

THE INDEPENDENT, HILLSBORO

Official Paper of Washington County.

Entered at the Postoffice at Hillsboro, Oregon, for transmission through the mails as second-class mail matter.

BY D. W. BATH.

Oregon has gone 23,000 republicans. This magnificent figure was attained with the assistance of new blood that has come into the state within the past two years.—Woodburn Independent.

Geo. B. Woods, of LaSalle, Ill., has been engaged to take charge of the department of public speaking in Pacific University at Forest Grove, next year, to succeed H. D. Smith, who goes to Belmont College as secretary. Mr. Woods is a graduate of the Northwestern University and also completed the course at Comstock School of Oratory, one of the leading institutions of its kind in the country.

Country newspapers make lots of mistakes, have numerous faults and leave many good things undone but if you will follow them closely you will be struck with the unanimity with which they stand by their respective communities and their constant loyalty to home enterprises. They preach the doctrine of good citizenship and fair play in all things and generally earn much more than they get pay for.—More County Observer.

Even newspaper men have their troubles. Editor Hoag, of the Forest Grove Times, who is also mayor of that town, has been trying to enforce the liquor law over there, and his office rent jumps from $12.50 to $50 per month. He is having a new building erected and will undoubtedly move in before his enemies can move him out. When a man accepts an office, he is a poundmaster or president of the United States, and takes a solemn oath to enforce the law as he finds it, he should be backed by every law-abiding citizen in his efforts to stand by his oath.

A special from the World's fair grounds at St. Louis says that twenty-five crates of Oregon Royal Ann cherries have been received by General Superintendent Wehrung, of the Oregon building at the Louisiana Purchase exposition, which will be distributed to Eastern visitors to show what Webfoot fruit is like. "One box of cherries will accomplish more in the advertising line than three times that amount of literature and talk," says the dispatch. Exposition visitors are very much pleased over the product of the Oregon orchards, for the cherries are much superior to anything that can be secured in St. Louis.

A book wagon, the first public library on wheels to be sent out in the United States is contemplated in a plan just completed by the Wisconsin free library commission. It will invade the state next October. As the wagon passes through the counties the farmers will be invited to select their winter's reading. There will be books for the old and young, and each family will be allowed to make as large a selection as is desired. The following spring wagons will make another trip through the same territory to gather up the books and return them to the central library. One part of the scheme is that neighbors residing near enough to make it possible shall share their books with each other.

Heretofore the law in this state has required electors to register prior to May 15th in order to vote in November for president, or else vote on the affidavit of six freeholders, but by provision of the direct primary law enacted at the last election, registration will be resumed this fall. County clerks throughout the state are now required to reopen the registration books between September 20, 1904, and 5 o'clock p. m. of October, 20, 1904, and between the same dates in each and every year hereafter in which there shall be an election of presidential electors. In November the first election for prohibition will be held under the local option law on the same day as the election for president, November 8th.

The act of congress making appropriations for the department of agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, contains the following: "The secretary of Agriculture is hereby directed to obtain in the open market samples of seeds of grass, clover, or alfalfa, test the same, and if any such seeds are found to be adulterated or misbranded, or any seeds of Canada bluegrass (Poa compressa) are obtained under any other name than Canada bluegrass or Poa compressa, to publish the results of the tests, together with the names of the persons by whom the seeds were offered for sale." James Wilson, secretary of agriculture announces that the collection and testing of seeds as directed by this act will begin July 1st, next.

When a thousand people go down to destruction in a steamboat fire or mine explosion the world throws up its hands in horror. But look over the death and injured list of the average Fourth of July. Nothing much is said of this, but it is appalling, just the same. Here are the figures collected last year by the American Medical association, showing that 4,449 deaths and injuries resulted from the celebration of July 4th, 1903, in the country at large. There were 406 deaths due to lacklaw, for which the toy pistol was responsible. Other forms of mortal injury took 60 victims. There were 10 persons who were made blind, 75 who lost one eye, 54 who lost hands, arms or legs, 174 who lost fingers, and 3,670 who received other injuries. Hillsboro is going to celebrate the Fourth as never before in her history, and it is perfectly right for everybody to get gay and have a good time, but wouldn't it be a good thing to bar the canon cracker and toy pistol?

At the May meeting of the directors of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals and the American Humane Education Society, it was voted that in memory of the generous gift of the late Arich Wentworth the society present to each of the 300 country towns of that state $20 to aid in establishing watering troughs or fountains for animals, attached to which is to be an iron cup for the use of all persons wishing a drink. In most of the towns in Minnesota and Wisconsin such fountains are to be found and they are a godsend to both man and beast. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. are responsible for the good work in those states. Now that Hillsboro is to have the big encampment, to be followed by a Fourth of July celebration—the grandest in its history—a public fountain might come in pretty handy. The town already has the watering trough and it is in almost constant use.

One of the handsomest souvenir booklets received at this office for a long time is that of Yaguina Bay, just issued by the Corvallis & Eastern Railway company. It contains many beautiful photographs of the attractions of that delightful summer resort by the seaside, and a copy will be sent free to any one who will send their name to Edwin Stone, Manager C. & E. Ry, Corvallis, Or. The little pamphlet is full of information, and would be an ornament on any center table. The beautiful story it tells is very much after this style:

"There is wisdom in recreation. An outing should have a place in the yearly program of every man and woman. True rest is not loafing; it is not idleness. It is escape from routine, from the monotony of work, from the treadmill of business or the rounds of tasks on the farm or in the home; it is a new direction of our energies—the refreshment of change, a closer touch with nature. There is an aborigine in every one of us—a primitive man. Civilization has only polished, not changed the fibre, and when spring comes we sigh for the woods or the seaside, the camp by the mountain stream, or the tonic of the sea, large space—more sky than bends over any town, and the life untrammelled by conventional forms—this is hunger as natural as the appetite of the growing boy. And change means rest—refreshment. It renews our energies; it fills up the organic springs, out of which we have been drawing too rapidly; it recreates us, so that we go back to our work with fresh vigor. It is a good investment; it pays. More work will be done and done better. 'All work and no play'—that old proverb packed the wisdom of centuries in a sentence. The best prescriptions are not written by physicians. They come from nature's sanatorium, and are free. They do not cost anything, and are easy to take. Try ours. Stop and rest. Go and hear what the waves are saying. Take in the ozone of the seas. Lie on the sandy romp in the surf; race on the beach; dig rock oysters; go picnicking with your neighbors; let yourself out for a month, and go home to better appetite, and sweeter sleep than you have known for years."

Crop Report.
The drouthy conditions prevailing throughout the state were partially relieved by scattering showers during the latter part of the week; but, as a rule, the amount of precipitation was not sufficient to do good, and more rain is badly needed for all crops.
The extremely dry spell has had a damaging effect on spring grain, and in some sections it will be light in yield. Fall wheat and barley have headed nicely and a good yield of both these cereals is promised.
Haying is progressing rapidly under the favorable weather conditions; the crop will be light, especially west of the Cascades. The first cutting of alfalfa has nearly all been secured in good condition; the yield was above the average and the quality generally good. Pasture continues in fine condition, but is beginning to dry up some. Stock is fat and the supply of milk in the dairy districts continues abundant.
Gardens and root crops are making slow growth owing to the dryness of the soil. Early potatoes are doing well and will soon be ready for marketing. Corn has not made much advancement owing to lack of warm weather.
The strawberry season is drawing to a close. Raspberries and cherries are ripening nicely and promise fairly good yields. Apples are doing well, but pears, prunes and peaches continue uneven.

Death of Another Pioneer.
Mrs. Nancy B. McNamer, of Forest Grove, aged 70 years, who crossed the plains in 1852, died at her home on Monday from a paralytic stroke she received about a week ago. She was born in Indiana in 1834 and her girlhood was spent at Grand View, Ia., where she moved with her parents when a child. In 1852 the family crossed the plains with ox teams, arriving at Portland, October 27, that year. The journey was beset with many hardships of fighting the Indians and many of the party were sick with fever, from which her brother Levi died and was buried in the Blue Mountains. After a short residence in the small town of Portland they moved to Greenville where her father took up a donation claim. In 1852, August 26, she was married in Washington county, to Noah Wheeler McNamer, who died in 1863. Three years later, on July 17, she was married to N. B. McNamer. To the first were born five children; to the second marriage were born Mrs. Donia E. Goodin, of Glencoe; Mrs. Blanche Moore, Portland, and Converse W. McNamer, Forest Grove.

To the Mardi Gras.
Account of Mardi Gras carnival, to be held at Portland, June 28th to July 9th, inclusive the Southern Pacific will sell round trip tickets to Portland and return, including one admission to carnival, at $1.25. Sale dates June 27th to July 7th, good for six days after sale, but not later than July 10th.

Coming! Coming!
Wednesday and Thursday, two days only, June 29th and 30th, Dr. Lowe, the well known oculo-optician, will be in Hillsboro at Hotel Tualatin. Have him test your eyes for glasses.

STATE ITEMS.

Fifteen saloon-keepers of Salem were each fined $10 and costs for keeping open on Sunday.
A Yamhill county man raised seven acres of tobacco last year. Eastern dealers pronounced it a good quality.
A booklet on the resources of Umatilla County is being prepared and will be ready for distribution in a short time.
About $10,000 worth of property has been bequeathed by the late Mr. Burbank of Yamhill county to the state for the Orphan's Home.

The Spaulding Logging Company of Newburg launched a new boat, Ila, last week. It was built entirely by home labor and will be used to transport wood from way point to Oregon City. The same company will build a new sawmill which is to have a capacity of a hundred thousand feet per day.
At a recent meeting of the citizens and La Grande Commercial Club members it was decided to have in connection with a four day's celebration of the Eastern Oregon G. A. R., who will celebrate four days, beginning July 1, and ending the night of the Fourth. The committee has raised close to $2000 for the event up to this time. The Eastern Oregon Pioneers will hold a celebration in La Grande June 28.

The salmon season has been a failure this year. The canneries are at least 50 per cent behind in their pack, while cold storage plants are fully as much behind. There is a question as to whether the propagation of salmon will turn out to be all that has been claimed for it. Certain it is that there is no salmon in the river and the prospects for a run are very disappointing. Possibly if the laws were enforced against fisherman, propagation might be a success. There is absolutely no need for a Master Fish Warden. It is an expensive luxury to the state.—Astoria Herald.

President Joseph F. Smith and Seymour B. Young, heads of the parent Mormon church in Salt Lake City, have been in attendance at the conference of the Latter Day Saints at La Grande, Oregon. The Union county churches are the strongest of any Mormon churches outside of Idaho or Utah, there now being over 1,000 members in Grand Ronde Valley. The Mormon leaders look upon this as the coming Mormon stronghold of the West, and took a particular interest in the county seat fight in this county. The magnificent new tabernacle here is under construction and will be dedicated about September 1, if work continues as in the past two months. It will cost about $20,000 and is the finest Mormon building outside of Utah.—Milton Eagle.

Beaverton Notes.
Regular Correspondent.

The forty Greeks that were working on the railroad section, last week have left.
Mrs. Livengood has been quite ill for the past week.

The St. Mary's Academy pupils had a picnic last Monday.

Mr. Purser who has been away for the past week is home again.

Mr. Shaw has sold his place, which is part of the old Perkins' donation claim.

Mrs. Hattie Keiff, of Portland, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Geo. Huchson last week.

Mr. W. H. Morton, our local Florist, has returned from a week's visit at his son's place near Hood river.

Mr. John T. Williams, of Portland has had a new house built about one-fourth of a mile from town.

Miss Ada Hart of Portland has been visiting her friends Mr. and Mrs. Elison about 3 miles from Beaverton.

Mr. G. Hodge has left Beaverton and will take up his residence in Hillsboro, where he has accepted a position.

Mr. Moore has bought a five horse power wood saw, with which he intends to saw wood this summer for the railroad.

A man working for Mr. R. H. Walker caught his hand in a hayfork and tore the end of his little finger and severely bruised his hand Wednesday.

Miss Lottie Huchson is going to visit her sister, Mrs. Livengood, this week, about 20 miles from Portland, and she will probably stay a month.

Mr. Church's team took fright up by the griet mill last week and ran away. The Greeks put their shovels up in front of the horses and they stopped without serious damage.

The commencement exercises held at St. Mary's Academy, Friday evening June 17th was largely attended. They had a nice programme after which Rev. Father Moore presented diplomas to Mary Finds and William Dessinger.

A STUPENDOUS EVENT.

Mardi Gras Carnival at Portland June 28th to July 9th.
The great Mardi Gras carnival to take place in Portland, June 28 to July 9, inclusive, promises to be the most stirring and magnificent celebration that has ever occurred in Northwest—perhaps the most brilliant occurrence of its kind that has yet planned and carried out on this coast.
The time of opening is rapidly approaching, and everything is in rapid preparation. Many Committees are meeting about making the manifold arrangements, and the whole city is busy accomplishing the myriad things necessary for the splendid pageant and beautiful open air festival that is to eclipse all predecessors.
There is absolutely no graft, and no personal profit, in the whole affair, and this is perhaps one of the most potent reasons why everybody, with an iota of discrimination whatever, rich and poor alike, prominent citizens, and quiet burger, city denizens, hamlet dwellers, one and all, are ardently interested in the grand success of this celebration that will be a donor to this section of America.

The enthusiasm of the various owners who have mentioned in their papers this wonderful carnival has done it sure that there will be an immense attendance, and the stupendous preparations of the management will amply justify everyone taking trip to Portland at this time.

To begin to enumerate the big features is almost confusing. Of course the fact that five of the Nation's big steamships have been ordered to Portland to stay during the carnival, is no great attraction.

They will be open for visitors and packed in gala dress. The spectacular parade on the opening day will be the grandest affair—beyond all imaginative eyes to describe—surpassing anything you can imagine or express in print of magnificence and spectacular display. The state militia, Uncle Sam's boys from Vancouver barracks under General Funston, all the trades organizations, over thirty floats, visiting organizations from far and near,—altogether making an attempt at brilliancy never heretofore dreamed of in Portland.

Again the torchlight and fireworks celebration and parade on the night of July 4th will be positively the most stunning thing you have ever heard of. It will pay anyone on earth to come and see this Mardi Gras and carnival.

The railroads have all made moderate rates from all points to Portland and return with stop over privileges for the carnival, and no one should leave themelves out of this joyous event. They have promised celebrations before that were well worth seeing, but this will go far ahead of anything we have had before. The conditions are just right.

The appropriate organizations have gotten together. This is the great year for the northwestern country, any way, and altogether this carnival has an unbounded support in the hearts and souls of every living son and daughter of Oregon and Washington. Let everyone pull together, and make the attendance the biggest that Portland has ever seen.

If you want good flour, go to Hot Greer's, he keeps Liberty Flour, $1.06 per sack and GIR Edge, $1.10 per sack. Both hard wheat flour and no better in town.

PORTLAND AND RETURN 85c.
