farmers will pledge the cows.

Last August C. Kock paid five dollars for three sow pigs. It was the full market price then as it would be now for pigs of same age. He turned them out to pasture, but fed a few carrots through the winter. Two of the sows have pigs, eighteen. Of these he has sold eight for a dollar each. He expects to keep the others till they are worth two dollars each which will be before the year is out. Thus before the 12 months expire he will have received $28 cash, and have the old stock remaining. What industry is more profitable? Another example. Mr. Koch bought five hogs this week and dressed them for which he paid $46.35. These hogs were pigs last July. What per cent gain is that? Another, Mrs. Collins sold poultry for $5 and invested it in hogs. These after running in a clover pasture a few weeks she sold for $14 which was invested in a heifer. This was kept on pasture till she was a cow when her calf was sold for veal and a $40 cow yet in stock. Any gain? One more, Mr. N. P. Oakerman of Reedville has 12 cows whose individual record is kept. Last year they brought an income to Mr. Oakerman of $86 each. Does it pay to keep cows? Well yes if one has a herd large enough.

RECEPTION TENDERED

Gen. Ransom Relief Corps gave a Reception to Department President

LARGE NUMBER PRESENT

Mrs. W. D. Hare made the Address of Welcome—President Ably Replied.

Gen. Ransom corps auxiliary to the G. A. R. held a special meeting last Saturday for the purpose of extending a public reception to Mrs. Helen M. Gates, president of the department of Oregon, W. R. C. The Forest Grove corps was present as well as friends from Beaverton. The occasion was not anticipated by the president wherefore she was taken by surprise. But the sociability of the occasion was in no wise damped by that circumstance.

Explaining the occasion of the gathering Mrs. W. D. Hare said:

Mrs. Department President of the Oregon branch of the Womans Relief Corps: From the organization of our beloved order in Oregon until last June, the most honored position of Department President had never been held by a member of our home society. But upon last election Hillsboro was doubly honored by the G. A. R. and Relief Corps in that you our sister was then elected to fill the highest state office within the gift of the order, and your husband selected State Commander of the G. A. R. Therefore it is altogether fitting that we as a corp manifest our appreciation of your election and tender to you this reception as our token of such appreciation, and give you unstinted assurance of our hearty support in the administration of your duties as Department President. Here are assembled to receive you the members of your own corps and the G. A. R. Now permit me Mrs. Department President upon their behalf to welcome you to this reception given you by your corps. For some weeks we have contemplated this gathering, hoping to be able to select a time when your husband as well as yourself could also be made recipient of our humble reception, but because of his continued absence from the city, we at last decided to lavish our compliments upon you alone. And we earnestly desire this small token of the esteem in which we all hold you, to be considered as but the merest expression of the true appreciation we feel in you. We have invited to share with us in our

W. J. BRYAN.

W. J. Bryan, the prospective democratic candidate for U. S. President will be in Hillsboro at noon Wednesday, April 4th. The special train will arrive at that hour from McMinnville. The visitor is to stop long enough to address the citizens of Hillsboro and the county.

exultation, the sisters of our neighbor corps No. 11 of Forest Grove and friends from Beaverton and fondly hope that this welcoming home of the 1st Department President of Gen. Ransom Relief Corps to be long remembered in our society.

To this hearty welcome the Department President repiyed in part in these words.

Comrades, members of the Relief Corps and friends, I am indeed glad to be with you today and renew our acquaintance and weld more firmly those ties which bind us together. For we of the Relief Corps are the mothers, wives, daughters, sisters and sweethearts of those "Gallant men" who in the early sixties answered to "Duty and their Country's call." And today we of the Relief Corps are doing what we can for the "Remnant of that mighty host," and as we the near kin of these noble men, become aged and our hands too feeble to minister unto them, then our sisters the loyal women of this fair land, will take up this work, in which they have already so greatly aided us, and carry it to a finish. And now I wish to make a plea to all women who are not already members of our order, to come and help us. We have no benefits to offer you. If you come it will be simply love of country made manifest in this your desire to help us care for these your country's defenders in their declining years. It is hardly necessary that I assure you my comrades that we of the Relief Corps find our greatest pleasure in working for you, and that our motto is now and ever shall be that noble trio of the Grand Army of the Republic, Fraternity, Charity and Loyalty.

Dead Letter List.

The following is a list of letters remaining uncalled for in the postoffice at Hillsboro, Mar. 28, 1900:

Mr. Chas. White,
Mr. Frank Mason,
Mr. Joseph Ledgett,
Clark Cooney,
Mrs. Sadie Day,
Mr. Carl Meyers.

All letters not called for by Apr. 7, will be sent to the Dead Letter Office. One cent will be charged for each letter called for.

H. SCHULMERICH, P. M.

Liverpool salt, 50lb 45c. No. 3 brooms 25c at Bryan's.

Granulated sugar, American, 19lb for $1 00 at Bryan's.

Prof. A. R. Sweetser of the Pacific University will preach in the M. E. church next Sunday both morning and evening.

R. K. Ennis who lives on Main street is confined to his room seriously ill. Mr. Ennis has been ailing for a long time and this attack gives his friends most serious concern.

The remains of Etta A. Huntington who died Saturday in Portland at the age of 19 years were buried in Masonic cemetery last Monday. Etta was the eldest daughter of Pet Finney Huntington and grand daughter of A. Finney so well and favorably known here.

Mr. Newell the horticultural commissioner was in town last Wednesday for the purpose of making his second orchard inspection. He says that the people of Hillsboro and vicinity are pruning and spraying orchards more thoroughly than at any other place in the county.

Hon. Woodson Scoggin our Mrs. H. A. Bailey's brother died at his home in Portland Wednesday morning. Mr. Scoggin's boyhood home was Washington county. Two years ago he had a stroke of paralysis. From this he never fully recovered and the second attack this week proved fatal. He was 59 years old.

Hon. I. A. Macrum of this county has been appointed U. S. Forestry Commissioner. The notification of the appointment comes through Hon. Binger Herman commissioner of the land office. Mr. Macrum could not be seen as he has been in Washington till within a day or two, therefore it is not known here when he will enter upon the duties of his office.

H. F. Gordon of Forest Grove dug 300 bushels of potatoes last week that had lain in the ground all winter and has 200 bushels mare to dig. The ground is in fine condition and the potatoes come out fresh and in a fine preservation. Several of his neighbors have potatoes yet to dig. Our neighbors of the eastern states at the time Mr. Gordon was digging, were shivering from the blasts of bizzards.

County Clerk Imbrie received a personal letter from Judge Rood who at the time of writing, March 19, was at Appleton City, Mo. with his brother, John L. Rood. Judge R was not well when he wrote, having caught a severe cold the day he passed through Kansas City. He is not favorably impressed with that country and expresses a decided preference for Oregon. Judge Rood expects to be at home by Monday next.

Mr. J. T. Young has found his horse that was stolen last week but the theif has escaped. Mr. G. F. Parkinson of Sylvan three and a half miles this side of Sylvan bought the horse from a stranger. The animal had been disfigured by having the hair of her tail thinned and her mane roached. Mr. Parkinson had driven the horse all through Portland several times yet the detectives there never had a thought that the fine stepping animal was the one bulletined at the central station. And that causes Mr. Young to have a poor opinion of the detective force of Portland.

A SPLENDID CATCH

A Fresno Cal. Embezzler Arrested last Tuesday Afternoon.

A LARGE REWARD OFFERED

Has Been in this County Several Months—Wine Supper Spoilt.

Sheriff Bradford by his special deputies, McNamer and Wescott on Tuesday last arrested J. W. Shanklin wanted in Fresno, California for embezzlement. Shanklin has been in this county six or more months and has stopped about Greenville and a part of the time at Walter Purdins, where he was known by the name of Coleman. The arrest was made on the road between Greenville and Forest Grove. The city authorities of Fresno offered a reward of $200 for his arrest. This information was given to Sheriff Bradford in a circular having a finely printed half tone likeness of Shanklin. This circular as it hung in the sheriff's office attracted the attention of a visitor from Greenville who told Mr. Bradford that there was a stranger in his neighborhood that looked like the picture. Work on the case was commenced, and the arrest is made. The circular stated that Shanklin might be traveling with a woman named Belle Wolf but he is not, though he admits that he knows a woman bearing that name and that the last he knew of her she was at Los Angeles. It is not known what funds were embezzled but since the reward is offered by the trustees of Fresno it is surmised that he had the handling of city money and was a municipal officer. The accused posed as a man in high life about Greenville. Last week he ordered a case of wine and had invitations out for a wine supper to be eaten next Sunday. The wine is on hand, but the host will doubtless by that time be on his way to Fresno, Mr. Bradford has had Shanklins trunk brought to his office. After examining the contents he is convinced that he has the right man. The Fresno officers is expected to arrive this evening or tomorrow.

THE FARMER'S SIDE.

IMPORTANT POINTS IN GOOD ROADS PROBLEM.

He Should Insist on Being Allowed to Determine What Roads to Improve and Tax the Cities Should Help Pay the Cost.

There are two important points which the farmer should always insist upon in discussing the good roads question.

In the first place, no one but the farmer himself should be permitted to determine the improvements in roads which are to be undertaken for his benefit. Little good will result to him from the construction of boulevards connecting the larger cities. They would not be used by the farmer. The farmer's roads are the roads radiating from the railway stations, from the county seats and country market towns, the roads which connect his farm with the postoffice, the village store, the schoolhouse, the church and the railroad depot. If the good roads people have the farmer's interest honestly at heart, if they really mean to direct their efforts toward the advancement of agriculture and to reducing the cost of hauling crops, these are the roads they will seek to improve. Farmers have opposed almost every movement for the construction of drives and boulevards intended to connect the cities, and properly so. Farmers should not be expected to contribute to the cost of building them.

Secondly, the farmer should insist that any general plan of road improvement must provide for placing a liberal share of the cost upon the cities. It is simply out of the question for the farmers alone to provide a general system of good roads. The cities are the great centers of wealth. They are the great distributing points for both manufactures and agricultural products. Agricultural America has built them up and maintains them. Their union with the farming districts is close upon a hundred different channels of trade. Each depends upon the other. What is more proper, then, than that the city should unite with the country in constructing and maintaining suitable and efficient means of communication and transportation? And the cities are willing, too, to join hands with the farmer in doing so.

GOOD IN ALL SEASONS.
[From L. A. W. Bulletin.]

These two important considerations are both properly observed in the system of state aid to roads. Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut are probably the states which have made the greatest progress in country road building. They have all levied state highway taxes and have built roads by a system of state aid. While the rate of taxation has been low the amount collected has been considerable. In New York a state tax of 1 1-10 cents upon every thousand dollars' assessed valuation created a road fund of $50,000, four-fifths of the whole amount being collected in the cities, where most of the property in the state is situated. The state aid system does not interfere with present road building methods, but simply provides a means by which an enterprising community desiring to possess first class highways may obtain financial assistance for the purpose. In New York the towns complying with the state aid law receive from outside sources a sum four or five times as large as the amount they raise themselves for road building purposes. The state contributes to the expense of road building just as it contributes to the cost of maintaining public schools, which are conducted by local officials, but which to receive such state assistance must be up to a certain standard.

This system of state aid is meeting with general approval from farmers wherever understood. It is deservedly popular in the east, especially in New Jersey, where it has been in effect since 1892 or 1893. The farmers' national congress, the most powerful and influential agricultural body in the world, has strongly indorsed it. Minnesota has adopted a constitutional amendment authorizing state aid to roads by a popular vote of almost two to one. A similar constitutional amendment is pending in Wisconsin. A state convention of 800 farmers, held at Milwaukee at the time of the last state fair, unanimously indorsed state aid in road building. Similar resolutions were passed this fall by 30 good roads conventions held in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Texas and Arkansas, all of which were controlled by farmers. OTTO DORNER,

Chairman I. A. W. Highway Improvement Committee.

Road Necessary.

The invention of the locomotive would never have amounted to much if no one had ever invented a track for it to run on. One of these items is as essential as the other in securing good and rapid transportation.

Roads of Europe.

The continent of Europe has 982,300 miles of public highway, most of which is kept in good condition by special provincial or departmental taxes.

TALKS WITH WOMAN OF MIDDLE AGE

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—The doctor called my trouble ulceration of womb and change of life. I was troubled with profuse flowing and became very weak. When I wrote to you I was down in bed, had not sat up for six months; was under a doctor's treatment all the time, but it did me no good. I had almost given up in despair, but your Vegetable Compound has made me feel like a new woman. I cannot thank you enough. I would advise any woman who is afflicted as I have been to write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and get her advice and be cured as I have been."

MRS. F. H. ALLEN, 419 Nebraska Ave., Toledo, Ohio, writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Change of life was working on me. My kidneys and bladder were affected. I had been confined to the house all summer, not able to stand on my feet for any length of time. Terrible pains when urinating and an itching that nearly drove me wild. I had tried many remedies. I told my husband I had great faith in yours and he got me a bottle; am now on my fourth bottle. I feel that I am entirely cured. I can work all day. I can hardly realize that such a wonderful cure is possible. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine for women."

Don't wait until you are prostrated with the mysterious condition known as "Change of Life." Get Mrs. Pinkham's advice and learn how other women got through.
