"We favor the associated policy of reciprocity so directed as to open our markets on favorable terms for what we do not ourselves produce in return for free foreign markets." This sentence from the last republican national platform does not coniesce with the paragraph in the proposed French reciprocity treaty that removes one fourth the duty now collected on the importation of kid gloves, Gloves are manufactured here, and foreign gloves compete with domestic. Further, kid gloves are a luxury and ought to pay an import duty for that reason.
