THROUGH UTAH AND COLORADO.

The ideal trip to the east during the heat of summer is via the Rio Grande Western and Denver & Rio Grande Railroads, the far-famed "Scenic Line of the World." The extremes of temperature are never met, and passengers are sure of having a delightfully cool ride through the heart of the Rocky Mountains, and a view by daylight of scenery which is nowhere surpassed.

If desired, a stop enroute may be made at quaint and picturesque Salt Lake City, the "City of the Saints," Glenwood Springs, Leadville, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Denver, or any intermediate point.

There are three daily trains leaving Salt Lake City for all points east, which have close connections from the Northwest via either O. R. & N. Co., or the Southern Pacific Co. These trains are equipped with Through Sleepers (Standard and Tourist), Free Reclining Chair Cars and a perfect Dining Car Service.

Personally Conducted Excursions, in charge of competent and courteous managers, are run several times a week without change of cars to Denver, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Buffalo, New York, Boston and all eastern cities.

The Gunmaker Of Moscow

By SYLVANUS COBB, Jr.

But she was not to remain in the dark much longer. The evil one was loose, and his bonds of restraint were cast off. He had marked his prey, and the meshes were gathering about it. "Rosalind," the duke said in a tone which he meant should have been angry and frank, but which nevertheless was marked strongly with effort, "there is some talk among the surgeons now that Conrad Damonoff may recover."

"Oh, I am glad of that!" the fair girl uttered earnestly.

"Yes, I suppose so," resumed Olga, eying her sharply. "But you have no particular care for him, I presume?"

"For—the count?"

"Ay; it was of him I was speaking."

"No, sir. I care only for him as I care for all who need to become better or they die."

"Aha, yes!" said the duke, biting his lip, for in his own mind he had the frankness to acknowledge that he was about as needy of virtue as was the count. "But," he resumed, with a faint smile, "you never loved the man?"

"No, sir," the maiden answered, gazing up into her guardian's face, with an inquisitive look.

"So I thought, so I thought." As Olga thus spoke he smiled again and moved his chair nearer to Rosalind. "I am well aware," he resumed, "that your affections have not as yet been set upon any one who is capable of making a proper companion for you through all the ups and downs of life."

Rosalind's eyes drooped beneath the steady gaze of the speaker, and her frame trembled. But she could make any reply the duke went on:

"My dear Rosalind, I have come now upon a business which I may justly call the most important of my life. I have not approached this subject lightly nor with overzeal, but I have come to it through careful consideration and anxious study."

Here the duke stopped and gazed into Rosalind's face. She met his gaze, and her eyes drooped again. She trembled more than before, and a dim, dreadful fear worked its way to her mind.

"Rosalind," the nobleman continued, "when I was but 12 years of age, I was married with a girl whom I loved. She lived with me four short, happy years. In that time we were blessed with two children, but they lived not long to cheer us. And then my beautiful wife died, and the world was all dark and drear to me. I thought I should never love again. Time passed on, and you were placed in my charge. When you first came, I loved you, and I wondered if you were to take the place of the children I had lost. But you grew quickly up. Your mind was expanded, and your heart was large. I found that I could not make a child of you, and then I set down all alone and asked myself what place it was you had assumed in my heart. Can you guess the answer, Rosalind?"

"As a little child," answered the maiden, trembling violently.

"No, no, sweet one! I pondered, and I studied, and I examined myself carefully, and I found that the memory of my departed wife was fast fading away before the rising of another one just as pure and just as holy. Now do you understand?"

"No, no! Oh, no!" the maiden uttered in a frightened whisper.

"Then listen further," continued the nobleman in a low, earnest tone and with a strange fire in his deep blue eyes. "As your charms of both mind and person were gradually developed I came to look upon you with new feelings, or, I should say, with the old feeling more fully developed. I looked around me. I saw my sumptuous palace without a legitimate female head. In my parities I had no companion to assist and guide me, and in my loneliness I had no mate to cheer and enliven me. I wished not that such should be the case. At length my eyes were opened, and I saw plainly the spirit that was moving upon my soul. I looked upon you, and I knew that I had found the woman who was to give me joy once more. Rosalind, I love you truly, fondly, and I would make you my wife. Now you cannot fail to understand me, can you?"

Rosalind gazed up into the face of her guardian, and she was pale as death.

"You do not mean—oh!"

A FARMER THAT CRITICISES HILLSBORO.

In the issue of the Hillsboro INDEPENDENT of November 22d, it calls attention to the fact that complaints of Hillsboro being grasping. He that that, "the town had ought to buy as well as sell." The farmer knows and admits that to be a fact. It calls attention to last year's purchase of 16 car loads of potatoes. It lauds that it means a business man of Hillsboro, that has bought and shipped this 16 car loads of potatoes. But we deny that he was a business man of Hillsboro at the time, from the fact that he was what we call one of our hayseeds, and had not got all of the hayseed combed out of his hair at that time. But this year he is now what is known as one of Hillsboro's business men. How many car loads of potatoes has he bought and shipped this year? He calls attention to the fact that all of the out-lets that local dealers could get from traveling agents were taken. About how many was that? He also claims that a car load of cabbage went forward the week before last, and that more was to go. If the INDEPENDENT will allow me to select the cabbage, I will select several heads off the side-walks of Hillsboro. He claims that Hillsboro people buy wheat, oats and hops, when the grower does not deal with the exporter. We admit that they have to buy chicken feed. The millers have to buy wheat in order to run their mills. But today they will not accept 100 pounds of wheat in exchange for the same number pounds of shorts or bran, and that is business of course. He also states, "That Hillsboro buys hops when the grower does not deal with exporters." If he did not deal with exporters who would he deal with? He claims that beef and pork are brought here. Yes, but when the people, from the country, bring in a full carcass at a time, they are able to glut the market. If the farmers could afford to kill one quarter at a time, they might comfortably find a market for their produce. The INDEPENDENT seems to be at a loss to know if the complaining farmer ever brings anything to Hillsboro, to sell. I will inform the INDEPENDENT, that the farmer that complains, will bring produce to Hillsboro to sell, when there is any certainty of finding a purchaser. He calls attention to Hillsboro trying to promote a manufacturing establishment, in the way of a condensed milk factory, and will take all the milk that the farmers will bring to Hillsboro, provided, that the farmers will bring enough. Now let the people of Hillsboro buy that milk, or let them wait like they have always done, and have somebody from the outside do the paying for it. Now is it not a fact, that Hillsboro might do the business for the Tualatin valley, if they want it marketed where they could buy as well as sell. They can go to Hillsboro and buy the bulk of what they want, but when they go to Hillsboro to sell the amount that they can sell as farmers, Hillsboro does not justify us as a selling market. Therefore, if the farmer has to go to Hillsboro to buy, and go to some other city to sell, ought he to buy? Now in reference to the condensed milk factory, like they warrant to the poor foolish farmer, that they will furnish streets for them to go and come, in winter time, without getting tired. We will admit that Hillsboro has about two blocks of pretty good streets with electric lights hanging over, and that is all the business men of Hillsboro seem to think is necessary for the country people to come and go and patronize their town. Now they are encouraged, the condensed milk factory, as I have mentioned before, they seem to be enthused over it. But who will furnish the raw material? If a condensed milk factory is going to be established, would it not be better if the factory be situated where the milk is produced? In other words let the factory seek the raw material instead of the raw material seeking the factory. In mines, where I have been somewhat accustomed to doing business, we always aimed to erect a quartz mill, on or near the mine. We didn't erect a mill five, six or seven miles from the mine, with the view of hauling the quartz to it. It was much easier to haul the machinery to the mine, than to haul the produce of the mine to the mill. But I infer from the tenor of the article, which appears in the issue of that INDEPENDENT, that there are some business men in Hillsboro. We don't dispute, but we will ask the INDEPENDENT "when have they arrived?" We would like to meet them.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

Something New Under The Sun.

All Doctors have tried to cure catarrh by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers are entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have tried to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures catarrh, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "Snuffles" the guaranteed catarrh cure and is sold at the extremely low price of one dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use. "Snuffles" is the only perfect catarrh cure ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve hay fever or cold in the head.

Catarrh when neglected often leads to consumption—"Snuffles" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure catarrh in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but sent for it at once and write full particulars as to your condition and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "Snuffles" the "guaranteed catarrh cure."

Sent prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada on receipt of one dollar. Address Dept. F 250, Edwin R. Giles & Company, 2320 Market Street, Philadelphia.

Health and Beauty.

"A pill's a pill," says the saw. But there are pills and pills. You want a pill which is certain, thorough and gentle. Mustn't gripe. Dr. Witt's Little Early Risers fill the bill. Purely vegetable. That Gold Spoon.

There are some men who seem to be favorites of fortune. They are industrious, cheerful workers, full of overflowing energy of splendid health, and success seems fairly to drop into their hands. It is of such as these that the less hardy and less successful man says enviously, "That fellow was born with a gold spoon in his mouth." And yet on analysis it will be found that this success is largely due to the splendid health, the enjoyment of a healthy mother.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives the mother health to give her child. It cures nervousness, nausea and sleeplessness. It makes the body comfortable and the mind content. It gives physical vigor and muscular activity so that the baby's advent is practically painless.

"I will endeavor to tell you of the many benefits I have derived from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. E. J. Robertson of Medicine Lodge, Barber Co., Kans. "In the fall of 1899, I was expecting to become a mother and suffered terribly with pains in the back and head; in fact I could not sleep. I suffered with neuralgic headache and was so nervous that I could not sleep. I was threatened for weeks with miscarriage. A lady friend told me to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. She had taken it and said it was like a new woman. I began to use it and in a few days I was able to sleep. I continued to use it until I was twelve and one-quarter months. I am now eleven months old and has not had a single day's sickness at present she weighs thirty-seven pounds. I owe it all to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most desirable laxative for delicate women.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

The Third National Bank Grants Pass is to be opened at once. Three banks in a town no larger than Hillsboro means that the mines tributary are liberal contributors to the wealth of Josephine County.

In the issue for the week ending Dec. 7 the Milton Eagle, Umatilla County reports that a subscriber brought to that office several boxes of fresh ripe strawberries. There was feasting on strawberries and cream about December 5th in north latitude 45° 55'.

The Salem Capital Journal wants the State officers to be compensated by paying them a fixed salary. They are to collect fees but these are to be paid into the treasury. Col. Hofer proposes to save to the State $25,000 per year. It is just possible that this is another of Col. Hofer's populist visionary projects.

A S. P. Co's train, the overland passenger was wrecked last Saturday as it was about to enter the station grounds at Salem. Some one had left a switch half open. Some of the cars took the switch and some stayed on the main track. The engineer and his fireman were killed. None of the passengers were hurt.

The Tillamook Headlight has been telling some truths as it sees the facts. Critics visited the office and told the editor what they think of him. Some one took the editor's new umbrella and left a wreck instead. The editor is rattled and cannot locate the man who did it. Now there is anger bubbling.

Judge Hamilton, on the bench in the Second District is holding Court at Benton County. A brace of divorce suits came before him. One he dismissed and in the other the plaintiff, the husband, was required to pay the defendant $75.00 within 30 days for defence money. A failure to dig up will be equivalent to dismissing the suit.

An O. R. & N train was wrecked beyond The Dalles last Friday. A wrecker placed an iron nut on the outside rail where the track made a slight curve. The wheel of the locomotive was raised so that the flange could not hold to the track. A wreck resulted. The engineer was killed and the fireman badly hurt. No passengers were injured.

The new butter factory just established here by the Corvallis Creamery Company, began operations yesterday morning, reports the Corvallis Gazette. Manager Kaupisch informs us that 2000 pounds of milk and 800 pounds of cream were received yesterday. This was put through the separator and this morning between 300 and 400 pounds of butter were made ready for the market.

A new furniture factory is to be installed at Corvallis immediately. A car load of machinery was received last week. The building for the shops is built and ready for occupancy. Only a short time ago an organ factory was started there employing ten men, all that could be obtained, but to be increased to 25 as soon as the skilled workmen can be found. Now this second industry is inaugurated. Verily one venture is the start of another.

Heavy storms off the Oregon Coast last week was losing to shipping. A lumber barge broke loose from its tow south of Yaquina Bay. Four men were on the barge. It drifted north and went ashore near Yaquina. One man was washed over-board and lost. The other three were saved. The wheat ship Nelson off the mouth of the Columbia broke away from the tug, and for a day was supposed to be lost, but she drifted north and was picked up and taken in to Port Townsend on Puget Sound.

A life insurance society has been organized at Albany, this state, to be known as the Twenty Five Hundred, it costs $2.00 to join and 50 cents for annual dues. Upon the death of a member an assessment of $1.00 is levied on the living to replace the dollar that each had on deposit before the death of the member. No one gets a salary. No office rent is paid because the meetings of the officers are held in an office of some member. Only postage and stationery are paid for by the society. The membership is limited to 2500 persons. When a vacancy occurs by death or default in payment of an assessment, a new member may be taken. Both men and women between the ages of 15 and 50 years are eligible to membership.
