Easiest of access among all the Canons of Colorado, being situated on the main line of the Denver & Rio Grande between Canon City and Salida in the front range of the Rockies, is the most spectacular, awe-inspiring and magnificent. Down this mighty cleft in the heart of the granite rock-barrier rush the raving waters of the Arkansas River, lashed into foaming fury and dashed into stinging spray by its swift descent through the tortuous defile. So narrow is this passage at one point that there was no room for both the road and river, and therefore a curiously constructed bridge of steel had to be thrown lengthwise of the stream, suspended from iron supports mortised into the canon walls on each side to the right and left. And right here can be seen the climax of all the canon's grandeur, that which has been aptly called "The Royal Gorge." For two thousand six hundred feet the solid monoliths soar upward—five times as lofty as the Washington Monument, the highest permanent structure reared by the hand of man. No words can adequately describe the magnificence of the scene. Only those who have beheld its glories can appreciate them.

This is but one of the many wonders of nature revealed to the traveler on the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, "The Scenic Line of the World."

For detailed information about this most delightful trip to the East, Address J. D. Mansfield,

Gen'l Agt, Rio Grande System, Portland, Oregon.

GOLD IN A TOWN LOT

EXCAVATORS AT WILLOWS FIND RICH DIRT.

Twelve Hundred Dollars a Ton Said to be the Value of Sand Underlying a Building on the Main Street of the Town of Willows.

Willows, Aug. 26.—Yesterday morning an important strike was made in the heart of the city. For several days past workmen have been at work excavating for a two-story brick building for the Legg & Shaw company on lower Main street.

On Sunday water seeped through the ground, forming several small pools where the foundations will stand. One of the workmen was washing a shovel in a pool when, to his surprise, he observed particles of gold clinging to the shovel. One of the owners was informed of the discovery whereupon he procured a miner's pan, filled it with dirt, and obtained 60 cents worth of the yellow metal. Several other pans were washed from different spots with equally good returns.

At this rate it is estimated that the dirt which has been hauled away as valueless will bring $1200 a ton. Fully 100 tons is available, and if the ground holds good it should pan out $12,000, while the whole cost of working it will not exceed $1000.

FOUND IN THE YUKON.

Alaska Stream Gives Up Bodies of Two Murdered Men.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 26.—A special from Dawson, dated yesterday, says: Peter Fournier was arrested here charged with the murder of Leon Bouthillette and Joseph Beaudern. The police are looking for Fournier's partner, Labelle, and will almost surely catch him within a few days. The accused men left White Horse, in company with the two who were murdered, in a small boat last June. The bodies of Bouthillette and Beaudern were found in the Yukon river and identified. Bouthillette's body was perforated by three bullets. The top of Beaudern's head was gone and a rope was attached to his left wrist and ankle.

Fournier and Labelle were boosters of Dawson gambling games. They left for White Horse, but started back together with the dead men. They bought a boat from a White Horse boatbuilder who identifies Fournier, and was with the detective when the arrest was made. Four hundred dollars in Quebec bank notes was found on the prisoner. Bouthillette had $1100 in similar notes. All the parties are French Canadians.

A NEW RAILROAD.

Line Will be Built from Bakersfield to the Coast.

Bakersfield, Cal., Aug. 26.—At a meeting of producers held at the office of the Diamond Oil company at Sunset yesterday it was determined to accept the offer made by the promoters of the new line of railroad proposed to be built from that district to the seaboard. The railroad people ask for a guarantee of a daily shipment of 5000 barrels. Over 3000 barrels were signed for the Sunset and Midway, and it was the opinion that the balance would be made up in a short time.

There is to be a meeting of the board of trade this week to consider the matter from Bakersfield's standpoint. A meeting of citizens doubtless will be called at an early date, as it is regarded as a fine opportunity to get an outlet to the coast on most favorable terms.

Sues the Pope for a Church Site.

New York, Aug. 26.—Pope Leo XIII and John Doe have been co-defendants in an action brought against the Catholic church by Monroe Frank, and a stipend has been filed in the proceedings with the county clerk against the property occupied by St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Drowned in Sight of Friends.

New York, Aug. 26.—Henry R. Miller of this city, assistant secretary of the North American company, was drowned while bathing at Atlantic Highlands, N. J. An attack of heart failure while Miller was near shore caused his death in plain view of a score of his friends.

Reoccupies Carupano.

Willemstad, Island of Curacao, Aug. 26.—Details of the reoccupation of the port of Carupano, state of Bermudez, Venezuela, by the Venezuelan government forces, received here, show that General Velutina, with 6000 men from the island of Margarita, reoccupied the port on Friday last without encountering any opposition from the Venezuelan insurgents.

Plenty of Harvest Hands.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 26.—A Winnipeg (Minn.) special to the Dispatch says: Eight thousand harvesters have arrived here since Saturday. Of the number about 200 have gone to North Dakota and it is said the alien labor law machinery may be set in motion.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS AT LYNN.

His New England Trip a Series of Splendid Overtures.

Lynn, Mass., Aug. 26.—Thousands came to Lynn yesterday from all the surrounding country to welcome President Roosevelt. From the city hall an elaborate display of bunting and flags showed well and in front a stand, tastefully trimmed, was in place, from which the president spoke.

William A. Wiley, president of the common council, met the president and his party as they came from Nahant at the boundary line of Lynn. Fully 150,000 people lined the way and the cheers resounded continually.

The cheering broke fresh as the president mounted the speakers' stand. His address was brief and at its conclusion he was escorted to the railroad station to take the train for Boston.

At Senator Lodge's Home.

Nahant, Mass., Aug. 26.—President Roosevelt enjoyed an undisturbed night of rest at the residence of Senator Lodge and in the morning he arose as fresh as when his New England trip began.

COLOMBIAN REINFORCEMENTS.

Colon Garrison Will be Strengthened Without Delay.

Colon, Columbia, Aug. 26.—The first batch of isthmian reinforcements, numbering 600 men, which arrived here Sunday from Savannah on board the British steamer Bernard Hall, consisted of three battalions of Santander troops under the command of General Rafael Rodriguez. General Gonzalez Valencia, commander-in-chief of the army of the interior, is expected to arrive at the isthmus with the next reinforcements. The reinforcements of Sunday camped on Monkey Hill, a nude distant from Colon. They are destined to strengthen the garrison of Colon.

The British cruiser Phaeton arrived at Panama Saturday from Buena Ventura, where she went to protect British interests as the result of the Colombian government's action in attempting to compel the British steamer Ecuador, belonging to the Pacific Navigation company of Liverpool, to carry Colombian troops to Panama.

The Colombian gunboat General Pizon has arrived at Colon with a few troops and some cattle.

New Yorker Leaves Battle Abbey.

New York, Aug. 26.—Battle Abbey, the historic pile which marks the spot where Harold V. surrounded by his Saxons, fell in the battle with William the Conqueror at the battle of Hastings, has been leased for a term of years to Michael P. Grace, brother of former Mayor William R. Grace. Grace will use the abbey as a winter residence. For a long time Grace has leased Lord Howe's estate in Hertfordshire for his winter home.

Battle Abbey, which belonged to the late Duchess of Cleveland, widow of the fourth and last Duke of Cleveland and mother of Lord Rosebery, was sold at auction last autumn to Sir Augustus Frederick Walpole Webster, a descendant of Sir Thomas Webster, who bought the abbey from the sixth Viscount Montague in 1718, and in whose family the abbey remained for 130 years. The purchase price was the equivalent of $1,000,000.

King and Queen are Sailing.

London, Aug. 26.—The king and queen are slowly sailing north in the royal yacht, and are expected to land at Aberdeen at the end of the week. Thence they will proceed by special train to Balmoral for Balmoral. The duration of their stay in Scotland is yet undecided. Much will depend on the nature of the weather. In all probability they will go for another yachting trip next month from Aberdeen to Copenhagen, to pay a visit to the king of Denmark and to meet the emperor of Russia.

South Dakota Bank Robbed.

Aberdeen, S. D., Aug. 26.—The First National bank was robbed of $2800 in silver Sunday night. The robbers entered the basement, thence going upstairs. They cut a hole in the vault through the side steel. The chest was not opened, the silver being stored in sacks in the vault outside of the safe. There is no clew.

TELEGRAPH NEWS BRIEFS.

A Gun known as Captain Haynes committed suicide in the woods near South Portland, Or., by hanging.

The Ohio legislature convened at 3 o'clock Monday in extraordinary session to enact laws to provide for the government of municipalities.

James Pendleton, Mayor of Gentry, Mo., has confessed that he circulated the story of his death and burial at Orlando, O. T., to escape a charge of bigamy.

Judge Nelson of Whatcom, Wash., has sentenced H. St. John Dix, convicted of wrecking the Sandinavian-American bank, to ten years in the penitentiary.

The Boer generals have notified the employees of the Transvaal legation at Brussels that their services will no longer be required, as the legation is to be abolished.

Judge Brentano, Chicago, has refused to permit the body supposed to be that of Minnie Mitchell of the Bartholomew murder mystery, to be exhumed.

Replying to a correspondent who asks Field Marshal Lord Wolseley if the report was correct that he had described the American army as the "best in the world," the field marshal writes that he believes the quotation accurately describes the army.

OIL OUTPUT GROWING.

Naval experiments with the use of liquid fuel and the probability that it may be adopted for commercial and naval purposes on the smaller classes of ships will probably lead to an investigation of the output of oil, with the view of determining whether it is sufficient to meet the demands that may be made upon it.

When liquid oil was first investigated a few years ago for fuel purposes it was estimated that the locomotives of the Pennsylvania railroad would consume more oil than the total output of the United States at that time. Since then, however, there have been discoveries of oil fields which have enormously increased the supply available for all purposes.

The government report on the subject shows that the total output of petroleum for the whole world in 1900 was 155,000,000 barrels. The production in this country for the same year was 63,000,000 barrels, but in 1901, as the result of the exploitation of the Texas oil fields, the output increased to 720,000,000 barrels, or more than five times the total output of the world for the previous year. There seems to have been an enormous increase also in the world's output.

There are now at least 200 wells in Texas alone, which up to a recent date have developed a capacity of from 50,000 to 100,000 barrels a day. It is estimated that about 2,000,000, 000 gallons a year come from the Texas oil fields alone. The Texas "gushers" are reported to be subsiding and the oil ultimately must be drawn out by pumping. Allowing for this, it is evident to the naval experts who have looked into the subject that the wells of Texas, California, Borneo and Burmah, the four new fields, will yield enough oil to render possible the general use of liquid fuel in the steamships of the world.

The navy department is awaiting the report of Lieut. Ward Winchell, who accompanied the steamer Mariposa, which has been fitted recently with appliances for burning oil fuel, on her trip from San Francisco to the Society Islands at return.

Lieut. Winchell was instructed to obtain all possible information concerning the installation and operation of the oil burning devices aboard the Mariposa. He will report in detail upon every feature. Data relating to the size and character of the atomizing agents for spraying the oil are particularly desired by the navy department, as well as the effect of the flame upon boiler castings, etc. Lieut. Winchell will report also upon the temperature of the fire-room, the number of men employed and character of work exacted, etc. It is expected that his report will be of great value not only to the navy but to the merchant shipping interests, which are constantly requesting the department for information relative to the results of the department's experiments. The unofficial reports from San Francisco since the return of the Mariposa have been gratifying, and the department officials anticipate a very favorable report from Lieut. Winchell.

RUMOR ALARMS CANADA.

A portion of the Canadian press is considerably disquieted over the rumor that the United States is likely to acquire the territory of Greenland by purchase from Denmark. This is regarded as a menace to the national integrity of the dominion, and accordingly an effort is being put forth to stir up the public mind upon the subject with a view of having Greenland some day in the near future made Canadian territory by purchase.

It is argued that because Greenland is a comparatively unprofitable and useless country for the United States or any other country to possess, it is no reason why Canada should fear its becoming incorporated into the American union. It is pointed out in this connection that Alaska at one time stood upon about the same footing, but its acquisition is regarded as a standing menace to British interests and an important step toward the ultimate absorption of British North America by the United States. In a similar sense, it is claimed, might the argument apply to the purchase of Greenland by the United States, the moral effect of the possession of that territory would be very valuable to a possible American policy looking to the annexation of Canada and would work incalculable mischief to the loyalty of the coming generation of Canadians.

Speaking editorially upon this subject, one of the leading papers of Montreal, supporting the present dominion administration, says: "To show our school children Canada on the map, with a claw of the United States in each of its ears, would be an object lesson little calculated to develop national sentiment. We presume that Greenland is emancipated by its insularity from the Monroe doctrine, and it seems time that we saw to it that it should fall into no other hands than those of Great Britain. It does not look like a very valuable possession; neither did Alaska, when it was bought; but it might easily become so. At all events, its possession by Canada, should it ever become a part of our federation, would have an expanding influence on our national mind. It would give us a sense of empire and would double our segment of the north pole."

How boys settle disputes—Three or four boys at the beach last week disputed, touching some physical facts. One, when asked a boy tallest? It was finally settled that a healthy boy is longest in the morning soon after he is out of bed. When is he heaviest? One thought it would be just after dinner. "Now, dinner won't make no difference." The dispute grew in volume, till it was proposed that it be settled by experiment. A boy was selected and carefully weighed. Dinner was just ready and he went to the table, ate, came out and stepped on the scales. He had in the brief time gained three pounds. The boys were satisfied. The father of the boy told the story and added that he realized the fact, since he had been paying the bills for the two weeks they had been in camp.

SOME REPUBLICAN PLATFORMS.

The Minnesota republican state convention has just been held. The platform has this utterance on the trust problem that is just now plaguing the nation:

"Whereas, the trust system has been and is a menace to our republican institutions; and

"Whereas, if allowed to continue to form combinations in restraint of trade and the elimination of competition, the wealth of the entire country will be concentrated in the hands of a few; and

"Whereas, the said combinations are calculated to destroy the ambition of the youth of the country, it being well understood that the ambition and hope of the young men of this country have made it great, therefore be it

"Resolved, by this congress, that the President of the United States be urged to use all power vested in his office to the end that the growing power and influence of the trusts may be destroyed, and be it further

"Resolved, that if, in the wisdom of the National Congress, the laws now on the statute books are insufficient to suppress this growing evil, that other more stringent and efficient laws be speedily enacted."

On the same subject the Idaho republican convention mailed this plank in its platform:

"Resolved, That the formation of over-capitalized corporations, commonly called trusts, for the purpose of concentrating all of the industries and products of the country in the hands of a few men, stifling competition and enabling them to dictate the wages of labor and the prices of commodities to both the producer and the consumer in the interest of their own aggrandizement, is a great and growing evil, the plain remedy for which should be laws regulating the capitalization of corporations within reasonable and moderate limits. We recognize the fact that under the constitution of the United States, as it now stands, no adequate restrictions can be put upon the organization of such corporations; therefore, we favor such amendment to the constitution as will enable congress to effectually regulate and suppress all trusts and injurious combinations of aggregated capital."

NEWS OF THE STATE.

The Portland fire insurance trust has entered a campaign to compel the installing of a fireboat on the Willamette.

According to the report of Assessor Lawrence, which has just been completed, the Coos county valuation amounts to $3,135,363, with an exemption of $276,009.

The Coos Bay railroad people are not satisfied with the steamer service from Portland. To improve it they propose to install another line that shall make a trip every five days. This service will require two boats.

After a year's liberty Samuel Zaecher, who escaped from the reform school, was captured at Albany last week by policeman McClain. After escaping from the school he made his way to California, where he has been until recently.

Near Huntington, in Malheur county, a ledge of gold-bearing ore has been discovered that assays as high as $2000 per ton. The ledge averages about eight feet in width and croppings have been traced on both sides of the mountain on which the mine is located.

A recluse aged 75 years named C. Polson was found dead in his cabin near Falls City, Polk county. The old man was from Sweden and had lived in Polk county 20 years. He had been dead about ten days when found. The body was in an advanced stage of decomposition.

A young husband of Portland, returned to his home from his daily labor and found his pretty wife gone and the hearth stone cold. He had formerly been a detective and at this time of need used his skill in his own behalf. After several hours he located his wife who was held a prisoner by her woman "friend." The wife was liberated and allowed to go home.

A contract has been let at Baker City for 1,000,000 feet of lumber by the Oregon Electric Power Company. This lumber is to be used in constructing a flume and power plant on Eagle Creek. Mr. Langrell will put up a new mill near the point where the lumber is to be used and cut it from timber growing in that vicinity. The contract calls for the furnishing of all the lumber on or before January, 1903.

The state law officers and foreign ship masters are at cross purposes in Portland. The captains complain of the officers doing nothing to prevent "crimping." Crimping, as a crime, is enticing sailors away from ships when they are under contract to continue the voyage to the home port. The district attorney replies that he is not able to convict men of crimes without evidence, and the captains who complain will not stay in port till the actions are reached on the court calendar.

At Netarts, August 21, a serious accident happened to a party of campers. John Sheet, a farmer of South Prairie, was driving down from the lighthouse with his wife, son and daughter in a wagon, near the Maxwell place, when the brake flew off, the team became frightened and ran away, and before he could put on the brake again the wagon struck a rock and threw the occupants out. Mrs. Sheet struck on her temple, rendering her unconscious, and it is doubtful whether she will recover. Sheet was badly bruised and his son was badly injured in the hip.

Wednesday evening, August 20, the house and barn and contents on the old Patterson place nine miles west of McMinnville, were destroyed by fire, evidently the work of an incendiary. This is the third fire in that vicinity in the last ten days, and the people are becoming excited, and would be justified in using harsh measures if the person could be found who commits these deeds. For the past seven years this neighborhood has suffered from time to time in various ways. An arrest was made just after one of the earlier fires, but the suspected party could not be connected with the crime. Some days ago a schoolhouse was broken into and the organ destroyed. This was the third instrument that has been broken up in the house. Livestock has also been mutilated—horns of cattle knocked off and manes and tails shaved of hair. The patience of the neighborhood is fast wearing away.
