The Hillsboro pupils of Mrs. F. J. Raley, assisted by Frederic E. Vrooman, Mr. Will Fletcher and the male quartet of Pacific University, will give a song recital in the opera house on Wednesday evening, June 11. General admission 15c. Reserved seats 25c. Tickets on sale at H. Wehrung & Sons.

Mr. A. M. Rayl, of Sumas, Washington spent two days here this week visiting with his former Nebraska neighbor, S. S. Barnes. Mr. Rayl is a quartz miner, yet he has an eye for farm lands and was so well pleased at what he saw here that he may invest a part of his next clean up.

Harry Benson is laid up by a serious wound in his right thigh, placed there accidentally by himself about a week ago. He always keeps a sharp knife, and on this occasion went to close the blade by pressing it on his hip, and it happened that the knife was turned the wrong way in his hand and inflicted a terrible gash.—More Observer.

Adolph A. Dekum, trustee of the estate of Frank Dekum, deceased, has sold to S. B. Huston, of Hillsboro, through Rountree & Diamond, the quarter block on the northwest corner of First and Washington streets. This property is improved with a three-story and basement brick building, and is now occupied by William Gadsby, who has a lease on the building which has several years yet to run. The price paid for the property was $70,000.—Oregonian May 25

Next Sunday being Children's Day throughout the land, the Congregational church and Sunday School will join in a special service at 11 o'clock. A special program of music by choir and school, responsive reading, recitations, address by the pastor and Sunday School missionary offering will be rendered under the superintendence of B. W. Barnes. At night there will be special music by the male quartet and instrumental music by Mr. A. C. Shute and a chemical sermon by H. A. Boser, illustrated with chemicals. The new programs are working fine.

The Portland-Forest Grove electric motor railway company are taking steps to secure a right-of-way for the track from the county line beyond Cedar Mills westward to Forest Grove. The matter was informally brought before the county court and returned so as to come up in the form of a petition. The Hillsboro Board of Trade has the matter in hand and will no doubt attend to securing the signature of property owners along the line. The company will ask for a franchise along the highway from where the Barnes road crosses the county line thence westward to Forest Grove. The county court is friendly to the proposition but will confine the track to the same side of the road and stipulate that the company shall do other things for the public good. The company will bind itself to build the road in two years.

The ladies of the Congregational church missionary society held their annual meeting on Wednesday last. On the occasions they serve supper and invite husbands and sons. Last Wednesday Will Pittenger found a dead mule on the street who was dilapidated and looked hungry. Will is nothing, if he is not sympathetic where he took his tramp to supper. Some of the ladies asked how he came to "bring him." "Well, I thought this was a missionary rally and a good place and time to take up missionary work." The ladies thought so too, and liberally fed the man. As he finished a repast the equal of which he had not partaken of for years, Sheriff Snow came up looking for the stranger, his antecedents, residence and the like. It appears that he came from Utah, is a shoemaker and a tailor, and he hopes this far only to be stranded. Mr. Pittenger chided the man and was allowed to have him. He got him a job in the onion field where he is now at work.

The splendid discipline of the New York National Guard was shown in a fearful crash of a reviewing platform that was loaded with people viewing the Rochambeau parade that marched through the streets of New York last week. The stand was built over an excavation ten or fifteen feet deep and gave away in the center. The populace was pitched into the vortex like wheat in a hopper. A regiment of the Guard happened to be in the street opposite the stand when it fell. The colonel ordered ranks to be broken. The men who had been drilled with its regimental ambulance corps commenced their rescue work. The injured were taken out of the wreck, and the emergency dressings carried by each soldier were used to stop the flow of blood. The hospital ambulances responded promptly but the soldier boys had a long haul with the rescue work. It is well worth all that it costs to have a thousand such men at hand in such an emergency.

Washington county boys have not been without friends where they now live. Mr. W. C. Elliott has been elected on the republican ticket in Multnomah county to be city engineer. He is Mrs. W. C. Redmond's brother and a most reliable engineer. T. T. Vincent well known here as a former school superintendent, was elected on the republican ticket in Benton county as recorder of conveyances, and Virgil Waters of the same county was elected county judge on the democratic ticket. Mr. Waters when he comes to Hillsboro visits with his brother-in-law, W. V. Wiley.

Dr. James Withycombe, director of the United States Agricultural experiment station at Corvallis, has written Industrial Agent Judson of the O. R. & N., a cordial endorsement of his efforts to get more pure bred cattle in the Pacific Northwest. "I was pleased," wrote Dr. Withycombe, "to note the successful sale of Shorthorns at Colfax; and also that the remainder of the Herefords were disposed of there at satisfactory prices. The farmers and stockmen will appreciate the good work you have done for them more forcibly three or four years hence than they do at the present time."

A native born Philippino named Jose Moreno le Calle, was examined last week in Salem by our Supreme Court as to his fitness to practice as an attorney in the courts in Oregon. The young man is a graduate of Manila College and the leading Spanish College in Madrid. He has read Spanish law, but since American occupation of Manila he saw the necessity of an acquaintance with American law. The rudiments he now has, so that he will soon return to Manila and enter actively into the practice of his profession.

A woman in Walla Walla, Washington, has property adjoining the base ball park. All balls that dropped on her premises were confiscated, she refusing to allow the boys hired for that purpose to recover them. She menaced with a revolver to prevent the small boy from recovering the ball. The ball management had the woman arrested and taken before a magistrate who fined her $10 and ordered her to allow the recovery of the balls in the future.

Mrs. Sarah A. Sloan, of Forest Grove, died suddenly Wednesday last at the age of 73 years 9 months and 21 days. The deceased has been a resident of Forest Grove for almost a half century. For the greater part of that time she kept a house of entertainment where many a weary traveler found rest and refreshment.

Wheat ships will carry cargo for less money than last year. This time last year 40 shillings was asked. The latest charter in Portland for December sailing was for 27. Peace in South Africa will allow many ships to go into the general freight market wherefore competition will do its work.

A contractor of this county has commenced cutting piling near Wapato Station above Gaston which are to be used in the long trestle of that new road which is building across a part of Great Salt Lake in Utah. The trestle is long and must not vary more than two feet in length.

There is much enquiry for timber lands in the coast range that passes through Clatsop Tillamook and Washington counties. There will be no building of railroads into that country this year, but something may be expected next season. The Washington county Sunday School Association was in session yesterday at the Twainin Plains Presbyterian church. The attendance was large, and the session a profitable one. The association meets next year at West Union.
