

Call and see the Yale and Snel bicycles at O. G. Wilkes, Second St. Schulerich Bros. line of hardware, tinware and crockery has been opened.

Born, in Hillsboro, April 22 to H. A. Ball and wife a son, John Dennis furnishes the first pair of shoes.

O. G. Wilkes has returned and is prepared to do all kinds of repairing. He also carries a fine line of sundries.

The papering done by the Delta people in their store on Main street has wonderfully improved their place.

Last Sunday Mr. Walter Rambo and Miss Laura M. Miller were married at the M. E. Parsonage, Rev. H. Oberg officiating.

Big clearance sale in shoes, clothing and remnants of every description to be continued indefinitely at Schulerich Bros.

Next Sunday, Rev. H. Oberg will preach in the Methodist church both morning and evening. Interesting subjects will be presented.

O. G. Wilkes has the finest lines of sundries and bicycles in the city. Also a neat repair shop in connection. All work guaranteed.

A call from Mr. Pyle, of Nebraska, initiated the acquaintance of a late arrival. He comes without prejudice and may decide that our county will suit him for a home.

There is some anxiety for the safety of cherries, plums, peaches and pears. The nights since Sunday have been uncomfortably cold and though the frost was not as heavy as it sometimes is, an unseasonable frost.

"Deep Sea Voyaging and some of its perils" will be the theme of Mr. Hughes' discourse at the Congregational church next Sunday, at 11 a. m. Other services of the day will be announced at the morning exercises.

Rev. H. Hansen, German clergyman was in Hillsboro yesterday arranging for a preaching place where he will speak in the German language. The first sermon will be preached sometime in May, probably the 19.

Hillsboro is going to have a street fair and festival next month. In the meantime old Polk county with her varied resources, will plod along in the even tenor of her way and watch the processions go by.—Independence Polk, county, West Side.

Mr. R. Robinson, of West Butte, precinct was in town on Saturday last. He thinks that the thimble meadows are not looking as well as farmers would like. Yet he finds no cause for uneasiness since good timothy grass depends more on June conditions than the growth in March and April.

Ann Williams who came to Oregon in 1845 died last Friday at Houlton in Columbia county. The remains were brought to Hillsboro where the funeral services were held in the Congregational church. The deceased was well known in the county where he had lived for fifty years. He leaves a widow and several children, all grown.

A Summer Normal school will be organized and maintained at Newport this summer commencing July 17 and closing a month or six weeks later. The fee for scholarship is $2.50 per week or $8.00 for the full course. The best talent of the state has been secured for instructors and lecturers. For full particulars address J. B. Horner, Corvallis.

Rev. Hartman, of the Evangelical church has been returned to Hillsboro for the current conference year. A parishioner congratulating him upon his return remarked that it would not be necessary to arrange for a "reception" this year. "No," replied the preacher, "no reception, and I hope no deception." Mr. Hartman is one of our popular clergymen, whose return is most satisfactory.

Mrs. Jane Williams the Sunday afternoon woman went to Portland to be with her brother, Ralph Moore last $21.15. It was all the money she had with her and she keenly felt what, at that time, was a real misfortune. She made search but could not find the missing coins. Meeting Mr. Tibbits who has charge of the rolling stock in Redmond & Sappington's barn, she asked him if he had looked through the old sully which was used that day. "No, it stood out in the back yard a day and was then pulled under a shed where it is now." Mrs. Williams described the coins lost which were two eagles a silver dollar, a dime and a nickel. Mr. Tibbits went to the old carriage where the first thing he found was the dime then the five cent piece was seen. A little further under the seat a ten dollar piece showed up. The excitement was then great and the search was in earnest. The second ten was the reward, but look as he would the dollar could not be found. It had dropped through one of the many holes in the bottom of the box. Mrs. Williams' joy was great when she repossessed her treasure.

Mrs. James Nickell, of Sellwood, who has been with her mother here, Mrs. Randall, for several weeks during her alarming illness, received a telephone message stating that her husband at home was sick and that the children were unable to care for him. Greatly distressed by the news Mrs. Nickell set about preparations for going home. No train was run past Hillsboro on Sunday so she had to depend upon horses. Those at the livery stable were all out. After an anxious search, a farm horse was found, but he was not in good condition for driving, but Mrs. Nickell was anxious to reach home at the earliest minute, so she started at 6 o'clock p. m. The distance to be driven is about 20 miles. It was not long before her horse could go no further. A fresh animal was put to the buggy, but it was a heavy brute and would not pull a pound or take a step. After a halt long enough to let the first animal get his breath it was again hitched in and the night ride resumed though at a very deliberate pace. Home was reached at 1 o'clock Monday morning but her husband had died before that hour. Alone with his children the grim messenger came in the dark night to claim the head of the family.

Judge Hood received a letter from Dr. Norris, of Oregon City stating that on April 9 a stranger answering the description of W. H. H. McGee rode with him about five miles on the road to Baker's ferry bridge. The man said his name is McGee that he had bathed in Hillsboro all winter, and was going to Gresham or Leiz in hunt of a job of work. Judge Hood has no doubt of the identity of the man, hence Hillsboro may properly give over worrying over the fate of the old soldier.

A visitor at the State Penitentiary from this county reports that he saw E. E. Colestock last Saturday. Cole seemed quite cheerful, though he said that the roasting he got on his trial administered by D. pt. Dist. Attorney Tongue was the worst he ever heard. He thinks Mr. Tongue is a chip from the old block.

Mrs. E. P. Hughes with her three children started last Tuesday evening for San Francisco. Mrs. Hughes' health has not been perfect for several months and the doctor suggested the advantage of a change of air for a month or two. While away she will visit her sister in Oakland, Cal.

Hillsboro shipping business is growing. For the week commencing April 15 and ending 21, the freight carried away weighed 154,555 pounds an increase of 900 pounds over the same period in 1900.

Wm. Benson at the iron foundry is busy with work. Machinery from his shop is to be found not only in this county but in adjoining counties.

Mr. Salsgarber, who is cultivating the hops on the Hawthorn farm received a shipment of wire this week which he will use instead of poles.

HOOD VIEW ITEMS.

Miss Lena Heidenfelder has gone to Portland for the summer.

Miss Mary Murray is home for a time.

Mr. Archie Seely spent last Saturday and Sunday with his parents.

Miss Mata Her is at home again after a short visit in Portland.

Miss Anna Wagner is still in Walla Walla.

Miss S. M. Graham has a new piano.

Mrs. L. R. Clark and sister N. C. Goodrich of Salem returned to their homes after a very delightful visit of a few weeks with Mrs. Brobsts and friends at Wilsonville.

The smiling faces of Misses Minnie and Mary Bockman were seen in Wilsonville this week.

Mrs. Geo. Seely and Grant Lichtenhiller were appointed delegates from this church to go to Eastern Oregon conference.

Mrs. Carrie Houlbert has returned to her home in Eastern Oregon for a short time.

Tualatin, Aurora, Butteville and Pleasant Hill were well represented at the dance at Wilsonville Saturday evening and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Don't any pioneer, native son or daughter of this state miss the unveiling of the monument at Champepo, May 2, 1901. Good music by Parrott's band.

Little Gladys Baker of Pleasant Hill rendered several very nice violin solos at a concert at this place last week. Little Gladys seems to be a natural musician.

The farmers of this section are very busy with spring work. Plowing, sowing and hark work are all in order. M. C. Young is wiring an 8 acre field of hops on the Graham farm.

Quite a number of our boys have left us to find better wages in the Eastern Oregon country. Among them Ernest and Arthur Seely, while their places here are being filled by young men from Nebraska and Illinois.

Bishop R. Dubbs, of Chicago will preach in the Evangelical church, Tuesday evening, May 7th, at 8 o'clock.

Rev. S. J. Lindsay will preach at the Evangelical church next Sunday morning and Wm. Plowman in the evening.

Elder Sickafoose will preach his last sermon in Hillsboro next Sunday. The Friday following he will start for Ten Sleep, Wyoming.

W. L. Jones former proprietor and editor of the INDEPENDENT was in Hillsboro last Friday morning for a few minutes. He did not have time to look into the office with which he was so familiar about fifteen years ago.

Mrs. Eli Garner, of Eastern Oregon came Wednesday morning to visit with her father, Mr. Gu. Koehler during the summer. When she left home the bloom buds of the fruit trees were barely swelling, but when she gets here she finds that they are in full blossom, though she was on the way but a day.

Farmers are somewhat surprised to find that clover fields that were visited by the cut worms last summer are completely tamed and have to be planted to some other crop this spring. Last summer they knew that every green leaf in the meadow was consumed by the worms, but it was supposed that the roots were left and that clover would grow again in the spring. It has not though.

Peter Boscow observes that clover fields that were mowed last year before the June rain have been preserved and are making a good growth now, but the other fields cut after the rain show no life. The clover bug that works in the crown of the plant found conditions perfect in the long standing clover for his ravages. This brings the enquiry. Is clover cut early enough in the season? It might be profitable to take careful observations relative to the work of the clover bug.

Something more than a railroad pass is necessary when traveling. The Corvallis Times reports that a professor from the State Agricultural College was investigating this spring the poisonous plants in Wasco county with a special agent sent out from Washington, D. C. Both men traveled on railroad passes. At the Dalles their work kept them about a week and their hotel bill was for an amount for that time. At the setting desk the Corvallis man waited for the department man to pay while the Washington cove waited for the Oregonian. Neither of them had a cent and the surprised look when each with rapid motion pulled his hand from his pocket, did not deceive the hard faced hotel clerk for a minute. The Times does not tell just how the scientists got away, or whether they will profit by this lesson in monetary science or not.

Mrs. Mary J. Jackson-Wilkes, wife of Jabez Wilkes a pioneer of 1845, died at the family residence near Hillsboro, Tuesday afternoon, April 23 after an illness of eight days aged 66 years. Her illness was pneumonia the attack developing the 16th. Mrs. Wilkes, born Sept. 25, 1835, was the eldest daughter of Hyer and Elizabeth Jackson. She was a member of that Jackson family made famous by the life and deeds of Gen. Andrew Jackson, sometimes known as "Old Hickory." At the age of 20 years she came to Washington county with her father and her brothers W. R. and P. M. in 1854. During her first two years in residence she taught in the public schools of the county. In 1856 she married Jabez Wilkes. The young people established their home on a part of the Paton Wilkes donation a few miles north of Greenville. This was home till a few years ago when Mr. Wilkes came to Hillsboro. To them nine children have been born. Five are now living, Thomas, L. E., J. B., Elsie Wilkes Schulmerich and O. G., all residents of Hillsboro. Mrs. Wilkes was educated in the public schools of Indiana. This training was supplemented and broadened by extensive reading. History and mathematics were favorite topics. Her love for these branches has been transmitted to her sons who are proficient in applied mathematics and mechanics. Her ideals of life were high and best of all she lived them. One who has known her long and well remarked yesterday, "If anyone goes to Heaven Mrs. Wilkes will be found there and directly in the middle." But for this attack of pneumonia, there was promise of twenty years of a useful life. The funeral of deceased was held yesterday at the Wilkes cemetery north of Greenville.

PUBLIC SALE OF HORSES.

At the Hillsboro fair grounds, Saturday, May 11th, 1901, commencing at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, and without reserve, about twenty-two (22) head of geldings and fillies, mostly standard bred, and suitable for driving, riding or light work. These animals are now being prepared for sale at the Hillsboro fair grounds, and the public is invited to inspect them, and see them handled.

This will be a good opportunity to select a good saddle horse, a good team, a good single driver, or a good standard bred brood mare.

Terms of Sale.

Notes with approved security, due in six months from the day of sale, and drawing interest at 6 per cent per annum, will be accepted in payment.

Catalogues can be had upon application to the undersigned.

THOS H. TONGUE,
Hillsboro, Ore.

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank the friends, and especially Mr. and M. S. John Sewell of Hillsboro, for kind assistance during the funeral ceremonies of my father, Mr. Asa Wilcox.

The Hillsboro ticket agent of S. P. R. R. Co., has been supplied with through tickets both first and second class to San Francisco, California. Rates from this station are as follows: 1st class whole with berth $25.85 with rebate at San Francisco of $8.00 net fare $17.85.

2nd class whole with berth $15.85 with rebate at San Francisco of $4.00 net fare $11.85.

1st class half with berth $15.45 with rebate at San Francisco $4.00 net fare $11.54.

2nd class half with berth $8.70 with rebate at San Francisco of $2.00 net fare $6.70.

1st class half without berth $12.95. 2nd class half without berth $7.95.

To show the convenience of these tickets being on sale at our local ticket office, the first two tickets were sold last Tuesday afternoon, tickets were delivered at our local ticket office, baggage checked through to destination and berth reservations made, so that upon arrival at Portland all passengers had to do were to be shown their reservations by representatives of the company and trip made without the worry and inconvenience of repurchasing tickets, checking of baggage, and chances of securing a berth as has been the custom in the past. The S. P. Co's. overland trains leave Portland at 8:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. By leaving Hillsboro on the morning train at 7:14 a. m. passengers make close connections at Portland, and by leaving Hillsboro on the 4:29 p. m. train passengers have ample time in Portland to attend to any business they may have and take the evening train at 8:30. Only a few stations on the West Side have been supplied with this form of tickets, and Hillsboro being one of the fortunate ones, let every one who intends making a trip to San Francisco or Oakland, Calif., avail themselves of this new accommodation.

The party that went out on Friday morning last to inspect the oil fields about Glencoe returned Saturday evening in time for the Portland people to take the train for home. Some country was inspected, but the whole section could not be seen because of lack of time. The skilled man who came to see the country gathered some material which he took away for examination. His report will be made later. He said though that the geological strata indicated oil of high gravity. This will be most valuable for refining. How much oil there is probably cannot be determined till a well is drilled. And how deep is but guess work. The company expects to do more surveying soon.

The North Pacific R. R. Company have men in the Nehalem country viewing a way for the road it has decided to build. It really seems bad policy for Portland to allow the traffic from the rich Nehalem country to go to the Columbia River before it reaches that city. Can our urban neighbors bring themselves to believe that exports will go up stream then down again through the same channel to the sea?

Now is the time, if ever, to get a homestead as the lands are being picked up by Railroad Companies and in six months time there will be no Government lands left.

M. Edee will locate parties on homesteads or timber claims for the next four weeks at $30 per quarter section. Address him at Hillsboro. April 16, 1901.

MOUNTAIN HOME ITEMS.

While playing in the woods Little Baker had her ring and little fingers accidentally cut off by her brother, Angus. She was taken to Hillsboro where the hand was dressed.

Mr. Sam Henton has rented one of Mr. Schmeltzer's houses for their home for the present.

Mrs. Alice Graves has gone to Anity with her sister, Mrs. Woods. Miss Rowell made Mountain Home a visit last Monday.

Miss Ethel Hopkins has gone to spend a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Yergau.

Mrs. McVanwong is the guest of Mrs. McCuller. She is going to make quite a stay as the mountain air is very beneficial to her.

Mrs. Courtney has just returned from Dayton where she attended the wedding of her nephew, Archie Gubser.

Miss Grace Hopkins who has been in Portland has returned home, as her health has been very poor.

Mr. Wes Emmel has gone out to Gaston to work in a sawmill.

Mr. John Jones has lung fever.

Mr. Spies an Iowa farmer with leisure and money for enjoyment stepped off the train at Hillsboro station last Monday morning. He was a school boy with our Mr. C. Schulmerich in Germany almost if not quite 50 years ago, and of course he and Conrad are talking of old times. Mr. Spies finds an Iowa acquaintance here in the person of P. H. Baughman. They discuss Iowa blizzards, things we do not have in Oregon.

Everybody Knows

That nervousness and headache go together. The worry and cares of business or home, overwork, loss of sleep, improper food—all tend to irritate the temper, derange the digestion, weaken the nerves and undermine the health. This tearing down of the life forces must be stopped. The ebbing tide of health must be checked, and new energy, new life, new ambition infused into the whole system. To do this quickly and thoroughly use

"From the almost constant suffering caused by frequent attacks of severe headache, nervousness and stomach trouble, my health became greatly run-down. Although I spent much money with physicians and tried many advertised remedies I never found any lasting relief until I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and was cured."
