THE PHILIPPINE TAX LAW.

The administration has always proposed and does now, that the Philippine Islands shall pay for their gov ernment. To that end a tax bas the Islands are a part of the nation and that imposts for the United States treasury may not be collected on imports from the Islands to Continental ports wherefore the revenue here-to-fore flowing into the Insular treasury no longer reaches that chest.

The Supreme Court more than fifty years ago held that Congess has control of the territories of the nation, though states occupy a somewhat different relation. It was held in Porto Rico cases last year that congress had a right to levy duties on commerce between that Island and gress is preparing a tax tariff bill to reports it is understood that the money realized goes to the Insular treasury for the support of the Philippine government. None finds its way into the treasury of the general government.

It is understood that this is only a temporary expedient and will be abrogated as soon as the government is firmly established and the state system of listing property and assessing taxes can be operated. Raising revenue by collecting duties on imports and exports is an easy way and if the schedulee are skilfully framed it as equitable as any other method, and perhaps if as familiar, would be as unobjectionable as the method of assessment and levy. The Insular tariff bill passed the House of Representatives yesterday, some democrati voting for it and some republicans against. It now goes to the Senate.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

The craziest scheme that any great nation ever had is that of building the Nicaragua canal. It is supreme folly. It is idiocy. It is suicide Minister Wu, the Chinese ambass dor to Washington, is taking entirely too active a part in opposition to the re-enactment of the exclusion law. Teddy ought to give him a hint that ministers from foreign countries are not expected to take part as lobyists about congress. That is a right reserved exclusively to American citizens.-Mountaineer.
