HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure, fresh and healthy, the skin will be saft, smooth lation its presence is manifested by a skin eruption or disease. These condition of the blood, generally because of an inactive or sluggish condition of the members of the body whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste and refuse matter of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and soon the circulation becomes charged with the acid poison. The blood begins to throw off the humans and soils through the poison. The blood begins to throw off the hurnors and acids through the James Sawyer declares that the preferpores and glands of the skin, producing Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin eruptions of various kinds. Eczema appears, usually with a slight redness of the skin followed by pustules from which there flows a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, face, arms and legs, though other parts of the body may be affected. In Tetter the skin dries, cracks and bleeds; the acid in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, which are intended to keep it soft and pliant, causing a dry, feverish condition and giving it a hard, leathery appearance. Acue makes its appearance on the face in the sufferer with the return of Spring. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and removes the humors so that the skin instead of being irritated and diseased, is nourished by a supply of fresh, healthy blood. External applications of salves, washes, lotions, etc., while they soothe the itching caused by skin affections, can never cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. Many reasons have been advanced for the prevalence of righthandedness. It is by some said to be the result of nursing and infantile treatment, to be ential use of the right hand is due to the fact that in primitive days man used the right hand for the purposes of offense, so as to keep the heartthe vital spot-as far as possible from the assault if an adversary. Recent experiments and observations, however, prove that singlehandedness is merely the result of faulty or restricted educa-

It is a curious instance of human contrariness that should one eye, one ear or one leg of a child show signs of diminished vigor, the parents would instantly seek the cause of and, if possible, the remedy for that lamentable condition; yet for some inexplicable reason or prejudice the left hand of the average child is ruthlessly and deliberately neglected, until in mature years it is undeveloped, useless and almost unnecessary appendage. Careful observations have shown that out of every hundred persons born into this world eighty are congenitally ambidextrous-that is to say, they will instinctively reach for an object with either hand, and only require proper instruction and training to develop both hands and arms to an equal degree of strength and skill.
