Newberg Graphic: Henry McGuire has in his possession a five dollar bill of the date of 1838, issued by an Indianapolis, Ind., bank. It is a well preserved bill and is probably worth several times its face value. On the back is written this little act of kindness carried into the name of John Suck, who was well that home can be better imagined than known to the early settlers here.

The Oregon press will be represented at the eleventh annual ragatta in Astoria August 29, 30 and 31. Editors and their subordinates will all be on hand.
