Libraries and Happiness.

The great purpose of a public library is to promote and unite intelligence. It brings together the products of the wise minds of the world. . . . It holds within its walls a collection of all the wise and witty things ever said: these it marks and indexes and offers to its friends.

It is in its community a sort of intellectual minuteman, always ready to supply to every comer something of interest and pleasure. It puts good books, and no others, into the hands of children. It tells you about Cinderella and informs you on riots in Moscow. It offers you a novel of Modern Japan, and a history of Venice of the past. It knows about the milk in the coccoanut, the floods of the river Nile, the advantages of education, the evils of legislation, how to plan a home, why bread won't rise, and can tell more about the hugeness of our task at Panama, and the mental failings that give Jamaica and Venezuela trouble than most of our congressmen ever dreamed of.

I am a great believer, as you see in reading, and I think with good reason. Living seems to us worth while. It is better worth our while if, while we live, we live much, learn, see, understand, enjoy many things. Reading is the short cut into the heart of life.

If you are talking with a group of friends about, for example, different parts of the United States, and some one happens to mention a city or town in which you have lived, note how your interest quickens, and how eager you are to hear news of the place or to tell of your experience in it. This is a simple every-day fact. The same thing you have observed a thousand times about any subject or talk with which you may be familiar. We learn about many things just by keeping alive and moving round! Those things we have learned about we can't help being interested in. That is the way we are made. If we knew about more things our interests would be greater in number, keener, more satisfying; we would talk more, ask more questions, be more alert, get more pleasure.

The lesson from this is plain enough: if you wish to have a good time, learn something. You like to meet old friends. Your brain, also, likes to come across things it knows already, to renew acquaintance with the knowledge it has stored away and half forgotten. The pleasures of recognition and association: the delights of renewing your friendships with your own ideas are many, easy to get, never failing. But if you wish to have interests and delights in good plenty you must know of many things. So, I say, if you wish to be happy, learn something.

This sounds like advice to a student. It is not, it is a suggestion to the wayfarer. For this learning process may be as delightful as it is to gather flowers by the roadside in a summer walk.—J. C. Dana.

Appendicitis
Is due in a large measure to abuse of the bowels, by employing drastic purgatives. To avoid all danger, use only Dr. King's New Life Pills, the safe, gentle cleansers and invigorators. Guaranteed to cure headache, biliousness, malaria and jaundice, at all drug stores. 25c.

By the Bucketful.
A. L. Sexton and wife went to Hillsboro Sunday to visit with George Frost and family who live about a mile north of the latter place. They were friends back in Beaver City, Nebraska, and spent the day in talking of the old days and picking up walnuts and otherwise enjoying themselves. Mr. Frost has some fine walnut trees and the nuts are fine quality as we can attest for Mrs. Sexton presented this office with some that she saw fall from the tree and gathered up by the bucketful.—Forest Grove Times.

He Fought at Gettysburg.
David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., who lost a foot at Gettysburg, writes: "Electric Bitters have done me more good than any medicine I ever took. For several years I had stomach trouble, and paid out much money for medicine to little purpose, until I began taking Electric Bitters. I would not take $50 for what they have done for me." Grand tonic for the aged and for female weaknesses. Great alterative and body builder; sure cure for lame back and weak kidneys. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c.

Flower pots and fruit trees, roses and shrubbery for sale at the Hillsboro Plant and Flower Garden.

A Hard Debt to Pay.

"I owe a debt of gratitude that can never be paid off," writes G. S. Clark, of Westfield, Iowa, "for my rescue from death by Dr. King's New Discovery. Both lungs were so seriously affected that death seemed imminent, when I commenced taking New Discovery. The ominous dry, hacking cough quit before the first bottle was used, and two more bottles made a complete cure." Nothing has ever equaled New Discovery for coughs, colds and all throat and lung complaints. Guaranteed by all druggists. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
