THE ANNUAL SCHOOL ELECTION

FINANCES IN GOOD CONDITION

Old Members Hold Over with but one Exception. But one ballot is cast.

The annual school meeting Monday afternoon was more largely attended than the school meetings usually are. District Clerk, Peter Boscow read the minutes of the meeting of December 25, 1905, which stated that a four mill tax was levied by the unanimous vote of all present. The clerk's annual report was read as follows:

No cash on hand at the last annual meeting. Receipts received from county treasurer from district tax, $5,478.48; county superintendent from county school fund, $624.60; state school fund $826.20; received for tuition $165.75. Total, $9,401.42.

Disbursements: Janitors salary, $226.08; paid for teachers wages, $4,452.16; fuel and school supplies, $416.18; paid for new addition and school supplies, etc., $2306.39; paid on principal and interest of bonds and warrants, $1,222.94; paid for clerk's salary, $75.00; total, $8699.64. Cash on hand, $701.77.

The term of R. H. Greer, who has been chairman of the board the past year, having expired; nominations were called for by Mr. Greer, for one director to fill vacancy.

The nominees for school director for three years were Mr. Edee, F. A. Bailey, A. S. Sholes, and R. H. Greer. But one ballot was taken, which stood, eleven votes for Dr. Bailey, five for Mr. Greer, two for Mr. Sholes; one for Mr. Edee. Peter Boscow was unanimously re-elected clerk for another year. In a little speech Mr. Boscow said he enjoyed the work of keeping the books and it also afforded him much pleasure to pay the funds out to the teachers, as they always smiled upon receipt of their checks.

A NEW O. R. & N. TRAIN.
Upper Columbia River Given Service That Is Appreciated.

The new local Upper Columbia river train put on by the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company, May 20, will do much toward attracting tourists to points along the river between Portland and The Dalles. The new train leaving Portland as it does, at 8:15 a. m., and arriving at Portland at 6:00 p. m., the same day, gives one an opportunity to spend the day at some of the delightful places along the Upper Columbia river, and permits them to return home the same day. The train is made up of baggage car and coaches, and stops at all points in both directions so as to accommodate local travel as much as possible. The lightness of the train, however, permits it to run at a high rate of speed between stations, so that even with stops, good time is made.

There are many beautiful places along the river, such as, Rooster Rock, Latourelle, Multnomah Falls, Boneville, at which a day's outing and picnic can be enjoyed to the utmost and this new service makes it possible to take such outings, whereas, in the past, when the service has been performed by heavy through trains, it has not been possible to do this.

Columbia Southern passengers instead of waiting at Biggs, which is unattractive, are taken to The Dalles promptly where they await the train for Portland, coming in on No. 1, as at present, or taking the local, as they may desire.

Packing House Scandal.

In the packing house bill the president will get all he demands. It is clearly the disposition of the committee for the inspection of the bill, to yield to the president, and Speaker Cannon, representing the committee has brought about an agreement between President Roosevelt and Wadsworth's committee. The committee recommended an annual appropriation of $3,000,000 to pay the cost of inspection. In his letter to Wadsworth the president says:

"Such a provision does not represent a desire to secure the constitutional rights of any man. It represents, doubtless, in some cases, honest, though mistaken convictions, in other cases it represents a deliberate purpose to interfere with the effective administration, by trying to provide that courts shall in reality do administrative work, when they shall be first to assert their inability to perform it. I wish to repeat that if this provision is enacted into a law, it will nullify the major part of the good which can be expected from the law. You say the packers want a rigid inspection law. If they do, they will insist upon the provision being taken out of this bill. I care not for the language of the bill. I want a bill that will force a rigid and thorough, not a sham inspection. I'll accept any change in the bill that will secure this end."

Washington, June 10.—With practical unanimity the house today adopted the substitute for the Beveridge amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill relating to meat inspection, the objectionable features of former amendments being eliminated and the amendment perfected to meet the wishes of the president. An effort was made to extend the time of debate, but Wadsworth, chairman of the committee on agriculture, desiring to get the bill into the conference as soon as possible, objected.

Thirty-fourth Annual Reunion.

The Thirty-fourth Annual Reunion of the Oregon Pioneer Association, which was held in Portland last week, was the most successful gathering the Association has ever held. A resolution was adopted asking the State Legislature to appropriate money at next winter's session, for the erection of a suitable building for the State Historical Society, and a Memorial building in honor of the Indian War Veterans. The new officers elected were: M. C. George, President; J. W. Lee, Vice-President; Geo. H. Himes, Secretary; Robt. A. Miller, Recording Sec.; Chas. E. Ladd, Treasurer; all residents of Portland.

The Nehalem beeswax has again been officially declared beeswax, this time by Professor Bradley, who has made a chemical analysis of the substance. The "ozorite school," as the professor terms those who insist that the substance is ozorite and not beeswax, need not despair, however. Ever since the first specimens were picked up on the beach there have been theorists who professed to believe that this "ozorite" was deposited in the form of candies, with images and hieroglyphics engraved on some of the pieces. They will come to the front again with a denial that the stuff is beeswax, and those who would not recognize beeswax when they see it and taste it may believe them. Others will not. "Ozorite" may be found on Nehalem Beach, but beeswax is also found there, and few, if any, who have found the beeswax have ever discovered any ozorite.—Oregonian.

PHARMACY CHANGED HANDS

TAKES POSSESSION AT ONCE.

J. W. Bailey sells to R. L. Greear last Thursday. Now called "Hillsboro Pharmacy."

Another business change was inaugurated last Thursday evening, too late for announcement in last week's issue. J. W. Bailey sold out his interest in The Pharmacy to Roy L. Greear. Mr. Greear bought a half interest in the business a year ago last March, though it was not generally known until recently. It is an old established business, it is up-to-date and has been conducted along prosperous lines and the new proprietor is to be congratulated. Mr. Greear took a two years' Pharmaceutical course at the Oregon Agricultural College, and has had three years of practical work in the business. Mr. Bailey will remain with the store until the first of the month when a first-class registered Pharmacist will be employed to take charge. The name "Bailey's Pharmacy" has been changed to the "Hillsboro Pharmacy," the name it has been known by for many years. Just what business Mr. Bailey will enter has not yet been announced. He probably will take a long vacation this summer, and get back into the harness in the fall. Mr. Greear's many friends are glad to see him in business for himself and he has his best wishes for his future success.

Announcement.

Having purchased the Bailey's Pharmacy; I wish to thank the old patrons for their liberal patronage and to invite a continuance of the same. The business will be conducted along the same lines as heretofore and our best treatment will be extended to all. All debts of the firm have been assumed by me and accounts due the store is payable to me. I will ask those who were indebted to the old firm, to call at an early date in order that the accounts may be closed. I also wish to state that a first class registered Pharmacist will have charge of the prescription department. Your prescriptions and family receipts are respectfully solicited.

ROY L. GREEAR.

Hillsboro, June 18, 1906.

Notice.

I have this day sold the business, stock and accounts of the Pharmacy to Roy L. Greear. All accounts are payable to Mr. Greear and he assumes any debts the store might have.

I wish to thank all my customers for their past patronage which I have valued very highly.

J. W. BAILEY.

Hillsboro, June 14, 1906.

Chautauqua, July 10 to 22.

We are in receipt of a complete program of the Thirteenth Annual Chautauqua Assembly, that meets July 10-22 at Gladstone Park, Oregon City, for the greatest celebration in its history. Included in the array of talent which has been engaged for this year's assembly are Captain Jack Crawford, the Poet-Scout, who has a national reputation; Leon Harrison, the most popular Jewish Rabbi in America; Martha Gielow, who has made a fortune with her "old plantation songs and stories;" Miss Belle Kearney called the greatest woman orator ever produced by the south; Professor Baumgardt, who has the knack of making astronomy popular and Mark Beal, a reader and impersonator said to be the peer of any in America.

The musical program never was excelled in Oregon. It includes the leading soloists of the state, and a chorus of one hundred voices and twenty-one instrumentalists in Hayden's Oratorio, "The Creation," on Saturday, July 14, and a second great evening of oratorio from Mendelssohn on Saturday evening, July 21, all under the direction of Prof. W. Gifford Nash. No one can afford to lose the daily schools of art, music, elocution, domestic science, history and literature, to say nothing of classes in physical culture, kindergarten, bible study, and the various special departments conducted by clubs and colleges.

When you consider that all this is covered by an admission fee of $2.00 for a season ticket, including camping privileges, it is not strange that year after year, many hundreds of tents are set up in Gladstone Park. It will be two weeks of pleasure, recreation and instruction. It is worth the while of all to get acquainted with the benefits and enjoyment that is to be derived from a two weeks' encampment on the Chautauqua grounds. It cultivates, invigorates and refreshes every side of you.

An exchange in speaking of a deceased citizen said: "We knew him as old Ten Per Cent—the more he made the less he spent—the more he got the more he lent—he's dead—we don't know where he went—but it is his soul to heaven was sent—he'll own the harps and charge 'em rent."

Newspaper advertising has a twofold benefit. It helps the man who thus gives publicity to the advantages he offers the buyers, and it creates a favorable impression of a city by showing to all readers of the paper the live, wide-awake character of its business men.—Eugene Guard.

Two years ago the total cherry crop Cove Oregon, was 18,000 boxes and this season the crop, anticipated, 35,000 boxes or about 35 car loads. The varieties are principally Royal Ann, Black Republican, Bing and Lambert.—Hood River Glazier.

There has been some complaint of curl leaf affecting strawberry plants this year, but the damage has not been very noticeable. It is caused by an insect or worm that spins its cocoon on the leaf, causing it to curl and wither. If it should become prevalent, a spraying with Bordeaux mixture would kill the pest.

In the general lines of trade women buy most of the goods for consumers. Get the women to come to your store, get women to approve of your place of business, your way of conducting it and your goods, and you will have the bulk of trade.—Oregon Tradesman.

Sheridan, Wyo., June 14.—Registration for the drawing for the ceded lands on the Crow Indian reservation in Montana began here at 9 o'clock today. The registration is being conducted by W. F. Staley, an agent of the General Land Office, and three clerks.

At the time of opening the doors of the registration office about 200 people were in line. No special trains bearing homeseekers have arrived yet.

Ample provisions have been made to care for the people who come, and special efforts have been made to put the city in good sanitary condition. Perfect order and good feeling prevails.

CELEBRATE AT BEAVERTON

MUSIC BY HILLSBORO BANDS.

Grand street parade. Speaking in the morning. Sports in the afternoon.

Beaverton is going to come forward with the biggest celebration that that end of the county has ever had. This movement has been put off until it was learned for sure that Hillsboro would not celebrate, and then preparations were commenced for the biggest day of the year. Both Hillsboro Bands will be at Beaverton all day, and the neighboring towns have all made arrangements to go there for the day. A big barbecue and a first class baseball game are going to be some of the features of the day, to say nothing of the fireworks in the evening. Cash prizes will be given for all sports; races for both the bicycle and horses will be held on the one-fourth mile oval recently made for this occasion. Big posters are being issued and will soon be out. Train connections are such that Hillsboro ought to turn out strong for Beaverton. Dancing with first class music and good management will be a feature of the evening's entertainment, and the concerts by the two bands throughout the day is not to be missed. A big parade in the morning is contemplated in which the business firms of the place will be represented by floats. Speeches and recitations, including the reading of the Declaration of Independence will form part of the program for the morning. In fact the various committees are doing everything in their power to make this, the biggest celebration in Washington County this year. Everyone come and spend the day.

First class line of Boy's and Men's heavy work shoes. Will stand all kinds of wear and tear. J. C. Greear.

Weather Report.

An excess of cloudiness prevailed during the week, and while showers occurred nearly every day in the northwest counties and on two or three days in the southern and eastern sections of the State, the total amount of rainfall was not excessive, and all rivers and streams have slowly fallen. The mornings averaged from one to two degrees below normal, but the afternoons, on account of cloudy weather, were much cooler than usual, especially in the Willamette valley and the coast counties. The soil is well moistened, and a spell of bright, warm weather is now desired. No frosts occurred and the winds, while high in a few localities, were not damaging; their prevailing direction was from the southwest.

The Women Suffrage amendment failed of election but if the voters of this state could have known the refining effect these women had upon polling places they would have changed their minds that women at the ballot has a tendency to deteriorate the sex. In fact opposite in the case. Their presence at the polls elevated the standard of the men. According to police authorities the election on June 4, was the most orderly in Portland, than at any time during its history, and there were from one to half a dozen ladies at every polling place. There is another fact well worth remembering. There wasn't a woman at the election booths who received a penny for her labors, and many of them were there for many weary hours. In comparison it is a safe bet that their was not a man at the polling places giving out cards and literature but what was there in the interest of some candidate or organization who paid him for his services.—Portland Labor Press.

The resignation of A. L. Craig, general passenger agent of the O. R. & N. Co., to leave the Harriman service to become passenger traffic manager of the Great Northern has been formally accepted, and he will leave the O. R. & N. Co., at the end of this month. William McMurray, of Portland, Mr. Craig's assistant, is looked upon as his possible successor. In connection with the appointment of Mr. Craig there is a rumor that C. E. Stone, general passenger agent of the Great Northern, is to leave the employ of that company. Mr. Stone was but recently elevated to the position of general passenger agent of the Great Northern, and was the natural successor to Mr. Whitney.

Rumor isife and conjectures are numerous as to the significance of the big wharf and warehouse now under construction at Bay City, a small village five miles north of Tillamook on Tillamook bay. The wharf is several hundred feet long and has a wagon-way, twenty-four feet in width. It connects Bay City with the deepest part of the channel. There is a general belief that the construction is for the accommodation of railroad material to be shipped to this section and to be used in the building of some one of the proposed railroads from the east. The wharf and warehouse are to be completed by the early part of July.

Mrs. L. W. Sitton, chairman of the school board, in Portland was re-elected at the annual school election without opposition. Mrs. Sitton polled more votes than were cast upon the question of consolidation of the various districts.
