The editor is home again after ten days in Coos county, most of which was passed at Bandon-by-the-Sea. It will take several days to recover from the thumping given us by the stage ride over the mountains between Myrtle Point and Roseburg, a distance of 60 miles, and we have concluded to refrain from further mention of the trip until some future time.

The P. R. & N. R. Last Friday, at the camp above Buxton, one of the Greeks who handles the dynamite had his lips and nose badly cut and mangled by being struck by rock in a premature explosion of the deadly explosive. His face was frightfully mangled also. The P. R. & N. Co. ordered the man brought to Hillsboro on a special car and Dr. A. B. Bailey attended to his injuries. The Greek is getting along nicely at this writing, and will be all right as soon as his wounds heal.

J. Spies, of Bethany, had the thumb and first finger of both hands badly torn by a gopher gun last Sunday. He was setting the deadly implement when it was discharged, the contents of the gun hitting both hands. Dr. Linklater hopes to fix up what is left of Mr. Spies' hands so he can use them, but he will be more or less crippled for life. The gopher gun does not confine itself to killing the gopher family, but shoots out promiscuously for victims, as the doctors records will testify.

A special from Portland says that the Oregon Electric Railway has filed with the Multnomah county court a certified copy of a resolution adopted by its directors in which they propose to establish a branch line from the main Salem-Portland electric line to Hillsboro. A switch will be established on the northeast quarter of section 19, township 1 south, range 1 east of the Willamette meridian. Some convenient point will be selected in Hillsboro for a station.

The nine English walnut trees of Mrs. Jones of Happy Valley are loaded with nuts. These trees are thirty years old and are all from nuts grown on the one tree of the Ed Casey farm. The trees in question, however, produced nuts of all sizes, various qualities and other different characteristics. One tree grows nuts with shells like the Santa Barbara soft-shells; another has shells almost as hard as those of the hickory nut. Our walnut growers may well take note of the fact when being instructed by designing or ignorant nurserymen, that it makes no difference whether you plant a seedling of the second generation or a grafted tree.—McMinnville News Reporter.

The question of canceling the Oregon Traction Co.'s franchise, now held by the United Railways, came up before the Portland city council last Wednesday, and after a stormy debate, the matter was postponed until next Tuesday.

The marriage of Miss Bertha Galloway and Ray Taylor, both of this city, occurred at the home of the bride's parents in North Hillsboro Monday at 2:30 p. m., Rev. S. J. Lindsay officiating. Only a few intimate friends and the family were present. After the ceremony ice cream and cake were served, immediately after which the newly married couple took the train for Portland. They will make their home in this city.

A hayrack party was planned for last Saturday evening, but on account of rain the party went out to Jos. Connel's place, seven miles north of this city, in carriages. There were seventeen in the party from Hillsboro and more than half of the number are students of the O. A. C. Miss Grace Connel and her brother Frank entertained the young people.

Yesterday morning the Misses Manche Langley and Maud Shannon, of Forest Grove, walked from the college town to Hillsboro, covering the distance in exactly one hour and fifteen minutes, and in doing so won a wager, with 30 seconds to spare. They arrived here as chipper as birds and could have made the return easily. One of our Main street young men says the ladies left Forest Grove at 6 o'clock and reached Hillsboro at 8:15, "just one hour and fifteen minutes."

Wednesday was the date set for filing the bonds by the Oregon Electric Railway Co., but no bond was put up, which leaves the street car matter just where it was before the council granted the franchise. There will be something doing when this or any other company comes before the council asking for right-of-way privileges. This does not mean the line will not be built into Hillsboro, but the Oregon Electric Railway Co., want more time, and this is one of the ways it took to get it. The line is being built now and will eventually enter Hillsboro.

Washington county has been benefited greatly by the heavy rains last Saturday. There is much rejoicing among the dairymen, as the grass is taking a new start. Hops and late potatoes were also much improved and many forest fires extinguished. The rain was accompanied by thunder and lightning but there was no damage reported in this city. At Glencoe two houses were struck. The house of a Mr. Nelson was struck about 7 o'clock in the morning, the house being completely wrecked and the kitchen cut away from the main part. Mr. Nelson was driving his team in the yard at the time and they were frightened and ran away. He was stunned but soon rallied and with the assistance of his wife, succeeded in putting out the fire which would soon have been beyond control. The house of John Beach in the same locality was also more or less damaged, the lightning coming in on the telephone wire. The Pacific States Phone Co. had just completed putting in a new cable the night before the storm, and the lightning cut it into hundreds of pieces.

Street Fair and Carnival.

At the meeting held in city hall last Wednesday evening it was decided to hold a street fair, carnival and stock show in this city the latter part of September. A general committee composed of B. P. Cornelius, chairman; A. L. Long, J. W. Connel, Gus Patterson and R. H. Greer was named. This committee will meet this evening and appoint other committees when active work will commence in earnest, and there is no question about the fair and carnival being a genuine success. Full particulars and the different committees will be given next week.

Death of Two Sisters.

On Tuesday of this week Mrs. Martha Roberts died at her home in University Park after an illness of fifteen days, of typhoid pneumonia. She had almost recovered from the disease when she had a relapse and her death came unexpectedly to her friends in this city. The body will be brought to Hillsboro on the 8:15 train this morning and taken to West Union for burial. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the Holman undertaking parlors in Portland. The deceased leaves besides her husband, S. S. Roberts, one daughter, Mrs. Maud Burdick, of University Park. On August 10th, at Berkeley, Calif., occurred the death of Mrs. Amanda J. Sherman, a sister of Mrs. Roberts, after an illness of about three years. She was the daughter of the late Edward and Priscilla Constable, and leaves her husband, V. R. Sherman, two daughters, Mrs. Nettie Harris and Mrs. Florence Forgie, and one son, Arthur Sherman, all of Berkeley. The deceased was born in this county and is well known here. The two sisters passed away within twenty days of each other and their loss is deeply felt by a large number of friends and relatives in this vicinity. Both were born in Washington county. They leave the following brother and sisters: Mrs. Elizabeth Shute and Mary Maloe, of Hillsboro; Richard Constable, of Portland; Mrs. Douglas McIn, of Arleta, and Mrs. Minerva Schofield, of University Park.

Crossing Over.

Early Monday morning Calvin Adams, an old resident of this city and widely known, had a stroke of paralysis while building the kitchen fire and up to the hour of going to press has been in an unconscious condition. Owing to his advanced age, 87 years and 6 months, there are no hopes entertained for his recovery, and he may die at any moment or linger for several days. Mr. Adams is highly respected by all who know him.

Union services will be held at the Christian church, next Sunday evening, Elder A. A. Berry preaching the sermon. He will also preach at the regular forenoon service.

Whenever you are tempted to growl against fate or complain of your lot just look around and find out what others are bearing. You will find many men with more brains and better education worse off than you are. Then compare your lot with that of such men and if you don't quit complaining and go in for rejoicing there's something radically wrong with your mental balance. When an obstacle gets in your way don't waste time and energy in complaining about it. If you can't push it out of your path get over it, under it or around it any way you can—and leave the obstacle behind you. The second obstacle will not appear half as big if you get past the first.—Spare Moments.

The amusement street, or concession space, at the Greater Oregon State Fair Sept. 16-21, at Salem, will be called the Corral. This name was adopted from a long list submitted because it has a Western flavor, and because the Corral will be a general round-up and meeting place for pleasure seekers who will visit the big fair. The place itself will be in the form of a corral or enclosure, being built around three sides of a square. A number of good shows and acts are being signed up for this department. Free open air exhibitions, balloon ascensions, moving pictures, etc., will be presented to the public on a big platform in the center of the enclosure. Get in on the round-up at the Corral.

Notice to Subscribers.

The publishers of the newspapers of Washington county have entered into an agreement whereby the subscription price of each paper will be raised from $1.00 to $1.50 per year, and clubbing rates with Portland papers will be raised correspondingly, the new rates to go in effect October 1st. On account of the increased cost of print paper, materials and labor, the publishers have been obliged to make this change.

Do you want a nice pocket book. The Hillsboro Pharmacy has a fine line ranging in price from 25 cents to $2.75.

The floral exhibit at the Greater Oregon State Fair at Salem (Sept. 16-21), will be up to the usual excellent standard, and this statement means a great deal to lovers of the beautiful in nature. William Savage of Corvallis is superintendent of this department. The exhibitors are provided with a spacious building adjoining the main pavilion, with glass sides and roof, and all other conveniences. A small fountain has been installed in the center. The plants are arranged in the most artistic and tasteful manner possible, and during fair week the scene presents a blossoming labyrinth of color and fragrance. The floral displays outside on the ground will also be attractive. Five large palms have been installed in the main bed in front of the pavilion, and numerous other smaller beds and boxes, containing all varieties of flowers, will adorn this square.

Hints to Hop Pickers.

Hop-picking will soon be here. Yard owners are looking ahead to be sure of help and pickers all over the country are beginning to talk the matter over and make preparations. We should like to drop a word of caution. Don't be too hasty to go far away to big yards. Last year the home yards suffered for lack of help. If you get a job near home you are among acquaintances and associates and you have good clean company. The price is the same everywhere and you will perhaps make just as much by staying near home. Small yards, small crowds, big yards, big crowds. We think men should not take their families to the big yards in the Lower Valley if it can be avoided. No good can come from mixing with that seething mass of Portland scum. Depraved, immoral, unclean men and women by the hundred are there for no other purpose than to ply their trade and besmirch the innocent. It will be dollars and cents and added paternal pride in the long run to stay away from such places. Our plea is to patronize home yards when you have a chance to do so. It is better for your family, for the home grower and it keeps the money at home.—Philomah Review.
