Rev. S. J. Lindsay attended the annual commencement exercises of Dallas college on Tuesday and Wednesday. He reports a large attendance and very interesting exercises.

Miss Jennie Deichman, who has been attending the state normal school at Bellingham, Wash., arrived in Hillsboro last Saturday and will spend the vacation with her parents.

Civil war veterans who enlisted previous to July 1, 1863, may receive $100 bounty from the government under a ruling of the department at Washington, the statute of limitation which has been a bar to this having been removed.

Mr. Phillips, of Buxton, who has recently returned from Palmer, Wash., was struck in the hip by a flying piece of steel and an artery severed. Dr. A. B. Bailey was called to attend the injury.

Irving Bath, publisher and proprietor of the Bandon Recorder, is expected to arrive in Hillsboro tomorrow for a week's visit. He reports the Coos Bay country filling up rapidly with a desirable class of people, and says that for health "Bandon by the Sea" has no equal.

Paul, the 7-year-old son of Supt. Ringle of the city water and light plant, fell out of bed about a week ago and fractured his collar bone. His parents had no idea the bone was broken until Dr. A. B. Bailey made an examination. He reduced the fracture and the little fellow is getting along all right.

The Salem Electric line which is trying to get a right-of-way from Beaverton to Hillsboro, is meeting with success, over half the required amount of money to pay for the right-of-way having been raised. It is stated the road will certainly be built to this city and at once. This will make two electric lines into Hillsboro. Let 'em come.

In response to a request from the State Board of Education for the school children of Washington county to contribute a penny each to the Perry Arctic expedition fund, a day was set to receive contributions, and Supt. Case reports the following amounts having been received by him, and the source: The Dane school, District No. 84, 47¢; District 42, Shady Brook, 25¢; District 8, Laceyville, 30¢; District 76, Mead, 60¢; District 10, Dilley, 45¢; District 27, Watta, 60¢; District 7, Hillsboro, 22¢; District 55, Helvetia, 50¢; District 23, Tigardville, 75¢; District 3, Laurel, 41¢; District 31, 85¢; District 48, Beaverton, 30¢; making a total, of a very unpopular und, of $6.35.

New sidewalks have just been completed in front of the residences of Mayor Dennis and ex-Judge Hood on First street.

Stefahn Batke of Portland has filed in the circuit court of this county divorce proceedings against his wife Agnes Batke, on the grounds of desertion. He says in his complaint that they were married in April, 1882, and that she deserted him some five years ago, and according to his best knowledge she is now a resident of Winnipeg, Can.

Last Sunday about fifty people from Hillsboro went to Banks to see the ball games. Banks got away with the Hillsboro nine in the most approved style, and immediately afterward the Banks boys took their starch out of the Verboort club. Our reporter says the big crowd was orderly and good natured and there was no indication of liquor shown by anyone.

Thos. H. Tongue, Jr., of this city, was married on Wednesday at Los Angeles, Cal., to Miss Irene Caldwell of that city. The bride was assistant in the conservatory of music in the Pacific University at Forest Grove last year, is quite well known here, and is a very accomplished and estimable young lady, while the groom, a rising attorney and a son of the late Hon. T. H. Tongue, is well and favorably known to everybody in this county. The independent wishes the happy couple both happiness and prosperity.

Fred Adams met with an accident recently while doing carpenter work at the condenser, which will prevent him from doing heavy work for some months. While lifting some lumber he felt something give way in the region of the stomach, and the doctor says the strain tore away the lining of the stomach. He has moved his family to Scholls for the summer and may conclude to take a trip of inspection up in the Coos Bay country.

During the month of May 2,086 tickets were sold at the Southern Pacific depot in this city for Portland, and 326 tickets to Forest Grove. These were all one-way tickets. During the same month 100 carloads of hay, oats and milk were billed from this station; seven carloads of lumber were sent out last week, and the condenser ships from two to three carloads of milk daily. This goes to show that things in Hillsboro are moving right along.

Mrs. J. W. Sewell and daughter Mary left last Sunday morning for La Grande to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, C. C. Frazier, whose death in California was announced in this paper last week. Mr. Frazier's son, who brought the body of his mother to LeGrande for burial about a month ago, was unable to return to his father before he had passed away. The funeral occurred on Wednesday.

We acknowledge an invitation to the commencement at the University of Oregon, which will be held June 23rd to the 26th. The graduating class numbers fifty-five men and women, from all parts of the state, the largest class that has ever been graduated from an Oregon institution. In addition to the usual commencement exercises, the musical program of each day will be exceptionally attractive. The railroads have granted a round trip rate of one and one-third fare to those wishing to attend these exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Greer leave next week for Hilliard, Wash., a suburb of Spokane, where Mr. Greer has property and where they will make their future home. Mr. and Mrs. Greer have lived in Hillsboro eight years and ten years in Forest Grove, and they leave a host of friends in both cities. Mr. Greer is in poor health and it is sincerely hoped the change of climate from Oregon to Washington will be very beneficial and his life prolonged many years. He and his wife leave Hillsboro with the God-speed of all.

Wm. Connell has added very much to appearance of his Third street property by putting a coat of paint on his residence; Mrs. Susie Morgan has made her fine home on Second street look like new by the magical touch of the painter's brush; Mrs. Siegrist has added a porch to her pretty home on Third street; Dr. Wood has ordered all his tenants out of the wooden structures before the Shute Bank and Tualatin Hotel, and on July 1st will break ground for a double brick store, and it is said the Grange may erect a handsome brick block between W. O. Donelson's and the Nelson Co. hardware store. New residences are going up in many parts of town, and though there is no stir or excitement about the matter, the steady march of improvement is going on in Hillsboro. If a few unsightly holes in the sidewalks and planking on Main and Second streets were repaired and replaced by new plank, the strangers who come and go, would have less reason to knock the county seat because of its neglect in keeping its walks and streets in decent repair.

Born.—On Tuesday of this week, to Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Johnson, who live near the long bridge, west of town, a son.

School closes today for the summer vacation. The pupils, teachers and parents are enjoying a "good bye" picnic in the new Shute Park today and are having a great time.

Mention was made last week of the serious illness of spinal meningitis of Will Marsh, of Centerville. The disease proved fatal and the young man passed away the first of the week.

The United Railways Co. and the Pacific Railway & Navigation Co. have been consolidated with C. E. Lytle as president. It is said the electric line from Portland to Hillsboro will be pushed to completion and a connection made with the P. R. & N. for Tillamook.

A handsome new residence has risen from the ashes of the Southern house burned several months ago on First street. It is a two-story frame building and will make Mr. Southern a fine home. He moved in this week.

J. Tuescher, Jr., traveling agent of the Boys and Girls Aid Society, was out from Portland Tuesday. Complaint has been made to the society that the Dixon children are not receiving proper attention and Mr. Tuescher is here to ascertain if the report is true.

Thomas Tallman, who lives near the condenser, was taken seriously ill Tuesday night and Dr. Tammesie was hastily summoned. It was found that Mr. Tallman was suffering from ptomaine poisoning, the result of eating bad meat, it is thought. Prompt medical attention brought the patient through all right, but for a short time he was in a very dangerous condition.

Complying to an invitation of Judge Goodin, one day the first of the week, "to take a ride out into the country and get a little fresh air," the editor of this paper took a seat beside the genial judge and enjoyed a five hours' drive through as fine a section of farms and beautiful country homes as can be found anywhere, and over a stretch of road that has no superior in Oregon. We have often heard of the "horrible" roads in Washington county, but on the Farmington-Portland road, leading east from the Farmington bridge for two and a quarter miles is a stretch of road that is a credit to every man living along the highway, and what is better still, the road will be made better from year to year. For this great improvement the traveling public can thank S. E. Olson, Andrew Jack, D. M. McInnis, Chas. M. Johnson, Judge Nicodemus, Geo. J. Jack, J. Boge, Fred B. Clark, Alex. Bews, J. J. Jack and Sol Jack. Some time ago these gentlemen went before the county commissioners with a proposition that if the board would put the road in proper shape they would agree to keep it in good order by dragging, rolling and grading, for a period of five years from June 1, 1907, and to dig and keep open outlet drains from the road through their respective farms, sufficient let to all water drain from the roadside. This the commissioners agreed to do and for $350 got S. E. Olson to do the work, which was finished only last week. Mr. Olson, with the help of his neighbors, whose names are mentioned above, went to work with a will and now the Farmington-Portland road is a credit to any section and a model other parts of Washington county would do well to pattern after. Our drive led us to Scholls ferry where Dr. B. Reasner and a force of men are putting in an 80-foot Howe truss span bridge which, when completed, will be 235 feet in length. Mr. Reasner is doing good work and hurrying it along as fast as possible.

The sermon before the graduating classes was delivered by Rev. L. F. Belknap in the M. E. church last Sunday, the house being crowded to the doors. Mr. Belknap gave as his text for his baccalaureate sermon Prov. 4: "Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom, and with all thy getting get understanding." The sermon was a masterpiece. Following is a brief synopsis: "Many have great learning but fail for not noting the relation of things. Education means to draw out, to develop, and make us masters of ourselves. Man is a trinity in unity, body, mind and soul. True education must evenly develop his body, his intelligence, his moral character and nature. Why should we be educated? First, for our own sake; second, for the sake of our fellow beings; third, for the honor and glory of the Creator who made us. Why take care of our bodies? In the great problems of life, there is need of a strong mind in a strong body. The speaker quoted President Roosevelt, who has a certain sort of contempt for a man with soft, useless hands. "Boys, especially, from the lives they lead, need care for their bodies. Avoid bad habits. Great numbers of volunteers were rejected during the call of our country for defenders. The time may come when our land may need protection, but the cigarette boy will have no place. To be perfect physically is not enough. Mind rules the body. Learn to think for yourself. Face great problems and settle them. Strive for the best. The trained intellect has the advantage. Good physique and trained mind are not enough. The moral nature should be strong and well disciplined. Education of the body and mind without a moral and spiritual training is a dangerous thing. Neither would I emphasize the spiritual. When this is done to the neglect of the intellectual, the results is fanatics and religious cranks. Develop systematically. In all departments of life the world is calling for leaders. All great leaders have been trained men and women. Good men and good women. Teachers little realize how they are fashioning the future of their pupils."

Reedville preaching service will be held after the Sabbath School next Sabbath morning by Rev. John M. Ferguson, missionary evangelist of Portland Presbytery.

Children's Day exercises will be held at the Tualatin Plains Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning.

There will be evangelistic services held at the Tualatin Plains Presbyterian church beginning next Sabbath evening. Rev. J. M. Ferguson will assist the pastor. Meetings every night next week at 8 p. m. A most cordial invitation is extended to all.

The following historical and financial report to the congregation at the dedication of Zion Presbyterian church, Reedville, has been handed us for publication:

On the second Sabbath of January, 1901, Mr. Robinson held the first Presbyterian service in this community. Prior to that time various denominations had occupied the ground, but each eventually ceased and left the field desolate of any gospel preaching. A Sabbath school was sometimes maintained, but naturally declined as the services were broken off. The school house was always open for religious services, but as time went on many felt the need of a church building where greater respect could be given to God's name and worship. In January, 1902, steps were taken to secure a lot in view of building a church, and W. M. Ladd to favor the establishment of a church and donate a lot. The condition of the community at that time however, was not favorable to this project, so nothing was done until February, 1903, when the matter was again taken up and W. M. Ladd referred to Martin Winch. Again there was delay and nothing was done until early last year when our pastor wrote to Dr. Hill asking him to give us his personal influence. He turned the letter over to Dr. Holt requesting him to take up the matter which he did and finally a deed was given by the Ladd and Reed estate for the land upon which the church now stands. On June 20, 1906, a subscription list was circulated by the pastor and the people very liberally subscribed.

A meeting of the subscribers was called on July 10th, and a committee elected for building and completing the house of worship consisting of Messrs. Walter McCullum, J. Miller, James Borwick, and D. Shaw; J. B. Inlay was elected treasurer.

Through the kind providence of God, the work has been conducted to the satisfaction of the entire community and today we come to dedicate this work of our hands to Him whose presence is not confined to an earthly temple, but whose glory fills every house of Zion erected to His name.

Application was made to the Presbyterian Board of Church Election for aid to complete the structure. One thousand dollars was recommended by the Presbytery of Portland and granted by the board.

It was thought wise to build a fence around the church lot and erect sheds and furnish the church complete as it now is, and at the dedication endeavor to clear off all indebtedness.

We have received some small subscriptions from Portland, Dr. Linklater, John Cran and Dr. Holt were all helpful to the pastor in his efforts to secure subscriptions in Portland.

We value the whole property as you see it today, including organ, bell, pew, lamps, pulpit furnishings, sheds and fence at about $3,250.

All bills paid but bills amounting to $600 which we hoped might be raised today.

Respectfully submitted, Walter McCullum, J. Miller, sec., James Borwick, D. Shaw, Building Committee.

Reedville, Oregon, June 2, 1907.

A list of the contributors to the Reedville church fund is being prepared, and when completed will be published.
