Official Paper of Washington County.

From Salem.

While the wind seems to have calmed in Hillsboro and Washington county and sure enough has been taken up in the matter of railroad building, we of Salem are yet in the zone of doldrums. An Independence Polk county company has submitted a plan for building the link between that city and Salem, but nothing tangible has developed. Our own Citizens Light and Traction company offer to build the road if Salem capital will subscribe twenty year 5 per cent bonds to the amount of $60,000. The company say with that evidence of good will, Eastern money to build the road can be had. The road would be independent, but with the law passed last winter, connections can be had with roads already operating so there would be a continuous line into the fir timber of the coast range of the mountains. A road from here to Independence would do much for the prosperity of Salem. Our Light and Traction Company are not sitting idly down satisfied with the income from street cars and electric lights, but are extending and bettering the system. New and heavier iron is to be laid on Commercial street in South Salem and the line extends one and a half miles into the country. Iron was delivered along the track last week and speaking it on to new ties is to begin this week.

Mining is looking up. The Froeland mine on Upper Santiam will soon be a producer. A two-stamp mill will of improved pattern will be started this fall on good ore and will begin to pay back what has been expended. The mill is small but will do the work of the older pattern five-stamp type. The magnitude of installing this machinery will be realized when it is mentioned that the last eight miles of road to the mine is over a mountain pack trail. Blue river, a tributary of the McKenzie, Fork of the Willamette, East of Eugene, is attracting milling investors and were the mine further away a stampede would be on. It now seems that the western slope of the Cascades from Douglas county to Clackamas is a rich bed of gold, silver and copper ore. Every considerable stream that has ploughed canyons in making a path to the Willamette has cut ledges of pay quartz.

I met Mr. Claud Gatch today on the street when he had time to talk politics for a few minutes. During the conversation he stated that he would be an active candidate at the direct primaries election for secretary of state. In this county he is very popular and if nominated will poll a very large vote. His fitness for the places is conceded by his party opponents as well as his associates. First he has had a severe and thorough training as an office man, and again as a business man he has no superior. If the people want a business administration in the secretary of State's office no more efficient officer could be chosen. He is not a professional politician, but as a prompt, courteous business man he cannot be matched. If the politicians at the Eugene convention in 1903 had put Gatch on the ticket instead of Binger Herman, the politics of the state would now be better shaped, and the fair name of the state would have no obscuring cloud. It will be remembered that had he been selected as the standard bearer, that the Washington county delegation would have gone home from that convention mightily pleased. GAULT.

It is given out unofficially that Gov. La Follette, of Wisconsin, will relinquish the office of governor early in September and go to Washington in October as senator.

"Don't knock! Whatever you do or say don't knock! If you cannot conscientiously coincide with the views of those who are trying to do something for the town, at least don't knock."

An exchange tells of an editor in North Dakota who started about twenty years ago with 15 cents and is now worth $100,000. His accumulation of wealth is owing to his frugality, strict attention to business, and the fact that an uncle died and left him $99,998.

One of our Wisconsin exchanges remarks that "Peter Nelson of the town of Byron is the father of twenty-seven children." This item should be marked and sent to "Teddy," who is getting anxious about a famine of kids in this country.

The Portland Telegram of Wednesday evening says of the auto party which passed through this city Tuesday: To investigate the country between Portland and Hillsboro and travel over a portion of the line which was surveyed between the two points five months ago, an automobile party made up of G. L. Estabrook and wife, of Philadelphia; M. S. Hopkins, of Columbus, O.; Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Paxton, F. I. Fuller, C. F. Swigert, A. H. Richmond and J. C. Ainsworth, made the journey yesterday. Messrs. Estabrook and Hopkins represent the new owners of the Portland Consolidated, and the other members of the party were identified with the company previous to the sale, with Mr. Fuller being yet retained as managers of the system. While considerable significance is attached to the fact the surveyed route was gone over, those interested deny that it was in connection with a projected line into that territory, but say Messrs. Estabrook and Hopkins are merely being shown the country adjacent to the city, so that in the future, when the management of the property is actively taken over to be directed from headquarters, the purchasers will have a thorough knowledge of what vicinities may be tapped for business.

A decision was handed down Monday in the United States circuit court of appeals at St. Louis on the suit of Mrs. A. I. line A. Dixon vs. The Northern Pacific Railway company to recover damages for the death of her son, a fireman killed in an accident owing to the alleged negligence of a telegraph operator who falsely reported that a train had not passed a station. The court upheld the contention of the defense, in effect that the operator was a fellow-employee of the fireman and that as one employee cannot collect damages from another when the injury is due to the carelessness of a fellow-employee, the company was not liable.

The Cleveland, Ohio, Plasterer says that orders were issued Monday afternoon from headquarters of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers by Secretary J. J. McNamara for a general strike against the American Bridge Company from Maine to California. It is estimated between 15,000 and 20,000 bridge and structural iron workers will quit work. Bridge work will be tied up in many parts of the country and a number of big building projects will be delayed. The strike will affect thousands in the building industry. The general strike, according to Secretary McNamara, is the outcome of trouble between the union and the American Bridge Company over the sub-letting of a contract to a Boston concern which the union claims is unfair.

Two remote descendants of Sacajawea, the Indian woman in whose memory a bronze statue was recently erected at the Lewis and Clark exposition, have been discovered at the Wind River Indian school in Wyoming. Rev. John Roberts, Episcopal missionary at the school, after careful research, has established the identity of two little Indian girl pupils who clearly trace their ancestry back to the woman who acted as guide for Lewis and Clark on their memorable trip of exploration into the Oregon country.

Sherwood

Hiram Woods, of Portland, returned to town Friday after a week's visit at the home of his parents at Hoodview.

George Schneider recently disposed of all his rights and interest in the Sherwood livery stables to Sears & Son of Linn county.

Wm. Gritzmacher has purchased the beef market of Iler & Sears and will continue the business at the old stand on Grand avenue.

Mr. Coldfield, of Portland, has invested in a half interest in the hotel bar. He is a mixologist of long experience along these lines.

H. I. Hardin, brother of Frank, the blacksmith, arrived here from Texas recently and has rented a house and is living at the Middleton depot.

Alvin, the 4 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Swope while playing Friday forehand against the sharp corner of a projecting plank in the sidewalk cutting a gash to the bone above the eye, narrowly escaping the fracture of the frontal bone.

It has been ascertained that Clarence Jewett lost his life at Hood River last week in the dynamite explosion, through recklessness and indiscretion, a prominent factor usually predominating in the average young man. It appears he had lighted the fuse and reached a place of safety behind a tree a short distance away, but the explosion not occurring at the moment he expected, very foolishly exposed his face in order to ascertain the difficulty, when the blast came suddenly, hurling dirt, gravel and pieces of wood against his head with awful force. One eye was but slightly injured, but the other was entirely destroyed, the orbital cavity fractured, and filled with dirt and gravel. Meningitis soon followed resulting in a fatal termination. Thus an irremediable impulse of curiosity cost the young man his life, besides a mourning and desolate household. Will this terrible warning be heeded by others placed in a like situation, it will not be. The logical conclusion is, it will not be.

The report is in circulation, that Mrs. Bowers, a daughter residing on the Matthews' place and a son at Tigardville of old man Meims, who disappeared from his home some three weeks ago, have become convinced that the body of the supposed suicide found floating in the river near Taylor's bridge last week was none other than that of their father for whom diligent search has been made since his disappearance. The old gentleman was seen in Sherwood carrying a sack containing iron wedges, or rather something supposed to be of that nature—certainly metal of some description—while his conversation and actions indicated "non compos mentis." The corpse found is said to have corresponded in many particulars with the party seen here. Identification was arrived at by his children, principally through clothing, but after interment had been made, and advanced decomposition had taken place, so it was impossible to re-secure the body for reburial.

Crop Report. The week, like the two preceding ones, was warm and dry. These conditions were excellent for harvesting grain, and this work was pushed along with unusual rapidity. Fall wheat and barley yields continue good, both in quantity and quality, but spring wheat is not coming up to expectations, especially in the Willamette valley, where rust and the aphides were so plentiful earlier in the season. The straw of spring wheat and oats was heavy and the heads, as a rule, of average size, but the berry in many cases is shriveled, which accounts for the shortage. Pasturage is very short in the valleys, but it continues fairly good in the mountain ranges, and stock keeps in usually good condition. All streams are falling and the water supply for irrigation is getting scarce. Sugar beets, field onions and early potatoes are making good advancement, but late potatoes are at a standstill and need rain badly. Corn is extra good. Hops show improvement and the rice have nearly all disappeared, but growers generally expect yields below the average, and also a return of lice with the advent of favorable weather for their propagation.

Early apples are small and the yields are below the average. Peaches are being marketed and the crop is better than expected. The dry weather is causing prunes and plums to drop more than usual at this season of the year.

A Touching Story. Is the saying from death, of the baby girl of Geo. A. Eyer, Cumberland, Md. He writes: "At the age of 11 months, our little girl was declining health with serious Throat Trouble, and two physicians gave her up. We were almost in despair, when we resolved to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds. The first bottle gave relief; after taking four bottles she was cured, and is now in perfect health." Never fails to relieve and cure a cough or cold. At all drug stores; 50c and $1.00 guaranteed. Trial bottle free.
