

COLESTOCK ARRESTED

On the Charge of Committing Rape

HAD HEARING TUESDAY

Held in the Sum of $1500 to Appear at the Circuit Court—In Jail.

Last Saturday evening E. E. Colestock was arrested on the charge of rape. His examination was set for Tuesday following. He was then released upon filing a bond for appearance at that date in the sum of one thousand dollars. At the examination the State, represented by Dept. Dist. Attorney, Tongue introduced testimony that, in every particular, sustained the charge. Colestock had no witnesses and depended entirely on the efforts of his attorney to rebut the evidence of the state. Geo. E. Bagley defended. The Justice held the prisoner in the sum of $500 to await the action of the grand jury. The crime is an aggravated one, and the low ring of the required bond increased the bystanders of whom there were 75 to 100. Some one murmured, another said, "let's hang him," "Get a rope," "I'll help." This in broad daylight showed that the temper of the populace was aroused. The Justice revised his order and set the bond at $1500. This quieted the mob and the officer took his prisoner in search of sureties. The hunt was in vain, for Colestock's reputation is bad, and he had to go to jail. It is reported that when the cell door closed on him he broke down and wept like a baby. However, it is just as well for him to do some of the crying a the mothers all of it. Colestock has been recognized as a libertine for the past five or six years, but this is the first time the law has had opportunity to get hold of him. I would probably have failed this time only his assault was so brutal and his victim so badly injured that a physician had to be called and thus the secret of a modest girl was told. The mistake that the community has made is that he was not driven out of town five years ago. It is learned that plans for lynching were, on Monday, adopted. It was agreed to wait for the action of the court. If it seemed to be in earnest then nothing was to be done, but if there was a failure, then the vigilantes were to take the accused in hand. This step of waiting is to be commended. The duty of the community in such cases is not to lynch, but in taking steps to furnish the law officers with all testimony necessary to establish the guilt of the accused. This community, however, has come short in one way. It has associated with him in some measure and he has made his home here in peace. A bad thing about this business is that two women have to suffer, his victim and his wife.

MOUNTAIN HOME ITEMS.

Our century having passed out the new one is come in with a bountiful supply of clean white snow. It seems that the young folks are taking advantage of the situation, for sleigh bells are heard all over the mountain. The Christmas entertainment which was held at the Mountain Home church on Christmas eve was very good and the order exceeded any thing previous. Mr. P. H. Clark is the guest of his parents, of this place. Miss Bertha Emmel is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. K. Hart, of Kingston, Oregon.

A contest between the Mountain Home and the Mountain Side Literary Society was held at the Mountain Side school house on Tuesday. After a warm discussion the judges decided in favor of Mountain Home. The Mountain Home society was well represented and the members went home as if they were walking on air.

Mr. Albert Kruger spent Christmas at home. Watchnight was kept at Mr. G. Graves. Several young folks were present. At twelve o'clock guns were fired and after wishing everyone a Happy New Year the guests departed.

School is closed at present on account of the teacher being ill. Mr. A. F. Kruger has a family reunion New Year's day. There were fourteen present.

Mr. J. C. Henton's gave an oyster supper at their home the 26th of December in honor of their youngest daughter Rhoda. There were quite a number of guests present. Everybody enjoyed themselves.

J. C. Emmel and family took their Christmas dinner at J. Baker's. Mr. C. K. Schmelzer arrived home safe, from his trip back east. He says Oregon suits him very well, but we are afraid he brought the weather with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Wounderil enjoyed their Christmas feast at Mr. Henton's. Master Windfield and the Misses, May and Nora Emmel were the guests of their cousins, the Misses, Minnie and Bertha Emmel last week.

Mountain Home is a prosperous place, Mr. Henton's have purchased a sewing and a washing machine.

THE OSWEGO ROUTE

A N Davies Explains the Best Line

WOULD PASS HILLSBORO

Mr. Davies Thinks It Would Pay From the Starting of the First Train

A few paragraphs have already been written touching the Oswego-Tualatin valley route for a railroad out of Portland to the Nehalem, but it possesses so many advantages over every other way that more may be properly said. Mr. A. N. Davies, of Tigardville, who probably is the best acquainted with the timber resources of the line of any man in the county writes this letter to the Oregonian. There is a choice of three routes, all of which are practicable and would be nearly on a water level, without any very heavy grading, and not much trestle work, and I am satisfied a road would pay from the time the first train was run over the road. The building of a railroad through this section of the country has become a necessity, and the people are in the mood to take hold and help in any way they can. Leaving Oswego, the road would run through a rich farming and hosiery country until near Tigardville. From Tigardville to Scholls there are fine farms in plenty, besides thousands of acres of timber suitable for cordwood and lumber and on the south side of Cooper Mountain and tributary to the proposed route are several thousand acres of the finest piling and ship spar timber to be found anywhere in Oregon today. Along the Tualatin river is a large amount of the finest beaverdam land only waiting the advent of transportation facilities to pour its wealth into the commercial centers. At Scholls would be a shipping point for the north side of the Chehalis Mountain, a strip of land some four miles wide per of the community, no adverse comment would have been made if his ball had been fixed at four times that sum. There have been two firm changes this week. Abbott & Morgan, second hand furniture dealers have dissolved partnership. Mr. F. P. Morgan retiring. The other is the dissolution of partnership existing between Housely & Dawson, butchers, Mr. J. D. Housely retires.

Bob Oglesby the stage driver on the route between Lakeview and Paisley drove into town on two or three occasions reporting that he had been held up and robbed. The authorities after two or three times concluded that Bob was holding himself up, and therefore he was arrested and now awaits his trial for robbing the U. S. mail. The accused is well known to Hon. H. V. Gates, having at one time been in his employ.

The examination of Wambeke, charged with the assassination of Andy Dahlberg was concluded at noon last Friday. Evidence sufficient to hold the defendant was not produced and he was discharged. Some statements made before the arrest by parties living near the scene of the tragedy, were not sworn to in court. Since the conclusion of the examination, interest in finding the assassin has abated. The difficulties met in hunting for the murderer are so great that it is probable that he may escape, unless by accident he is pointed out.

Dept. Dist. Attorney Tongue is administering the affairs of his office with rare good judgment. He is bringing no cases except where there is probability that crime has been committed. He conducts the examinations with dignity and efficiency. He strives to elicit facts. If they establish the innocence of the accused he wins as well as when they establish guilt. In his summing of the evidence this week in the Colestock case his remarks were so heartily approved that demonstrative applause was given. Witnesses can be certain of protection when testifying for the state where Mr. Tongue is the examining attorney.

The examination of Jimmy Aiken charged with the murder of the Chinaman near Raleigh, is to be held this morning before Judge Root.

County Commissioner Young reports that the snow was four feet between Cedar Mill and Portland at the summit of the mountain.

A messenger from the old Cornelia sawmill site in Seoggin valley reports that the snow was four feet deep yesterday morning. To that is to be added what fell yesterday.

Mr. Austin Buxton while at the Dairymen's Association last week bought a farm cream separator with a capacity of 350 pounds of milk per hour. The machine cost $150.

C. J. Holt, Temperance Evangelist will commence a series of meetings in the M. E. church of this city next Tuesday, January 15. Col. C. J. Holt comes to us highly recommended.

Mr. Benjamin Anderson, who spent several months in Europe last summer, has the very pleasant privilege of entertaining one of his nephews, who arrived on the train of Tuesday morning.

The executive committee of the Washington county veterans association met here yesterday to select a time and place for holding the next semi-annual meeting of the association. Dilley was chosen as the place and Thursday, May 2, was fixed upon as the time.

The legal voters of School District No. 7, Hillsboro will meet at the school house at one o'clock, Saturday January 26 for the purpose of voting for or against a tax to support a nine-months school, and also to provide funds for paying a part of the bonded indebtedness of the district.

Snow commenced falling here yesterday morning about 9 o'clock on earth that was slightly frozen. The slick was kept up until about half past two o'clock in the afternoon when it turned warmer and a mist of rain took the place of snow at that time a depth of six inches had been deposited. At Harrison there was much snow was favored. There was rather more at Forest Grove and Dilley, though late in the afternoon rain set in and the snow was fast melting.

Messrs. Galloway & Stevens have completed one of their spring bonnets used in cutting large size timber. They look as into the woods for a trial. The platform is a perfect success. When it was put up a large man weighing over 200 pounds got on to it and danced about. The platform stood the test without flinching. There need be no more chopping gains into trees and sticking boards into them. Galloway has devised a useful tool for felling timber.

It now begins to appear that John McNamara, who was taken to Portland last week charged with highway robbery, will be able to establish his innocence. It is stated that the party who claimed to be robbed lost no money. He traveled at least a part of the way up the Canyon in company with McNamara. Both were under the influence of strong drink. Loving for a time, but finally quarreled and fought. Black worsted his opponent. All agree that Larsen was sober and that he washed the blood from the face of the whipped man. Larsen came home last Saturday evening, having been released on bail of one hundred dollars to appear as a witness. Carl has not turned state evidence for the simple reason there is none to turn.

Station Agent Beckwith has compiled a statement of the exports for 1900, from the Hillsboro Station which is given below. This is the first annual compilation that has been given out for publication, but the items show that business is increasing.
