Born in Hillsboro, October 10 to Elmo Kellogg and wife, a son.

Go to Hoidel's Confectionery Store for fine home made candies and fruits and nuts.

Dr. McGee, osteopath, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, at Tuslatin Hotel.

It is not raining today, but next week, when the skies weep, go to Dennis' and get an umbrella from his new stock.

Mr. C. K. Henry has this week built a handsome waiting room at the Fifth Street R. R. station. It is all complete except painting.

Do not run risks of wet feet when by going to John Dennis for your shoes and rubbers you can keep dry and free of colds.

The Oregon Condensed Milk Co. will at once install a tin can factory plant. The machinery has been purchased and will arrive with the condensing plant.

The path of the Typographical Union, over which such fuss is being made at the present time, is not as bad as the oath of the foreman when a galley of type is "piled."—Astoria News.

When men want good work gloves they go to Hoyt; if it's a neat dressed or undressed kid they go to Hoyt. If they want shirts of any description, be it a dress shirt or a flannel, still they go to Hoyt.

Mr. John B. Dolsman, who some months ago bought the Ben Anderson farm, down on the Tuslatin, is seriously ill. He has been in a Portland hospital, but a few days ago he returned to the farm. His friends are uneasy, but hope for a favorable turn.

Longer nights demand more lamp light, and perhaps the lamps are not what they were once. That suggests new ones. The Messenger Trading Company has its fall stock. It is a choice selection and a large variety. See them.

Mr. J. T. Turner, a prominent citizen of Hoxie Kansas, is visiting with his old neighbor our County Treasurer Jackson. Mr. Turner was run over by a bicycle rider at Forest Grove this week. One of his hands was badly crushed, and some cuts about the head make sore places.

Mrs. Allison, who for several months has been a semi-invalid, had a severe shock to her nerves last Wednesday, when workmen were making repairs at her residence. She did not rally well during the rest of a night, but was rather worse yesterday, so that now her family are concerned for the outcome.

Mr. Sam Markee, at work near Buxton this week, hurt himself quite seriously, and is now at Hillsboro in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Hays. Mr. Markee started to drive a wagon into a barn through the doors, which he thought high enough to let him through by stooping a little. But they were not, for his stooping body, when under the top of the door, was pitched fast on the seat, so that the wagon had to be backed out before he could be released.

Mr. F. T. Kane and Mr. Hubbert, who has reached manhood at Dilley have associated themselves together in a partnership to be known as Kane & Hubbert. The new firm will engage in logging on the hill sides of West Dairy creek and will float the logs to the new mill that is building at the Bellinger bridge across Dairy Creek on the road connecting Forest Grove with Greenville. The logs are to be stored in the Vandanden lake a wet weather sheet of water 20 acres in extent. The firm has bought the stumpage on the Killin tract but not the land as has been stated by several. The drifts on Dairy creek above Bellinger Bridge have been cut loose, and will float down and steer into this lakelet through a large ditch which has already been cut, where it can remain till next summer when fire will do the rest.

The diggers at the Milk Condenser's well have completed the excavations and find they have made a hole sixteen feet deep. It has been walled with brick. The stopping place is a clay foundation, the water runs in fast, and two steam jets were required to keep out the water so that the laborers could work. In twelve hours 175,000 gallons of water ran in; half of this collected in four hours. When the well is nearly full the water comes slower. The big foundation of the house where the machinery is to be installed has been laid, and the frame will be raising next week. The house is 56 by 110 feet in size. In addition is the boiler house, wood house or coal bunkers, and the tank house. Comparing the capacity of the Oregon Company with that of the Pacific Coast, at Forest Grove, the one here is greater, though the Pacific Coast Company has a place for another evaporating pan that may be installed later on.

Book lovers and literary folk in Portland have had a rare treat this week in the illustrated lectures by Mr. Preston A. Perry, of New York, who has a wide acquaintance among authors of our country. His collection of books was on exhibition for several days at Hotel Portland, and is notable for handsome bindings and old editions. The collection, with his lantern slides, he carries in ten trunks, and is valued at over $50,000 and insured for $35,000. Two handsomely bound volumes, insid with leather and gold leaf, each about six by four inches, which is a trifle smaller than the common school fourth reader, represent a cost of $1250 for bindings alone. Some of the most artistic bindings are the work of woman. A copy of the first edition of Moore's "Utopia" cost Mr Perry $750. The books are of all ages and all sizes. On two evenings the lectures gave personal reminiscences of American authors and their homes and haunts, illustrated by many original photographs.

A farmer drove into town this week with a load of produce from his farm. The load was in bales, weighed probably 2800 to 3000 pounds, and was drawn by three small horses weighing hardly 1200 pounds each. One of a cluster of men suggested guessing the value of that single load. "Oh, perhaps thirty or thirty-five dollars," said one. "Well, yes," was replied, "but in reality that load is worth between $600 and $800." "Whew! how many loads of that stuff has he at home?" "Perhaps five and perhaps twenty. There is no limit to it except acreage. The bales contain hops, and the farmer has many rich acres that have not yet been planted. Do you know of a quartz mine more valuable?"

The Bankers' Association of the United States has issued a form of money order that is to come in direct competition with the express companies and with the post office money orders. The new bank order are as safe as the older orders, and much more convenient, besides being cheaper. Bank orders for amounts of one dollar and under are issued for a cent, and sums of from one to five dollars will cost no more than two cents. These orders, while drawn on the great money centers, are payable at any bank, or by business men at any town or village. They are issued in any sum from five cents to fifty dollars. Shute's bank is now selling these orders.

The latter part of last week an altercation occurred in the orchard on the place occupied by Thos. Erick, between Schumacher and Theodore Salzeberger in which the latter slapped his antagonist, for this he was arrested on the charge of assault and battery. The trial was in Judge Bagley's Court who found the defendant guilty and imposed a fine of $25. From this judgment the defendant appeals to the Circuit Court. There is not a great difference between the parties in the matter of testimony. The real contention is in the interpretation of the law, and this Judge McBride will be asked to construe.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Women's Society, at Bethany, this county, all friends of Mrs. Heckman, observed her birthday, October 12, by calling in a body. It was a surprise party. Those present were: Rev. W. C. Laube and family, Mrs. M. E. Hamel, Mrs. J. J. Kuratli, Mrs. C. Schindler, Mrs. H. Hamel, Mrs. F. Dysle, Mrs. Chas. Renner, Mrs. P. Moritz, Mrs. Hoffman, Miss Marie Hamel, Miss Ruth Arms and Mr. C. Arms. A number of presents was given to Mrs. Heckmann, and a joyful afternoon spent by all.

Mrs. Fred Emerson, who lives on Second street, between Washington and Main, was called to the telephone on Monday last to be informed that Mrs. Nellie Emerson, living at Houlton, Columbia county, was dangerously ill. Before train time, when our Mrs. Emerson was to start to her sister, she was again called and informed that the sick woman had died. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson, only a few months ago, were residents of Hillsboro, living on Lincoln street, between First and Meridian streets.

On Monday last, the body of Harley, the nine-year-old son of Isaac Ennis, well known here, was found floating in the river at Portland. It was supposed that the lad had been playing on the river bank, and had accidentally fallen into the water. The remains were buried on Wednesday last in Odd Fellows cemetery, Hillsboro.

Charles Hoehn, a lad aged 17 years, has been arrested on the charge of being one of the highwaymen who held up the O. R. & N. train about two weeks ago. The boy declares he was forced to take part in the proposed robbery. He charges that one E. A. Miner is the real leader of the gang.

Undoubtedly Hoyt has the best and largest stock of laces, appliques and dress trimmings in town. Something new just arrived in Medallions. Also late Clanny laces.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Teachers' Annual Institute.

To the Teachers of Washington County, Greeting:

The Teachers Annual Institute for the year 1903 will be held at the Court House at Hillsboro, beginning at nine o'clock a. m. on Wednesday, October 28th, and continuing three days. An able corps of instructors has been secured, and it is expected that this institute will compare favorably with any heretofore held in the county.

Every public school teacher in the county, unless excused, is required by law to attend this institute for a period of at least 16 hours. No excuse will be accepted, except sickness or attendance for the required time, since June 15th, at some other county institute, or the state teachers' association. Such attendance must be evidenced by a certificate filed in this office. Boards of directors are required to allow their teachers three days time for attending the institute, during which time their pay as teachers continues. It is unlawful to open any school during the time the institute is being held.

Programs will be printed and mailed to teachers in a few days. You are requested to bring your copy with you and also bring your Course of Study.

Hoping to see every teacher in the county present at the opening of the institute, I remain

Yours very sincerely,
H. A. BALL,
Superintendent.
Hillsboro, Oregon, Oct. 14, 1903.

There will be the usual services next Sunday at the Congregational Church, Sunday School at 10 o'clock in the morning followed by preaching services at 11 a. m. The evening preaching services will be at 7:30. This is a half hour earlier than has been followed during the summer, and will be from now on, the regular evening hour of service, preceded by the Christian Endeavor meeting. All are invited to these services. Edward Curran, pastor.

On Tuesday night, J. Peterson, living south of Reed's bridge, fell on the sidewalk in South Hillsboro, and fractured the right leg two inches above the ankle joint. Dr. F. J. Bailey attended the man and set the fracture.

Dr. McGee, osteopath, at Tuslatin Hotel, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Just received—A fine assortment of fresh candles at Hoidel's Confectionery Store.

Preaching services at the Christian Church on next Sunday, at usual hours, by Elder Green.

When in want of anything in the furniture line step in at Danelson's Store and get prices. Always a fresh stock of goods. Prices are right.

A man who had been in the Commissary Department in the Philippines in 1899 and 1901 in a conversation in Portland last Saturday stated that he had suggested to his chief that Ed. Haines, of Washington county, could furnish good hay for long forage in the Islands. The tip was profitable, and a contract let for furnishing a few hundred tons. "Afterward I feel some of that same hay; it was the best the Department had to issue. In fact, Washington county hay became the standard by which all other hay was judged." Such reports of our products arouse vanity, yet we know that not all of our best hay went across the Pacific, and perhaps none of it, though good was shipped.

Mr. Barnes, of Beaverton, when not selling pianos and organs or writing music, amuses himself in a little work shop just by the side of his residence. The latest product of his latest hours is a combination lawn chair. At one time it may be a stool, then opens out, rests, and a luxurious couch is ready to receive the wearied form of the lounge, or if accident overtakes a member of the family, there is a stretcher at hand on which the unfortunate may be taken to the hospital. For rest, sleep, study or hospital use there is no single article that can take its place. A large furniture house in Portland, a branch of one of the big concerns in the nation, wants Mr. Barnes to commence manufacturing at once, agreeing to take the whole product. And why cannot a factory be started here in Hillsboro? There are so many short bits of hardwood that could go in to the chair that is now burned, that the cost of material is almost a bagatelle. Mill men would be glad to sell such material at a price far below the usual furniture grades of lumber. Can't we have the factory and the pay roll that goes with it?

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. INAUGURATION DAY AT FOREST GROVE.

The popular idea of a school is that only young people are meant when school is mentioned, but the public conception of that necessary institution was rudely jarred last Wednesday morning, when visitors and audience saw the procession of scholars of Tuslatin Academy and Pacific University march into the auditorium of Marsh Hall. The occasion was the inauguration of W. N. Ferrin as the fifth president of that college, the other four having been Dr. S. H. Marsh, John R. Herrick, J. F. Ellis and Thos. McClellan, holding office in the order named.

A simple procession of students, alumni and trustees formed at Herrick Hall and marched to the auditorium of Marsh Hall, where the literary exercises were held. The procession

COLLEGE BUILDINGS, FOREST GROVE, OREGON.

The two illustrations that appear in this issue, the above as well as the one on the first page, were made fifteen or more years ago, and are used because they bring to memory the conditions and appearances of the long ago. The above picture is a wood cut, made soon after Herrick Hall was finished, and was taken from a station on the southeast part of the campus. The one is an older engraving and is a representation of what the beholder saw when he stood east of the buildings. Note the size of the oaks. They were grubs then, but trees now. Marsh Hall of today stands where the flagged building appears in the cut. The church, seen further to the rear, is the Congregational house of worship that was burned about three years ago.

NORDICA WILL BE IN PORTLAND OCTOBER 21.

Engage seats for Nordica. Box office opens Wednesday, October 21, for the great singer and the famous New York orchestra.

Wednesday the sale of seats will be open at the Marquam for Nordica and the well known Metropolitan Opera House, of New York. This will be by far the most important musical event that has ever occurred in the history of Oregon.

This opportunity to hear the great singer in her prime, when her powers are at their best, should not be missed by those who aim to keep abreast of the times in the noble art of music.

Sunday's Oregonian will have a full account of prices, etc., and any out-of-town orders will receive prompt attention. They must, however, be accompanied by check, as it will be impossible to hold seats when there will be such a demand.

Address all communications to Lois Steers, 769 Hoyt street, Portland, Oregon.

There will be an excursion rate from Hillsboro of 85 cents round trip.

Mr. S. J. Lemmon a skilled operative in fruit canning is in Hillsboro today with a proposition looking to the installing a fruit and vegetable cannery here. He considers this a good location for such an enterprise. He is desirous to get to work immediately so that he will be ready for the first fruit next June.

The Farmers and Merchants bank at Forest Grove, which was incorporated a short time since with a capital stock of $25000, R. M. Dooley, John W. Shute and T. H. Adams incorporators, held their first stockholders meeting last Wednesday.

The directors chosen are R. M. Dooley, J. W. Shute, Frank E. Dooley, Mrs. M. E. Dooley and T. H. Adams. The officers are R. M. Dooley, Pres. acting cashier, T. H. Adams Vice Pres. and Frank E. Dooley Secretary. The bank building is at the west end of Woods & Adams street. Mechanics are building a brick front to Woods & Adams wooden building and another gang of men are putting down the concrete for the vault.

The safe to be installed is a duplicate of the one Wells Fargo & Co. bank is using in Portland. It is planned to be open for business November 1st, though the opening day may be delayed by the tardy arrival of the time lock for the safe.

Mrs. E. B. Sappington, who has been an invalid for the past two or three years died at the family residence early Saturday morning last. During the last months of her illness her sufferings were acute and those that accompany tuberculosis. The funeral was held at Christian church, on Monday forenoon, under the direction of the Rathbone Sisters, after which the remains were taken to the Forest Grove cemetery for burial.

was composed of undergraduate men who had been scholars there almost fifty years ago, and the alumni of the institution. The oldest man who had attended school there was Hon. H. W. Scott, who graduated at the head of the 1863 class. The oldest scholar was D. M. C. Gault, who was there in 1855. It was these old fellows who caused a revision of the idea of who composes a school, and brings to mind the stability and dignity of an institution which only age can confer.

Pres. Marsh was inaugurated in May, 1854, almost fifty years ago. The exercises were held in Tuslatin store, then a new building standing on the corner now occupied by Vert's Hall. The Marsh inauguration exercises were held in the Tuslatin (department) store before Isaac Myers began to keep it. Of the people who attended that meeting not one was present on Wednesday last. Only one name was mentioned, that of Rev. E. W. Dixon, who is now confined to his home by illness. Hon. A. Hinman, of the immigration of 1844, presided at the Ferrin inauguration, and was in the county in 1854, but did not hear Dr. Marsh's address.

Last Wednesday greetings from the educational institutions were brought by Pres. P. L. Campbell, University of Oregon, and Prin. J. R. Wilson, of Portland Academy; from the State, Supt. of Public Instruction, Ackerman, brought greetings, and Rev. E. L. House from the churches. The charter was to have been presented Addresses of welcome were made by H. H. Northrup for the trustees. Prof. Jos. Marsh for the faculty, John T. Whalley for the Alumni and Harriet Yoder for the under-graduates. Hon. H. W. Scott of the Oregonian made the occasional address.

Dinner was served and the guests sat long at the table being occupied with after dinner speeches.

Pres. and Mrs. Ferrin held a reception in the evening which was attended by citizens from home and abroad.

The day was one of most beautiful October sunshine. Just enough wind from the Northeast to temper the warmth of summer that lingers with Autumn.

HOME TROUBLES.

The Crittendon Home, in Portland, is having several varieties of trouble. If it ever thought to ply the occupation of grafting, the following announcement gives information that wax is about exhausted.

To Whom It May Concern: As Mrs. Anna R. Riggs has not tendered her resignation as superintendent of the Florence Crittendon Refuge Home nor as president of the board of managers, we, the State Commissioners, have decided to withhold the state funds and to pay no bills incurred by the management after this, the 10th day of October, 1903, until the board of managers has been reorganized in such a way as will meet the approval of the commissioners.

Mrs. A. H. BREYMAN, Mrs. CLEVELAND ROCKWELL, Miss ANNA M. CREMEN, State Commissioners.

Osteopathy, Dr. J. H. McGee, will be at Tuslatin Hotel, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays every week.
