

Hop pickers are feverish this week in preparation for the fields where picking will commence next Monday. Most of the pickers from Hillsboro are going to North Yamhill.

Those wishing to purchase improved farms, large or small, city lots or city residences, in Hillsboro or in Forest Grove, will find it worth while to see J. W. Stone at the bank, Hillsboro or Benj Schofield at Forest Grove.

Last Sunday evening shortly after 8 o'clock a sharp electrical rain storm visited the county. There was considerable lightning and in spots quite a fall of rain. At Hillsboro water stood in the streets all day Monday. There was a little rain at Forest Grove and a little shower at Glencoe. The precipitation was considerable along the lower Tualatin. In Portland the drizzle continued till after 12 o'clock. Threshing was interrupted for a half day, but afterward it was as active as usual. No damage was done by the rain. The wind is puffing up fitfully from the south-west so more rain may be expected any day.

The Diamond W team added another victory to the list by defeating the Uphurch team, of Portland, by a score of 9 to 4. Both teams put up an excellent game. The two boys pitchers were in the game again and Downs clearly bested McInnis. The Uphurch team is composed of the best amateur players in Portland, and the managers of the Diamond W's feel justly proud of the showing of the boys last Sunday.

The lineup was:

Diamond W	Uphurch
Downs p	McInnis
Suess c	Zan
Purfin 1 b	Stutt
Briggs 2 b	Atwood
Cook 3 b	Fay
Hare ss	Baldwin
Miller 1 f	Downs
Hatch c f	Esser, Welch

Runs by innings:

Struck out by Downs 9, McInnis 2.
Bases on balls Downs 1, McInnis 2.
Time of game, 1:45.

After the above game the second team of Hillsboro defeated the Gaston team by a score of 11 to 10. It was a very interesting and exciting game especially at the finish. Siegrist and Allison was the battery for Hillsboro, and R. Parker and Sappington for Gaston.

Conrad Schulmerich on Monday morning last at his residence in Hillsboro died at the age of 73 years, 9 months. For several months his heart had been so badly deranged that he could not sleep to rest. He sat in his chair the long night through. His sons and daughters had been anxious for months and never left him alone day or night. On Sunday and the immediate days before he seemed no worse than he had been. Indeed he had on Saturday taken a short ride in his buggy. But at about 1:30 Monday morning he evidently felt the change. He raised up and stepped to his bedside and settled on it. There the vital spark was instantly extinguished.

The deceased was born in Hossen Darenstadt, Germany Dec. 27, 1827. At the age of 23 years he came to New York where in 1856 he wedded Margaret Schuetzger. The young couple started west almost immediately, arriving in San Francisco by way of Panama the same fall. He went at once to the gold mines at Placerville. For about nine years he dug gold till he had saved a little stake, when in 1875 he came to Oregon to take up again life on a farm which he had abandoned when he left Germany twenty-five years before. While in California he never shunned hard work but always wrestled with the heaviest boulder in the diggings, and in truth, it was those efforts that started the cardiac derangement which has ultimately proven fatal. The farm which he bought in South Tualatin, this county was not better land than thousands of other acres in the neighborhood, rather inferior, but under his intelligent tillage it soon became one of the best in the county. Here he laid the foundation of his fortune. In the '80's he with his son George engaged in general merchandising in Hillsboro retaining his interest until last fall when he disposed of it to his son Edward. About ten years ago he retired from the active management of his affairs and took up his residence in town. About four years ago he made a trip to Europe. He had been in America 45 or 46 years and while he had become thoroughly acquainted with the customs of the new world and the free life of the west, he remembered the Feder Land and had deference for the old customs. This visit revealed some things that he had not before seen. He returned a thorough American and while he did not despise the old country, his respect for the monarchy was much weakened. He always took an interest in public affairs but it was not the office seekers interest though he held office and had as commissioner a vote in the management of the county's affairs. His acts while in public place were always dictated by an intelligent judgment that received the stamp of approval by his constituents. He was a charitable man though the full extent of his benefactions cannot be known for they were not bestowed to be seen of men. Conrad Schulmerich was a strong and well balanced man.

His wife died in February 1900. Her death was a bereavement that weighed heavily on him, and he was not the same cheerful, happy man afterward. Nine children survive their parents, all grown: Herman, manager of the Oregon Power and Paper Co., Sumpter, Ore.; William, farmer at Farmington; George W. and Edward, merchants, Hillsboro; Joseph, farmer, Greenville; Mrs. D. Barkhalter, South Tualatin and Misses Margaret, Josephine and Etta, Hillsboro, this county.

The funeral services were conducted by Elder James Campbell at the Congregational church, at 1:30 p. m. on Tuesday. The large auditory was filled to its utmost capacity. Tualatin Lodge A. F. & A. M. of which lodge the deceased had been an honored member for 27 years had charge of the ceremonies. The pall bearers were the sons of the deceased and acted in obedience to the promise exacted by the father during his life time.

Mr. Schulmerich will be missed but it cannot be said that his place will not be filled for he trained up sons who will carry forward the enterprises he so wisely inaugurated. They, with their sisters, are monuments to the memory of father and mother.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., was once immensely surprised: "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run-down. She had no strength or vigor and suffering great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver trouble it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Capt. and Mrs. R. Crandall have the very great pleasure of entertaining this week Mrs. C's. brother, Mr. C. N. Shannon whom they had not seen since he was a small lad, 26 years ago. The superintendent of the State blind school, Salem, is desirous of being put in correspondence with the parents or guardians of any blind children living in Washington Co. So far as known there is but one, boy Savage, at or near Laurel. Should there be more it would be to the unfortunate's interest to communicate at once with the officials at the school in Salem.

An acquaintance was met a few days ago who is in the 76th year of age. Last spring he started into gratify a longing, which he has had for some year, to acquire a knowledge of the Ancient Greek language. The gentleman has a liberal English education, has a good knowledge of the Ancient Latin, but up to this year did not know the Greek alphabet. He has all his life been an active business man and had no time to devote to his hearts desire, but leaving business to his sons, last spring he bought a Greek grammar and exercise book and went to work. He has mastered the first 150 pages and is doing well, but the young student would do well also were he to pursue the same system. He rereads every day what he has gone over, sometimes he reads the lesson of yesterday ten times. He retires to his den to read aloud. Pointing to one of the first exercises he remarked "I have read this six lines three times today." His pronunciation compared with that of the French and German schools is perfect. The remarkable thing is that a man so old should take up and successfully master Greek. There are some things in his favor—a thorough knowledge with the English and the Latin, coupled with a passion for his undertaking.

Sheriff Sewell had a night ride commencing on Thursday evening of last week. It was represented to him that Herbert Roumont had stolen a watch at the sandpit in Cedar Creek precinct. He was gathered up but he soon established the fact that he is innocent, the real culprit is yet at large. On the same trip Lee Moie, a Chinaman who is bloodthirsty, was taken into custody and lodged in jail. Mr. Moie has a grudge against a countryman and publicly declared his intention to kill him and burn his property. This is denied and since the language used in making the claimed threats is the Chinese, there may be some difficulty in establishing the truth of what was said. The examination of witnesses will be before the County Judge commencing today.

Two thirty individuals robbed the Japanese section house at Raleigh last Monday afternoon, of $70.00 and a few pieces of wearing apparel. The burglars were in Hillsboro at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning where they loitered about for some time. The section boss came upon the 9 o'clock train and gave the alarm. After a time track of the two was obtained going toward Cornelius. The section boss hurried forward and actually found them in Cornelius, but in trying to make an arrest, being unarmed the hobos took flight and ran across the school lot and disappeared in the brush and timber. If the rail road men had been less swift Sheriff Sewell would have bagged them within a quarter of an hour.

Mr. W. R. Jackson, who has been in Eugene for a few weeks under the care of a surgeon, is at home and much improved. His left eye was in the early spring threatened with cancer which was fast developing. The growth was in the upper part of the orbital cavity behind the eye ball. The cancer was dissected out when the wound made quick recovery. Mr. Jackson's general health is excellent but within the past few days he has become anxious about a spot on the lower eye lid, and fears that another trip to Eugene may be necessary.

Mr. M. M. Bridges, who has been with the Climax Milling Company for the past ten years, has sold his stock in the corporation to Mr. J. M. Greener. Mr. Bridges has also sold his residence property to Mr. C. E. Beckwith, and will take up his residence in Portland. Hillsboro regrets to lose solid citizens, but since Mr. Bridges makes the change to better his fortune the good wishes of his neighbors goes with him.

Mrs. Ann Freeman, widow of the late Robert Freeman, and sister of Col. T. B. Cornelius, deceased, is confined to her bed by an attack of gastric fever complicated by nervous derangement. The patient is past the three score mark so that attacks of this nature are to be feared, though in this instance Dr. Tameisie, her physician, thinks careful nursing will enable her to rally.

Mr. Geo. Meyer, who lives on the James farm in South Tualatin, shot off the thumbs of both hands last Tuesday with a gopher gun. Just how he got both digits in range is not quite clear, even to Mr. Meyer himself, but it probably was done in loading the treacherous shooting iron. Dr. Tameisie dressed the lacerations.

Surveyor L. E. Wilkes, who has been in the woods on the foothills of the Cascades in Clarke county, Washington, is at home for a short rest. His health has not been robust for a while, and he is badly run down. Another month in the field is planned for this fall, which he expects to get in before bad weather. After that is office work.

The tenant on the W. O. Gibson donation across the Tualatin from Dilley has a big crop of oats this year. He is claiming from 75 to 100 bushels to the acre for the whole field of 100 acres. The tearing out of the Dilley mill dam last spring seems to have benefited the farms there.

Hellbuck Bros., who have been cutting wood across the Tualatin below the Rood bridge, have completed the contract and are now delivering the product along the line of the rail road. The amount cut is 1200 cords.

It is reported that the Forest Grove Times, paper and plant, has been sold to two parties recently from Nebraska. The new proprietors are to take possession Sept. 1st.

Ed Everson who at the beginning of his vacation went to Stockton, Cal., on his whaler, has returned and is ready for college, which will be open for students in a few weeks.

Bixley's Royal Polish restores color and gloss to ladies' and gentlemen's black shoes and is not injurious. If there were any better goods the Delta would have them.

Bea ball players should use The Delta Liniment, it cures sprains and bruises, toughens the hands and keeps the fingers supple.

A NEW FACTORY IN TOWN.

The INDEPENDENT wants to call attention of readers to the reasons given below why a local factory is desirable and to suggest that it is bad policy to send local capital abroad on speculative errands. And before reading the six reasons below, taken from the American Economist, an example of sending away local money for foreign investment will be quoted. Eight years ago a complete carriage manufacturing plant was in operation at Corvallis, employing fifty or more mechanics. The people who had commenced the industry had used about all their capital in installing their machinery, so that money was shy for material, labor, etc., for carrying the factory over the first few years till a business could be established. The matter was laid before local capitalists. But they refused to help. They sent their money somewhere into Washington, where there was a speculative land promoting. They tied up their savings and drew the knot so tight that they have not yet been able to lose it. Their money is gone; so is the factory. It was dismantled a few weeks ago and the machinery sent away. But here is the argument:

If a new factory is to be erected, men employed, wages paid and profits realized, I would rather the factory should be started in my own town than in some other town. Why?

First: If I am a wage worker my opportunities of employment will be increased by an enlarged demand for labor close at hand. Even if some of the employees are brought from elsewhere the setting up of the industry will open new avenues of employment, both directly and indirectly.

Second: If I am a farmer the market for my products will be improved. Every additional customer means a readier sale and possibly a better price for the output of my land, my dairy, my hencoop. The nearer the market is the better for me. Give me a clear field to supply a factory village of five hundred people with your butter, eggs, pork and "garden sass," and the other farmers can send their stuff to London, Paris, Bombay and Peking for aught I care.

Third: If I am a merchant I must live on the folks within easy reach of my store. Unless I am a big gun and have a long distance pull the folks in the towns twenty miles away won't do me much good. Double the population of my own town and you double my opportunities.

Fourth: If I own real estate I am very sensitive about earnings and going. Every new man or new family interests my pocket at once. They must abide somewhere. Tenants or customers to somebody they must be. A hundred new families in my town would be a "sweet boon" to my business. By all means locate the factory here. Why I'll give the land for it myself.

Fifth: If I am a professional man I surely want people here, more pupils, more patients, more clients, more people to build up the church in this place. The greater my opportunities the more good I can do. Let 'em come here.

Sixth: As a member of the town council, it is my duty to develop the town, to increase its population, add to its means of earning a living, bring vacant land under improvement so that the wealth of the municipality may be enlarged, thus making easier the burden of taxation and enabling the local government to provide better schools, roads, lights for all without hardship to any. Every new industry or old one enlarged is a help to us all. Bring the factory here and it shall pay no taxes for ten years.

As it is with the town, so it is with the country. Don't buy anything abroad that you can get made at home. It is bad business policy.

Mr. George Moreland reports that he and his brother, who are on the Geo. Smith donation, east of town, raised 50 bushels of oats to the acre this year.

The Burlington Route have the lowest rates to all points east, quickest time, best service and you ride on the Finest Train in the world.

Card of Thanks.

The family of Conrad Schulmerich deceased returns the sincere thanks of its members to the many friends who extended kindnesses to them at the death and burial of their father, Hillsboro, Aug. 28, 1901.

Mr. Howard Gove, of Heppner, visited this week with his cousin, W. H. Gault.

Hon. W. N. Barrett and wife who were away last week are again at home. Mr. Barrett finds that office business is brisk this week.

C. H. Markham, Gen. Freight and Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific in Oregon has been promoted to a position in San Francisco. While in Oregon Mr. Markham has conducted the business of his agency in so acceptable a way that he has secured great popularity for himself and removed much of the odium that had attached to the company. This was done at the same time that the business of the road was much increased. He is succeeded by R. B. Miller from the O. R. & N. Co.

The Southern Pacific Company is preparing an exhibit of grains, grasses, fruits and vegetables for the Portland Carnival. A carload was taken down from the west side yesterday. Mr. H. E. Lounsbury, the S. P. Traveling Freight Agent is superintending the collection of material. Mr. Heidel of Hillsboro assisted in this immediate neighborhood by collecting duplicates where he got material for the county exhibit at the State Fair. Mr. Lounsbury was very much pleased with the grains and grasses obtained in this county.

The Native Sons now have pledged all the money they expected to raise for the street fair Oct. 25. The committee is now busy arranging the program and securing attractions for the entertainment of the people. It is now hoped that some native son will come forward with his dearly beloved, a native daughter. Gov. Geer, a native son, will give the bride away and a native son, Judge of the Circuit court, if he can be found, if not then a clergyman will pronounce the ceremony. County Clerk Morgan, a native son, will issue the Marriage license.

The bequest of Mrs. Charlotte Hornbuckle, mentioned in the proceedings of the probate court, is to a worthy cause that has been much neglected. The theory in the M. E. church is that the ministers, circuit riders, shall be paid a salary bare sufficient for a meager sustenance. No money must be left over or put to one side for a rainy day. In practice this theory is perfectly worked out. Men who have ridden the circuit during young life find themselves stranded in old age and it is well for the well-to-do laity to create a fund for the support of superannuated preachers.

The game at Recreation Park next Sunday is betw en the Diamond W's and the West End of Portland. The visitors have a reputation and a close game is expected. Game called at 2.

The Bandfield & Viesey strike and boycott of Portland has been settled by the back down of the company which agrees to take back the old men, but since the strikers have taken employment at other places and there but few if any to go back it is not easy to see where the victors is to organized labor except that the principal has been saved.
