A. E. Rice has the thanks of the editor and family for a basket of beautiful apples of the Red Astrachan variety, and we doubt if there is any of the Oregon exhibit at the Lewis and Clark fair apples to excel them in beauty, size and color. Mr. Rice says his crop will not be large, but is unusually good in flavor and size of fruit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doughty left last Tuesday night for Bay City, on Tillamook Bay, for a two weeks' outing and a visit with Mr. Doughty's brother and sister, who reside there. Mr. Doughty reached the foot of the mountain in the early evening and crossed over by moonlight, thus making the trip a cool and delightful one. He reached the Bay at low tide and is probably feasting on all the good things provided by Old Mother Ocean for the hungry traveler.

There is a report going around town, which is "important if true," that the street car line now building from Portland, is to connect at Hillsboro with the Portland, Hillsboro, Nehalem & Tillamook railroad, on which work is now being pushed. If this is done, freight traffic will be handled over the street car line at Hillsboro. Should this be a fact, "the line now coming right over the hill," will, to use a vulgar phrase, give Forest Grove the dirty shake. Of course we are all sorry for our neighbor, but the band wagon of progress is in motion and Forest Grove should have hoped on when it had the opportunity.

Dr. Burris returned last week from his trip up in the Bend country, where he went with a party of land seekers. He was accompanied there and on his return by John M. Edwards, of this city, who was located on 320 acres of that wonderful soil some time ago. The Dr. says that while there is plenty of good land in Lake county to be filed on now, it is going fast. Two lines of road are pushing toward Silver Lake, the principal town in that county, and two others will soon be under way. Good water can be procured at the depth of from 5 to 30 feet in abundance, and as water is the main thing needed in that section, the bright future of the country is assured. Dr. Burris returns on or about the 15th with a party of fifteen or more head and desert-land claim while there is yet an opportunity. The party are from North Yamhill, Dilley, Gaston, Portland and Hillsboro. The doctor expects to conduct landseekers into that country every two weeks from now until winter.

Miss Eva Cornelius was a Portland visitor Saturday.

Join the local Library Club, $1.00 per year, at the Delta.

Daniel Emerick of Scholls was a county seat visitor Saturday.

Miss Eva Catching spent the first part of the week in the Rose City.

Mrs. F. S. Olsen and daughter Gertha were Portland visitors Monday.

Mr. Womer, a prominent hop-grower of Laurel, was in town Saturday.

Miss Bessie Schomberg was among the many Hillsboro visitors to Portland last Tuesday.

Mrs. Thos. Emerick, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Rounds of Portland, returned on Monday.

Hal Taylor and party left for Denny's crossing last Tuesday, where they will spend a week in the mountains.

Miss Nellie Pomeroy, of Kama, Idaho, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Hal Taylor. She came Monday and will remain for some time.

Mrs. R. V. Humphrey visited friends in Portland and the fair two or three days this week. She was accompanied by little Vern McMaugh, who will remain in the city.

If troubled with dizzy spells, headache, indigestion, constipation, Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make you well and keep you well. If it fails, get your money back. That's fair. 35 cents.

L. W. House and family and Rev. Gilpatrick and family left Tuesday morning for Tillamook, but before getting far on their way one of the horses gave out, and they had to secure another, when the journey was renewed. They expect to enjoy camp life for a month.

James T. Young sustained painful injuries at his home, a mile and half west of town, last Sunday morning, by being kicked by a cow. He was confined to his bed for several days, but is now improving and able to get about on crutches. Dr. Ramble is the attending physician.

Abraham Grossen, living near Cedar Mills, got his hand caught in a hay-bailer last Monday. While the injuries are not serious, his hand is badly lacerated and it will be some time before he will be able to work. Dr. F. J. Bailey attended the injured man.

Word reached Fred Adams Monday of the death by drowning of three of his cousins in a lake in Northern Minnesota. They, with a boy and two girls and three elderly ladies, were out on the lake last Sunday, when the boat capsized, and as none of them were good swimmers, five were drowned.

Herbert McCullough, of Lincoln, Neb., arrived in the city Monday evening and is visiting his cousins, the Tongues. After taking in the Lewis and Clark fair he goes to Seattle, and then takes the boat for Alaska, for a pleasure trip. James McCulloch, an uncle who died here six or eight years ago, was at one time editor of this paper. Mr. McCulloch left Nebraska June 30th and says crops all over the state were looking fine, with the promise of the largest yield ever known there. They were then having an average of one rain a week which is sufficient to insure bountiful crops.

On Tuesday Frank Mitchell, who claims Indiana as his birthplace, was before the board of insanity and after examination by Dr. F. J. Bailey, Judge Rood ordered him sent to the poor farm, instead of the asylum, believing that in a few weeks there would bring the patient out all right. Mitchell came here from California, and has a day laborer about 56 years of age and has no bad habits. He was in the asylum once before, in 1899. His ailment seems a loss of memory when the attacks come on. He thinks they are caused by overwork and at sometime being overheated. He realizes his condition, but believes a little rest and medical attention will bring him out all right.

It has been remarked that if the cows had been permitted to run at large the streets of Hillsboro would not now be grooving to weeds. If the law was enforced there would be no besides weeds growing on the roadside. Besides property owners and renters should have municipal pride and endeavor to keep the fronts of their premises neat and trim. A few cents expended or a few moments with the scythe will do the business. Again, the city council is not attending to business in this matter, and as long as the members of that body will not act, how can they expect others to do it? They should shift it off on the cow; she is all right where she is. There is a state law which requires that all thistles must be kept cut down, to prevent them from scattering. This law has not been regarded to any great extent in this section. Whose business is it to cut them down, or see that they are cut down?

One day last week a picked nine of Hillsboro married men and a like number of Forest Grove bachelors played a matched game of base ball, 40 per cent of the gate receipts to go to the losers. Hillsboro took the 40 per cent, which amounted to $12.25. Last Saturday night the "boys" invested this money in a "feed," and if reports are true, they had the time of their lives, the $12.25 not being sufficient to foot the bills. Druggist W. P. Tucker donned an apron and acted as cook, passing out a chicken pie supper, which for excellence, is pronounced by those who participated, up to anything ever turned out at Delmonico's. A. L. Long, of the Argus, acted as toastmaster, and it is said that some of the toasts he handed out would have made our own Chauncy weep, while the responses were of a florid hue and right to the point. Plates were set for twenty-seven, and the feast was voted a success. When the Sunday sun was reddening the East the party broke up.

W. V. Wiley spent Tuesday in Portland.

Gus Wehrung was a Portland visitor Sunday.

E. P. Cornelius was in Portland Tuesday.

Joe. Downs was a Portland visitor Wednesday.

Mrs. S. Galloway was a Portland visitor this week.

Oliver and Carl Huston, accompanied by their sister Blanch, and Gale Halle, went to Newport yesterday, where they will spend a few weeks at their Nye Creek cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Huston were unable to go, the former being detained at home on business.

The band concert given in the court house park Saturday evening by both of the Hillsboro bands was largely attended and the music afforded pleasure for everybody living anywhere near the park. The receipts were $25, which was divided between the bands.

Miss Estella Stewart, a former resident of this locality, was married to Geo. Bonner, of Honolulu, on August 3rd. She is a daughter of Mrs. D. E. Emerick, of Scholls, and is well known in this county. Mr. Bonner is a chief engineer. They were married in Portland and will remain in that city for a short time, when they go to San Francisco, their future home.

Wm. P. Tucker made a trip to Portland Wednesday.

The German Presbyterian church at Bethany is almost ready for dedication and Mrs. J. P. Tammie attended the Oregon Grape day exercises at the fair Tuesday.

Mrs. Wohlelegel and daughter Lena, of Scholls, were in town Wednesday. Mrs. Wohlelegel is being treated by Dr. Tammie for cancer.

Rosalie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilson, died of tuberculosis at the family home in Forest Grove Tuesday night. She was 17 years of age.

The Presbyterian pastor of the Tualatin Plains church is taking no vacation this year, so service is held every Sunday morning as usual.

Rev. Laube, pastor of the Bethany Presbyterian church of this county, is expected to arrive here about the last of the week. His family will return with him.

Mrs. Mable Mattison, of Scoggins Valley, is in the city visiting her old schoolmate, Miss Lura Jackson, and attending the teachers' examinations.

Sunday services at Reedville next Sunday at 7:45 in the evening. A cordial invitation extended to everybody.

Mrs. Harriet Davis and son Fred Emerson, start for Palo Alto, Cal., today. Mrs. Davis goes to make a home for her son who is a student of Stanford University.

Miss Bessie Stevenson, of Missouri, is visiting her cousin, R. P. Simons, of this city. She is out here to see the fair and the numerous places of interest in this Oregon country, and her experience thus far is one of delight.

W. O. Donelson took a run down from Elk Creek, near Seaside, on Wednesday, to see if things were running all right at home, and will return to the mighty ocean and his fish books next Monday. He says his party are having a fine time and enjoying every minute.

Mrs. Rose Hoagland, of Idaho, reached Portland last Saturday for a visit with the family of her brother, W. D. Hare and came out to Hillsboro in the evening. After a visit of several weeks here, she goes to Astoria to visit her aged mother who is reported quite poorly.

Last Tuesday there was a called meeting of the Washington County Lewis and Clark club at the Benj. Schofield home in Cornelius. The attendance was not as large as at previous meetings. There was a short business session, after which the ladies assisted in preparing the new grains for the exhibit.

Teachers' examinations are in progress at the school house this week, with a very large attendance. Supt. Case informs us that there are thirty-three taking the county and ten the state examinations. The examining board is composed of Supt. Case, Miss Lucy Humphreys and Miss Ethel Norman.

Pacific Coast Bar Association was organized at the Portland, lawyer's day, at the fair. A large number of the leading attorneys of the Pacific coast were present to assist in the organization, which is a movement of great importance, as the Pacific Coast Bar is expected to become for this coast what the American Bar Association is for the Eastern states.

Last Sunday Mrs. Eliza Williams went to the home of her son Frank, on the farm northeast of town, and enjoyed the day with her children and grandchildren. It was her first visit to the old home for a year or more, on account of her illness. The splendid dinner, which included chicken, ice cream and shalbert, was heartily enjoyed by the invalid as well as all present.

About forty representatives of the different state buildings and commissions in charge of the various exhibits at the Lewis and Clark exposition, in response to an invitation of Judge Hollis, went to Forest Grove on the early train Sunday and spent the day on the college campus. The Grove people served a fine picnic dinner for the visitors, and a number of speeches by both citizens and prominent members of the visiting party were made, all expressing themselves as highly pleased with their visit to Washington county.

Just before leaving for the coast Frank Doughty left on our table an egg, or rather the shells of two eggs, which besides being a curiosity, are hard to beat in the matter of size. Inside of the larger egg, which measured 7½x6½ inches, was another completely formed egg, measuring 6½x5 inches. This curiosity in the egg line was discovered by Mrs. Doughty, who one morning, thought she would fry her husband a big egg for breakfast, as he was about starting for Portland by team. She broke the egg in the frying-pan when another complete egg fell out. This is quite a curiosity in hen fruit, and the first of the kind ever seen by Mr. Doughty.

Casper Mexor was arrested Tuesday at the home of Henry Becker in Bloomington and brought to this city charged with the crime of forgery. The complaint reads that Mexor did on the 20th of July, knowingly and feloniously, with intent to injure and defraud, uttered and forged the name of John Becker to a purported assignment of a cattle mortgage for $300, which is on file with the county recorder. Henry Becker is the prosecutor and he has Hon. S. B. Huston as his attorney. Mexor was up before Justice Bagley Wednesday and entered a plea of not guilty. The examination was set for next Wednesday, his bond being fixed at $800, which he was unable to raise, and for that reason is now a guest at the county jail. Mark M. Bump has been retained as his attorney.

Preaching at the Christian church next Sunday morning only.

Mrs. Mary Pittenger is building a cottage on her lot on Jackson street, adjoining the home of James Lamkin.

The Misses Jenkins of Knoxville, Ia., are guests at the R. Wagener home.

J. M. Buffington of Oxford, Kan., did business in the county seat last week.

Geo. and Herman Schulerich and Henry Reasoner left Saturday for Bents, Alberta, B. C. They will be absent a couple of weeks.

Mrs. S. G. Morgan and children are spending a couple of weeks with Mr. Morgan, who is superintendent of the electric light plant on Gales Creek.

The young people of the Farmington M. E. church will give an ice cream social August 19th. A good program; and ice cream will be served in the church grove. All are cordially invited.

Thos. S. Wilkes, formerly of this city, but who has been in the employ of the government for the past four years, is expected to arrive here about the last of the week. His family will return with him.

Mrs. Wm. Harris, of Minneapolis, Minn., who has been visiting relatives in Hillsboro and Forest Grove for the past three weeks, has received word that her husband is coming to make a short visit to this state.

G. N. Dallas, of Missouri, is visiting with relatives in Hillsboro and vicinity. He expects to meet his son, Wm. Dallas, also of the same state, who is coming to Oregon with an idea of locating in some town and establishing a general mercantile business.

Mrs. Herman Smith, who is employed at the Condenser, had her hand badly cut yesterday forenoon by the breaking of a glass pitcher which she was washing. Dr. Linklater dressed the injured hand.

A little son of Charles Binkley, living east of town, was playing about a washing machine yesterday afternoon, and in some manner fell and broke his right arm at the elbow. Dr. F. J. Bailey was called and reduced the fracture.

F. E. Waters, wife and family of Walla Walla, Wash., and Mrs. Clarinda and Miss Ora Beal, of the same city, are visiting with friends and relatives in Hillsboro and Forest Grove. Mr. Waters was formerly agent for the Oregon Fire Relief association of McMinnville.

The city water has been shut off frequently without notice to consumers, many of whom are using hot water tanks. If it is kept up there will be an explosion some day that may be followed by horrible results. Wouldn't it be a good idea to give notice before shutting off the water?

L. M. Hoyt and his brother Clarence Hoyt started early yesterday morning on their bicycles for Tillamook and will continue on to Cannon Beach, where L. M. Hoyt's family is spending the month. They expect to be gone a week or ten days. Mr. Baird has charge of the store during their absence.

Mrs. W. D. Hare and her sister, Mrs. Hamilton, came out from Portland Saturday and will now remain at home. Mrs. Hare is convalescing from the effects of the surgical operation of three weeks ago and is gaining strength daily which will be gratifying news to her many friends in this city.

Proceedings to contest the will of Sarah J. Pollock, who died in 1904, was filed with the county clerk yesterday. The grounds for the contest is that the deceased at the time of making her will was not of sound mind, on account of her illness and that her attempt to make and execute her will and dispose of her estate was the result of undue influence on the part of Flora B. Pollock and other parties, and that the same was not executed in the manner required by the laws of Oregon.

The storehouse building, belonging to J. B. Hibbs of Gaston, and its contents were destroyed by fire at a late hour Tuesday evening. Mr. Hibbs entered the storehouse, which is in the rear of his general store, with a lighted lamp, and the fumes of gasoline which had escaped from a can kept in the room, ignited, causing an explosion, which set the building on fire. Mr. Hibbs had several fire extinguishers, but in the excitement none could be found, it is said, but with the aid of outside help the fire was got under control. The loss is placed at a high figure.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hurst Hemstead died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jane Swanson, in Forest Grove at an early hour Wednesday morning, aged 73 years. She was born in Carlisle England, where she lived until she was 23, when she came to America, accompanied by her husband and settled upon a farm two miles west of Forest Grove, where she has since resided. Two daughters are living, Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Phoebe Ward, both of Forest Grove.

Oscar Tompkins, who lived three miles northeast of Glencoe, died last Saturday afternoon after a long illness, though confined to his bed but a few days. He was 74 years of age. He was the father of seven children, six sons and two daughters. The funeral was held at Glencoe on Monday, the burial taking place in the Harrison cemetery, near that place. Mr. Tompkins was related to Judge Cornelius and the Barrett's of this city.
