R. L. CATE PASSES AWAY

WAS WELL KNOWN REAL ESTATE MAN.
Dies at His Home in This City After an Illness of Seven Weeks—Was Prominent in the State.

R. L. Cate, one of the most prominent real estate men in this section of Oregon, passed away at his home in this city at 11 o'clock last Saturday night, after a painful illness of seven weeks. On account of failing health Mr. Cate moved from Portland to Hillsboro a few months ago, hoping the change would give him a little more rest and a longer lease on life, but he was too active a man to take life easy if given an opportunity, and he continued his labors until the complication of diseases from which he was suffering, forced him to remain at home, where he soon was confined to the bed, and as stated above, death relieved him of his suffering, which at times was intense.

Mr. Cate was born in Eastern Tennessee in 1857, and lived there and in Texas until 1881, when he moved to Portland, which has been his home up to the time he moved to this city. He was one of the most active and public spirited men of the Rose City and an enthusiastic worker in every enterprise that would tend to bring Portland into prominence, and it is largely through his personal efforts that the necessary boom was raised to induce the Doernbacher Manufacturing Co. to transfer its plant from Puget Sound to Portland. No enterprise was too large for him to take hold of, and he was never backward about putting in his own money to push it along, as was shown at the time he tried to secure a $40,000 hotel for Hillsboro.

The funeral was held from the home of the deceased on Monday, the services being conducted by Rev. H. Gilpatrick of the Congregational church, and the remains taken to Portland and taken in charge of the Elks and by them laid to rest in Riverview cemetery. Besides being an Elk, Mr. Cate belonged to the Knights of Pythias and was a member of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. He leaves besides his wife, whom he married in Portland in 1884, and whose maiden name was Laura Dickinson, three children, Leslie, Helen and Robert, all living with their mother at the family home. One brother, W. B. Cate, resides in this city, and another, T. A. Cate, lives in Vancouver. He also had the following sisters: Mrs. J. W. Thompson of Pomona, Calif.; Mrs. J. W. Eads, San Francisco; Mrs. R. M. Bales of Jefferson City, Tenn.; Mrs. John Gose of Decatur, Tex.; and Miss Georgie Cate, of Jefferson City, Tenn. A half brother, Bernard W. Cate of this city, and a half sister, Mrs. Hayes of Knoxville, Tenn., also survive.

Always Room for One More.
Forest Grove News: Rumor is current in Hillsboro that Washington county is to have a democratic newspaper. Inasmuch as the Hillsboro Argus, since it changed hands, has been made into a republican paper, it is understood that it is for this reason that the democratic element feel the need of an organ that will exploit its side in the county. It could not be learned where the paper was to be located, but it is thought that Hillsboro will be selected as the place, as that would be the center of the political field. It is said that a conference was held among the prominent democrats both from here and Hillsboro and all the arrangements were perfected to launch the new paper. Rumor has been current here and at the county seat town for some time to this effect, but it was not until Monday that any tangible evidence of the fact presented itself. And it was hinted, too, that one of the present county papers proposes to switch over into the democratic column.

J. W. Barnes and Robt. Hoeklen have purchased one of the latest improved potato diggers and have just finished digging about 25 acres of potatoes for themselves which will probably give them about 2000 sacks of potatoes. These were dug in five days time which is quite a saving over the old way of digging by hand.

Mrs. E. G. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Williams spent Sunday in our city.

Reed Walworth, of St. Louis, Mo., visited at the home of H. G. Vincent several days last week. One day last week while the carrier of R. F. D. No. 3 was driving along the Scholls Ferry road, he stopped to "gas" for a minute with a farmer who was picking apples by the side of the road. A short ways down the road a crew of men were picking up potatoes in a field. One of the men, noticing the carrier standing a few minutes, supposed that something was detaining him or holding him up or something or other, so he got a gun and came on the run to slay anything that might be giving trouble to Uncle Sam. The carrier, seeing the man coming with the gun, supposed that he had seen a pheasant and was going to shoot it and not wishing to spoil a shot continued to "gas" a little longer. When the man came within hailing distance he asked "What was it?" The carrier replied with the same question and now there are several people trying to figure out who the laugh is on.

Mr. Moll, senior, father of the tonsorial artist of this place, has purchased two blocks of land, from Mrs. E. M. Klink, near the depot, and also the Chilton house in that same neighborhood and expects to make his home here. Beaverton is to have a jeweler in the near future. A traveling watchmaker will be here every Monday according to bills tacked on the streets.

Mrs. H. G. Vincent and Mrs. A. Hein visited friends in Portland last Saturday.

A. C. Allen spent the greater portion of last week at home nursing a broken rib, the result of a mixup in the football game at Eugene a week ago last Saturday.

An Astoria dispatch of the 26th says: The surveyors of the Lytle road finished their survey as far as Smith's point Friday and are now running their lines up the city front to the Oregon Railroad & Navigation dock on Commercial street. Surveys are being made along Astor and Bond streets. This will complete the survey from Hillsboro to Astoria. Altogether three routes have been surveyed between Astoria and the Nehalem river. It is understood the best grade secured was on the Klaskanine and Young's river route.

Robert O. Stevenson, a native Oregonian, is Governor Chamberlain's latest appointee, having been appointed Saturday evening to fill the office of State Game and Forestry Warden, made vacant by the resignation of John W. Baker, of Cottage City. Mr. Stevenson was born in Yamhill county 55 years ago, and is the son of the late Mrs. Ruth T. Scott. He is the father of John H. Stevenson, a well-known Portland newspaper man. For many years Mr. Stevenson has been living on his fruit farm near Forest Grove, where he will continue to hold his residence and to direct the work of his duties from there. The office carries a salary of $100 a month, with traveling expenses. The new game warden has announced his policy to be that of a strict enforcement of the laws.

Change in Hour of Service.
Next Sabbath at the Reedville Presbyterian church the pastor will preach in the afternoon at 3:30 instead of the evening. The Christian Endeavor will meet at 2:30 instead of evening. Phipp, the State Sunday School worker, will be present.

AN ENORMOUS IMMIGRATION

ARRIVING FROM THE EAST BY EVERY TRAIN.
Some State Items of Interest—Oregon State Dairy Association December 12 and 13.

Business men returning from the East are unanimous in predicting an enormous immigration to Oregon during the coming year. People residing in the great cities of New York, Chicago, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and other population centers never expressed so much anxiety to hear about this country as at present and the same idea is reflected through the correspondence of the Portland Commercial Club, much of which is originating in the cities named above.

Judge John M. Scott of Salem, president of the State Good Roads Association, is conducting an active campaign in behalf of the Good Roads Meeting to be held in the rooms of the Portland Commercial Club, November 14 and 15. Judge Scott desires that every commercial, industrial, agricultural, horticultural and irrigation organization in the state to send delegates.

President Ed T. Judd, of the Oregon State Dairy Association, reports constantly increasing interest in the big state meeting to be held in Portland December 12 and 13. Constant additions are being made to the prizes, and an active committee is at work. It is desired above everything else that the farmers be present on this occasion.

Oregon never received a stronger endorsement than the following from the pen of Professor Charles Curtis, of the Ames, Iowa, Agricultural College:

"There is nowhere on the face of the globe a land so people so dominant in the production of live stock or so potent in the production of the higher types of domestic animals as the British Islands. There is nowhere on the American continent a region affording conditions so closely allied to those of Great Britain as the North Pacific Coast of the United States. The similarity is noticeable, not only in climatic conditions and natural environment, but also in the genuine enthusiasm and deep-seated faith in the industry possessed by the tillers of the soil."

The Eugene Commercial Club has employed John H. Hartog, of California, to take charge of their publicity campaign at a salary of $5000 a year. Mr. Hartog will be an important factor in the development of Oregon, for California has never developed a brighter man in the advertising line.

The exhibit of samples of the iron ore from Columbia county is promised at the Portland Commercial Club this week. The development of oil in Western Idaho and Eastern Oregon is bringing absolutely new capital and new people that no other industry would have attracted.

"Tilly Olson."

One of the most welcome engagements of the theatrical season is that of the Swedish dialect play "Tilly Olson," to be played at the Crescent, November 4. Manager Fred Falkner in presenting this comedy-drama is providing the most consistent and realistic play based upon the traits of Scandinavian character, that has ever been shown on the stage. Tilly is a young Swedish girl full of dry humor and possessed of the characteristic traits of the daughters of Scandinavia. Her rightful property having been stolen from her in childhood, the play finds her working in the capacity of a "bound girl" on a Minnesota farm. She makes things lively for her prosecutors and later leaves the place to seek her fortunes in Minneapolis. There she is successful in thwarting a big bank robbery and is rewarded generously for her services. She recovers her property, a rich farm, marries the man of her choice, who had once worked on the same place with her in the days of her penury and misery, and proves the truth of the old saying, "Everything comes to those who wait." A fine scenic production will be furnished for the play which is in four acts and eight scenes, and a competent and big company employed. The title roll will be played by

BREAD STUFFS GOING DOWN

BIG PACKER MAKES PREDICTION FOR THE FUTURE.
Merchants Say Era of High Prices Is Close at Hand—Butter and Eggs Take a Tumble.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Relaxation from the strain of high prices in foodstuffs, which will soon undergo a reduction of approximately 10 per cent, was the forecast made by local jobbers and merchants yesterday. Predictions credited to Edward Cudahy, of Omaha, who said his company had reduced its prices 10 per cent, inspired Chicago dealers to voice expressions calculated to cheer the average consumer. In some instances reductions are looked for within a few days, but here is no general move just now to put lower prices into effect.

With the proposed cut in meat comes the announcement that the price of butter soon will reach a point which will take that commodity out of the luxury class, where it long has been placed.

According to Daniel Coyne, of the commission firm of Coyne Brothers, butter now selling at 26 1-2 cents wholesale, will reach 25 cents before the end of the week. Eggs, according to Mr. Coyne, soon will recede from their present wholesale price of 25 cents per dozen.

Local packers express no surprise at the prediction made by Mr. Cudahy, some declaring that the general decrease in the price of meat may exceed 10 per cent. Louis F. Swift, president of Swift

Land and Mineral Decisions.

The following decisions are furnished The Independent by Woodford D. Harlan, Land Attorney, Washington, D. C.:

Coal Lands—The declaratory statement and affidavit must be made by the applicant himself; subsequently certain proofs and acts may be made by an agent; where the declaration was improperly made by an agent, in the absence of adverse filing or conflict, it may be made nunc pro tunc.

Contest—During the pendency of a contest, in which each party alleges priority of settlement, both are bound to comply to the law; and if the successful party fails so to do, such failure is properly the subject of inquiry on behalf of the losing party.

Final Proof—Taken outside of office hours may be considered, when so taken because the witnesses could not attend at any other time, and their testimony was submitted with due opportunity for cross-examination by the adverse claimant.

Homestead Entry—Illegal possession of land will not defeat the right of another to enter the same under the homestead law.

Mineral or Agricultural Land—On proof of the mineral character of a tract and allowance of mineral entry therefore the burden of proof is upon one who asserts the non-mineral character of the tract, even though it was returned as agricultural. The burden of proof is upon an agricultural claimant for land returned as mineral.

Fined Under the Truant Law.

The first arrest in Linn county for violation of the new compulsory education law was made at Albany last week, when John Jacobs, a resident of that city was taken into custody for allowing his 13-year-old son to become a persistent truant from school. A $5 fine was imposed. There are 146 truants reported by school officers in Albany between the ages of 9 and 16 years.
