Gen Ransom Post No. 89, G. A. R. Frank Doughty, com.; R. K. Dailey, sr. V. C.; A. W. Barber, jr. V. C.; M. E. Hotchkiss, officer of the day; B. K. Haines, Quartermaster; F. Haines, chaplain.

Lucinda Hill Cabin, Native Daughters, officers: Pres., Mrs. Mary Humphreys; Vice Pres. Mrs. Susie Morgan; 2d Vice Pres. Mrs. A. Anderson; Sec. Miss Susie McKinney Trese, Mrs. W. R. Davis; Marshal, Miss Minnie Gheen.

HIS HONOR, THE MAYOR

Hillsboro's new head, Ex-Judge B. P. Cornelius, is one of the best known men in Washington county, and one of the jolliest. The Eastern princess, who told a new story every night for a thousand and one night, was an amateur beside "Ben," who in the many years of his political life has been daily keeping his associates good natured with fresh selections from an apparently inexhaustible stock of anecdotes.

ADDITIONAL HILLSBORO LOCAL

James Currin, head of the Pacific States Telephone Co.'s construction work, is in Hillsboro superintending extensive improvements which will take about two weeks. By that time the Forest Grove franchise will probably be settled and work begun there.

Fred Olsen who for 18 years has been decorating, painting and papering in Hillsboro and to whose skill and taste much of the best work ever done here is to be credited, has quit his trade and become connected with the Patterson furniture store where he will be glad to meet his old friends.

Friends of P. L. Abbott will be pleased to know, as they confidently expected, that the suit against him, by a Mr. Thompson for an alleged swindling in a business deal, to which the Portland papers gave publicity has been thrown out of court for want of even enough evidence to justify submitting it to a jury.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Robinson arrived Monday from Toronto, Canada, to visit his brother, Rev. A. Robinson. Mr. Robinson has been employed in the postal department at Melbourne, Australia and with his wife has been away from home for about nine months visiting friends and relatives on this continent.

The business meeting at the Cong. church Wednesday evening elected for the coming year, Miss Hattie Butler, president; Miss Lucy Humphreys, vice president; Miss Josie Schulmerich, secretary; Prin. B. W. Barnes, treasurer and Mrs. H. V. Gates, corresponding secretary. A social reunion was a pleasing feature of the occasion.

W. T. Linn who lives on the old Humphreys place in Hillsboro has a pear tree of unknown variety, but originally springing from Kentucky which grows its fruit in clusters. One bunch had in it 16 pears, another 13. A specimen of this novelty left at the sanctum was intended to be reproduced for our readers, but the fruit fell off before it could be taken to the photographer.

MISS LEVELHEAD—"Why do you pay as much and sometimes more to Mr. Rustysock when you can get better selections elsewhere?" Mrs. OLDFOGY "Oh I buy where my mother bought; I did not know I could do better." MISS LEVELHEAD—"Oh by all means go to Mr. Hoyt's store. It's simply lovely. I do all my shopping there and he has such a beautiful stock of Christmas gifts." Mrs. OLDFOGY—"I am so glad you told me, I will go tomorrow morning." MORAL—"Go where you can buy best."

In the Circuit Court, on Saturday last, Hon. S. B. Heston, attorney for R. H. Kennedy, agreed so January 18 as the date for the trial of his case. The defense had been given the option of an earlier date, but decided to accept the later in order to secure depositions from witnesses now in the East. A detective has been at work in Albany, where Mr. Kennedy was pastor of the Congregational church for about two years, and it is evident the prosecution is making every possible effort to secure a strong case against him. A representation of the prosecution has also been in San Mateo, Cal., where Mr. Kennedy was located before coming to Oregon. It is not known who is furnishing money for the expense of this work, except that it is not being done at the expense of the State. Mr. Kennedy welcomes the strictest inquiry and only regrets that it was not undertaken before the many baseless stories were put in circulation, but it seems as though some one was bent on securing his conviction at all hazards.

Lucinda Hill Cabin of Native Daughters Wednesday made a welcome call upon Grandma Wood in the series of visits to pioneers which it is paying this fall and winter. The elderly lady who was born before the United States had its first president and who came to Oregon half a century ago kept the first hotel in Hillsboro. The belle of East Tennessee in her youthful days when Lewis and Clark were planning their exploration of the Oregon country, Mr. Wood will doubtless see the centennial of their journey. May 20, 1904 will be her 117th birthday anniversary and no better testimonial to Washington county's healthiness could be required than this hearty centenarian who bids fair to see many more of the delightful summers and equally attractive winters of Webfoot.

After the battle is over it appears the Second Street planking cannot be affected by the make up of the council as an amendment to the charter is necessary to change the present system of assessing the property owners and even the legislature could not make that date back. Only by breaking the charter could the assessment be defeated. It should be said that the property owners' contention has been that one-fourth should be paid by them, the balance by the city, but this plan the charter forbids.

Mayor Barrett whose term is just closing has made a most satisfactory showing for his administration. Also entitled to the city's gratitude is Councilman Ed Schulmerich whose business sagacity and faithfulness to his duties have been important factors in the efficient administration of the past year.

Hoyt has the best filled store in town—Hoyt does business.
