Williamson, Dr. Van Gesner and Marion Biggs is composed of eight farmers, two mechanics, a merchant and a clerk as follows: James Green, farmer, Sweet Home; L. A. Rose, farmer, Jackson county; R. B. Collins, farmer, Hillsboro; W. W. Scott, clerk, Creswell; Ray W. Porter, blacksmith, Oregon City; John Mock, farmer, Multnomah county; S. A. Tharp, farmer, Benton county; Henry Keene, farmer, Marion county; J. B. Lewis, merchant, Cottage Grove; W. D. Barclay, Benton county; George Kirk, farmer, Lane county; M. S. The Last Band Concert. At the court house yard, on Saturday August 5, the Ladies and the Hillsboro bands will unite in a final concert for this season. The ladies will make their own ice cream and will have several different flavors. Strictly pure ice cream will be served and a liberal patronage is anticipated. Both bands are still in debt for uniforms and instruments and have been playing for socials nearly every Saturday evening during the summer. These, however, have not been as well patronized as expected and they have not raised much toward paying off their debt. As this is to be their last concert and they serve the ice cream themselves, it is hoped the public will show their appreciation of the music by attending. Plenty of tables and waiters will be present and a large crowd can be accommodated at one time. New music has been obtained and lovers of music should be on hand for the musical treat of the season.

Circuit Court. Circuit court convened at 10 o'clock Wednesday. Following is the disposition of cases: Michael Raha vs. Henry Dick, motion set aside; motion overruled supplementary decree that each party should pay half the costs. George Winters vs. Sarah Elizabeth Brickdale, et al. partition; dismissed with costs. P. N. & T. R. vs. R. Beamish, dismissed.

Same vs. Turner, set for Tuesday, August 1, 1905. Littlehales vs. Baseline Lumber Co., defendant allowed to file brief. Emma Giltner White vs. Eugene D. White, divorce; defendant allowed until Friday to answer. Jessie Alexander vs. Edith Monroe, foreclosure; demurrer overruled; defendant allowed to file answer.

Schenker vs. Schenker, decree granted. Kate Gardner vs. Leon J. Gardner, divorce; decree granted. Cooney vs. Gray, equity, decree entered, quieting title to lots 1, 2, 3, and 10 Gray Oak tract.

John T. Johnson vs. Anna T. Johnson, decree granted each party to pay their costs. E. Dewey vs. City of Forest Grove, demurrer to complaint overruled and plaintiff allowed to file amended complaint. McCallum vs. Masters & Randall, decree granted.

Everitt-Hamilton. Manly B. Everitt and Maud A. Hamilton were united in holy wedlock at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hamilton, in Hillsboro, Wednesday afternoon.

The room was very prettily decorated with Oregon grape and sweet peas, which filled the room with their perfume. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Genevieve Hinde, from Sioux City, Ia. At 12:30 the bride, beautifully dressed in tan, and carrying white carnations, entered, accompanied by her maid, Miss Laura Clark, and followed by the groom, with Vera Hamilton acting as best man. The ceremony, which was a very impressive one, was performed by the bride's father, Rev. C. L. Hamilton. Immediately after the congratulations were received, the happy pair, Mr. and Mrs. Everitt, lead the way to the festival board where a sumptuous dinner was waiting. The bride is one of Hillsboro's leading young ladies and is loved and esteemed by her many friends. The groom, Mr. Everitt, has many friends and is highly respected in Hillsboro.

Many useful and valuable presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Everitt. The following is the list of guests who witnessed the happy union: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cook of St. Johns, Mo. and Mrs. Wm. Hinde, Sioux City, Iowa.

Mrs. M. Rutledge, Neamarh, Iowa. Mrs. B. Auger, Early, Iowa. Franklin Everitt. Roy Hamilton, Portland. Mr. and Mrs. John Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wright, of South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Emmott. Miss Lottie Peters. Mr. Frank Peters. Mr. Wm. Hinde, Jr. Mrs. S. G. Morgan. Miss Sarah Hoyt. Mrs. Clarence Hoyt. Mrs. Walter Hamilton, of Portland. Mrs. A. E. Whiteside, of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hamilton, of St. Johns.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hamilton, of Vancouver, Wash. Mr. Ed Hamilton, of Gresham, Ore.

He Will Win If He Runs. The following is a Hillsboro special to the Oregonian of yesterday and sounds the sentiments of most of the people in this section. Should Mr. Huston go before the primary he is sure of the nomination; for he is not only popular here but all over the district. He would do honor to the position of Congressman, and is eminently able to perform every duty connected with the office.

"From all appearances Hon. S. B. Huston will have but little trouble in getting the support of the united republican party in Washington county for the nomination to succeed Binger Herman to Congress. While there always has been two wings here, and when one faction unsheathed its knife, scalps fell, there seems to be a disposition on the part of the opposing leaders to get together and support a Washington county man for the place.

It is not at all unlikely that Washington county's delegation to the next congressional convention will be for Huston in case he should decide to enter the lists."

Not Controlled by the S. P. Oregonian, 27.

Edward Records, president of the Atlas Construction and Supply company, of San Francisco, having the contract for construction of the Portland, Nehalem & Tillamook railroad, has informed Secretary William Reid, of the company, that the contract has been let for 2,000 tons of 60-pound steel rails to be delivered at Hillsboro before the first of September, for laying the first twenty miles of track. George L. Davis, in charge of the work, is chief engineer of the Atlas company for building the road and not of the company, and acting under direction of Mr. Records, has awarded the contract for clearing the right-of-way to Clark & Dixon of Forest Grove, and to Thompson Brothers the contract for grading the first three miles from Hillsboro. Owing to the fact that there will be very little heavy work in the first twenty miles the company decided to sublet the grading instead of transferring outfits from San Francisco since it is the purpose to complete this section and leave the harder part of the construction to be completed during 1906.

It was deemed much more expedient to let sub-contractors and have work started promptly. Right-of-way to Banks, ten miles from Hillsboro, has been turned over to the contractors free of charge by the Hillsboro Board of Trade.

It is known that the Atlas company and the London bondholders control 70 per cent of the stock, and Mr. Records desires it positively denied that the company is controlled by the Southern Pacific or any other company. It is organized an entirely independent company, he declares, and will eventually make connections with both the Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific tracks, giving shippers the choice of either. Recently there has been circulated a report that the company was controlled by the Harriman interests which is emphatically refuted by President Records.

The first section of twenty miles will be completed by November 1, and rolling stock and power will be delivered by that date, when through train service will be established between the terminus of the road and Portland, as provided for in the contracts entered into and which Mr. Records has assured Mr. Reid will be fulfilled.

Worked commenced on the new road in this city yesterday morning.

McClure's Fiction Number.

Both Tarkington, Myra Kelly, Mary Raymond, Shipman Andrews, O. Henry, James Hopper, and many other authors that magazine readers eagerly watch for are in McClure's August Fiction Number.

Every sort of story is included: the solemn, the funny, the significant, the dainty, the exciting. All have certain qualities in common—interest, truth, beauty. All these picked stories from picked writers are as good as, and in some cases better than any stories their authors ever wrote. This fiction number is McClure's Picture number. There are wonderful pictures in color, and in black and white. These pictures really illustrate and illuminate the stories they adorn. They are made to do something. They contribute to a fuller enjoyment of the stories they are made for.

Aside from this fiction there is in this August number of McClure's Miss Tarbell's second and last paper on the character of John D. Rockefeller, and another of John McAuley Palmer's fine satires on business and politics, "Finances of the Shark System."

A Little Early History.

Dr. John McLaughlin, who came to Oregon in 1824, as the chief representative of the Hudson Bay Co., erecting a fort at Point Vancouver in the winter of 1824-5, sowed wheat in the spring of the latter year and raised a crop, says Geo. H. Himes. So far as known this was the first grown in any part of the present boundaries of American territory west of the Rocky Mountains. The site of that early wheat field is within the U. S. military reserve at Vancouver and part of it is used as a parade ground. Wheat was raised here annually for several years, and in 1836 the yield was between 5000 and 6000 bushels. Wheat was grown on French Prairie by the employes of the H. B. Co., as early as 1830 to 1835, as a result of the influence of Dr. McLaughlin, who bought the product and used it in paying rental to the Russian authorities in Alaska for hunting privileges. The first wheat sown by an American was by John Ball, 1833, on his farm near Champeau, Marion county, John Ball came to Oregon with Capt. Nathaniel Wyeth in 1832, arriving at Vancouver in November of that year. He began teaching school at Vancouver about November 2, and continued until he concluded to establish a farm as noted above. David McLaughlin, William C. McKay, Ronald McDonald and Louis La Bonte were among his pupils. La Bonte, born in 1818 at Astoria, is still living, a resident of St. Paul, Marion county.

The first threshing machine—threshing and separator, was brought to Oregon in 1850 by Thomas Otchin, a pioneer of 1842 to Oregon of today, but in 1840 to the original Oregon, and began threshing in Washington county. Chaff piles, however, were used in Marion county probably as early as 1847. Dr. Whitman used a chaff pile at his mission about 1845-6. He raised wheat in 1837—Independence Enterprise.

Death of J. M. Parlow. The Oregonian of last Monday has the following announcement of the death of a former resident of Washington county. Mr. Parlow lived in the Gates' house, near the Baptist church, some eight or ten years ago, and at one time owned considerable property at Gaston:

"James M. Parlow, one of the pioneers of Portland, died yesterday morning at his home, 104 East Twelfth street, from an attack of apoplexy. Mr. Parlow was a Portland citizen for twenty years, having crossed the plains to this state in 1850. For the past few years he has been retired from business, and lived quietly at his home.

The deceased was born in Virginia April 11, 1824. In 1847 he enlisted for service in the Mexican War, and served through that conflict with Colonel Sterling Price. He was for many years prominent in navigation affairs, and after a time settled in Portland. He was one of the best-known river pilots of the early days. Previous to coming to the Coast, he had been a steamboat man on the Missouri river.

The deceased is survived by a widow, and leaves a host of friends among the older part of the population of Portland. The funeral was conducted on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the family home on the East Side; interment was at Lone Fir cemetery."

The clock in the Christian church in Hillsboro was a gift of Mr. Parlow.

Crop Report.

The past week was the hottest of the season, and no rain of consequence occurred in any part of the state. Fortunately, the wind was generally light and the wheat crop suffered but little damage. In the Grand Ronde valley and in some of the Columbia river counties east of the Cascade mountains late sown spring wheat was damaged by the hot weather and will probably be cut for hay. The bulk of the crop, however is safe, and both spring and fall wheat are now being cut as rapidly as possible.

Thrashing will begin in the Willamette valley this week. All indications point to an extra good crop of wheat, both as to quantity and quality.

Pasturage is getting short, but stock continues in good condition. The flow of milk is decreasing in the dairy districts, but not more than usual at this season of the year. The second crop of alfalfa is being cut, and the crop promises to be about an average one. Hop burs are forming and the vines are growing nicely. Hop lice are still to be found, but they are less numerous than formerly. Corn, potatoes and gardens have made good advancement, but these crops would be improved by more rain. Early apples are ripe. Prunes, pears and peaches are doing well.

Probate Court.

Matter of the guardianship of Perry T. Bailey, insane; petition asking for guardian received and the said P. T. Bailey cited to appear at the court house in Hillsboro on Monday, August 7, at 10 o'clock and show cause why such petition should not be granted. The superintendent of the asylum is also cited to appear at same place and at same time.

No Doubt About His Love.

The following was clipped from the Forest Grove News of last week and shows what manner of love the editor of that paper has for Hillsboro. Instead of a basket of "sour grapes," he's carrying around a whole carload:

Condemnation proceedings have been instituted against certain property owners at Banks who feel that the advent of the so-called Hillsboro-Tillamook railroad will be extremely detrimental to their farms. All these farmers want is fair compensation for the damage to be done, and for this they are making their demands, which from every point of view, are equitable. The railroad committee of Hillsboro have agreed with the Railway Company to furnish the right-of-way to Banks and they are meeting with much opposition on account of the way the line cuts diagonally across farms. They are bringing to bear upon the owner of the farms they cross, every possible influence to induce them to make heavy sacrifices by giving a 60 foot right-of-way across their land regardless of how much inconveniences and damages to them, if they can only thus make one step nearer Banks, and secure a stub line of railroad, which to all appearances is closely allied to the interests of the S. P. If perchance a man or two "hangs out" and refuses to rush off to some attorney's office and sign right-of-way deed or contract, but demands something for his damage, he is stubborn, and things are said about him that would not look good in print, besides he is trying to hold up Hillsboro.—Forest Grove News.
