A SUGAR DECISION.

The sugar barons have proven themselves above the constitution. They have procured the most extraordinary opinion from the Supreme Court of the United States that the constitution does not apply to territorial possessions, only to the states; and why? So the sugar of Cuba and the Philippines may not have free entry into the United States.—Eugene Guard.

Whom does the Guard mean by the sugua barons? Does it refer to the refiners who want free raw sugar? It was those gentlemen who brought the suits for the very purpose of recovering the duties that they had already paid. The Guard does not seem to have a clear idea of what the Court did decide. The barons did get those duties back that were paid on imports brought to continental ports before congress legislated on the subject by passing the Foraker bill that levies a duty of 15 per cent of the Dingley law. The Court holds that there were no import duties between Porto Rico and continental ports from the treaty of Paris to the passage of the Foraker bill. Congress legislated and compels the "barons" to pay a duty of 15 per cent of that imposed on foreign imports and the Court holds that Congress has power to do that. Is the Guard finding fault with the decision because the "barons" are compelled to pay duty.

The Guard is not clear at another place. Cuba is a foreign country and as such should pay duty on the sugar sent here just as Germany and Russia are compelled to do. Cuba never has wanted to be a part of this nation. "Cuba Libra" is the dream of those islanders.

What the Guard is probably trying to do is to create a sentiment favorable to free trade. But does it not know that when a revenue policy on free trade lines is adopted the tariff will be on sugar, coffee, tea and such other articles as are most used by the people generally? There is a difference between a tariff law for revenue and one for protection which it is hoped the Guard will never again have opportunity to realize by experience.

THE POLITICAL STORM CENTER.

Since Mr. Bryan's first nomination to the presidency in 1896, and especially since his second defeat in 1900, the democracy has been a floundering. In the North this has not been so noticable since those democrats who differed with Bryan and his platform promptly voted with the opposing party whose principles more nearly represented their ideas. But in the South there is friction within the party caused by the opposing views of the leaders. Just now South Carolina is the storm center. Senator Tillman, the pitchfork representative of Bryan democracy is opposed by Senator McLaurin a progressive man and one who wants to bring the democratic party back to old land marks. Tillman's first term as senator expired March 4, 1901 but he was re-elected for another term last winter. McLaurin's term expires March 4, 1903. McLaurin maintains he has as much right to define democratic principles as Mr. Bryan, Mr. Tillman or anyone else. Mr. McLaurin says that Mr. Bryan and Mr. Tillman both oppose true democracy and advocated populism, socialism and communism. The earnestness with which the fight is to be carried on may be judged from the announcement that a dailey morning paper will be established at Columbia, with a South Carolinian, now residing at Richmond, Va., as editor.

This makes Tillman furious and he appealed to the people by resigning. McLaurin met him by filing his resignation and announcing that he is a candidate for the long term against Tillman. The governor asked both men to withdraw their resignations since the state ought not to be rended this year by a fierce political contest. McLaurin complied with the governor's request which compelled Tillman to do the same, but in writing he was not choice in the use of terms. This makes the governor angry so that he replies and informs the pitch fork senator that if he realy wants to resign and will file his resignation it will be promptly accepted. There will be a shaking up in the South next year. Broader views will be endorsed and blind voting will be changed to an intelligent and independent exercise of the suffrage.

WORTHY OF ATTENTION.

About the last of next month the national committee on rivers and harbors will visit Portland. Following the custom of the past, those having charge of this matter will, no doubt, take the visitor on a trip "up and down the river." Aside from the pleasure this excursion affords there would seem to be little reason in planning it. It is not of so much importance that we impress the committee with the grandeure of the scenry along the bank of the Willamette and Columba, as it is to show them the industries which feed these arteries of commerce. A trip up the Willamette valley, through fields of growing grain, past herds of cattle and flocks of sheep, beside vast orchards and in sight of magnificent belts of timber, would be a more powerful and effective argument for the improvement of the channels of our waterways than all the orations which have been delivered upon the floors of congress.

An effort should be made by valley towns to induce these gentlemen to make such a trip. There will be from 40 to 45 members of the party. Corvallis should prepare a nice luncheon for the party and extend to them the courtesies of the city. Let us give this matter our attention. —Corvallis Gazette.

EXAMINATION IN THE AMERICAN COLLEGE.

It may be none of the INDEPENDENT's business but it is going to stick its spoon in the dish just the same. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction has prepared a course of study for the public schools. That is well. The course provides that on completion of the course the pupil shall receive a certificate to that effect. That too is well. Some call the certificate a diploma. That is stilted and somewhat in bad taste. Before issuing this certificate the pupil must officially show by an examination that he is entitled to his peice of paper. The questions for this examination are prepared at Salem and the answers written in the country school house wherever the pupil happens to be. His papers are gathered up and marked by a stranger, sometimes a skilled teacher and sometimes by one not so skilled. That is fairly well except. That exception is the list of questions. The interogatories are very unsuitable for the class for whom they were specifically intended and prepared. Unsuitable from the fact that they, in several instances at least, are of such a nature, per se, that children should not be supposed to know much about and indeed do not have time, if they do the work laid out for them by the course of study made compulsory by an enactment of the last legislative body. Then, too, some of them were so miserably formulated by reason of their vagueness that many of the poor innocents "fell down" hard, yes, very hard no doubt, in their fruitless efforts to elucidate what to their apprehension must have been as clear as mud.

It is not a wise nor even a kind thing on the part of the instructor to encourage pupils whom they ought to know has very little if any chance "to pass" such a crucial test. For this class of pupils it can do but little good and may do them a good deal of harm.

"All the world loves a lover," and if, like William McKinley, he loves his wife and has loved her for a quarter of a century, the world is likely to dote on him.—Duluth News Tribune. There is one exception, the Oregonian.

At Albany, New York, two electric cars racing for a switch bumped together. Five people were killed and forty injured. The cars were not operated by scabs but by Union labor.

Mr. Bryan says Tillman will win "because he represents the man while McLaurin represents the dollar." Tillman represents, remarks the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, no dollar. The nearest he comes to it is 45 cents

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION, Decree and Order of Sale, issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Washington county, in favor of S. B. Huston and against James G. Lee et al for the sum of $13.60 costs, and for the further sum of $450.39 U. SUMMONS.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE State of Oregon for Washington Co.

J. W. Farquhar, Plaintiff,
v
Silas Fordyce, Defendant

To Silas Fordyce, the above-named defendant:

In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint of the plaintiff filed herein on or before Thursday the 18th day of July, 1901, and if you fail so to appear and answer, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in his complaint, to-wit, for a judgment against you for the sum of $250 with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum from May 5th, 1891, and the further sum of $35 attorney's fees, and the costs and disbursements of this suit, and for a decree foreclosing a certain mortgage executed by you to secure the payment of the aforesaid sums of money and which mortgage is recorded on Page 250 of Book "V" of Records of Mortgages of Washington Co., Oregon. And further, that the land described in said mortgage, to-wit: "The S ½ of the N W ¼ of Section 30 T 2 N R 5 W, and the S E ¼ of the N E ¼, and the N E ¼ of the S E ¼ of Section 25 in T 2 N R 6 W, containing 150 acres" be sold and the proceeds applied to the satisfaction of said judgment. And for such other and further relief as may be equitable. The time prescribed for the publication of this summons is six weeks and the date of its first publication is June 7th, 1901. This summons is served by publication by order of the Honorable L. A. Rood, County Judge of Washington County, Oregon.

Made and dated at Chambers, at Hillsboro, Oregon, on June 1st, 1901,

Caked Breast

Just two applications did the work

Gentlemen:—I suffered for days as only a woman with caked breast can and in desperation applied Scotch Remedy, hoping it would ease the pain.

The first application gave relief and the second restored the breast to its normal condition, without ulcerating or affecting the flow of milk. I have used your truly Mysterious Pain Cure, as a general household remedy, for nearly a year and consider it the greatest external remedy in the world. MRS. M. F. D.

DOCTORS USE IT.

Gentlemen:—I have known of the use of Mysterious Pain Cure for several years, but not until within a few months have I used it upon my person and in my family, and I can say unhesitatingly that it is one of the best remedies for pain that I have ever tried. Thoroughly applied it is, in my experience, very sure to give quick and permanent relief. Respectfully,

Your Drug Store Trade

There are so many reasons why you should trade at our store that there is not room in this little advertise- to tell them all. One reason is that we are modern. We keep pace with new ideas and new conditions. As fast as anything better than we have is invented we secure it. As fast as we discover newer and purer and more desirable thing we take them up. But the old reasons are best of all—the reasons that have always governed us. These are Reliability, Honesty, Promptness, Purity and Freshness of Stock. The best always, never the next best. The best for you is the best for us.
