L. S. Nelson has been appointed regular agent of the Southern Pacific Railway at this point and is now in charge. He comes from Medford where he was generally liked and has already made a good impression on the patrons of the office here. He is a young man of pleasing appearance, courteous and accommodating, and will undoubtedly prove a satisfactory successor to Messrs. Hinchshaw and Tabke, which certainly takes a mighty good man to do. His family consists of himself, wife and baby.

First class line of Boy's and Men's heavy work shoes. Will stand all kinds of wear and tear.

Rev. Van Dyke and wife, visited with Treasurer Jackson and family last week Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. Van Dyke is a sister of Mr. Jackson and her husband is a missionary in Malasia, living between India and China, where he has been stationed for the past six years. He gave a lecture at the M. E. church Monday evening which was very interesting and instructive and had on exhibition some very rare curios from the field of his missionary work. He was granted a vacation about a year ago and will return to Malasia January 1, his wife returning with him. Mrs. Van Dyke was decessant at Eugene up to about six months ago, when on account of ill health, owing to the typhoid fever epidemic in that city, she gave up her position and went to San Francisco, where she married Mr. Van Dyke last June.

Dr. Price's White Flake Celery Food, the new Breakfast Cereal, at R. H. Greer's.

S. S. Barnes was passing a remonstrance Wednesday against Sunday theatres for Hillsboro, which was signed by quite a number of church people. We believe that the attendance at the Crescent next Sunday will settle the question of Sunday theatres for Hillsboro. If the seats are well filled, it will show that performances on the Sabbath are wanted, but it, on the other hand, the attendance is small, it will demonstrate that they are not wanted. This is a case for the people to settle themselves, and there should be no hard feelings about it. One man may believe a Sunday show is wrong, while another is equally as sure it is all right, and your presence or absence from the Crescent on Sunday evening, November 18th, will settle the matter with the management of that popular play house.

All kinds of nuts, the 1906 crop, at the Den of Sweets.

Cards are out announcing the marriage, on Sunday, November 25th, of William G. Hare and Miss Jennie Maud Greer. These young people are both well and favorably known in this city and their host of friends will wish them a joyous and prosperous matrimonial journey. They were both born in Washington county, were school-mates and have been more or less associated from childhood. The groom is a son of Hon. W. D. Hare, and the bride a daughter of R. H. Greer, both of whom came to Oregon about the same time and are pioneers here. Miss Greer has recently returned from an extended trip to Alaska, and Mr. Hare has just commenced his life's work as an attorney in this city. Business interests will prevent a wedding trip, and they will be at home to their friends at the Stewart place on Baseline street. The Independent joins with numerous friends in wishing the happy couple every happiness.

Something to be thankful for—Taffy at the Den of Sweets at 20 cents per pound.

On October 24th Eva K. Wilcox filed suit for divorce against her husband, Alfred Burdett Wilcox, and alleges that her husband is addicted to drugs, is a drunkard and has used her in a cruel and inhuman manner; that he has knocked her down and struck her without cause or provocation, and at one time threw a white wash brush at her, which struck her in the eye, severely injuring her, and other charges of a similar nature. She left the defendant in 1904, and is afraid he will do her bodily harm. She asks for a divorce and the custody of three children. Mr. Wilcox has just filed his answer to the complaint and alleges he has ever since and prior to his marriage been afflicted with a nervous complaint which has rendered him for a greater part of the time unable to properly care for himself without the assistance of a companion who could minister to his wants; that upon many occasions while he was suffering great physical agony on account of such complaint, the plaintiff has treated him in a cruel and inhuman manner by choking him and knocking him down and otherwise ill-treating him; has cursed him and called him vile names. She had him committed to an asylum and has made efforts to keep him confined therein, but that upon every such occasion he has been released, because he was not a subject for such an institution; he does not drink liquor or use drugs, excepting upon prescriptions furnished by a physician, and then only as directed. He denies every charge made against him and asks for a decree dismissing the proceedings and for his costs and disbursements of this action. The case will come up at the next term of the circuit court. Both parties live at Cornelius.

For your Holiday photos call on Pope at his new location nearly opposite The Independent office. Special inducements until after the holidays. Come soon, as it takes time to finish good work.

H. L. Tabke, who has been acting agent at the depot for several months, left on Tuesday for Whiteside, where he has been assigned temporarily. During his short stay in Hillsboro, Mr. Tabke made many friends, all of whom regret to have him leave. A petition was passed in the city some time ago and very generally signed to have him appointed as the regular agent here, but the company had other fields for him and refused to make the appointment. But it will be a satisfaction to him to know that he had the good will of the patrons of the Southern Pacific office while here.

Judge Goodin has been notified that Mrs. Anna Mack, of Farmington, who on October 25th was committed to the asylum from this county, died in that institution on Thursday of last week. Her mania was of a religious nature, something after the Holy Roller frenzy and the physicians who examined into her mental condition, gave it as their opinion that her case was incurable. Her daughter, Mrs. Charles Moring, who was examined for her sanity at the time her mother was, and who was permitted to go to visit a sister in Washington, is reported improving in health and will come out of the roller hallucination in time.

Albert and Lillian Dixon, of Forest Grove, were up before Judge Goodin last Monday to answer to the charge of neglecting their children, Levy, Hulda, Emma, Lawrence, Frank and Gertrude Dixon, and to show cause why they should not be taken away from the parents and given to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Oregon. The trial of the case lasted all the afternoon, when the Judge ordered that the children be restored to the parents for a period of thirty days, and if they or the older brothers and sisters of the minor child does not see that they are properly cared for, clothed and fed, then an order will be made surrendering the children to the Boys' and Girls' home. One of the conditions was that the father provide food and clothing, but he must live apart and away from his wife. This the husband and father readily promised to do. Mr. Dixon was represented by Judge Langley of Forest Grove and the Aid Society by Attorneys Bowman and Barrett and Mrs. W. E. Thorn, of this city.

Mrs. Pillsbury is showing a nice line of ladies' high grade leather hand-bags at tempting prices. Just the thing for a Christmas gift.

One morning last August dogs killed sixty chickens and wounded thirty more for Nelson Sanders, of Bethany, and he brought suit against John Berger, a neighbor, to recover the amount of damages. Mr. Sanders says that he saw a small rat terrier and a large Shepherd dog in the hen house. The former he captured, but the latter got away, and he claims the animal was the property of Mr. Berger, though there are several dogs of that breed in and around Bethany. The trial of the case came up before Justice Bagley and a jury last Friday, lasting all day and into the evening. The jury went out about eight o'clock and it was midnight when they were dismissed as no agreement could be reached, three being in favor of acquitting Mr. Berger from any damage and three favored making him pay for the chickens killed. The suit was hotly contested by Attorney Bump for Mr. Berger and Thos. H. Tongue for Mr. Sanders. Mr. Berger claims his dog was not away from home the night the chickens were killed and two of his little daughters swore they saw and petted the animal before 6 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Sanders at first thought the dog belonged to a Mr. Johnson, who lives near him, but Johnson proved that his dog was tied up that night, and for that matter every night. The case has been appealed.

A new line of plain and fancy stationery has just been received at the Hillsboro Pharmacy. Something to fit your purse.

Isaac Campbell and wife, who purchased the Carter place west of town, arrived Wednesday from Hamilton, S. D., to take possession of their new home.

G. H. Marsh, deputy clerk of the United States Court was transacting business at the court house last Saturday. He formerly lived at Forest Grove but now resides in Portland.

Claude Greear is having a basement made under his new house, which will greatly improve his property. He is at present living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Greear.

Prof. J. R. Powell has ordered lumber to erect a house on lots on First Street near Jefferson. He says the mills are behind in their orders or he would have had the structure under way by this time.

"As Told in the Hills" Company is playing to packed houses at the Empire in Portland this week. It comes to Hillsboro at the Crescent Theatre next Sunday evening for one performance, at 8:30. No Matinee.

Wm. Benson left Hillsboro Wednesday, taking the balance of his household effects with him. He will locate at Sellwood, where he is having a house built. He intends to erect several dwellings which he will rent.

Marshall Atkinson had a few of his guests from the local battle out on parade the first of the week. Coming across some bad cross walks they decided to repair the same, which was done with all the good grace that could be expected.

The change mentioned last week in the running of trains on the West Side was not made, though we got our authority for the statement from a good source. The table at the head of these columns is correct.

H. V. Belknap, son of Rev. L. F. Belknap, arrived in this city Wednesday evening and is visiting his parents. He is a registered pharmacist and has been employed at LaGrande for several years.

A Gross, who was here last winter and conducted a store on the corner of Main and Third street, has returned and rented the new building recently erected by W. J. Benson. He will open up soon with a full line of goods. See his announcement on another page.

It has been decided by the Crescent Theatre Management to have no Matinee on Sunday, but the regular play will be put on in the evening. This was decided upon after consultation with the management of the company now playing at the Empire in Portland.

Kuratli Bros. sold the Neimo property near Reedville to Wm. Hensley of Portland this week. The consideration is said to be $2,000. Mr. Hensley was formerly of Iowa where he was engaged in farming, and in traveling through this county was so well pleased, that he concluded to locate. He will go into the stock business.

Those interested in Literature will be pleased to learn that a book store has been opened by W. E. Wheeler, successor to L. M. Hoyt. Please call for your magazines and journals. We will send in your subscriptions for any you wish. We also carry high grade stationery, and intend to make this all that a book store should be. Corner Main & Third St.

The Morton greenhouse should be patronized by everyone in Hillsboro and vicinity wanting flowers. The house erected by Mr. Morton and son is an ornament and a desirable addition to this city and is full of growing plants, bulbs and other things to make a first-class greenhouse. If you will visit the place just north of the court house, you will be surprised to see how fine they have everything, and enjoy looking at the many flowers in bud and bloom.

Preparations are being made by the opera house management to give one of the good old-fashioned Thanksgiving dances on Thanksgiving Eve. Wednesday evening has been selected on account of many desiring to spend Thanksgiving out of town, and again there are a whole lot of people that might want to dance up an appetite for the Thanksgiving gobbler. Everybody is invited to come out and enjoy themselves. The music will be first class and the dance will be orderly in every respect.

The old saw mill west of town was the scene of much excitement last Saturday morning. Two small boys decided to settle their differences in the fist art, and our informant says that they were pretty much settled. With the aid of a few spectators they hammered and pummeled each other for eleven "rounds." As a result both seem satisfied. One is using a piece of beefsteak for an eyeglass while the other has a swelling on his head that he can hang his hat on. The youngsters wore 8-ounce gloves and stripped in true pugilist style. The sport seems to be very popular, as we are informed there will be another similar affair pulled off shortly.

On Wednesday R. W. Walker filed with the county clerk a petition asking for a writ of review of the proceedings of the Board of Equalization upon the assessment roll of Washington county for the year 1906. The complaint alleges that Assessor Wilcox assessed Mr. Walker's tillable land at $25 per acre, and his non-tillable land at $20 per acre. Chas. King, whose land adjoins Walker's, is assessed for tillable land at $55, and non-tillable at $17 per acre. The Tongue estate, also adjoining the Walker tract, is assessed for tillable land, $60, and $25 for non-tillable land, and Owen Murray, adjoining to and adjoining the lands of Mr. Walker, is assessed at the rate of $60 per acre for tillable and $24 per acre for non-tillable land.

Marshall Maddox, an employe of the O. R. & N., met with a serious accident last Tuesday by having his right hand crushed. He was here yesterday visiting friends, and went to the good Samaritan hospital in Portland last evening for treatment.

The stock of the Delta Drug Store was not moved across the street this week as we stated last week it would be, but has passed into the possession and control of Drs. Linklater and Tamesie. A third store would lessen the volume of business in each, and consequently reduce the clerk force which is needed to have business attended to promptly. J. P. Magruder, who is well and favorably known here, has been employed as clerk. See ad.

Lepschat-Garrigus.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Lepschat, four miles north of Hillsboro, November 14th, at high noon occurred the wedding of Mr. R. F. Lepschat and Miss Mary F. Garrigus. About twenty-five guests witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. L. F. Belknap, of Hillsboro. The bride and groom were the recipients of a number of valuable presents. After the ceremony a bountiful dinner was served, after which the happy pair departed on the evening train for Portland.

Fruit Grower's Meeting.

There will be a meeting for fruit growers at the court house in Hillsboro, on Friday, November 16, at 1:30 p. m. All fruit growers and all others who are interested in good fruit are cordially invited to be present. We hope for a good turnout and a profitable meeting. We have not arranged for any regular program, but have asked a number to be present and take part in the meeting. Prof. Lewis, of Corvallis and perhaps James Withycombe, Mr. Atwell, Col. Haynes and W. E. Newell. We wish to organize a strong society at Hillsboro, which will take hold of the fruit industry with a will. This will mean clean orchards and good fruit, all of which can be had if we will.

W. R. HARRIS,
County Fruit Inspector.

The Congregational ladies were entertained by Mrs. H. V. Gates Wednesday afternoon. About fifty ladies enjoyed the interesting program and dainty lunch, provided by the committee. Each one present donated an apron or its equivalent for the benefit of the aid society.
