HOW THEY REGISTERED

TOTAL REACHES 2,851.

Republicans Lead the Democrats by 1,460 -- Republican Registry 2007, Democrats, 547.

Below is a table showing the actual figures for the registration for the nominating election in Washington county. It shows 1,460 more republicans registered than democrats, together with a considerable sprinkling of independents, socialists, non-partisan, not given, populists, peoples', union, prohibition, independent-republican and democrat-union.

The books re-open on the 25th when all those unregistered can get their names on the books. They will remain open until May 15th, when they will close for good. Of course, any of those unregistered can vote at the primary election by use of blank A. The figures as they stood when registration closed on the 14th are:

Lane County for Cake.
A prominent citizen of Eugene recently said of Hon. H. M. Cake:

"We are proud of our state, and it should be represented by earnest, honest, straightforward men in the National legislature, whose hearts will beat with those of the common people and whose interests will be common with them. In this way, by community of interest, feeling and co-operation, great good can be accomplished, the state dignified before the country at large, and its good name redeemed from the blot placed upon it in the past few years. If Oregon wishes to regain the standing it once had at the National capital, it must elect men whose records are spotless, and who have brains to express the wants of this great Western country. If we elect a man with the ability, courage and experience of Mr. Cake, we will have a senator that we can point to with pride, and one who will do things."

The new motor car designed for service on the Southern Pacific lines out of Portland, now on its way from Omaha, reached the Albina shops Tuesday, where it will have to undergo repairs before being placed in commission. The car traveled under its own power for a large part of the distance, but broke down near the state line and was towed the remainder of the way to Portland. As soon as the necessary repairs can be made, the car will be given a trial spin and will probably be put on the Hillsboro-Forest Grove run.

The youngest son of John Belling, of Forest Grove met with a serious accident last Saturday, which resulted in the breaking of his arm. With several boys he was playing in a barn loft, when he was pushed off the floor, falling nine feet.

FRANCHISE GRANTED

STREET RAILWAY TO PORTLAND

City Council Gives the United Railways Company the Use of Certain Streets in this City.

At an adjourned meeting of the council held Tuesday evening, the right-of-way was granted the United Railways Company to operate a street railway through the city of Hillsboro, and we are informed that the route given is acceptable to the company, though a change is made from the route originally asked for by the company. The streets over which the line will be built are: West along Main street to Second, east on Second to Base Line, along Base Line to the city limits, and the whole length of First street.

If the company is satisfied with this change in the plan, and we understand that the company's chief engineer, Mr. Taylor, who was present at the meeting, says it is, the people of Hillsboro should rejoice and give the United Railways Company all the encouragement possible. It means much to this city and the whole of Washington county.

Prohi's Make a Platform.
At a meeting of the prohibitionists of Oregon held in Portland Friday, the following resolution was passed at the convention during the afternoon:

"We the prohibitionists of Oregon in convention assembled, this 13th day of April, 1906, do hereby reaffirm our allegiance to the National Prohibition party, and endorse the national platform of 1904.

We also pledge our support to the present local option law of the state as against the alleged amendment proposed by the Liquor Dealers' association, and we endorse the proposed amendment to give the right of franchise to women."

Talk From Sea to Sea.
San Francisco, April 16.—David C. St. Charles, an engineer, residing at 616 Folsom street, has made possible telephonic communication from this city to New York. What the so-called repeater has done for telegraphy, St. Charles' invention, it is now said, has done for the telephone.

"The combining effort of the echo in nature with the sounding-board of my favorite violin furnished the clew to the secret," says St. Charles. These fundamental principles, along with 20 years in charge of the dynamos and batteries in this division of the Postal Telegraph Company, have been the working basis of St. Charles' experiments.

"The invention is a complete success," said Superintendent John W. Glass, of the Pacific States Telephone Company, "and it has a tremendous value. I simply ridiculed the idea at first, but the actual demonstration at which I assisted convinced me thoroughly. The trial lasted three hours, and removed all doubts."

There is cause for general congratulation that the bill to free denaturalized alcohol from the revenue tax has been favorably reported by the ways and means committee in the house of representatives. Presumably it will pass the house, but the question is will it pass the senate? The Standard Oil company does not control the manufacture of alcohol. It does control kerosene and gasoline and if denaturalized alcohol is freed from tax it will very materially interfere with the kerosene and gasoline business. The Standard Oil company has some very influential and close friends in the senate who are very kind in the matter of taking care of corporations and corporate interests. The bill is in the interest of the people. That much is certain and perhaps therein it differs from the United States senate. The vote on the measure in that body will be closely scrutinized to discover the men who respond to that influence.—The Dalles Chronicle.

All smart, up-to-date women of to-day, know how to bake, wash, sing and to play. Without these talents a wife is N. O. Unless she takes Rocky Mountain Tea.

Young man, did you ever put your arms around your dear old mother, tell her that you love her and are grateful for the tears she has shed and the prayers she has offered for you? She may think that you love her without you assuring her that you do, but it costs you but little effort to tell her and your words may bring more joy and sunshine to her heart than you ever dreamed of. Some young men will pay two dollars for a rig to ride three hours with a seventy-five cent girl and tell her all the nice things they can think of that are true, and more that are not true, and don't spend five cents or five minutes in a year to show their old mother that they care anything for her.—Ex.

When Billy was three years old his mother bought him a pair of short duck pants. The first time they were washed they shrank badly. Billy was fat, but his mother wedged him into the trousers—against his protest. Billy went out to play, but in a few minutes returned. "Mamma," he said, "I can't wear these pants, they are too tight, tighter than my skin." "Oh, no, they're not, Billy," replied his mother, "nothing could be tighter than your skin." "Well these pants are, because I can sit down in my skin, but I can't in these pants."

TO THE

People of Washington County

Mr. C. E. Kindt has had printed and is engaged in circulating an anonymous circular, intended to injure my candidacy. It is quite long, but the substance of it is that my refusal to support free silver, in 1896, was because Mr. Tongue was elected to congress and I wanted to get his law business.

It is easy, of course, for a corrupt mind to imagine bad motives in another. The truth is, as the records will show, that I made a fight in the democratic convention, in 1896, for the gold standard, and against free silver, before Mr. Tongue was either nominated or elected to congress. Free silver democrats in Portland wrote letters to Washington County asking the democrats not to send me to the state convention, because I was a gold man.

I talked with many people in this county, both democrats and republicans, long before the convention, endeavoring to convince them that free silver was a delusion and a snare. Furthermore, my books will show that my law business, in 1895 and 1896, amounted to $5,000.00 a year, so it is foolish to say that I left the democratic party for the sake of getting more business.

Now, as to motive behind this matter: About 1896 or 1897 it happened that I was a member of the grievance committee of the Oregon State Bar Association. Charges were filed against Mr. Kindt, by his own uncle, to the effect that he had manufactured false affidavits, forged his grandfather's name, and had been guilty of lots of other disreputable practices, in endeavoring to defraud his grandfather's estate out of the pitiful sum of $150, and this while acting as attorney for the estate.

Upon investigation we found the charges to be true. We filed charges against him in the Supreme Court of this State; a trial was had, and he was disbarred from further practice in the courts of this State, and that judgment is still in force.

He is now trying to get even with me by circulating these anonymous and scurrilous circulars. Whether he is being paid for doing so by one of my opponents, I cannot say. I only know that he is distributing Mr. Tooze' picture with the circular.

Mr. Kindt tried to get the matter contained in this anonymous circular published in The Hillsboro Independent, but it was refused under any consideration, although he asked the editor to name his price for it. This, in itself, indicates that some one VERY MUCH INTERESTED in this congressional campaign is supplying the necessary money to carry out this contemptible scheme, because if he has any means of his own, no one has ever found it out, and many of his creditors would be only to glad to make such a discovery.

As to my relations with the late Congressman Tongue, it is only necessary for me to say that, during his lifetime, he and I were warm personal friends, and one of the first persons to solicit me to become a candidate for congress was his oldest son and former law partner, and who is now one of my most enthusiastic supporters in this district.

If my reputation in this county, where I have lived for the past 23 years, is not a sufficient answer to an attack from this man, it would be useless for me to add anything to what I have already said.
