FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1902.

It is now up to Portland to reorganize its police force. It is suggested as a new force that it install a full department of genuine Sioux Indians. They have a good reputation for wielding the tomahawk, to say nothing of the war club.

Senator Dolph left his seat in the senate and came home expecting to personally secure his re-election. He was defeated, Senator Simon has come home to attend the primaries in Multnomah. Will he prove to be greater than Dolph?

It is learned from excellent authority that Signor Marconi, regarding whom the world is cherishing such great expectations, is an active member of the Waldensian church in Leghorn, Italy. Protestant Italy has always honored him for his pronounced Christian position.

As long as Cuba has an opportunity to become a territory of the United States it enjoys the greatest of all concessions we can extend. If the island prefers a separate nationality it can not reasonably expect to be coddled at the expense of other foreign countries.—Globe-Democrat.

Does Messrs. Tillman, Wellington and all those, suppose for a minute that President McKinley could have been elected for a second term if he had refused to prepare for war after the commission reported that the Maine had been destroyed by an explosive anchored on the outside and touched off.

The release of Miss Stone and Madam Trilka with her child, born while in captivity, announced last week, has been confirmed. They were taken by their abductors to an obscure town and left on the streets. There was no ceremony. After the women found themselves alone and unguarded, Miss Stone made herself known and word was at once sent to the larger centers of civilization. The captives at once started on horseback for the coast, where they took sail for Constantinople. The two women and the baby are well.

In an article on America to-day, reports a Paris dispatch of Feb. 15, the Temps says the United States should feel like a brilliant young beauty, wooed by many suitors, each more pressing than the other. Some of these are England, Russia and Germany. It adds that American society, like all society, is snobbish. The Kaiser flatters President Roosevelt's paternal feelings in the matter of the christening of the Meteor, and Americans love the display of official pomp, as will be exemplified in the coming reception of Prince Henry. The article purports to show that Germany and not England, was the friend of the United during the Spanish war.

As a fair type of the most ranting demagoguery, an expression to which Burke Cockran gave public utterance the other day, serves excellently. His words were, "Republicans are in politics for themselves; democrats for their country. Republicans seek power to gain power; democrats seek power to enforce the principles. Republicans allow nothing to interfere with success in getting possession of office; democrats will sacrifice all prospects of office rather than suppress or compromise an opinion." Any man of any party, be he the bull-necked Cockran or a cross roads spellbinder, who avers that all the patriots are on his side and the rascals and traitors on the other, is playing the cheapest role of the political demagogue.—Astorian.

The Philippine tariff bill passed the senate on Monday last. It provides that imports from Continental United States shall pay the same duties as imposed by the Taft commission on imports from foreign countries, and exports to Continental United States shall pay 75 per cent of the Dingley tariff law. There were amendments in the senate, the 75 per cent being one, hence the bill will go back to the house. There may be good and sufficient reasons why we who own the Philippines are not preferred before Germany, England and Japan, but they have not yet been shown to the INDEPENDENT, or a convincing argument made to sustain the policy. The Philippines belong to United States, and the coasting laws and general tariff laws of the nation should be extended. But if, for the purpose of raising revenue for the expenses of local government, then there is reason in the house bill that is not in the senate amendment, or if there it is much obscured.

McLAURIN AND TILLMAN.

Last Saturday Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, in a speech on the Philippine tariff bill, stated that votes had been bought by the McKinley administration to secure the ratification of the Paris treaty with Spain. When, planned to specifications, he said that the federal patronage of his own state, South Carolina, had been given to McLaurin, in consideration for his vote in favor of the ratification of the treaty. McLaurin voted for the treaty. McLaurin was in a committee room when the charge was made, but, hearing of it, he came in, and in a commencing speech pronounced the statement a malicious, willful lie. Thereupon Tillman assaulted his colleague and struck him in the face. McLaurin struck back, but the men were separated. The senate immediately went into executive session, which, of course, was with closed doors to the public. On admitting reporters it was announced that the two senators had been adjudged to be in contempt. They apologized to the senate, but that did not remove the contempt. The matter was referred to the committee on privileges and elections, and until that committee reports and its report is adopted, the fighters are held to be in contempt and are not allowed to speak or vote. This is a most galling punishment to Tillman. Tillman is ranking minority member of the committee on naval affairs, and, as such, received an invitation to attend the White House banquet given by the president in honor of Prince Henry, of Germany. After the fight in the senate and the contempt proceedings, President Roosevelt withdrew the invitation and extended it to Senator Martin, of Virginia, lower down on the same committee. Tillman is again angry and suggests that in Germany the affront would require a challenge to a duel, and regrets that the custom is obsolete in America. In this whole matter there is cause for congratulation that both Tillman and McLaurin are Southern senators.

Later the prohibition from voting was withdrawn but the majority of the senate finds it has a condition difficult to handle. The democrats are inclined to make a party matter of the incident. However the governor of South Carolina makes no excuses for the rioters and lets it be known that if the senate expels them, which it has a right to do, he will quickly appoint successors who will be gentlemen at all times and under all conditions. It is probable however that some measure of discipline will be proposed in the support of which the senate can unanimously unite.

Prince Henry of Germany reached New York on Sunday morning last, 24 hours late, due to a violent storm that raged over the Atlantic on Saturday last. On Monday he went to Washington, where he was called on President Roosevelt. The call was returned. The Prince also visited congress. While in America he will come as far West as St. Louis. The German papers express great gratification at the cordial reception accorded to Henry in America.

The Last Heard of It. "My little boy took the croup one night and soon grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house," says F. D. Reynolds, Mansfield, O. "We feared he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cure quickly relieved him and he went to sleep. That's the best we heard of the croup. Now isn't a cough cure like that valuable?" One Minute Cure is absolutely safe and acts immediately. For coughs, croup, colds, bronchitis and all other throat and lung troubles it is a certain cure. Very pleasant to take. The little ones like it. Delta Drug Store.

Are you looking for a home? Do you wish to make an investment in a small or large farm, timber land or city property? Do you wish to loan your money? Do you wish to borrow some money? Do you wish to sell your property? Then come and list it with me; I make sales if any one can. F. M. Heidel, Hillsboro, Oregon.

PORTLAND TO SAN FRANCISCO.
In going over the famous "Shasta Route" of the Southern Pacific Co. the traveler ever finds something new to excite his admiration and interest. Starting at Portland, one traverses the whole length of the Willamette Valley, the gem of the Northwest. Mt. Hood, Mt. Jefferson, and the Three Sisters at other snow-capped peaks are kept in sight for hours. The beautiful valley of the Umpqua and Rogue rivers, with their orchards of prunes, peaches, apples and other fruits are a delight to the eye. The crossing of the great mountain barrier between California and Oregon reveals the grandest of the Sierran range in the United States. The wonderful turnings, twistings and doublings of the rail road bring into view a grand array of towering mountains and profound gorges into which we gaze from dizzy heights, forest clad mountain slopes stretching up to the line of perpetual snow, and the foaming mountain streams dashing fiercely down deep canyons, now and then stopping for a short rest in some quiet pool. After a days enjoyment of old Mt. Shasta, the finest peak on the continent, we drop rapidly down the canyon of the Sacramento to the broad plains of the Sacramento Valley in California, and thence through vineyards and orchards to San Francisco.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.
The largest sum ever paid for a prescription, changed hands in San Francisco, Aug. 30, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $11,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases. They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 5, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably. There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address: J. J.
