Now is the time to make good reads. Call and see Pope for your Holiday pictures. Join the Delta Library Club, $1.00 per year, at the Delta. Don't let the good roads idea die out. It's a good idea. Some bargains in second hand wheels at Humphrey's. Have you fixed up the road from your house to your neighbor's house? Attorney McCamant, of Portland, was a guest of Dr. Tamsie Tuesday. Mrs. Holman has moved to Portland where her son has employment. Fresh Pork Sausage every day in the week at Cate's Market. Pop corn and corn poppers, the kind that pop, at R. H. Greer's. Boy's and Men's extra quality, Good-year rubbers for sale by J. C. Greer. Fresh Sauerkraut, absolutely clean, ten cents per quart at Cate's Market. Just received, fresh nuts, at Heidel's Candy Kitchen. This year's crop. Prices right. Mrs. S. D. Tucker, of Pendleton, is visiting for a few weeks with her son, W. P. Tucker. Miss Allie Connell returned yesterday from a visit of several weeks with relatives in Salem. HO Buckwheat Flour and Olympic Pan Cake Flour and Toboggan Maple Syrup at R. H. Greer's. I have a first class line of candles and tobacco and solicit your patronage. L. P. Heidel. County Clerk Godman and County Surveyor Morrill were transacting business in Tigardville Tuesday. First class line of Boys and Men's heavy work shoes. Will stand all kinds of wear and tear. J. C. Greer. There will be a basket social at the McCormick school house, three miles east of Laurel, Saturday evening. Mrs. J. A. Zimmerman, of Roseland Farm, is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. F. D. Adams, this week. We have just received an extra fine line of Cove Oysters, guaranteed fresh. Cate's Market. Mrs. S. G. Morgan moved her household effects and went to Forest Grove Monday, where Mr. Morgan is employed. Miss Esther Moe, of Portland spent Sunday and Monday visiting her friend, Miss Mary Tunst, of this city. The Ladies Aid Society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. P. Boscow next Wednesday to work for the Bazaar. Mrs. Charles Elwell and little daughter came out from Portland last Friday morning to assist in the care of her mother, who is ill. Mrs. Laura Wells and daughter of Forest Grove, spent last Friday and Saturday in this city, the guests of their sister and aunt, Mrs. S. B. Huston. Piano Polish that does not spoil the finish of an instrument is a scarce article, but E. L. McCormick recently received a new kind that fills all requirements. "Ponce de Leon coffee, genuine Porto Rican coffee from the finest private estates on the island, put up in one pound cartons at Cate's Market, 40 cents per pound. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gibson, of Portland were the guests of Mrs. R. C. Cave last Sunday. They seldom have an opportunity to visit the city of their former home. E. L. McCormick has just received something new in graphophone horns, called the Floral Horn. These are very pretty and have a fine tone. Call and see them. Miss Effie Godman is this week finishing the work of copying the tax roll. It is a particular and laborious job, and has taken about three months to do the work. Wouldn't it be a good idea for the city council to order the city's financial statement published? This is customary, though it was not done in this city last year. Oliver and Carl Huston went to Eugene last Friday to attend the football game between the U. of O. and the O. A. C. The U boys won the game with a score of 6 to 0. D. Corwin has purchased Mr. Hoover's interest in the meat market of Housley & Hoover. He has had an experience of eight years in butchering and knows the business thoroughly. The residence now occupied by Rev. Gilpatrick has been sold and Mr. Gilpatrick has rented the Kanouse property on East Main street. Mrs. Kanouse will move to Portland December 1.

E. L. McCormick has the best Silver Polish on the market. It will not scratch or mar the finest ware and is unexcelled for cleaning properties. Try it next time you clean your silver ware. There will be union services at the Congregational church next Sunday evening to consider the practicability of church federation, in which all the ministers in the city will take part. All are invited. The valuation of property of Hillsboro for 1905, as shown on the assessment roll, is $544,980, and that of Forest Grove is $371,105, making Hillsboro in the lead of our neighboring city just $173,875. Mrs. Thos. Tucker was taken suddenly ill last week Thursday night and was in a serious condition for several days. She is now gaining slowly and is in many respects much better than before her present attack. Miss Lillian Curry, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. D. Hare, several weeks, started on her return trip to her home in New York Saturday. She will visit several points in California, and expects to reach her destination November 30. The Congregational church ladies will hold their Bazaar in Wehrung's hall on Tuesday evening, December 5, and on Wednesday the 6th, afternoon and evening. There will be a program on each occasion. Dressed dolls, aprons, hand made handkerchiefs and fancy articles will be offered for sale. Mrs. Rosina Fouts of Oregon City, department secretary of the W. R. C. of Oregon, made the local corps a visit of inspection last Friday, and a large number of members were present. The W. R. C. of this city has the reputation of having the best corps in the state. Hon. S. B. Huston is on the train which will bring the Portland business men to this city. The train arrives at the depot tonight at 8 o'clock and every man in this vicinity is asked to be there. Just let those Portland rustlers know that we are a live number. The D. of H. of this city will give a banquet this evening in honor of their recorder, Miss Rose Wilcox; financier, Mrs. C. W. Redmond, and receiver, Mrs. Mary Pittinger. The banquet will be given in the lodge room immediately after the meeting of the business men at the court house. Raymond, the 3-year-old son of Mrs. Buxton Brown, of Sherwood, was fatally burned last Monday night and died the following morning. The child's clothing caught fire at a parlor stove while the mother was temporarily absent from the house. We don't need to waste time telling those who have used "Old Times" buckwheat that it is the very best in the market. To those who have not used it we would say, "try it and you will use no other." For sale at J. A. Messinger's. A bon-fire party was given last Friday evening by Miss Edna Freeman at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Z. Wood, in Southwest Hillsboro. A huge fire of old logs was built, around which games were played and taffy pulled, all of which was highly entertaining to the young people present. Mrs. H. V. Gates and daughter expect to go to Southern California next week to spend the winter. Miss Helen has not been in good health the past few months and it is hoped by her many friends that the change will prove beneficial. Mr. Gates will accompany them and spend as much time there as his business interests will permit. The beautiful weather of the past month would, if enjoyed by our Eastern friends, put them in a mood to forsake their icebound and blizzard swept homes and flee to this land of sunshine and never-ending joy. We saw a man mowing his lawn the other morning, which is responsible for this mid-November gush. The Road bridge has been closed to the public since last Tuesday and will remain closed until the middle of next week. There are two fills to be made, one on each end of the bridge. Road Supervisor Kelsay has eight men and four teams at work and will push it along as rapidly as possible. C. Tillbury a former Hillsboro business man, stopped off here for a few hours Monday while on his way to Portland. He is still in love with his old home and predicts many good things for the county seat, now that the railroad is an assured thing. W. H. Adams, who has been working for the Washington-Portland Cement Co., at Baker, came home a couple of weeks ago for a visit. He left last Saturday for the Puget Sound country, where he will remain until spring. Road Supervisor Kelsay has ordered a split log drag and as soon as completed he will begin work between town and the long bridge on the Baseline road. He believes the drag is all right, and will give it a fair trial. Watch the result. If you are suffering with headache, nervousness, constipation, stomach trouble, heart trouble, kidney trouble, appendicitis, rheumatism, gouts, or any chronic disease, see Dr. Eaton, Care guaranteed. If your eyes trouble you, have them examined at once and have glasses fitted at the eye specialist over the City Bakery. We also give readings in Phenology, come and learn your calling in life. Mrs. S. B. Huston was hostess at a most enjoyable "afternoon" last Friday at her home on First street. There were thirty ladies present, and what a lunch was played. After lunch was served, Mrs. Laura Wells of Forest Grove gave several vocal selections and some instrumental music, with the assistance of the "Angelus," each number affording much pleasure to the assembled guests. Why not keep the money at home instead of giving it to traveling tinkers. Try Humphrey's repair shop for guns, umbrellas and bicycles.

Mrs. Mary Saxton, who has lived with the late Mrs. Eliza Williams during her illness, went out to the home of her daughter-in-law, Wednesday, where she will reside. Miss Hattie G. Starrett and S. T. Robinson, of Morrow county, were married at the home of her parents in Forest Grove Tuesday. Rev. L. F. Belknap officiating. The New Railway Company has rented the rooms over Schulmerich's store for headquarters and are moving in. Workmen are laying out the Y and active work will begin at once on the first five miles. W. W. Graham died at his home in Tigardville Monday and was buried on Wednesday. He was a pioneer of this county, having settled on a D. L. C. in the early '60s. Mrs. Graham died in 1893. There is one son living. The West Portland Preacher's Conference will be held in the M. E. church in this city next Tuesday and Wednesday. The program is an excellent one, and we should be glad to have published it, but it was received too late. R. H. Kaitz, the piano tuner, will be in Hillsboro today and tomorrow. Any one wishing to have a piano tuned or repaired can leave word at the Tualatin Hotel. Mr. Kaitz has a large list of patrons in this city, and he has been making semi-annual visits here for the past ten years. Z. W. Wood and family returned Wednesday evening from North Yamhill where they had been to attend the double wedding of Carl Trullinger and Miss Alice Laughlin, and Miss Mary Trullinger and Fred Henry, of Lafayette. The Trullingers are grandchildren of Mr. Wood, and live at North Yamhill. A. Gross, who was here a year ago in the Heidelberg building on Main street, has returned and rented his old location, and will tomorrow open for business with a new and up-to-date stock of dry goods, clothing, hosiery, furnishings, boots and shoes, ladies' dress goods, and in fact everything in the line of ladies' and gents' clothing. He invites the money-saver to call and inspect his stock, as he is bound to give the best bargains ever offered in this city, and prices will be below those offered for the same grade of goods in Portland. Drop in and look at his stock which will be ready for inspection tomorrow. Read his big ad, and note prices. The city council met Tuesday night and awarded the street planking to M. S. Dalley and Mark Butler, they being the lowest bidder. A committee of ladies asked the council to instruct its reception committee to conduct the visiting Portland business men to the residence of Dr. F. J. Bailey where, a reception will be given them. A committee on music, composed of H. T. Bagley, Benton Bowman, A. C. Shute, Cal Jack, Mrs. Geo. Schulmerich, Miss Wilma Waggoner and Mrs. B. W. Barnes was named. The committee to meet the visitors at the depot and escort them to the court house is composed of W. H. Wehrung, John Dennis, Dr. Tamsie, G. A. Patterson, R. H. Greer, D. W. Bath and Mayor Cornelius, chairman. Judges of election were appointed as follows: P. Boscow, A. C. Archibald, Wm. Nelson, Clerk; E. G. Brown, C. Jack, Jr. The mayor announced that he would issue a call for a mass meeting for the nomination of candidates to fill city offices for the coming year.

Program Tonight.
At a meeting of the committee appointed to make arrangements for the reception of the delegation of Portland business men who will arrive in this city at 8 o'clock tonight, the following program was made up:
Business men, citizens and bands to meet the train at the depot at 8 o'clock.
March up Second street to residence of Dr. F. J. Bailey for 10 minutes' reception. Thence to court house.
Music by the band.
Call to order.
Music by the band.
Address of welcome by Mayor Cornelius.
Response by Tom Richardson.
Short addresses by members of the delegation.
Address by Dr. Tamsie on "The Necessity for Portland's Co-operation on Transportation with Tributary Towns and Country."

Card of Thanks.
We wish to return our sincere and heartfelt thanks to all who assisted in the bedside of our mother, Mrs. Anna Eliza Williams, and in so many ways helped to lighten the grief of the final separation. For the beautiful floral offerings at the church and grave, we are especially grateful.
Mrs. J. W. Sewell.
W. W. Williams.
F. J. Williams.

Card of Thanks.
To the dear friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted by words of sympathy and acts of love, during the illness and after the death of my beloved husband, H. R. O'Neil, and for the many beautiful floral offerings, I wish to return my sincere thanks.
Mrs. M. E. O'NEEL.

For Sale.
A confectionery store; lunches in connection; desirable location; good reason for selling; can be had for cash only. Inquire at this office.

Look Here!
It takes time to finish pictures; come in soon for your Holiday Photographs. Better work for less money than you can get elsewhere. Pope, the Photographer.

To Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Frewing, of Tigardville, November 6, a daughter.

She Is at Rest.
Thy mission here is ended,
Thy Savior called thee home,
With outstretched hands He welcomes thee
To His bright and happy throne.
Thy loved ones dear will mourn for thee
And miss thy presence here;
But God will be their comforter
And wipe away their tears.

Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.—XXIII Psalm.
What a comfort to a person when they reach the brink of the unknown and, leaving the cares of life behind, prepare to cross the Dark River. No fear, not the slightest doubt. They have His promise of protection and safety, and the thought of dying is nothing more than that of passing into dreamless slumber. Mrs. Anna Eliza Williams, who passed her reward last Saturday night at 9:30, had this faith, and though her suffering had been intense for weeks and months, she passed away as peacefully as a child going to sleep upon the breast of its mother. She had perfect faith in the future, and surely she has earned the great reward by a long life of usefulness, and leaves this world better for her having lived in it. She loved her children and her kindred; her friendship once placed remained true and firm, and her "going home" is mourned beyond the family circle and many a silent tear coursed down the cheek of men and women who were ever pleased to call her "grandma." May her slumbers be sweet in her turf-covered habitation, and may the gentle rains of heaven bring forth many beautiful flowers to shed their fragrance over her tomb in God's acre.

She was born in Lee county, Iowa, February 21, 1839, and with her parents crossed the plains by ox team in 1847, locating on the Jolly D. L. C., north of this city. She married Samuel Oregon October 23, 1856, and together they lived on the farm until ten years ago, when they moved to Hillsboro. Her husband died August 10, 1898. To them were born four children, Mrs. J. W. Sewell, of this city; Mrs. C. C. Frazier, of La Grand, Or., now in Phoenix, Ariz.; W. W. Williams, of Mountaineer, Or., and Frank J. Williams of Hillsboro. She also leaves one brother, W. B. Jolly, of Portland, and two sisters, Mrs. U. M. Howard and Mrs. A. M. Fletcher, both of Wilbur, Wash.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the Congregational church, Rev. Howard Gilpatrick speaking words of comfort to the sorrowing friends, telling them not to mourn, for "Grandma" was at rest and in perfect safety in a world where there is no sorrow or death. The house was crowded with friends of the family, the floral decorations were profuse and beautiful, the coffin being banked with choice flowers. The three hymns sung by the choir were selected by the deceased before her death and were, "Lead Kindly Light," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and The Twenty-Third Psalm was read by Mr. Gilpatrick in compliance to her request. W. O. Donelson had charge of the funeral arrangements. Burial was in I. O. O. F. cemetery, where the frail body of the deceased was lowered to its last resting place into a profusion of beautiful and rare flowers, while friends and relatives looked their last and ad farewell.

Mrs. Williams joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church at the age of 15, and united with the Congregational church in this city about four years ago. She was also a member of the D. of H. G. of the deceased from abroad who were here to attend the funeral, were Mrs. R. H. Long, and Mrs. Mattie Jones, Portland; George Frazier, LeGrand; Mrs. U. M. Howard, Wilbur, Wash.; W. B. Jolly, wife and daughter, Portland.

The children of John Peterson, who have been quite ill, are reported as convalescing.
—More Anon.

Scoggin Valley.
Church was well attended last Sunday and a fine sermon by Rev. Wright, was listened to by the "regeneration."
Miss Gertrude Glynn, of Portland, who has been visiting friends here returned to her home last Friday.
Mr. Crowley, of Moonmouth, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Ardis Walker.
Mr. Peterson, living at the mouth of the valley has been getting married and there is talk of a charivari.
Dell Matheson is improving the roads by hauling off his baked hay.
Farmers in general are improving the opportunity this late fall gives them.
Mr. Fugate, of Forest Grove, has rented his farm in Scoggin valley to Herb Matheson.
School is progressing finely, Mr. Fletcher giving general satisfaction, and well liked by school attend patrons of the school.
The Ladies Aid Society met at the usual time and a very good time was had.
Mr. Walker, who has been farming the Fugate place, will have a sale on Thursday of this week selling off his farming implements and stock and will move to Jackson.
—Subscriber.

A Good Record.
Hon. Ben Simpson, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Thorne and other old-time friends in Hillsboro for the past ten days, is an Oregon pioneer of the class of 1846, and is one of the best-known citizens of the state, and for more than thirty years was an important man of affairs. He was born in Warren county, Tennessee, in 1818, but was taken by his parents to Missouri in 1820, and lived there until the year he left for Oregon. In 1839 he was married to a Miss Wisdom, who died in 1841. He was married again in 1843 to Miss Nancy Cooper, and with three children, John Thomas, Sylvester C. and Samuel L. crossed the plains, as indicated, and settled on French prairie in Marion county in 1847. The following year he served in the Cayuse Indian war. In 1849 he made a voyage to California with a cargo of lumber which was used to build sluice boxes in the mines, also mining implements of one kind and another. Lumber at that time was worth from $150 to $250 per thousand feet. In 1850 Mr. Simpson was elected a member of the Second territorial legislature, and served with credit to himself and his constituents. At different times afterwards he represented Clackamas, Polk and Benton counties in the legislature. While he was a democrat during his early life, with the fring on Fort Sumpter early in 1861, he became a Union man and after the close of the civil war identified himself with the republican party, and has affiliated with that political organization ever since. He was Indian agent at the Siletz and Grande Ronde reservations for eight years, beginning in 1862 by appointment of President Lincoln. Prior to this time, beginning about 1856, he was sutler at Fort Yamhill, Polk county. It was during this time that he formed the acquaintance of Second Lieutenant Philip H. Sheridan, and when the latter left Oregon in 1861, expressing a desire to "attain the rank of captain before the war ended," he placed all his business affairs in Mr. Simpson's hands; and such was the fidelity with which this trust was cared for that the friendship resulting therefrom was ended only by Gen. Sheridan's death.

In 1875 he was appointed surveyor general by President Grant and served out his term. About 1880, he received an appointment as post-office inspector, and for nearly twenty years thereafter made his home in Georgia, returning to Oregon about the year 1900. The Simpsons came from Scotland to America in an early day and first settled in Virginia. When Benjamin grew to manhood he learned through family tradition that an uncle had left a large estate in Scotland, but much attention was given to this, however, for many years. At length, probably about 1879, Mr. Simpson accidentally picked up a Scotch paper in this state in which appeared a notice to the effect that there was a large estate in Scotland that was about to becheat to the crown, because no one could be found who could prove his rightful ownership, therunto, and stating, furthermore, that it was believed there were heirs in the Southern part of the United States. This accidental finding of a reference to the Simpson estate in Scotland recalled the tradition to the same effect of his early manhood, and Mr. Simpson secured the appointment as above noted, and made his home in the south with the intention of establishing his claim to the estate which, upon investigation he learned was valued at several millions of dollars. After a number of years of strenuous effort, the project was abandoned, because the kind of evidence required could not be found. He satisfied himself however that he was the legitimate heir, and that he could have proved his claim had it not been for the destruction of family papers by fire.

It will be remembered that Mr. Simpson's son, Samuel L. Simpson left an impressive upon Oregon literature as a fact which will grow brighter as the years pass by. To have been the father of the author of the wonderful poem, "Beautiful Willamette," to say nothing of the many other exquisite poems written by his son, is indeed a great distinction, and one that will perpetuate the family name forevermore in the annals of Oregon.

Beautiful Willamette.
From the Cascaes' fringed gorge,
Leaping like a child at play,
Bright Willamette glides away,
Onward ever,
Lovely river,
Softly calling to the sea;
Time that soars us,
Naima and mars us,
Leaves no track or trench on thee!
Spring's green witchery is weaving,
Braid and border for thy side;
Grace forever haunts thy journey,
Beauty dimples on thy side,
Through the purple gates of morning,
Now thy roscate ripples dance,
Golden, then, when day departing,
On the waters trails his lance:
Waltzing, leaping,
Tinkling, splashing,
Limpid, volatile and free—
Always hurried
To be buried
In the bitter, moon-mad sea.
In thy crystal draps, inverted,
Springs a pleasure of the sky
Like those wavering hopes of Aidenz,
Dimly in our dreams that lie:
Clouded often, drowned in turmoil,
Faint and lovely, far away—
Wrestling sunshine on the morrow,
Breathing fragrance, round today,
Love would wonder,
Here and ponder—
Hither poetry would dream:
Life's old questions,
Sad suggestions,
"Whence and whither" through thy stream.
On the roasting wastes of ocean,
Seen thy scattered waves shall toss:
Mid the surges rhythmic thunder,
Shall thy silver tongues be lost.
Oh! thy glimmering rash of gleams,
Rocky this turbid life of mine,
Racing to the wild Forever,
Down the sloping paths of time:
Quarried ever,
Lovely river,
Softly calling to the sea;
Time that soars us,
Naima and mars us,
Leaves no track or trench on thee.
