Maddox-Kimberlin.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Thursday, June 27th, at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kimberlin at Hillsboro, the contracting parties being Etta Marilla, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Kimberlin, and Marshall J. Maddox, of Portland. The ring ceremony being performed by Rev. L. F. Belknap, pastor of the M. E. church, in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends of both bride and groom. To the strains of the wedding march by Mrs. Althea Ogden, of Forest Grove, the couple entered the parlor, where were beautifully decorated with roses, ferns and lilies. There were a champagne chifon panama suit and carried carnations. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served. The bride is well known in Washington county and a former student of Tualatin Academy and the groom is a fireman employed by the O. R. & N. After July 7th they will be at home to their friends at The Dalles, Oregon.

Ninetieth Anniversary.

The children, grandchildren and great-grandchild of Thos. H. Denney gathered at the old homestead, two miles south east of Beaverton, on July 1st, to celebrate with him and his aged wife the ninetieth anniversary of his birth. Thos. Denney was born in Kentucky and when three years of age moved with his parents to Jennings county, Indiana. In April, 1849, with his young bride and a party of neighbors and friends he started on that perilous journey across the plains by ox team. In November of the same year they reached what is now the town of Willburg. They remained there till the following spring when they moved onto the donation land claim upon which they have since resided continuously.

County Correspondence

We want a reporter in every town.

Sherwood.

Regular Correspondent.
(Too Late for Last Week.)
Born June 28, to Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Hees, near Sherwood, a son.

Fred Collett has purchased the livery barn and barroom in connection in the town of Tualatin and is having extensive repairs made to the property and expects to take charge of the same immediately.

Jack Morback, Ora Johnson and other Sherwood citizens that have been connected with the lumber interests down the Columbia river returned home during the week a shutdown having occurred in the business.

The Sherwood cornet band have posters up announcing a grand Fourth of July ball on the evening of that day. The popularity of the boys in furnishing first-class music and maintaining order is sufficient guarantee that the affair will prove a decided success.

Wm. Haselfater is recovering from a severe wound of the foot made with an ax while slashing on the farm of W. McClure last week, also George Hoffman wounded by a piece of glass cutting deeply into the knee cap. Mrs. John Conzelmann applied carbolic acid on the arm a few days ago thinking the preparation was a diluted solution of the same and in consequence a painful burning of the tissues resulted.

A workman, an employee of the bridge company at Wilsonville, lost his balance and toppled off the new railroad bridge and was instantly killed on Saturday. He fell 110 feet striking braces in his descent, the body finally alighting in a scow moored at the bank of the river below.

The lumber manufacturing business is on the boom in this vicinity, for in addition to the plant of 25,000 feet daily capacity to be located near Middleton depot, of which mention has been made, another of smaller caliber will be erected in Chehalis cap on the Wiyter's place, while the third new enterprise along these lines will be situated two miles southeast of town on the Dodson farm, the latter controlled by McMinville parties.

"Slugging affairs," the inevitable result of overindulgence in booze, possibly may be regulated to the near now, inasmuch "as it is said" the Sunday lid will be fastened down again here, (until the clouds roll by presumably.) It is reported that not a drop was on tap last Sunday.

Jack Hees, a well-known farmer residing near town, recently returned from California where he has been visiting relatives, and while returning via the Klamath Lake railroad met with an exciting adventure he is not likely to forget. The train became unmanageable on a mountain side and plunged uncontrolled to the bottom, upsetting, demolishing and smashing the car he occupied, but fortunately none of the occupants were seriously injured.

The publicly expresses, uncalled for opinion of certain "Battinskies" medically, or otherwise, almost always proves erroneous for the simple reason that ignorance and prejudice is the cornerstone of thought. For instance diphtheria is the true disease only when it is proven so, diphtheritic bacillus found on microscopic examination. Membranous croup does not always assume the above condition, hence the lack of contagion in a great many instances. Battinsky to the contrary notwithstanding.

George Parrish, formerly a resident of the county but at present a farmer of Tillamook, has been in town the past few days on a visit. He reports times lively at the Bay City and the railroad people making rapid progress on the new line to the coast.

A sporadic case of scarlatina simplex has appeared in the family of Angelo Cheregino, at the Sandpit three miles below town. The place is under quarantine and the disease is not expected to become epidemic in that neighborhood. No new cases have been reported during the week.

Henry Mier and 16 year son, Earnest, were severely bruised in a runaway accident at Conzelmann Bros. sawmill Tuesday afternoon. The team became frightened at the noise made by the steam whistle and bolted, with one slip upon the wagon, knocking them both down, the rear wheel passing over Mr. Mier's shoulders, producing a number of bruises and lacerations. The young lad was less injured, the damage being confined to the region of the knee joint, but not of a serious nature.

Beaverton.

Regular Correspondent.
Thos. D. Mittel of this city and Miss Nellie Hagaman of Kelso, Wash., were married in Portland July 4th. They will reside in this place. Mr. Mittel being employed by the Livermore Mill Co.

Miss Lois Vincent visited Saturday and Sunday with friends in Portland.

Mrs. G. W. Tefft, after having spent a week at home, has again returned to Kalama, Wash., where she is camping for the summer.

Miss Dora Fisher, who has been residing at Aberdeen, Wash., for the past year, accompanied by her niece, Miss Etta Cady, will spend a couple of weeks visiting home folks in this place.

ers from New Jerusalem. The result was a score of 15 to 5 in favor of Beaverton.

Ora Rolfe has a new "candidate for the presidency" at his home in the shape of a baby boy which arrived last Sunday.

The youngest son of C. H. Fry fell from a fence and fractured his collar bone a few days ago.

Beaverton was quite well represented at the celebration July 4th at Hillsboro. Fully two-thirds of the people who went away from home to celebrate went to Hillsboro.

It is too bad that the noise of a Fourth of July celebration annoys some of the younger generation to such an extent that they must take a special excursion to distant points to avoid it. For their information I would say that there is a country just north of the state of Washington where noise on July 4th is the exception and not the rule.

Aunt Sally.

Wilkes-Maxfield.

The following is taken from the Corvallis Gazette of July 8th. The groom is a former resident of Hillsboro, a relative of the Wilkes' of this city, and a young man who has a host of friends who wish him and his bride happiness and prosperity in their new relationship: A pretty wedding occurred Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Caroline Maxfield in Jobs addition, when Miss Florence Maxfield became the bride of Marion Wilkes, of Southern Oregon.

The ceremony was performed at 8:00 by Rev. C. T. Ford of the United Evangelical church in the presence of about forty guests and friends.

At the appointed time Miss Leona Jackson began a wedding march and the young couple descended the stairs and took the places under a large bell of white silk suspended from a green arch of ivy and garlanded carnations. The bride wore white silk, with full length veil and carried carnations. Francis Wiles and Verna Matthews. After congratulations, refreshments were served and the evening spent in a social way. The house was beautifully decorated throughout with flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkes were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents consisting of silverware, china and linen. They left Friday noon for their new home, blessed by the good wishes of many sincere friends.

They Wait the Knots Untied.
A. E. Deven of Portland, has commenced suit in circuit court of this county against his wife, Enaline Devere, on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment as usual. They were married in Iowa 1887, and in 1895 she hit him a clip across the forehead with a large plow file, hitting both his feelings and his face, and in 1904 she assaulted him with her fists, a Sullivan. At this time he was in ill health and the encounter brought on a relapse. She also made life unendurable, he says, by using insulting language in presence of others and her conduct injured his business. She tried to get the keys to his place of business, and has taken a letter of his from the postoffice which he wants and which she opened and retained. He wants a divorce because of the alleged injury to his feelings, his business and his face.

In this instance it is a woman that will ask Judge McBride to use his judicial knife in severing the hateful bonds. Albert Fendt married his blushing bride Gertrude in Portland in 1904, and after a short period of bliss he took to the woods and is running wild. She wants the judge to keep him going.

Charles W. Brewster says he married his wife Emma at Port Orchard, Wash., May 21, 1900, and on or about the 11th day of April, 1905, at Portland, she willfully and without cause gave him the shake and has continued to live away from him. Consequently he has a divorce and will ask Judge McBride to do up the job, and to give such other relief as his honor may deem just.
