

MAYOR OF SUNBURY

Says Peruna Is a Good Medicine.

Hon. C. C. Brooks, mayor of Sunbury, Ohio, also attorney for Farmers' bank and Sunbury Building and Loan Co., writes:

"I have the utmost confidence in the virtue of Peruna. It is a great medicine. I have used it and I have known many of my friends who have obtained beneficial results from its use. I cannot praise Peruna too highly."

HON. C. C. BROOKS.

There are a host of petty ailments which are the direct result of the weather.

This is more true of the excessive heat of summer and the intense cold of winter, but it is partly true of all seasons of the year.

Whether it be a cold or a cough, a catarrh of the head or bowel complaint, whether the liver be affected or the kidneys, the cause is very liable to be the same.

The weather slightly deranges the mucous membranes of the organs and the result is some functional disease.

Peruna has become a standby in thousands of homes for minor ailments of this sort.

AWFUL ATTACKS OF PAIN.

A Most Dreadful Case of Kidney Trouble and How It Was Cured.

Thomas N. McCullough, 321 South Weber St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "For twelve or fifteen years I was suffering frequent attacks of pain in the back and kidneys that lasted for three weeks at a time. I would be unable to turn in bed. The urine was in a terrible condition, at times a complete stoppage occurring. I began with Dean's Kidney Pills, and soon felt better. Keeping on, I found complete freedom from kidney trouble. The cure has been permanent; I owe my good health to Dean's Kidney Pills."

SKIN DISEASES

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure, fresh and healthy, the skin will be soft, smooth and free from blemishes, but when some acid humor takes root in the circulation its presence is manifested by a skin eruption or disease. These humors get into the blood, generally because of an inactive or sluggish condition of the members of the body whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse matter of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and soon the circulation becomes charged with the acid poison. The blood begins to throw off the humors and acids through the pores and glands of the skin, producing Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin eruptions of various kinds. Eczema appears, usually with a slight redness of the skin followed by pustules from which there flows a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, face, arms and legs, though other parts of the body may be affected. In Tetter the skin dries, cracks and bleeds; the acid in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, which are intended to keep it soft and pliant, causing a dry, feverish condition and giving it a hard, leathery appearance. Acne makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and black heads, while Psoriasis comes in scaly patches on different parts of the body. One of the worst forms of skin trouble is Salt Rheum; its favorite point of attack is the scalp, sometimes causing baldness. Poison Oak and Ivy are also disagreeable types of skin disease. The humor producing the trouble lies dormant in the blood through the winter to break out and torment the sufferer with the return of Spring. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and removes the humors so that the skin instead of being irritated and diseased, is nourished by a supply of fresh, healthy blood. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., while they soothe the itching caused by skin affections, can never cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of foreign matter and restores the blood to its normal, pure condition, thereby permanently curing every form of skin affection. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write. S. S. S. is for sale at all first class drug stores.

I suffered with Eczema for forty years and could find nothing to cure me until I tried S. S. S. I suffered intensely with the itching and burning, and the pustules would come from which there flowed a sticky fluid; crusts would come on the skin and when scratched the skin was left as raw as a piece of beef. I suffered agony in my long years I was afflicted, but when I used S. S. S. I found a perfect cure. There has never been any return of the trouble.

No Chance for Argument.

"George," said Mrs. McQuillan to her illegitimate lord, who was toasting his shins before the fire, "I suppose you get the credit for sweeping the snow off our front walk."

"I reckon I do, Cynthia," responded George.

"And you know you don't do a lick of it. You know I do it myself."

"You do, Cynthia. There can't be any doubt about that."

"Well, what sort of a man do you think you are?"

"I'm a blamed small specimen of a man. Cynthia," said George, still serenely toasting his shins. "I have no doubt I am meaner and more contemptible than you think. Lord, love you, Cynthia, you can't get into any argument with me on that proposition. I'm the laziest, good for nothing, oneriest man in the neighborhood. If it wasn't that I've got such a good wife, I'd go and blow my worthless brains out. Supper ready yet, dear?"—Philadelphia Index.

Majesty of a Great Name.

The officer, who had come in a closed carriage to take the man of the house to the detention hospital, was informed that there would be some difficulty in persuading him to go.

"What's the trouble?" he asked.

"He says he is the caliph of Bagdad, and he doesn't have to go anywhere unless he chooses. He says he's going to stay right here."

"I can fix that, all right," the officer said.

Entering the room, he walked up to him and extended his hand.

"Haroun al Raschid," he said, with a genial smile, "how are you, old boy?"

"Who are you, slave?" haughtily demanded the other.

"Don't you know me? I am the akhond of Swat. I have come to take you out for a ride. Come with me."

"Your highness outranks me. I will go."

Stains on Books.

Ink stains may be removed from a book by applying with a camel's hair pencil a small quantity of oxalic acid diluted with water and then using blotting paper. Two applications will remove all traces of the ink. To remove grease spots lay powdered pipeclay each side of the spot and press with an iron or hot as the paper will bear without scorching. Sometimes grease spots may be removed from blotting paper or cloth by laying a piece of blotting paper on them and then pressing the blotting paper with a hot iron. The heat melts the grease, and the blotting paper absorbs it.

Little Boy—Are not all the words used to be found in the dictionary, papa?

"No, my child; new words are coined every day."

"And what is the last word, papa?"

"I don't know, dear. Ask your mother, she always has the last word."

Thoroughly Reliable.

If ever here was a reliable and safe remedy it is that old and famous porous plaster—Allo's. It has been in use for sixty years, and is as popular today as ever. And we don't think it is a civilized country any more on the face of the globe where this wonderful pain reliever can be found. In the center of the large diaphragm and in their manufacture the greatest care is taken to keep each plaster up to the highest standard of excellence, and so pure and simple are the ingredients that even a child can use them. Allo's are the original and genuine porous plasters and are sold by Druggists in every part of the civilized world.

A Direct Appeal.

A story is told of a New York car conductor who had once been in the ministry, and who retained some of his former ways of speech in his new calling.

He had been at the front of the car collecting fares, and when he returned to his platform a well-dressed person told him that a man had boarded the car at Houston street and had found a place inside.

The conductor stepped inside the doorway, and ran his mild gaze up and down the car, but could not be sure which of the tightly-packed passengers was the late arrival.

"Will the gentleman who got on at Houston street please rise?" he asked, calmly.

The gentleman rose involuntarily, and with a bow and a "Thank you!" the conductor collected his fare.

Safety.

At the crowded downtown corner the frightened pedestrians were scurrying out of the way of street cars, automobiles, delivery wagons, and policemen on horseback.

"What has kept you out so late?" sternly asked Mrs. Gayman.

"Been sitting up with a dying friend, m' dear," answered her affectionate consort.

"That won't do this time," she rejoined. "The old man has been dead several days, to my certain knowledge."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or ringing in the ears, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; and cases of deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Mistaken Identity.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA

Her poor little ankles, however, are left completely out in the cold. She wears her skirt quite as far as she dares, and between these two points there is a stretch of bare skin showing through very openwork stockings.

About her neck she wears several yards of lined and wadded fur, but her arms from her wrists to her elbows are bare save for a thin covering of suede kid gloves. From her waist line up she is usually incased in the tightest and warmest of fur jackets, while about her legs blows a lightweight, unanchored skirt which appears to be mainly intended to let in the breeze. She carries a huge 1800 muff, large enough for Gulliver's hands, but the soles of her shoes are of paper weight.

The burning question is, when she is comfortable about the feet and skirts, how does she feel with all that blanketing on her head and shoulders? And when she is just warm enough about the head and shoulders, isn't she aching with cold at the other extremity? Or is it, after all, only a case of mental gymnastics?

Protecting the Sea Cow.

People who visited the Cincinnati "Zoo" on a recent holiday greatly annoyed the keeper of the sea-cow, a new acquisition, by poking it with canes or pencils. Exhausted by his efforts to stop the practice, the keeper engaged a tramp for 50 cents and told him to keep track of how many people looked at the manatee. At 6 o'clock the keeper looked up his substitute. How the tramp had done his work is told in the Cleveland Leader.

"There's been more than 5,000 people here," said the tramp. "I haven't had time to reckon up the exact number yet, and won't until I audit my books."

"Where's the paper you kept your accounts on?" asked the keeper.

"I don't have any paper," answered the "hole" as if proud of his ingenuity. "But I had a good soft lead pencil, and I kept tab on the sea-cow's back."

He pointed to the patient manatee, the back of which resembled a blackboard in a country school house after the annual examination.

"The Lazy Worm."

A large district in the middle of Porto Rico, with a population of 100,000, is afflicted with the "lazy worm," and official efforts are being made to improve the inhabitants' condition. A hospital has been established at Alibonito, with an endowment of $15,000, and will do what it can to check the ravages of this minute reptile, the existence of which the old-time native Porto Rican never had the slightest notion. Last year an American medical officer, Captain Ashford, treated 4,500 cases, and nearly all of them were cured. As a result, the population is afflicted to much extent, and the afflicted are applying in great numbers for treatment. Heretofore the malady has been deemed incurable.—Dundee Advertiser.

Electric Haircutting.

A French inventor is responsible for the introduction abroad of an electric substitute for the barber's scissors. This device consists of a comb carrying along one side of its row of teeth a platinum wire, through which flows an electric current. As the comb passes through the locks to be shorn the heated wire instantaneously severs the hairs, leaving them of even length and sealing the cut ends as in the ordinary process of singeing with a tapers. A similar device is a curling iron kept at an even temperature by an electric wire in the interior.

PARADOXICAL FASHIONS.

The Society Woman's Raiment is No Indication of the Weather.

The fashionable woman on 5th avenue and Broadway this season is a sartorial paradox, says the New York Press. You cannot tell by looking at her whether it is summer or winter, raining or fine, morning or afternoon. Her head, which you might take to be reasonably warm under its natural protection of mountainous pompadour, she covers with a heavy felt or cap, a pound or so of feathers and flowers and a lot of little false aids. Over all these she sometimes wears a long, thick automobile veil. What for?

Belle Bilton, or Lady Clancarty, the daughter of a soldier named Bilton, of Westwich, Eng. She had a younger sister named Flo. When the older was 15 both left home and tripped through several chapters of their unusual careers, including gypsy tramping through the provinces and lively performances at music halls. Both were extraordinarily pretty, which brought them success. Belle Bilton, in particular, acquired a reputation as a beauty, and was much courted in London. Of her admirers she chose Lord Dunlop, who married her.

The marriage caused an explosion in society, and Lord Dunlop's father, the old Earl of Clancarty, declared he never would recognize the actress. He sent his son away and brought in the young man's name a suit for divorce against Lady Dunlop, charging unfaithfulness on her part. The bride won a complete triumph in court and she and her husband were reconciled.

Until the old earl died a year or so later she supported her husband, who was cut off by his father, by returning to the stage.

On the death of his father Belle Bilton became the Countess Clancarty, Baroness of Killoonell, Baroness Trench and likewise Marchioness of Hensden in the Netherlands. At the same time she became mistress of some 25,000 acres and the country seat of Garbally, where she died.

At the height of her popularity in London she earned $500 a week and she owned and drove the grandest equipages in the metropolis. After settling down in Ireland she became a sedate and happy matron and was extremely popular among her Irish tenants. Although for years she was not welcomed by society, she triumphed at last, and was presented to Queen Alexandra. She leaves three sons and a daughter.
