COURT MAY NOT MEET.

All Depends on How Long the Holidays Continue---Jurors Mostly Farmers---Two Printers.

If the present legal holiday season should be declared off in time circnit court will convene on Monday, November 25, Judge McBride presiding. Business at the court house has been almost at a standstill for the past two weeks and everybody is anxious to get down to business again. No business has been transacted in the probate court, exoept the filing of a few papers and it will take Judge Goodin some time to catch up when the holiday season is over. Judge McBride ordered County Clerk Godman to draw the list of jurors for the November term of the circuit court, and he completed the list last week. The list of jurors which is composed of 27 farmers, 1 liveryman and 2 printers, is as follows:

Edmond J Avers, Gales Creek..farmer.

Lawyers Will Meet.

The Oregon State Bar Association will hold its 17th annual meeting in Portland on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 19 and 20. An excursion rate of one and one third times the regular single trip fare has been arranged with the Southern Pacific. This rate applies to all the attorneys attending the meeting, including their families, provided 50 first class single trip tickets are sold from points on the railroads in the state.

A Good Word for the Catalpa.

The catalpa tree is ornamental, a fast grower, hardy, and its wood is becoming of value. It makes the best of fence posts, is fine furniture wood, and recent experiments have proved that it is the best material for making paper. The cultivation of the catalpa is liable to be a paying industry in this country in the near future.

A Wheat Caravan.

Last week was a banner week for wheat here. The local buyers report a total of $8125 being paid out in three days, this all going to the farmers within eight or ten miles of the city. At one time there were thirty-four wagons in a line, all waiting their turn. The price paid was $1 per bushel.—Fair Play Advocate.

Miles of Roses.

The Balkans, in some respects the most repulsive region in Europe, is florally one of the grandest. In Bulgaria, especially, it is possible to wander literally through miles of roses. This is, of course, owing to the virtual monopoly which the country possesses of the trade in distilled essence of roses. In 1881 the country produced $12,200 worth. In 1905 the value was $740,000. More than 6000 acres have been added to the rose fields during the past eight years.

Publishers Hit Hard.

Print paper in carload lots has been purchased as low as $1.40 per hundred pounds. The same stock last year cost $2.50 in carload lots.

Recent quotations show an advance in price of 65 cents per hundred, or $3.15 per hundred (carload lots.) The spruce pulp from which print paper is made, a few years ago was $3 per cord with ample supply.

Today it is $16.25 per cord and a limited supply. Paper will cost 5 cents per pound within a year and there will be no reaction unless American invention comes to the rescue.

There is no field that offers so large a reward for the invention as a substitute for the present printing supply. If corn stalks could be utilized for making paper, and it is predicted they will be, at the present price of paper, stalks will be worth more money than an average corn crop at 40 cents per bushel.

The best class of Sunday papers will sell at 10 cents as soon as the present contracts expire. The dollar magazine will soon be a thing of the past. The news print trust and the short supply of raw material will bring the result in a year. Within the last 90 days in the face of the existing war on trusts, the International paper trust increased its capital stock $100,000,000 and today has absolute control of the western product.—Ontario (California) Record.

H. J. Blocki, of Sheboygan, Wisconsin, is at the Hotel Portland. Sheboygan was derived from the Indians. Here is the way it originated. In the early days an Indian went to town one day greatly excited. He was looking for the doctor. His squaw needed attention. "Sheboygan," he said. Ever since that day the Wisconsin town has retained the name. At least this is what Nathaniel E. Clarke, clerk of the Hotel Portland says. —Portland Journal.

And there is where Mr. Clarke is off. Here is the story, straight. A big chief of the Winnebagos had seven daughters, but was always wishing for a son. One day he went to town and got gloriously drunk and when asked what he was celebrating for, grunted out: "Heep mad! She-boy-again."

A recent dispatch from Chicago says: Counterfeiters have taken advantage of the financial disorder to flood this city with bogus $10 bills of exceptionally clever workmanship—very dangerous imitations of the genuine. Saloon keepers and streetcar conductors have been the worst sufferers. The streetcar men now refuse to accept any bill of that denomination. Rather than take the risk, most of them pay the fare themselves. Secret service men are hastening to this city in an effort to locate the source of supply, which must be large and skillfully directed.

The Hawaiian girls who were here recently left Seattle last Saturday night for Alaska where they will take in the sights for a few weeks. This was decided by Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weatherred, who is in charge of the nine island bells. Saturday afternoon, after a lengthy conference between herself and the girls, the latter won. "We are going and we will leave on the Humboldt for Juneau tonight," said Mrs. Weatherred.

Portland Academy's second team defeated Pacific University's second team in a game of football on the local field, last Saturday, by a score of 5 to 0. Both teams played clean ball. The game throughout was chiefly a punting contest.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

AT PORTLAND NOV. 14 AND 15

Address by Hon. W. K. Newell and Others---Automobile Ride to Kelly Butte This Afternoon.

Hon. John H. Scott, president of the Oregon Good Roads Association, has prepared a magnificent program for the good roads meeting to be held at the Portland Commercial Club beginning Thursday, November 14, at 1 o'clock p. m.

The meeting will be opened by addresses of welcome by Mayor Lane and Tom Richardson, with response by Judge Scott. The addresses for the afternoon will be by Hon. Wilbur K. Newell, Judge Alfred Battles, president King County, Washington, Good Roads Association, Judge Thomas F. Ryan, of Clackamas county, ex-Governor T. T. Geer, and Hon. James H. McDonald, president American Road Makers Association and Highway Commission of Connecticut.

Thursday evening at 7:30 there will be a stereopticon lecture by Hon. Samuel C. Lancaster, United States Government Engineer, followed by refreshments, music and speeches, at which Judge Webster will preside as toastmaster.

The convention will re-assemble Friday morning, November 15th, at 9 o'clock and the list of speakers for the morning session includes Professor Skelton, of the Oregon Agricultural college, Dr. Willis B. Morse, of Salem, President Campbell of the State University, Hon. Samuel Hill, president of Washington Good Roads Association, Dr. James Withycombe and Hon. John H. Albert.

Friday afternoon Senator Johnson, of Benton county, Judge Webster, of Multnomah county, Addison Bennett of the "Irrigon Irrigator," Dr. Andrew C. Smith, of Portland, President Coleman of Willamette University, and Senator Kay, of Marion county, will talk, followed by reports of committees, election of officers and an automobile ride to Kelly Butte.

The horse show which closed Saturday at Portland was a tremendous success, and the Oregon animals on display as well as the show itself was voted by Dr. Withycombe as just as good, if not as large, as the one in New York City.

The Portland Commercial Club's monthly dinner Tuesday night will discuss how Oregon is advertised. In additian to local speakers, John H. Hartog, just elected secretary of the Eugene Commercial Club, John H. Whyte, Manager Astoria Chamber of Commerce, and speakers from several other points, accompanied by delegations, will be present, in addition to prominent Portland business men.

There will be a special excursion of Portland business men to Mosier, Saturday, the 16th, to attend the meeting to be held Saturday evening.

"We take clearing house certificates" is a sign now to be seen in the show windows of almost every Portland business house. The financial sky is clearing and there is every prospect that two weeks more will see conditions normal.

Miss Sheldon will give lessons in water colors and pastel. Lessons given in classes or individually. Corner Fir and Eighth streets. Independene 'phone 356.

Missouri's Great Bird.

A Kansas City man has just sold to a man in Honolulu, Hawaii, five hens at $200 each, and these were not the finest in his flock. He has a rooster left which he values at $2000, and another $1000 and several hens which it would take from $250 to $1500 in legal coin of the realm to buy.—Butler Democrat.

The Portland Telegram of last Thursday says: Sheriff Stevens and County Judge Webster put their heads together yesterday morning to determine what could be done with W. T. Aldridge, who became insane from worry over his small deposits in local banks and who was placed in jail yesterday. The sheriff is tired of Aldridge's company, for he is constantly lecturing in a voice loud enough to be heard all over the jail, and his continued presence there would give the jailers and his fellow-prisoners no peace of mind. On the other hand, Judge Webster cannot legally hold an examination or commit the insane man to the asylum. In this predicament the sheriff and judge decided to appeal direct to the asylum authorities at Salem. There is no question about the man's insanity, and the authorities at the asylum have agreed to receive him temporarily. The formal proceedings can be taken when the holidays are at an end. Among other papers on Aldridge is a deed to property in Asotin county, Washington, and another deed to lots in Washington county, near Hillsboro, on which Aldrich was making monthly payments. In his ravings the insane man jumps from one subject to another, but his financial worry is much in his mind. Little is known of his history, except that he was employed on the north bank road and came to Portland after learning that the banks were closed.

Fine Art Exhibit.

The art lovers of Forest Grove were given a rare treat last Friday and Saturday when Miss Bain, head of the art department of Pacific University, put on display over 300 works of great artists in her loan exhibit. Such an effort has never been attempted by another institution in the state. The event took people from Gaston, Hillsboro, Cornelius and other towns in this county. Masterpieces were furnished by Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. William S. Ladd, Mrs. W. M. Ladd, I. N. Fleischner, Mrs. Henry E. Jones, Dr. William Jones, W. S. Ayer, C. E. S. Wood, Miss Burns, Mrs. F. C. Kamm, Mrs. Hugh Hume and H. C. Wortman, all of Portland.

Thanksgiving is coming and Greer's is the place to get raisins, currants, citron, and in fact anything you may need for a nice dinner.

If an editor makes a mistake he has to apologize for it, but if a doctor makes a mistake he buries it. If an editor makes one there is a lawsuit, swearing and the smell of sulphur, but if a doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and a smell of varnish. A doctor can use a word a yard long without knowing what it means, but if an editor uses it he has to spell it. Any old college can make a doctor. You can't make an editor; he has to be born.—Success Magazine.
