ELECTION RETURNS.

will be a republican majority of 20,000 to 40,000.

The democrats gained one Congressman, J. M. Adair, in the eighth district. The result of the eleventh and twelfth are still in doubt.

DEMOCRATS WIN OKLAHOMA

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 6.—The constitution of the new State of Oklahoma will be written by the democrats with a majority of the delegates to the constitutional convention. The democratic vote in the convention tonight is estimated variously at from 73 to 80.

The Osage Nation elected two democrats. Indians, as a rule, voted the democratic ticket.

TEXAS IS ALL DEMOCRATIC

Austin, Tex., Nov. 6.—The total vote cast today did not exceed 400,000 votes all told, some 135,000 of which represent the combined vote of the republicans, the socialists, the socialists labor and the prohibition party. The balance represents the democratic vote.

The next legislature will be democratic overwhelmingly, there being only a slight chance for the republicans to get a member in the lower house out of a possible 128.

All the democratic congressmen were elected by good majorities.

PRAY ELECTED TO CONGRESS

Helena, Mont., Nov. 7.—Returns up to midnight from all sections of the state are incomplete, but they indicate the election of Pray, rep., to congress, by probably 1500. Returns are very slow on the legislative ticket, but the indications are the republicans will have a majority on joint ballot. Smith, rep., is elected associate judge by probably 5000.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP INDIANA.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—From scattering reports indications are that Indiana has gone republican by from 45,000 to 55,000. The election of the entire republican state ticket is conceded. Marion county went republican by 50,000, the democrats electing one county candidate and perhaps two. The legislature will be republican.

NEW MEXICO VOTES FOR STATEHOOD

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 8.—Partial returns from seven counties out of 25 in New Mexico give joint statehood a majority of 2000. Reports so far received indicate that the territory will go for joint statehood by from 4000 to 7000. Early reports indicate election of Andrews, republican, delegate to congress.

ALL DEMOCRATS WIN IN GEORGIA

The contest in Georgia was in the First congressional district, where Edwards, dem., was elected by a plurality of about 4000. The three candidates for judges of the newly-created court of appeals were unanimously elected.

TWO IN DOUBT IN NORTH CAROLINA

All republicans were defeated in North Carolina. The vote was light, but the state is estimated to be democratic by about 60,000. The Eighth district is doubtful and the Tenth close, with the democrats in the lead.

ALABAMA GOES DEMOCRATIC

Alabama's vote was remarkably light. The entire democratic ticket with the exception of sheriff of Walker county was elected and the legislature will not have more than three republicans and populists.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP WISCONSIN.

The republican state ticket, headed by Governor James C. Davidson swept the state in today's election by an estimated plurality of at least 40,000 over John A. Aylward, the democratic candidate, and his colleagues.

ARKANSAS IS ALL DEMOCRATIC.

The democratic candidates for congress were elected in every district of Arkansas. The vote was light in all districts except the Fourth, where a hard fight was made.

RHODE ISLAND DEMOCRATIC

Incompetent returns indicate that Mayor Higgins of Pawtucket, democrat, has carried the state for governor by 6000.

ALL DEMOCRATS WIN IN FLORIDA.

All the democratic candidates in Florida are elected. The legislature is probably unanimously democratic.

OHIO REPUBLICAN BY 75,000.

Chairman Dick reiterated his claim of a plurality of 75,000 for Carmi Thompson, republican candidate for secretary of state, although the committee has received complete returns from only 59 out of 88 counties in the state.

It begins to look as if the motor cars for the West side is soon to be a reality. A car was built at Omaha about a year ago for the Southern Pacific's West side run and tested all the way from the Nebraska city and it proved satisfactory until it reached the mountain grades, when it was found a failure and sent back East. Now the Southern Pacific has a motor car that will do the work and as soon as it arrives from the East will be put on the Hillsboro run. Concerning this new car the Telegram says: General Manager J. P. O'Brien, head of the Harriman lines in the Northwest, is arranging for the assignment of two new motor cars to the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon. Until he returns from New York the time of the arrival of the equipment will not be known. Two cars have been experimented with on the West side and Yumbill divisions, but were found unsatisfactory. In the new cars, it is said, the defects which were found in those tried are remedied, and with greater horse-power and seating capacity the new coaches are expected to prove successful. The cars will probably be first operated on the Oswego route, but it is understood they are intended ultimately for service on Fourth street, when the Harriman interests will route freight over a high bridge at Oswego to a connection with the main line at Milwaukee. A regular passenger service will be maintained as far as Forest Grove via of Hillsboro, and the motor cars are thought to be the equipment best suited to the travel. A remarkable advantage gained in the engine of the new model is that the car speed is almost entirely controlled by the throttle, the same as a locomotive; even on grades the speed can be varied from three to seventy miles an hour by means of throttle and spark levers only, or it can be started on what is known as high speed. The engine is connected to the axle, although it is preferable to use the gears in putting the car in motion, but once in motion the gears are thrown out and the speed of the car entirely controlled by the engine. This makes the operation of the car simple, and the economy in the consumption of gasoline and reduced duty on the transmission is such that the practicability of these cars for every-day heavy service is demonstrated. The car is finished in Cuban mahogany. Ventilation is obtained from the use of air intakes and the exhaust ventilators. The car weighs 61,000 pounds, but this weight can be reduced to 55,000 pounds in subsequent cars.

County Judge Goodin is getting legal advice from Deputy District Attorney Tongue as to what should be done in the matter of the Washington county tax roll for the present year. The exemption of $300 was allowed and the claim that this will invalidate the assessment is receiving consideration. It is not thought that the legality of the roll can be attacked, for, officials argue, it simply means that in each instance there is $300 worth of property which is not on the roll. A sheriff's assessment can cure this, but on top of this is the fact that there are many not on the taxroll because the exemption covers the sum total of many parties' property. The county assessor already had his assessment made, so far as the field work was concerned, before the Supreme Court decision against the exemption. The assessor therefore wrote the assessment with the exemption allowed and left it to the Board of Equalization to cure, if that body thought it proper to annul the exemptions. The board, however, let the assessment stand. Even with the exemptions allowed the tax roll is the largest in point of valuation ever written in the history of the county.

County Correspondence

We want a reporter in every town.

Pleasant Hill.

Regular Correspondent. What queer feelings come over us at times. The result was that the honorable writer on the hill was dormant last week. Too bad, or good, for the wor by readers.

Miss Audrey Templeman is at home once more.

As usual Hallow'en pranks were the style on that moonlight night.

Rather bad weather for potato digging, but why can't people be satisfied with the fine Oregon weather?

Several attended the latest Sherwood dance.

Did you speak of porch? No, but you can see enough and sufficient at Will Dodson's new house. Now, Will vowed to have a smoke coming out the chimney on November 1st. Well, the house was not completed, so he carried a "base burner" over and had a "smoke." He even surprised himself, for there will be two smokes some day. Just get a photo of Miles Standish's old house, then see if W. Dodson's cottage does not resemble it in architecture.

A large walnut farm will soon be seen on the Hill.

Of course Aunt Sally's geography may be a little out of date. I believe Pleasant Hill has been on the map for twenty years or more. If she will but step on a train she will soon be within three miles of the finest "Hill" in the country. Our mountain view is grand. She might get out of Washington county while visiting Pleasant Hill. She might find Firdale a little easier. But then, how can we help that? We don't pretend to be such a flourishing, newsw place as Firdale.

Mr. Templeman came home Sunday and brought Mr. Murphy with him.

The writer has been hibernated for the winter, so it is with difficulty that these few lines are sent. Any one wishing to purchase a couple of draft animals will find such on the ridge, there being for sale one Missouri mule and a trusty old Dobbin.

Sherwood.

Regular Correspondent. The Toelle orchestra company furnished music for the Workman dance on Saturday night last. The management have announced that a grand masked ball will be given here again on Thanksgiving evening.

Miles Haynes, a carpenter made miscalculation in distance while using a hand-saw Friday and gashed his arm instead of the timber he intended to sever.

J. W. Day, Jr., has taken over the butcher shop in the rear of the hotel and is now conducting the same in connection with the hotel business.

The first brick building in Sherwood is being erected on the hotel block and calculated for the saloon business. It will be one-story in height and 37x57 feet in dimensions, the brick being principally obtained from the remnants of the old pioneer brick works across the street.

Saturday last was the annual exhibition day of Sherwood Grange No. 272, P. of H., but owing to the state of the weather and the general apathy manifested on behalf of the members, but few articles were on exhibition, the result being a signal failure. Probably this feature in connection with the society will hereafter be abandoned altogether.

Jay Baker, one of the Biggs' bondmen, has apprised the authorities of his determination to withdraw from the same, but was informed that it would be necessary for him to surrender the party or file a new bond in lieu of the old one, before he could be released from the obligation.

M. Fitch has leased the dwelling west of the drug store building and will move his family therein in a few days, they having arrived from the East but a short time ago.

Miss Inez Eby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eby residing on a farm west of Middleton, was married Saturday to Charles Haynes, of Sherwood, son of Mrs. Haynes, proprietor of a boarding house in this place.

McDonald & Wood, representatives of the Columbia Life & Trust Company, of Portland, a new home insurance company, are soliciting in this part of the country at present. An Oregon institution of this nature should have preference with intending investors—"all things being equal."

Hop buyers are practically out of the market, owing it is alleged to the dilatory actions on part of railroad officials in not supplying cars enough to move the crop. Hop farmers here, having their crops on hand yet unsold are gloomy and despondent over the present situation.

A number of onion-growers of this vicinity met here one evening last week, the purpose of which was to form a branch of the Onion Growers' Association. But little information was obtained in regard to the proceedings. However, an organization was effected, president, secretary and other officers elected, also delegates to the state meeting, which it is understood will convene in Portland in the near future. In the union of interests, strength is the result, and the onion growers will no doubt greatly profit by the consolidation.

There was a queer circumstance happened here on the mountain side a week or so ago. We did not make an item of it last week, as we had not learned the truth of the matter. It seems that some one tried to break in Frank Miller's house by the way of a chamber window. A ladder had been brought from the orchard and set up against the house, just under the window. The person or person (they thought there were two of them) climbed the ladder and got one arm through the window. By that time the occupant of the room (who was a lady) gave a terrific scream which brought Mr. and Mrs. Miller upstairs in short metre. But before the man could be located he was out of sight. They thought he jumped from the top of the ladder to the ground. This is the second time that something of this kind has happened in the neighborhood. It will go hard with the man, whoever it is, if he is ever found out.

Aunt Sally would like some information as to the location of Pleasant Hill and Firdale. So would I, but I imagine Pleasant Hill is over beyond Sherwood somewhere. Some may not know where Mountain Side is but it exists where it has been for the last thirty-one years. Thirty-one years ago last spring a school house was built near the fort of the Cheshalem Mountain, on the north side on the old Dayton road, on C. E. Brook's farm. The school house was named Mountain Side and since then the whole neighborhood has been called Mountain Side. Scholls was at that time called Scholls' Ferry. It's native place was across the Tualatin river at the old Scholls farm. But it has kept moving up toward Mountain Side step by step until it has got almost in the same neighborhood. When Scholls' Ferry first started to move from the river it Firdale.

Regular Correspondent. Here we are again with lots of rain in the past week. We have enough to do for a while.

Most of the plowing and sowing is done about here now. Uncle Pearson isn't quite through sowing yet. He, also, has a very large barn which has been some four years in construction, that he would like to finish before there is any more rain.

There is being a good deal of cider made these rainy days around here.

Potato digging will be going on at full blast as soon as the ground dries enough to be worked. Wm. Haase has a good share of his already dug. There is quite a lot of speculation as to how much the potatoes will bring. Some, who said they would sell whenever they could get fifty cents, are changing their minds.

Our saw-mill is putting out lots of lumber these days.

Hallow'en results were to be seen in every direction the next morning. One of the favorite sports seemed to be rolling logs into the road. Some work was also done at the school house.

Fred and Henry Haase went down to the Moring sale on Monday but reported everything out of sight so came home with all the money they started with.

Louis Ennes and son James were to town last Saturday.

Miss Tarwater is visiting with Miss May Ennes now.

Itty Watt.

Jack Town.

Regular Correspondent. The auction at the home of Chas. Moring Monday was well attended, and every thing went at top notch prices.

Bertha and Arthur Landess visited with S. E. Olson and family Sunday.

We are certainly having regular Oregon weather—rain, rain, and nothing but rain makes us pity the poor Eastern folks who haven't been here long enough to grow weas.

Zenas Olson commenced school Monday last.

Rev. Jas. Campbell preached at the Christian church at Farmington Sunday.

Ray Scoggin has rented the Chas. Moring residence for the coming winter. Jacktownite.

Tigardville. special Correspondent.

George Behne and family have moved into their elegant new residence on Main street which has just been completed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Crockett and children from Portland, spent the latter part of the week with her parents.

Prof. Ball has been quite sick the last week with tonsillitis and Mrs. Mamie Tigard is teaching in his place.

A. W. Smith spent Sunday with his family.

E. Quackenbush is having his Willow Brook farm improved by putting a new wire fence around it, which looks much better than the old rail fences of "ye olden times."

Quite a number of the young folks from here attended the dance at Sherwood last Saturday night.

Mrs. F. Behne has been on the sick list the last week.

Beaverton

Regular Correspondent. The Hallow'en surprise party on Miss Cora Tefft October 31st was a complete surprise and a very enjoyable event. The evening was spent in music and games after which refreshments were served. About twenty young people enjoyed the evening with Miss Tefft.

W. E. Anderson, of Coos county and brother of Herman Anderson of this place, has been paying relatives and old acquaintances a visit during the last two weeks.

Geo. Thyng and Aug Rossi visited Hillsboro last Monday.

A "sheet and pillow case" party was given Hallow'en, at the residence of J. W. Barnes by the members of the Long-fellow club. All report a very enjoyable evening.

The good people of Hillsboro and perhaps Forest Grove also, do not seem to be willing to allow this part of the county to enjoy any advantage of a train schedule which would permit of people holding positions in Portland and still maintaining their residence here. It took quite a bit of rustling on our part down this way, to have a train put on which would land people in Portland before 8 o'clock and bring them home again after quitting work at 6 o'clock and now just as such a service is established and people begin to make arrangements to take advantage of it, a few real estate men, etc., whose office hours are over at 4 or 5 o'clock and just because they are a few minutes late to their "dinner" try to persuade the railroad company that a train leaving Portland after 6 is not necessary. It would seem that the real estate men would be the very men who would want such a schedule, but I guess when you touch them "where they live" that they are quite "selfish." However, "cheer up!" we may yet be able to get a train from Beaverton to Portland before 7 a. m., and returning as far as Beaverton after 6 o'clock. Then Hillsboro people will not need to worry over the leaving time.

Aunt Sally.

Tigardville.

George Behne and family have moved into their elegant new residence on Main street which has just been completed.

A Bad Break. At a banquet held in a room, the walls of which were adorned with many beautiful paintings, a well known college president was called upon to respond to a toast. In the course of his remarks, wishing to pay a compliment to the ladies present and designating the paintings with one of his characteristic gestures, he said, "What need is there of these painted beauties when we have so many with us at the table?"
